

PIONEERS PLAN NIGHT FOOTBALL SAYS NEW COACH

Additional Lights Planned On Soft-ball Diamond; Three Night Tents Carded.

FIRST GAME HERE SEP. 25 WITH PERRYVILLE

30 Men Drilling Under Coach Goranflo With Prospects For A Good High School Team.

Night football in Harrodsburg looks as highly probable for this season, Coach Emmett Goranflo of the Harrodsburg Pioneers said Monday afternoon while his charges went through their drills on the local gridiron. Under the present plans, the first three home contests on the Pioneer schedule would be played under the bulbs. Work is expected to begin within the next few days on erection of lights to be added to those used during the softball season. When completed, the Harrodsburg lighting system will be one of Central Kentucky's best.

Meanwhile, the Pioneers are driving hard to round into top condition for their opening conflict on Sept. 25th with Perryville. Indications are that Coach Goranflo will have a well-balanced and fast combine built around his two backfield aces, Best and Donovan. Since September 1st the Pioneer mentor has been drilling a squad of about 30 men and the scuffle for starting positions has been spirited. In the line, Mitchell and Chilton are each striving to out-

HONEY...MEAT

What is better on cool fall mornings, and most of our mornings will be cool now, than hot biscuits, good butter and Honey? We have the Honey in three sizes at 10c—2 for 45c and 59c and it is pure.

We have the butter and the ingredients for the biscuits. When it gets a little cooler you will want to make some cherry and raspberry preserves. We have them in gallon cans, priced right.

Our Meat Department is going good. It pays to sell and buy the best. Just give us a try and be convinced.

do the other in the hope of getting the starting center position.

Return of two guards and two tackles from last year's squad greatly strengthens Pioneer hopes. In Monday afternoon's scrimmage, which lasted for more than an hour, Goranflo's first eleven was composed of a line averaging around 150 pounds and a backfield that would balance the beams at about 145 pounds per man.

Outstanding candidates for the various positions thus far are Green and Moss, ends; Foster and Teater, tackles; Claunch and Burns, guards; both Mitchell and Chilton, centers; Saddler, quarterback; Donovan and Cottisinger, halves; and Best, fullback.

The Pioneer schedule, which includes seven Central Kentucky Conference tilts and on which there are four home games, is as follows:

STATE PARK HEAD
VISITS LOCAL PARK

Bailey P. Wooton, superintendent of Kentucky State Parks, was in Harrodsburg Friday and stopped at the Pioneer Memorial State Park. He was enroute to Danville where he intended to confer about plans for the restoration of the Dr. McDowell homestead and also to visit the Perryville battlefield and then go on to Stanford for the celebration. But owing to a recent illness he had to return to Frankfort shortly after reaching Danville.

OLD COIN OWNED BY HERALD STAFF MAN

A 5-cent piece dated 1887 is preserved by Lewis C. Woods, of The Herald mechanical staff, as a lucky coin. He dug it up from the ancestral ground on which his residence is located. The coin is in excellent condition. It bears a figure 5 on one side and a shield on the other.

FT. HARROD FLOAT WINS TOP PRIZE

Awarded $15 As Best Out-Of-Lincoln Co., Float In Stanford's Celebration Parade.

First honor and an award of $15 was accorded Harrodsburg's float as the best presented in the parade by counties other than Lincoln, at Stanford's sesqui-centennial celebration Friday. The committee in charge of the float will determine to what public use the fund will be donated. The float depicted Old Fort Harrod and a group of pioneers so artistically arranged that the judges reported their decision in making the award was unanimous. This was an added honor as there were many interesting and beautiful floats in the parade, which was an outstanding feature in the day's program.

Judges for the parade and pageant were Mrs. W. T. Lafferty, Lexington historian; Thomas R. Underwood, of The Lexington Herald, and Gerald Griffin, of The Courier-Journal.

A large number of local persons joined the hundreds from all over the state who gathered at Stanford to help celebrate its 150th founding anniversary, and to enjoy the extreme hospitality of Lincoln county citizens. Highlights of the morning were the speech of Hon. William Marshall Bullitt, Louisville, descendant of Col. Benjamin Logan who founded Stanford, and the unveiling of a memorial tablet set in one of the massive pillars of the court house. Following the parade of floats in the afternoon, Miss Jane Hutton was lovely in a colonial costume as she represented "Miss Mercer County" in the pageant of "Lincoln County and Her Daughters." Miss Martha Belle Jackson, "Miss Boyle County," was crowned "Queen of Lincoln's Daughters" by Gov. A. B. Chandler. The pageant was written and directed by Miss Esther Urch, who is well known in Harrodsburg.

Pictures of Harrodsburg's prize winning float were carried in both the Courier-Journal and the Lexington Herald. Mrs. Lee Sims was the pioneer mother with her child; Miss Nancy Smock the water carrier; Mr. LeRoy Bonta the soap-maker, while E. H. Davis and D. J. Curry were the pioneer men on guard at the Fort.

The committee has carefully prepared for future use the replica of Old Fort Harrod and other material used in the construction of the float. Cecil Brown was general chairman, Miss Clara Chappelle, decoration chairman, Mrs. Lee Smock, Mrs. Lee Sims, Mrs. LeRoy Bonta, Miss Fannie Cheff, Mrs. H. C. Wood, Judge C. T. Corn, Harry Blanton, Glen Keightley composed the committee.
