furnished with proper statements as to the loss of the contract, and unless the policy turns up in the near future, we would suggest that you take up with Mr. Spilman the question of securing a duplicate policy as we are sure you will desire to keep this insurance in force, the contract being on an excellent plan.

I might state that we recently paid a claim up at Ashland, Ky., where the policy had only been in force a few days, in fact it had not been received by the agent from this office for delivery to the applicant, the applicant having taken sick after the application was made and died before receipt of the policy.

Yours very truly,

E. H. THOMPSON

Cashier.
