

sions, when the purposes to which it has, anywhere, been the desire that I should become instrumental, and the treatment which I have personally experienced, may be made fit subjects for public inquiry and comment,