

MERCER QUARTERLY COURT

T. J. Miller,

Plaintiff.

vs.

Answer of Garnishee

Sam R. Scott,

Defendant.

Steven

The defendant, ~~Xem~~ Scott, as executor of the will of Henson T. Scott, and not Horace Scott as set out in the rule hereto attached, for answer herein, says that he is the duly qualified and acting executor of the will of Henson T. Scott, and assumes that it is the purpose of these proceedings to subject the interest of Sam R. Scott in the estate of Henson T. Scott to the plaintiff's demand, and he therefore enters his appearance herein, and for answer as garnishee, says that defendant Sam R. Scott is one of the beneficiaries under the will of Henson T. Scott; that the defendant Sam R. Scott is indebted to the estate of Henson T. Scott for a considerable sum, as evidenced by notes and other evidences of indebtedness held by this defendant; that he is now engaged in settling the estate of said Henson T. Scott, which is in a somewhat confused condition, and that it cannot be determined what will be due defendant Sam R. Scott, if anything, from the estate of Henson T. Scott until said estate shall have been settled; that as soon as said settlement shall have been made so that the interest of said Sam R. Scott therein can be determined, this defendant will make a more definite answer herein, and whatever amount may be due the defendant Sam R. Scott from said estate will be
