LILAC FETE ATTRACTS 100,000 TO ROCHESTER

Approximately 100,000 flower lovers, coming from many states and Canada, took part in the annual Lilac Festival at Rochester, N. Y. This festival, lasting a week each year, when Rochester glories in the 383 varieties of lilacs on the slopes of Highland Park, was timed to coincide with the day of flowers would be in full bloom. Lilac Week has no queen and no pageant and is designed solely to make the lilacs the chief attraction.

Horticulturists have said, there were few places outside of Rochester where so many varieties of lilacs have been developed. They have been brought to their high state of perfection through years of experimentation and care.

60,000 APPLY FOR JOBS IN STATE DEPARTMENTS

One person out of every forty-four in Kentucky is an applicant for a place on the state payroll, Dr. J. W. Manning, director of personnel efficiency, said Monday.
Approximately 60,000 applications for jobs have been received and are on file in Dr. Manning's office. This number is one forty-fourth of the state's population of approximately 2,600,000.
After September 1, the reorganization act provides that all appointments, with specified exceptions, shall be made after the applicants are given ability tests conducted by the personnel department.

Your Family Coat-of-Arms

Throop

Reproduced here are the coat of arms of William Throop. These arms were changed as was the name from "the original" Scrope.

Political strife in England brought about the extinction of the recognized Baronies of Scrope in the Peerage of England.

Adrian Scrope fleeing for his life and property fled to Hartford, Connecticut, in 1660, and later the emigrant settled at Bristol, Rhode Island. His name was changed to escape pursuit from his father's enemies, and to insure his freedom in the New World.

Descendants of this family include the New York Governor, Enos T. Throop.

Description of Arms: A silver bar and two chevrons on a crimson shield.

Crest: A naked arm grasping a coiled serpent.

Motto: They did their duty.

EDITORIAL COMMENT FROM ELIZABETHTOWN NEWS

The best automobile insurance policy is sobriety.

It is more important to stock the farms than it is the streams.

FISH FROM LAKE STATES BRING MORE THAN 5,000,000 DOLLARS

The yield of the commercial fisheries of the Lake States, including the international lakes of northern Minnesota, during 1934 amounted to 96,411,000 pounds, valued at $5,124,000, says a report to the Louisville District Office of the Commerce Department. This is an increase of 29 percent in volume and 26 percent in value as compared with the catch in the previous year. Based on the value to the fishermen, lake trout, with a production of 10,112,000 pounds, was the most important product. Following in order were whitefish, yellow perch, chubs, blue pike, and yellow pike. These fisheries gave employment to 7,600 fishermen or 9 percent more than in 1932.

FISHERMEN FACTS

Two ways of fishing: up or down stream. Which do you use? Fish lie with their heads downstream, the bait or lure presented from below offers several advantages; the bait washing down to the fish with the same speed as their natural food, a shorter line can be used resulting in more fish for amount of strikes and it is easier to land a fish with the current as an advantage. Down stream fishing at its best permits the fisher to drift his bait under obstructions with less difficulty in being caught.

Red worms are better for trout than night crawlers or ordinary worms.

Worms can be kept for months in damp moss and clean sand. The sand makes the worm tougher.

THE SCONE STONE

In Westminster Abbey, London, there is a beautifully carved chair in which British kings sit when they are crowned. Under the seat of the chair is a big piece of stone on which the kings of Scotland used to be crowned. It was brought to London from Scone, near Perth, back in 1296, when Edward I took an army into Scotland. Many legends are attached to it. One says that it was the stone on which Jacob rested his head when he had the vision of the Angels journeying between heaven and earth.—Pearson's Weekly.

VALUABLE SECURITIES DUG UP AT HODGENVILLE

A jar containing securities valued at $1,950 was dug up from a flower bed at the J. H. Burba home at Hodgenville Friday, three days before the property was to be sold to settle the estate of Mr. and Mrs. Burba.

Joe Cox, Negro who had been employed by the Burbas for years, dug the nine-inch hole at the request of Paul R. Burba, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Burba. Before his parents died, Paul was told by his mother that she had buried the jar in the yard in 1923 but that she had forgotten the spot. Efforts by the son to locate the spot were unsuccessful until Cox recalled having dug "a deep hole" at Mrs. Burba's request.

In the jar was a note in Mrs. Burba's handwriting saying that $300 of the securities belonged to Paul R. Burba and that $300 worth belonged to her daughter, Mrs. Maxie R. Walters. The securities consist of $1,850 in Government bonds and $100 worth of stock in a bank at New Haven, Ky.

LIFEBOATS RESCUE 11 A WEEK, 112 YEARS

An average of 11 persons rescued every week for 112 years is the record of the Royal National Lifeboat Institution of Great Britain.

This service during 1935 was the busiest it has been for 19 years, it has just been announced. There were 376 launchings of lifeboats to vessels in distress resulting in the rescue of 54 vessels with 492 persons on board.

PNEUMONIA AND PLEURISY

Counter irritants are agents which produce temporary irritation in another area than the infected part. They are seldom used any more, yet they are worth a bit of study, because of the good they may do in an emergency.

Counter-irritants in common use in the household may be named as, pepper, mustard, turpentine, croton oil, and the like. We base the use of these things on our knowledge of infection and inflammation beneath the surface. In very acute pneumonia, and "pleurisy" we have two deeper seated inflammations which are often benefited by counter-irritants—but always to be used in the early stages, mind you.

A lobar pneumonia may be absorbed, or the attack rendered much milder, by the judicious use of mustard-plasters applied vigorously when the lung is in the stage of "determination." This means just after, or even during the initial chill. Later on in the disease, counter-irritants are wasted effort. I like turpentine, in just strength to redden—which may be used longer, because of the benefits of inhaling its vapor. But we must be sure the kidneys are sound, before we permit any contact of turpentine with the patient.

In a chronic pleurisy, especially when recurrent—in aged persons, with hacking, dry cough, the chest over the pain may be just touched with a cotton-tipped toothpick, wet with croton oil; this old method is just as useful today as it was sixty years ago. I have a neighbor now, who attends to his "pleurisy-pains" satisfactorily himself with this application. It produces vesication, (slight blistering) which he says "draws the poison out." At any rate, it gives him relief—over-night.
