New Deal's Cash To Truck Growers

Orchards, Vineyards, Small Fruits
And Nut Trees Included In Soil
Conservation Acts Gratuities.

A statement from the Kentucky College of Agriculture says that fruit and vegetable growers may qualify for payments under the agricultural conservation program.

Orchards, vineyards and areas in small fruits and nut trees are considered crop land. If such land is clean cultivated, it is classified as neutral. If it was used in 1935 to produce an interplanted soil-depleting crop, the actual acreage so used is classified as soil-depleting. If it was interplanted with a soil-conserving crop, the actual acreage so used is classified as soil-conserving.

The provisions governing rates of payment and requirements for qualifications for payment are the same on the interplanted part of the land devoted to orchards, vineyards, small fruits, and nut trees as on any other crop land.

Truck farmers and other vegetable growers who use winter cover and green manure crops will be able to increase their soil-building allowance, which determines the maximum of the Class II payment for which they can qualify under the Agricultural Conservation program.

Truck farmers and other vegetable growers who use winter cover and green manure crops will be able to increase their soil-building allowance, which determines the maximum of the Class II payment for which they can qualify under the Agricultural Conservation program.

Land that has been in vegetable crops will be counted in the acreage used in determining the soil-building allowance if planted to winter cover crops and green-manure crops, provided that such crops are turned under as green manure between January 1, 1936, and October 1, 1936. The winter cover crops and green manure crops, however, must have been growing at least two months, before being turned under.

Such classification of acreage will be used only for the purpose of determining the soil-building allowances. The number of dollars for soil-building payments cannot exceed then number of acres in soil-conserving crops, including the winter cover and green manure crops, on the farm in 1936. That is the top limit on the total Class II payment for the farm. However, the rate of payment for specified soil-building practices may be greater than $1 per acre for the acreage on which they are carried out.
