CLASS PROPHECY

It was night. The snow was piled up in heaps outside. The clouds were sailing away. The moon shone down on the glistening snow. The stars twinkled brightly. All was quiet except for the occasional whistling of the wind. But ah! in my warm, cozy, living room I was curled up in a chair by the fireplace, watching the dancing and crackling fire as I was glancing through my 1932 "Tiger".

I turned the pages. Memories came rushing back to me. I closed my eyes. Hosts of thoughts passed across my mind—they wandered back to my classmates who had graduated from Waverly High School in 1932. I tried to imagine each student as he appeared the eventful night of our graduation; but I did not have even a vague image. Everything was changing. Even the fire was dying, the "Tiger" slipped slowly from my hands, I sank deeper into the chair and fell into a happy slumber when—

I heard a timid knock on the door. Opening the door, I saw an aged man earrying a black leather valise. He introduced himself as a salesman with an apparatus which he called a "Visionary". Being greatly interested I invited him in to explain more fully its use. He asked me for some old snapshots with which he could demonstrate. But those scenes meant little to me.

"Can you place the pages of my "Tiger" in the machine so that I can visualize my old classmates?" I asked. "Surely, with that you can depict the future of each of your former classmates," he answered, "if you will hold the pages in front of the "Visionary" while I push on the button, the pictures taken by this machine will convert the pictures of the "Tiger" into scenes made on one long recl. Then you may turn the reel and see for yourself".

Behold! Before me was revealed a beautiful lady who was singing before a large audience of a noted New York theatre. She proved to be none other than Greta Way. Her accompanist was Helen Cutler. Her fingers flying over the keys reminded me of the many hours she practised in her school days.

Turning the reel again, I saw Bernice Schilling and Verna Murphy in a room of a well-known hospital in Cleveland. They were bending over the bed of George Bushatz who, as a pilot, had been injured when "Baby Blimp" figured in an accident. Those girls had always wanted to be nurses and their wish had at last been granted.

The next picture revealed Jessie Brown and Geneva Reed clerking in departments of a large store in Cincinnati, which was owned and operated by my old classmate, Edwin Havnes.

In the fourth scene I saw a vision of the National Capitol. There in the office of the Secretary of War, I saw Richard Watkins. Advancing toward his desk I noticed Martha Hartley holding several type written sheets of paper. At last, Martha had climbed to the height of her ambition—a private secretary.

In the next scene a neat tiny kitchen was revealed. At the sink a pleasant-faced little woman was washing dishes. I recognized her as my old chum, Beulah Eblin, who is now married and living on a small modern farm in the suburbs of Wakefield.

As I turned the reel I saw Pauline Bowman and Mildred Bauer as bookkeepers in the offices of a large publishing company in Springfield.

Another scene revealed a slender young lady. She was working in a college laboratory on the cure of cancer. The operator turned around, and I recognized her as an old school friend, Virginia McCormick.

I again turned the reel and I saw Helen Overman, an artist, in a beauty shop getting a permanent wave. The beauty specialist turned to ask me what I wanted and I saw that she was Margaret Jones.

The Scene was in a large library in Chicago. Whom did I see but Helen Franklin and Isabel Montgomery! I had always thought that their two years experience as librarians in dear old Waverly High would lead them toward something bigger and better.

A room in an art school next appeared. Margaret McDowell and Hallie Ware were students there. At the sight of Margaret, my thought drifted back to the drawing which she had made for our Junior-Senior banquet in 1931, which so beautifully decorated the dining rooms of the cafeteria.

The next scene was that of a church wedding. Bernard Way was answering, "I do," which was the result of a romance beginning in his senior year at W. H. S. Rev. Arnold Murray "tied the knot".

Again, I turned the reel. Ralph Emmitt was making a campaign speech at Columbus, announcing his candidacy for Governor of Ohio. In the audience I saw Paul Streitenberger, Guy Leatherwood, and Burnice Crabtree, all classmates of mine and prominent farmers of Waverly.

