As we, the Senior Class of '60, walk through these doors for the last time, our minds are flooded with thoughts and memories of the years gone by. Here our characters as individuals have developed and grown, due to the influence and help of our parents, teachers, and friends. We are now ready to depart from this place of preparation and embark upon Life's journey, carrying only the tools of education which we have earned.

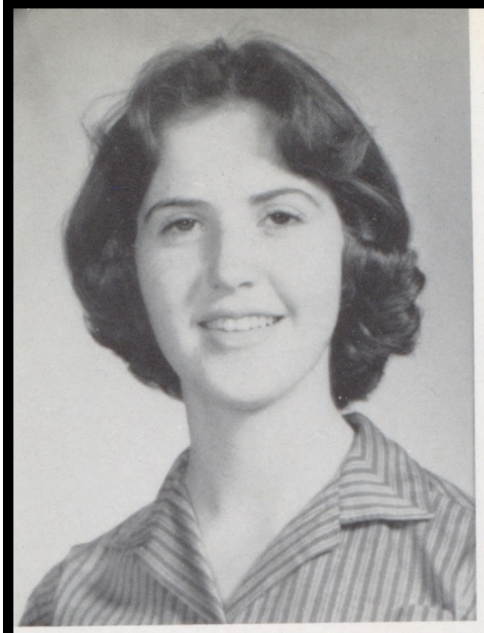

We wish to express our appreciation to our parents who have laid the basic foundation upon which to build our education, and to our beloved teachers who have given us the materials to build and complete this education.

To the underclassmen, we wish to leave a word of advice. Use all your time to the best advantage in preparing yourself for your future life. Try to gather as much knowledge as possible, since you now have the wonderful opportunity to do so.

Now, as we close these doors behind us, we will each go our separate paths on the journey of life, hoping to meet again with the privilege of relating a story of gained success and happiness.
