

property and remove same from the premises.

The defendant, Homer Beatley answering further states that he is entitled to the use and possession of the pole which was removed from the property of the plaintiff; that said pole was purchased by him at the time of purchasing the ferry; that said pole was and is now a part of the equipment used in connection with the operation of the ferry.

Wherefore the defendant as to be dismissed with their costs.

---