The next scene revealed the business section of Waverly. Robert Taylor was a prominent banker, while Leon Ratcliff held a responsible office as Sheriff of Pike County, Virginia Lee Hamilton was editor of "The Waverly Morning Sun".

The next picture was that of good old Waverly High. In the music room, I saw Prof. Harold Brown directing his music class. Back on the huge gym floor was Coach Adrian Crabtree showing his basketball team how to drop the ball in the basket.

I saw another school scene (I do not remember the town) Emma Wipert held the responsible position as Supt. of Schools, and Marie Robinson was coaching a group of girls in basketball.

I was becoming tired turning the reel. Surely there couldn't be many more scenes, but the very next picture showed the resemblance of myself as I was staged in a play given in Dayton.

The last, but not the least, was a picture of the exterior of W. H. S. building. Wonders had been done! The word "improvement" spoke from every corner. Another story had been added making the school three stories high. Good old prosperous Waverly.

All at once I heard my name called. I looked up and there stood my mother. She came to tell me that it was time for me to meet the "Sand Man".

I must have been asleep! What I told you must have been a dream. The aged man and the "Visionary" have vanished. The night is slowly stealing away. The flames of the fire are burning low, but the memories of my classmates of 1932 will live forever.

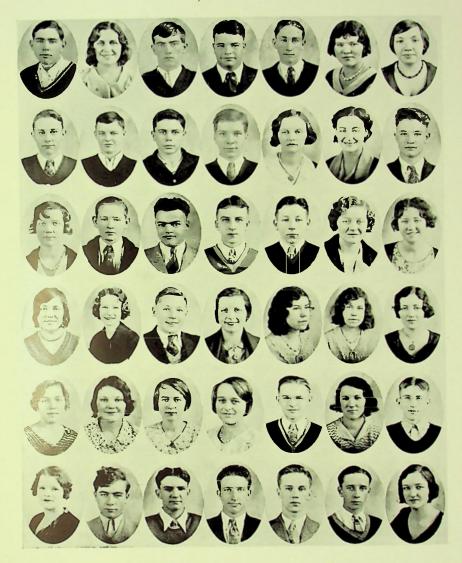

-MARIE OSBORNE.

SOPHOMORE HISTORY

Freshman Year—23 eighth graders of the Waverly School, together with 32 rural district pupils, after successfully passing the required State examination, entered Waverly High School as "green freshies" in September, 1930. We were assigned registration rooms and were told to move around and get acquainted. We made several mistakes as "Freshies" only can, but soon made rapid progress. We were highly elated when we moved to the new building on January 22nd. On March 31st our class presented the play "Six Who Pass While the Lentils Boil," under the direction of Miss Sara Hutt. It was a huge success. The proceeds were donated to the High School to buy a cyclorama for our stage.

Sophomore Year—Now we shall look into the Sophomore Year. We lost a few of our members but new ones filled their places. We prospered well under the faculty composed of Mr. Diley Superintendent, Principal Mr. Teichert, Mr. Matthews, Mr. Helman, Coach Harris, Mr. Rose, Miss Orr, Miss Katzenberger, Miss Vallery and Miss Hutt. Eight of our members are on the Honor Roll. Our class is also represented on our victorious football team, five receiving "W's". It is also well represented on the girls and boys basketball teams, girls' glee club, Hy-Lytes staff and our great High School Band. We also helped provide chapel entertainment by giving a radio program under the instruction of our English teacher, Miss Katzenberger. Our Class since starting in the First Grade, has changed greatly. We have gained in number and knowledge (we hope) but lost in original pupils. Just a dozen of those of the First Grade Class of 1922-23 remain of 57 Sophomores in Waverly High.

-WILLIAM SHRADER, JR., Class President.

