Onward Kentucky Exposition Calls For Home Made Treasures

Have you some treasured piece of hand-craft, something lovely or useful that you have made? Would you like to show this and win a prize, and perhaps, sell it? Would you like to make many such things and sell them? Perhaps you have a friend or a neighbor who have made something exceptionally well, a rug, a quilt, a piece of weaving, basketry or wood-carving, or even some rare bit of cookery? Do you not want to go quickly and tell this friend or neighbor to enter her rare piece of work or her product where she can make a sale or win a prize?

The Onward Kentucky Exposition in the State Capitol Building in Frankfort on June 5th, 6th, and 7th, 1936, will provide the opportunity for things made in Kentucky to win rich prizes and ultimately to be sold. Following this Exposition the producers of these articles will be shown how to make them in larger quantities so that they can realize on them in a substantial way, which will add to their own wealth and increase the prosperity of the State.

There are many prized recipes hidden away in Kentucky homes and many interesting pieces of hand-craft going to waste. There are products which are not being seen or appreciated or sold. It is the purpose of the Onward Kentucky Exposition to bring these out of hiding and make them known, and, also, to stimulate the production and sale of all that is useful and of high quality.

The time is short. The time of the Exposition is near. Kentucky must make a good showing and a record but the thing of primary importance is that each citizen who has anything to offer should have a chance to compete and also to advertise what he wishes to make and sell.

Go today and tell your friend and neighbor about this opportunity. Are you a minister of the Gospel, and have you not seen some hand-made object in a home, one that you thought worthy to win a prize? Then will you not let the owner know of the place and time where this article can be shown? Are you a teacher and have you observed some piece of hand-craft in the home of some pupil that you can now help to bring out of obscurity and get it on exhibition? Are you a good neighbor who would like to see your neighbor's fine quilt or basket or other article win a prize and command ready sale?

Are you a citizen, and would you like to see Kentucky's hand-made products bring in a large amount of money, adding to the wealth of the State? Are you a Kentuckian, and do you have pride in your State, in its showing off its home industries to advantage? Whoever and wherever you are, you can help to bring forth what the people have in their homes that, if shown, might mean an increase in their wealth and happiness.

SOFTBALL PROVES MOST ENJOYABLE

Christian Church Softball Team Wins Game From Baptists 21 to 16 Score.

A hit and run game on a large scale featured the opening of the softball season here as the Reds of the Christian church defeated the Baptist Cards by a score of 21 to 16 at Voorhies Field Friday afternoon. A large group of enthusiastic spectators witnessed the fray.

Getting off to a flying start with homers by Zody and Rue of the Christians that team took the lead in the first inning by 5 to 0.

A home run by Forrest Howard with the bases loaded started the Baptists on a hitting spree in the second which was only halted after seven runs had been scored to put them in the lead 7 to 5.

The Christians, making a come back in the second half of the second passed their opponents again and held the lead throughout the rest of the game except when the score was tied in the sixth inning.

After each team held the other with no hits and no runs in the fifth inning, the Baptists rallied to make five runs and tie the count in the first of the sixth. The Christians, however, regained their lead in the second half and ran the final score up to 21 to 16.

Both teams used two pitchers. After three innings had been played Ralph Cherry replaced Marshall Royalty for the Baptists and Mayfield took the place of "Sky" Bonta for the Christians.

GRADED LAMBS BROUGHT $13.10 HUNDRED LBS.

Harrodsburg Market Was Highest In State In Lamb Prices At Sales Saturday.

LOCAL BUYERS PAYING 36 CTS. FOR CLEAN WOOL

County Agent C. F. Park Makes Valuable Suggestions To Sheep And Lamb Producers.

Much interest is being shown by the lamb and wool producers in Mercer county in the present market of both wool and lambs.

On last Saturday those farmers who had lambs that were graded as choice and sold on the Harrodsburg market received $13.10 per hundred, or approximately $10 per head for this class of lambs sold.

Local buyers are paying 36 cents for clean wool which is considerably above recent markets.

Data in the county agent's office shows that approximately 50,000 breeding ewes were carried through the winter on Mercer county farms. Lambs, however, have not been as uniform as is the custom, due to many uncontrollable conditions.

In an interview with County Agent C. F. Park, he suggests that all farmers who have lambs that will grade choice or good, weighing seventy-five pounds or more, should probably sell them at this time. This will enable the producer to realize probably more dollars per head for such lambs than at any other time during this marketing season. This will also allow the ewe producing such lambs to be rested up for an early breeding season this fall.

County Agent Park also calls to the attention of Mercer County producers that those who have ewes that are non-producers or which have spoiled udders and have not raised a lamb this season, should put such animals on the market at this time, as the market for fat sheep is also higher now than it has ever been at this season.

The Harrodsburg market last Saturday was the highest market of any in the state, and in talking to those farmers who sold, County Agent Park stated that he found all such producers highly pleased with their local market.

After the early and choice lambs have been disposed of, all the ewe flock should be treated for the control of sheep stomach worms. Also all late lambs should be treated at least once a month until market time. This will control the sheep stomach worm which causes an annual loss in Mercer County of many thousands of dollars.

Bulletins and pamphlets explaining the methods of control of these worms may be had free of charge by Mercer County farmers, if they will call for same at the county agent's office in the Post Office building.

Those producers who have not had experience in drenching sheep and lambs, may by arranging a drenching demonstration in their community and inviting their neighbors to witness, have the services of the county agent to conduct such a demonstration. This service cannot, due to the stress of other work, be on a different basis, but will be given gladly where a group of farmers meet at a set time and place for such a project.
