Nancy Hart's HOME NEWS

NOTHING is more fatal to loveliness than frowns and fatigue lines about the eyes and mouth. Nothing makes fatigue lines grow faster and thicker than painful, burning feet. Unbecoming frowns are often found to be due to uncomfortable feet.

Weak feet are usually due to a flattening of the long arch that extends from the heel to the great toe. And a lot of that weakness is due to nothing else than lack of exercise and improper shoes. Just walking isn't enough. You must practice walking correctly, with feet pointed straight ahead. Unless your feet are badly strained or weakened, the following exercise will help keep that long arch in the position it ought to be. All exercises to correct and prevent weak feet should be barefooted. Even a stocking is slightly restricting.

1. Standing with feet in correct walking position, raise the instep by contracting the sole of the foot, bringing the toes and heels as much together as possible.

2. Turn up the inner border of the foot as much as possible and walk on the outer side.

3. Rise on the toes, raising the arches with weight on outer side of feet. Relax and repeat several times.

4. Walk on the outer edge of the feet with toes and heels turned in.

5. Place marbles on the floor and try to pick them up with your toes, walking on the other border of the feet with heels and toes turned in.

Girls who want to take advantage of their leap-year prerogative will shun spike heels with sports clothes if they heed the results of a recent survey among male students at the University of Iowa. "Naturalness" was rated the first requirement of their collective dream girl.

So many women do not remove one coating of lipstick before they apply a fresh one. It's a good idea to carry a few absorbent tissues in the purse and wipe off every trace of rouge before applying fresh. This helps to keep the mouth from looking dry and chapped, with crumbly, spotty lip rouge showing up unattractively.

In planning colors for a room, walls should serve as a background for furnishings and people, and no single article of furniture should attract too much attention.

Brown taffeta is used for a full length coat, with that nice, winged effect achieved by a cape. And it covers a print dress with brown flowers on a white ground.

Narrow brushes give the hair a better "currying" than wide ones and are much easier to keep clean. To brush the hair properly, part it into small portions, hold the strands away from the head and brush from the scalp to the ends. Your hair will improve if it's given this treatment every night before you go to bed.

Household Hint: For fingers stained from fixing raw vegetables a solution of exceedingly strong tea should be made. Dip your fingers into this for a short while and then wash with soap and water.

Sources of Oils and Fats

The edible fats and oils come from various animal and vegetable sources. Butter, lard and suet are animal fats. Oleomargarine is made from either animal or vegetable fats and oils. Salad oils and cooking oils are of vegetable origin. Some of them are from the seeds of plants—corn oil from the germ portion of the grain of corn, cottonseed oil, peanut oil, soybean oil, sesame seed, poppy seed, rape seed, sunflower oils—all these are from the seeds of plants of the same name. Coconut oil, palm oil, palm-kernel oil and babassu oil are from the seeds, fruit, or nuts of palms. Olive oil, however, is from the ripe fruit of the olive tree.

Pilate Legend

The beautiful Swiss mountain Pilatus was so named because Pontius Pilate is said to have drowned himself in the lake a few hundred feet below its summit.

Prize Money Given

To Two Worthy Causes

The $75 dollars in prize money won by the Mercer county exhibit at the Onward Kentucky Exposition in Frankfort was divided equally between the Community Playground Fund and the Community Chest. It was announced by Mrs. Donald Edwards, chairman of the Mercer county Onward Kentucky committee, yesterday.

Mercer county obtained the money by capturing not only the prize for the best county exhibit but a number of individual prizes won by persons with articles on display. Mrs. Edwards said that she was glad to see the money going to such worthy causes.

Converse by Signs

Certain South American natives converse by signs. When two English husbands, accompanied by their wives, meet in the street, the right hand raised to the mouth and answered by a vigorous nod means that a silent appointment has been made to meet later on at the Dog and Duckling.—London Humorist.

Seven Wise Men

The Seven Wise Men was the collective designation of a number of Greek sages, who lived about 620-548 B. C. and devoted themselves to the cultivation of practical wisdom. Their moral and social experience was embodied in brief aphorisms, expressed in verse or in prose.
