NEW WAY TO GET RID OF BLACKBIRDS

A reader who likes birds suggests that it isn't necessary to shoot blackbirds to keep them from settling in your trees and annoying you. Nor is it necessary to hang a cow bell in the tree and ring it as did a Maxwell-street resident whose neighbors called the police. All you have to do she says, is hang a few moth-balls in the trees—and the birds will shun your premises. She has tried it often, and it works. She used to sew the moth-balls in little cheesecloth bags, but now they're on the market in containers suitable for the purpose.—Lexington Leader.

HOUSEKEEPING HINTS

A damp cloth dipped in baking soda will remove tea and coffee stains from china cups.

In pressing never put an iron on the right side of any goods except cotton. Always lay a cloth between the iron and the goods.

Never prune climbing roses in the fall. Cut out all dead canes but wait until next spring before cutting out dead shoots.

To clean glass in oven doors rub over with vinegar then wash with soap and water.

If a thick cloth is placed at the bottom of a pan or bowl in which delicate china or glass is being washed the danger of chipping will be lessened. This will also prevent silver from being scratched.

Order hyacinth, tulip, narcissus, snowdrop and crocus bulbs now. In preparing beds for these bulbs mix bonemeal liberally into the soil, but never permit manure to come in contact with the bulbs. They should be suffounded only by soil or sand.

LABELLED SANDWICHES

Are your little home jamborees infested with that social leper known as the sandwich-pecker, that unmitigated miscreant who opens most of the daily tidbits on the tray until he finds one that suits foul fancy? If so, a set of gadgets just spotted by an alert shopper will completely thwart him.

An attractive set of simple signposts to place in each section will baffles the parlor vandal. For example, on the picks are jumpy-dumpties to denote egg, a rat in a cage for cheese, a boat is for fish, and a pig marks the ham.

Of course, a particularly dim-witted guest may be unable to guess what the various symbols signify, but it's a ripe idea.

HOUSEWIVES' APRONS ARE MADE OF ASBESTOS

Pink asbestos aprons for careless women who lean on stoves sizzled into the international fashion market Tuesday from Great Britain.

With them came striped asbestos table cloths, lavender asbestos mittens and lacy asbestos window curtains.

C. C. Concannon, chief of the chemical division of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, reported Britishers had invented new methods of weaving asbestos fibers into cloth, and dyeing the result, like a bolt of woolen.

MINT JELLY FOR LAMB

Quick mint jelly may be made with the use of gelatine. Soften one tablespoon of gelatine in one-fourth cup cold water. Boil together one cup granulated sugar and one cup mild vinegar for five minutes. Add to the gelatine with one-fourth each teaspoon salt with paprika. Cut fine one cup mint leaves and add to the gelatine mixture. Add green coloring to make a pleasing shade. Pour into molds after the gelatine has begun to thicken.

ONE BEAUTIFUL THING

If a room has only one beautiful thing, Let it be something rare: A lovely vase filled with flowers of spring Arranged with exquisite care. A mirror with a quaint old frame, Or a costly table serval, Graced with a tray from other days And flanked by glasses tall. Oh, let it be such a beautiful thing That the senses will be in snare. And one will not notice the hole in the rug, Or the patch on the easy chair. —Gertrude Stinson Wagner.