SCHOOL DAYS

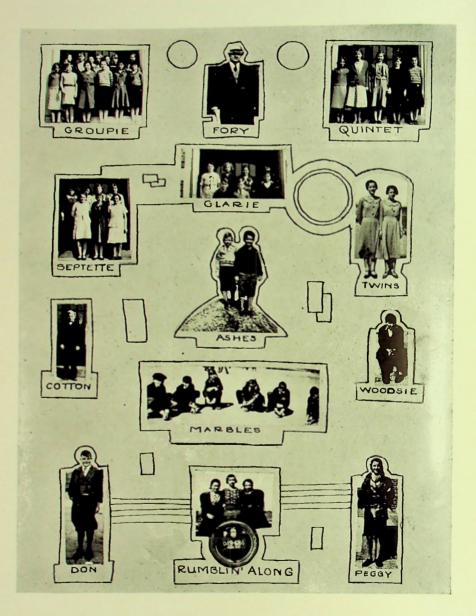

Eighth Grade school days will soon be gone, Yet happy memories will linger on. Lessons for a time will be no more, But a new experience lies before.

We are on the threshold of another year But the old school room to us is dear "Twas here we learned not to waste our time But like a soldier, "to keep in line".

We are glad hard work has been our lot, We labored bravely; were defeated not, Down through the years to come we'll know We've no regrets of the long ago.

So it's one step up in Junior Hi, We are happy to go—yet heave a sigh. It's off with the old and on with the new In this year of nineteen thirty-two,

WHAT IS GOOD?

"What is the real good." I asked in musing mood.

> "Order," said the law court; "Knowledge," said the school; "Truth," said the wise man; "Pleasure," said the fool;

"Love," said the maiden;

"Beauty," said the page; "Freedom," said the dreamer;

"Home," said the sage; "Fame," said the soldier; "Equity," said the seer; *=

Spake my heart full sadly, "The answer is not here."

Then within my bosom: Softly this I heard: Each heart holds the secret; Kindness is the word."

-- JOHN BOYLE O'REILLY.

ORGANIZATIONS

W. H. S. OUTSTANDING STUDENTS

IUNIOR CLASS PLAY

The Juniors of 1930-31 presented "The Smiling Cow," a very unusual and unique farce. The play was presented by the students in such a manner that all who witnessed it enjoyed it to the fullest extent.

The stage setting under the efficient direction of our faculty adviser, Miss Orr, was considered most effective. This was the first play presented on the new stage of Waverly High School.

This play, as its name suggests, was about a tea-room or rather about the proprietress of the tea-room and her boy-friend. The boy-friend as the story goes, has fallen for a young actress who is spending the summer in New Haven, but true love rights itself in the end.

Comedy is furnished by the summer visitors of the tea-room whose love affairs are very interesting.

The Cast was as follows:

Dave Trumball Ralph Emmitt Virginia McCormick Ann Billenger Arnold Murray Uncle Ben Billenger Geneva Reed Aunt Sara Billenger . . . Robert Taylor Ezra Billenger Verna Murphy Polly Dizer Greta May Sylvia Montague Don Pedro Marteneza . . . George Bushatz Janet Loring Margaret Jones Emerson Jones . . . Richard Watkins Elsie Vernon . . . Virginia Lee Hamilton Gilbert Briggs Edwin Haynes

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET-1931

The Seniors of 1931 were led into the astronomical world of green and gold where there existed feasting and merrymaking. The starlets offered savory food to the hungry children of Jupiter. Sweet strains from the Lyras filled the air.

As Pythagorus would have it:

Big Bear Morning Star Milky Way
Orion's Belt Pleiades Mars
North Star Saturn Venus
Big Dipper

The constellations, including Father Jupiter:

Pythagoras Ralph Emmitt
Polaris Charles Gableman
Demeter Marie Osborne
Pluto Hobart Helman
Cassiopeia Avanelle Keechle
Ares Richard Watkins
Cygnus Carol Caldwell
Capricornus Richard Miller
Athena Virginia McCormick
Jupiter James E. Way

Musical selections were created by:

First Lyra Helen Cutler and Gretta Way Second Lyra Mr. Rose and Mrs. Rose Third Lyra . Margaret Jones and V. L. Hamilton

The gathering of the planets, constellations and satellites proved a most pleasant festival, which was to remain as one of the most outstanding occasions in our memories.

