Dedication

Mr. Hall, words cannot fully express our appreciation for your kindness. You have been a true friend, who shared our joys and our sorrows. You have assisted us, guided us, and inspired every member of the class to be the best type of citizen. As a token of our affection and appreciation, we proudly dedicate the "58 Beaver" to you.

"I GOT MY EYES ON YOU"

* FACULTY

As you go out from Beaver High School to take your places in the various fields of endeavor, I trust that your activities will creditably reflect the worthwhile precepts which your school has undertaken to teach. Yours is a special responsibility - to uphold a superior tradition of scholarship, to strive to become a well rounded citizen, and to adhere to only those practices which will develop you physically, mentally, and morally.

It has been a distinct pleasure and privilege for me to work with you this year and I extend to you, each and every student, my sincere good wishes for a useful and happy future. Success and happiness can be yours. As your guide to success and happiness, may I say --

Four things a man must learn to do;
If he would make his record true,
To think without confusion clearly,
To love his fellow man sincerely,
To act from honest motives purely,
To trust in God and Heaven Securely.

Sincerely yours,

Class Prophecy

Last night June 17, 1968 I walked down the quiet narrow street, I came up on the Shoppe of "Madame Voo Doo I Doo" the famous fortune teller. I stepped over the threshold into a completely different world, of weird magic and suspense. I decided to give "Madame Voo Doo I Doo" a good problem, that of finding our where my classmates of '58 had wandered into this world.

"Madame Voo Doo I Doo" waved her hands over the crystal ball and suddenly there appeared a picture. A famous school teacher, Frankie Greer, standing on the New York Docks ready to leave for Europe.

The Crystal ball turned dust dark and then the picture appeared. A picture of the "First International Bank," established, owned, and operated by Johnny Givens. Johnny's head typist was Judy Rapp. (I knew Judy would gain her typing skill somehow. She was always complaining about just having one hour for Typing Class.) Another one of my classmates employed by Johnny was, Pat Sparks, Johnny's secretary.

The scene is still in New York at "Good Year" in the office of Lucy Vanover. There was Shelby Howard, dictating a letter to Lucy. (Poor Lucy, still cramming her head with more Shorthand.)

The scene in the crystal ball blurred and took shape again, and there was an airplane flying through space. Then the picture grew plainer, and I could see that the pilot was Paul Reisinger, and behind him sat the Co-Pilot, Roger Holbrook.

The scene goes to Ansbach, Germany, there standing in army uniforms was Edward Rider, and Howard Weaver, and standing up front giving orders, was Sergeant Charles Greer.

As "Madame Voo Doo I Doo" waved her hands over the crystal ball, she said, in a deep voice, "I see that your two, closest girlfriends have succeeded in life." There in the crystal ball was a picture of the "New York Clinic," and there in surgery was Carolyn Pennington and Doris Blaney.

The next person I recognized was that of "Florida's Favorite Dance Instructor," Nancy Davis, now Mrs. Delbert Hines.

The next building that came in view was, "Big Bear Grocery." I wondered which one of my class-mates could be working there. As the picture grew plainer, I could see on the office window a sign that read, Max Williamson, Manager.

I recognized the next person at once, it was, Carl Irvine, Radio Comedian. Carl has his own Radio Program, called, "Irwin's Hour." (Carl was always an honest, hard-working boy, so I knew he would succeed in life.)

The picture made a big flash, and there it was, a picture of "Indiana's Largest Machine Company." I knew I had heard of that name before. Yes, I remember. How could I forget, I had been secretary there since 1962.

The crystal ball lit up real bright and then made a big flash and went pitch dark, and I could see no more. I left the "Shoppe" and went out to enjoy the fresh air. For I had had enough excitement for one evening.

Coach's Message

The constant struggle, athletes undergo, to prepare for team competition plays an important part toward their education and preparation for life.

The readiness, alertness, skill, pressure, co-operation, loyalty, and spirit that they acquire, while being a member of a team, can be transformed into the future situations that will help them regardless of what field they enter.

Jokes

Carl Gunnoe: "My friend is awful dumb."

Mr. Buehler: "Why so?"

Carl Gunnoe: "I can't learn him to say teach."

Judy Rapp to Shirley Halterman at a basketball game:

"Who is this fellow 'Yeh' they're always cheering?"

Pat Overly: "Where do you bathe?"

Pete Weaver: "In the spring."

Pat Overly: "I didn't say when, I said where."

Shelby Howard: "You're so dumb I wouldn't call you a ham."

Frankie Greer: "Why not?"

Shelby Howard: "A ham can be cured."

Bobby Gibson: "How does your new cigarette lighter work?"

Hugo Caudill: "Fine. I can light it with one match now."

Mr. Karr: "Only fools are positive."

Sharon West: "Are you sure?"

