

Question 5. Kindly state whether or not the original ledger containing the original entries on this account is in your possession.

Answer 5. It is. I here produce the said original ledger.

Question 6. I am handing you a statement and ask you to explain fully what it is and then hand it to the Notary Public, and ask him to mark it Exhibit "A".

Answer 6. This is a completely itemized statement of the account showing all of the merchandise purchased by the defendant. The items on this statement correspond exactly to those shown on the original ledger sheet. I am handing this statement to the Notary Public and asking him to mark it Exhibit "A".

Question 7. What kind of merchandise does this account cover?

Answer 7. The merchandise in this case consisted of Rubber Footwear. This has been shown in detail on the itemized statement marked Exhibit "A".

Question 8. Kindly give the date upon which payment for which this merchandise became due.

Answer 8. The merchandise which was charged on invoice of September 16, 1921, became due for payment December 15, 1921. We are, therefore, entitled to interest from December 15, 1921. On the itemized statement you will notice that interest of $8.80 has been added, which was the amount due at the time of making up the itemized statement May 25, 1922. The balance on the itemized statement, therefore, is shown as $124.78. The invoice of January 28, 1922, represents a charge for merchandise which was exchanged and which is off-set by the first and fifth item of the credit memorandum of January 30, 1922.

Question 9. Kindly state whether or not the defendant is entitled to any further credit on this account.

Answer 9. No Sir, he is not.

Question 10. Are there any further facts in connection with this account of which you have any personal knowledge?