THE BAND

Our band is made up of both Junior and Senior High School students. It is progressing very nicely under the careful instruction of Mr. Rose, and it has been able to make public appearances at Wakefield, Dailyville Institute. Chapel Programs, Football Banquet, and other places.

The instruments in the band are clarinets, saxaphones, trumpets, trombones, bass and baritone horns, and drums.

The members are:

STUDENT COUNCIL

Mary Rowe Watts George Hoeckh Carl Murphy Bunnie Schwardt Dorothy Hayes Verna Murphy Bernice Crabtree Ralph Emmitt Robert Taylor Richard Landis James Call Anna L. Haynes

The Student Council was introduced into Waverly High Schol for the first time this year. Its membership is made up of three members from each grade of the Senior High School. Mr. Diley is at the head of this body, and due to his absence, the Council did not organize for work until in the second term of school.

The aim of the Council is to give the pupils a voice in school affairs. The Council stands ready to boost any worthy school project and to do everything possible to create and maintain good school morale.

It has a voice in the spending of school funds and is free at all times to make recommendations regarding school needs. It is ready to report any conditions that need attention and to discuss any and all matters of school interest.

This idea of bringing representative government into the school has been well received here. We expect this organization to do much in the way of improving school work next year.

W. H. S. LIBRARY

Miss Sara Hutt, Counselor

The library, through the untiring efforts and invaluable service of Miss Hutt, has shown a marked improvement during this school term. Book Week proved to be a stimulus in creating high ideals and worthwhile reading. Several books were added, which necessitated the addition of new shelves.

The important duties of a librarian are to classify books, arrange files, ecilect fines, charge books, repair books and magazines, give information and create an incentive for wholesome reading. The task of being a librarian is complimentary of itself. No librarian is chosen unless she has high scholistic ability and can fully discharge her duties without neglect to her specified curriculum.

Among the many functions of the library are that it serves as a laboratory, a reference hall, an information bureau and an amusement resort in which to cultivate the desire to spend leisure time in worthwhile accomplishments.

Probably the most distinguished and most honored organization in W. H. S. is the Varsity "W" Association. Participation in any major sport in which a letter is awarded entitles the holder of such an athletic letter to membership in the above organization. Those students who are privileged to become members of the Varsity "W" Association are our foremost athletes, who have worked diligently so that Waverly High School may always have increasing renown for athletic prowess. There are also among its members those who have not participated in athletic contests, but, through their willingness to serve as cheer-leaders and managers of teams, are recognized as leading sport boosters. Those, referred to above, surely deserve the recognition, which can come to them through belonging to a group such as the Varsity "W."

LATIN CLUB

This is the first year that Waverly High School has had a Latin Club. At the beginning of the first semester the members of the second year Latin class organized a club. It was decided to take one class period once a month for a meeting. At this time the members sing Roman songs, present short Latin plays, give talks on Roman life, study Greek and Roman mythology and play Latin games.

The members have chosen for the name and motto "Semper Paratus," which means "Always Prepared".

The purpose of this club is to create an interest in Latin and to make the Romans seem like living people.

There are four officers in the club:

INDIVIDUAL FOOTBALL WRITE-UPS

ROBERT VALLERY-Full-Back

Vallery was the captain of the Frankfort and McArthur games. Tubby has placed himself among the best of the back-field men by setting the record of touchdowns at twenty-four in one season.

RALPH EMMITT-Half-Back

Emmitt was the captain of the Wheelersburg game. If you don't believe Gus was a real back-field man just ask the Wheelersburg players. "Gus" is a senior and will be missed next year.

RAY CRABTREE-Half-Back

Crabtree was a flashy half-back, but as "Dink" has three more years of service on the gridiron, more can be said about him later.

ROBERT TAYLOR-Ouarter-Back

Taylor was the captain of the Portsmouth game. Although Bob was a little underweight, he knew how to call signals and was a real fighter. He also leaves W. H. S. sports this year.

BERNARD WAY-Left-End

Way was the captain of the Sciotoville game. Barney is a senior and will be missed next year. He was a player that never gave up until the final whistle blew.