Mr. Karr: "Positive."

Chuck Layne: "I see you won that $1,000 prize for the best essay on Star yeast. How did you do it?"

John Lowery: "It was easy. I ate a barrel of yeast every day and I simply had to rise to the occasion."

Ronnie Ramey: "Is that billy goat of yours ill-tempered, Ollie?"

Ollie Hopson: "He ain't nothing else butt."

A physician was examining Judy Brust.

"There's nothing wrong with you," he said. "You need only rest."

"But just look at my tongue," said Judy.

"Yes," said the doctor, "it needs rest, too."

Mrs. Rapp: "When the sauce comes to a boil, put in a tablespoonful of water."

Vesta Stutler: "Level or heaping?"

Mr. Rapp: "Define nitrate."

Duward Hall (unprepared): "It's a special price on telephone calls and telegrams after dark."

Roger Holbrook: "Why do married men talk in their sleep?"

Paul Reisinger: "So they won't forget how, I suppose."

Pat Sparks: "I just happened to think."

Lucy Vanover: "I thought I heard something rattle."

Carl Irvine: "I think you're the most beautiful girl in the world."

Nancy McGuire: "Oh, you'd say so, even if you didn't think so."

Carl: "Well, you'd think so, even if I didn't say so, so we're even."

Every time the Junior High teacher, Mr. Popovich, left the room, on return he would find the children laughing and talking. One day after a call from the room, he came back to a quiet room. "How did this happen?" he asked. "Well," said Roger Hoover, "you told us once that if you ever came back and found it quiet, you'd DROP DEAD!"

Linda Remy: "Wasn't that a beautiful sunrise this morning?"

Ronnie Borden: "I didn't see it. I went to bed earlier than usual."

Lee Holbrook: "You're too conceited about your beauty."

Carolyn Pennington: "Not at all; I don't think I'm half as good looking as I really am."

Mr. Reisinger: "It's snowing and sleeting and I'm looking for some chains for my tires."

Nancy Davis: "I'm sorry, we keep only groceries."

Mr. Reisinger: "Ah shucks, they told me this was a chain store."

Donna Kay Hale: "Why did the foreman fire you?"

Max Williamson: "Well, the foreman is the man who stands around and watches others work."

Donna: "Yes, but why did he fire you?"

Max: "He got jealous. A lot of the fellows thought I was the foreman."

Betty McKenzie: "I heard such a good joke today, I've been hugging myself ever since."

John Givens: "Let me help you."

Richard Cochenour: "I asked Sue if I could see her home last night."

Paul Cochenour: "What did she say?"

Richard: "She said she would send me a picture of it."

Class Will

We, the 1958 graduating class of Beaver High School, in the county of Pike, and the state of Ohio, being of sound mind and memory, and knowing that soon we will be forgotten among the ghosts of thousands of others, do hereby make, publish, and declare this to be Our Last Will and Testament.

TO THE CLASSES

JUNIORS - We will the troubles and worries you have during the Senior year.

SOPHOMORES - We will the importance of becoming Juniors and giving the class of '59 a good banquet.

FRESHMEN - We will the ability to put and keep the sports of B.H.S. on the map.

TO THE SCHOOL - We will our finger-prints, chewing gum, eraser marks, and our names which have been engraved on the desks.

TO OUR FELLOW STUDENTS

Betty McKenzie Biggs: Wills her headaches in shorthand class to any-one who is silly enough to take shorthand.

Howard Weaver: Wills his name "Man Friend" to Mr. Karr. (Good luck in hunting Mr. Karr, and watch your nose!)

Francesanna Greer: Does not will anything. I'm just thankful I got out.

Max Williamson: Wills his name "Henny" to anyone that is silly enough to be henpecked.

Lucy Vanover: Wills her small hands to Donna Kay Hale.

Paul Reisinger: Wills his boots to Paul Bapst.

Nancy Davis: Wills whatever she has, if she has anything, to whoever needs what she has and can do anything with whatever this thing is she has.

Roger Holbrook: Wills his ability to study to Dewey Cline.

Pat Sparks: Wishes she had something to leave but circumstances as they are she needs all she's got and more, too.

Johnny Givens: Wills his athletic ability to Tracy Little.

Judy Rapp: Wills her typing ability to Darlene Pennington.

Charles Greer: Wills his mustache to Roger Hoover.

Doris Blaney: Wills her ability to graduate to Phyllis McKenzie.

Shelby Howard: Wills his ability to get along with Frankie Greer to anyone that can get along with Frankie.

Carolyn Pennington: Wills her ability to enjoy baling hay and shoveling corn to all the F.F.A. boys.

Carl Irvine: Wills his class ring to Nancy McGuire hoping he can replace it with another ring before too long. (And he doesn't mean a class ring either.)
