She also made the highest average in Latin and received a certificate at commencement for meritorious work in both subjects. Her average was the highest in all studies in the Freshman class.

A GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY LOST Good Citizens:
We have lost the greatest improvement ever offered to Harrodsburg. I wrote to Mr. George H. Goodman who enclosed me the letter he wrote to Mr. William Gregory as printed below. The light type is the part Will showed to the Council, myself and others. The dark type was covered up so we could not see it.

September 27, 1935
Mr. William Gregory, Jr., City Mgr. Harrodsburg, Kentucky.
Dear Mr. Gregory:

This will acknowledge your letter of September 26th and advise you that we are expected to secure from sponsoring agencies an average of around 25% covering the total cost of the project. However, in cases where a governmental unit involved can produce a certified financial statement showing inability to participate in the cost of a project, we are permitted to carry the entire cost of certain types of projects, these being programs that do not involve a large amount of materials, supplies or supervision.

The Public Works Administration program is based on 45% grant to the community, and, where satisfactory financial conditions exist, a loan of 55% of the amount needed at a low rate of interest.

Trusting this is the desired information, I am,

Yours truly,

Geo. H. Goodman,
State Administrator.

Mr. Goodman's letter suggested I take it up with the District Office, Danville, Ky. Mr. Shaw told me he did not have the figure but there would not have been one cent of cash to Harrodsburg. Lebanon got a like job without cash. Columbia got a complete sewerage system for $5,000. Danville was putting in miles of concrete gutter and curbing and every town around was taking advantage of Federal aid except Harrodsburg. He referred me to S. C. Taylor, Plan Engineer, who says it is too late now to get it done. The allowance was made and set aside for it. When our council rejected their offer the money set aside was divided among those who would accept $25,000 was given to Mercer county whose officials have business sense enough to avail themselves of the money. Read their statement in today's paper, and weep over what our city fathers have done.

I did my best to have my town improved.

Our city needs a sewerage system. I asked Mayor Adams to consider what he was turning down—A street, the creek made flood proof, and a sewer system with little cost. He said "I am Mayor and have the last say. You will not get any of them." Think, your Mayor said that! He does not need a sewer. He dumps his closets into a well, polluting all wells in his neighborhood.

With polluted wells, flooded houses, open privies whose filth was washed over the town and a befouled creek, we are liable to have an epidemic that may cost many lives. You may be one of them. I thank those who have been with me in my fight for a cleaner better city.

I have not laid down but am just beginning to fight.

Respectfully,

James Taylor Cooke.

HORSE SWALLOWED UP

A cave-in on the farm of Brown Logsdon, three miles east of Munfordville and near Lone Oak, killed one horse and caused much excitement in that community last Saturday.

Mr. Logsdon was plowing with two horses when the accident occurred. The ground literally fell out from under one of the horses. Mr. Logsdon, who narrowly missed falling into the hole himself, had to cut one of the horses loose to save it.

The hole was just wide enough to let the horse down, and about 40 feet deep. It grew gradually wider the deeper it went. Efforts were made to pull the horse out of the hole, but it died before it could be taken out. — Munfordville Times-Journal.

NO CLOSED SEASON ON PRIVATELY OWNED PONDS

A. E. Funk, assistant attorney general, advised Martin E. Walker, secretary of the State Game and Fish Commission, that closed fishing seasons do not apply to privately owned waters, insofar as the immediate owner is concerned.

"Nor is the owner required to buy a license for fishing in his own stream. Others must procure such a license, Mr. Funk advised. "Tenants and members of the owners' family are exempt from obtaining the required license also," he added.