BURNICE CRABTREE—Left Tackle

"Crabby" was the big stalwart tackle who is in the game at the first move of the ball. His position as tackle will be a big gap to fill at the sound of the 1933 season.

GEORGE GABLEMAN-Left Guard

"Red," the little but mighty atom who never knew when he was down, is representing the junior class and will be ready at first call for next season.

ARNOLD MURRAY-Center

"Beef" was the captain of the Chillicothe game. He was the big boy whom you always saw in the middle of the line looking for his next victim. His fighting spirit will long be remembered by his team mates.

RICHARD WATKINS-Right-Guard

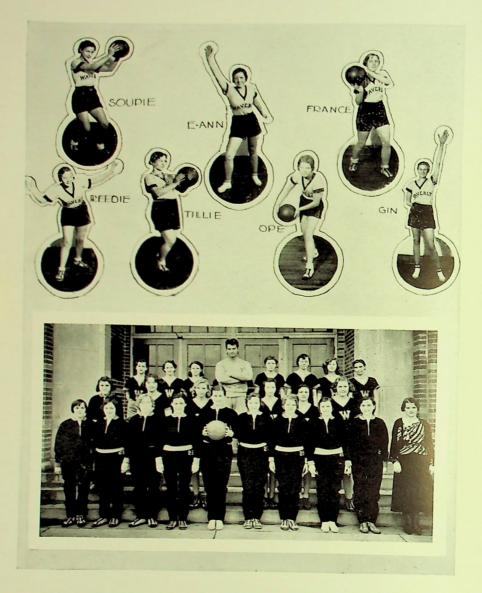

Watkins was captain of the Ashville game. "Watty" has been an old standby of four years in football at Waverly High. His playing in the line on the all "Ohio" team gained much recognition during the year.

JACK HUGHES-Right-Tackle

Jack, playing his first year with the Tigers, was a very capable tackle. We look for him to become a real tackle in the next two years.

RICHARD LANDIS-Right-End

Landis was a very capable player, being at end on the offense, and playing out of the line on the defense. Dick gained much recognition due to his punting and pass receiving ability. He has two more years at Waverly High.

INDIVIDUAL BASKETBALL WRITE-UPS

CRARTREE-Forward

"Soupy" was our fast and star forward. She was high scorer and represented Waverly in the foul shooting contest and made the all-county team.

ROBINSON-Forward

"Tillie" the little girl who was always in there fighting. This is Marie's final year and she will be greatly missed. Marie entered the foul shooting contest and the all-county team.

REED-Guard

"Reedie" plays a good steady game and can be counted upon to do her share. Geneva will play no more for old W. H. S.

OYER-Guard

"Franc" the guard who makes the opponents think their basket has a lid on it. Frances will be helping next year.

REED-Guard

"Ope" flyweight and speedy who has two more years in which to help make the W. H. S. come out on top.

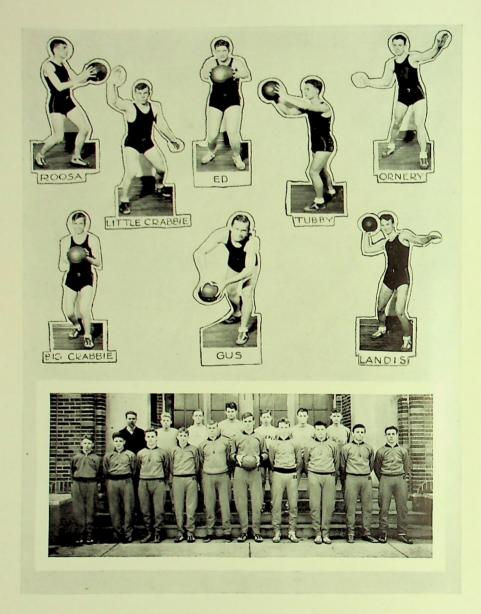

McCormick-Guard and Forward

"E. ANN" played forward at first and then guard. She proved herself able to fill both positions. E. Ann will be back next year.

McCormick---Center

"Hy-Pocket" our center, who could overtower all the rest, played all season like a real trouper and did much for the team.
