YOUNGER WOMEN

An authority on hygiene and physical development is author of the statement that women are younger today at 40 than ever and, at all ages, are healthier than the women of preceding generations.

A generation ago the average woman of 40 was an old lady who wore a shawl across her shoulders while she sat by the fire and crocheted. She was well past the prime of life and "all tired out."

Today the woman of 40 looks 30, plays golf and tennis and drives an automobile during the day and dances or plays cards far into the night, and then is down first to breakfast in the morning fresh and ready for another day, which would have been a killing pace in grandmother's day.

One of the causes of this extraordinary healthfulness of the modern woman is the development of her clothing. She no longer wraps herself up like an Egyptian mummy or loads herself down with pounds of heavy and superfluous raiment.

But hasn't woman's attitude toward herself contributed much to her transformation? Though a mother of seven she can now dance, swim, go in for sports and driving, and dress youthfully without fear of social ostracism. No longer is the "respectable" woman's condition in life just two degrees removed from the absolute imprisonment of the harem.

GOVERNOR'S DAUGHTER NAMED 'PRINCESS KENTUCKY'

Acting Gov. Keen Johnson Tuesday designated Marcella Chandler, 15, daughter of Gov. A. B. Chandler, as "Princess Kentucky" at the national tobacco festival at South Boston, Va., September 10 and 11.

HOLLYHOCKS DECORATE ROADSIDES IN ILLINOIS

Red, pink and white hollyhocks bloom by the thousands in season along the highways running out of the East St. Louis corner of the State. They may be seen along fences, at culverts and filling triangular intersections. The drought has not affected them.

Maintenance men have been ordered to leave the hollyhocks alone, except in cases where they may obscure the motorists' view to such an extent as to be dangerous.

Robert Kingery, director of public works and buildings, commented that while the wood violet was, by legislative enactment, the state flower, the hollyhock, by predominance alone, should be. He says that women's clubs, helping the highway beautification campaign, have done much to spread the hollyhocks over the State.

GIRL TAKES UP DAD'S PROFESSION OF DENTISTRY

For a son to follow in his father's footsteps is quite common, but when a daughter does it, especially in the field of dentistry, that is something else again. Miss Carlotta A. Hawley, daughter of Mrs. Hawley and the late Charles A. Hawley, famed Washington dentist, is going to specialize in the same sort of dental work her father did now that she is a graduate of Baltimore Dental College of the University of Maryland. In addition the attractive blonde dentist has been honored by being the first woman to be admitted to Omicron Kappa Upsilon, dental fraternity, and is the first woman to be awarded a scholarship in the Forsyth Dental Infirmary for Children in Boston. Before entering the University Miss Hawley went to private schools in Washington and later studied music.

FATHER AND SON WED TWO SISTERS

A honeymoon on the farm—with plenty of harvesting to do—commenced for a 60-year-old farmer and his 24-year-old son who married sisters, 18 and 22, at Helmetta, N. J. William B. Tilton, 60, said there was no reason his age should interfere with a happy married life with Julia Scott, 22, his former housekeeper. They were married at the same time as his son, Ernest, 24, married Selia Scott, 18. The Elder Tilton ordered "a quiet wedding" and held wedding trip plans in abeyance "until after the crops are harvested."

$100,000 ESTATE LEFT TO CHURCH IN LEXINGTON

The will of Miss Margaret Helm, formerly of Woodford county, which was probated Friday in the Fayette county court, named Christ Episcopal church, Lexington, as the beneficiary of her estate, valued at more than $100,000.

The will provided for payment of funeral expenses and the erection of a monument at the testatrix's grave in the Lexington cemetery.

Miss Helm had no near relatives living.

HOW OLD ARE YOUR PILLOWS?

Pillows do not live forever. The best of them should not be expected to live more than five to ten years. Feathers dry out, lose their natural oil and become flat and lifeless. To test a pillow, rest it over your arm. If it droops it is time to replace it with a new pillow.

ICICLE WORTH $225 TO WOMAN IT HIT

An icicle was responsible for a recent act of Congress. Because the icicle happened to fall from a federal building Congress awarded an Iowa woman $225 for injuries sustained when it struck her on the head.

WORK

Let me but do my work from day to day,

In field or forest, at the desk or loom,

In roaring market-place or tranquil room;

Let me but find it in my heart to say,

When vagrant wishes beckon me to stray,

"This is my work; my blessing, not my doom;

"Of all who live, I am the one by whom

"This work can best be done in the right way."

Then shall I see it not too great, nor small,

To suit my spirit and to prove my powers;

Then shall I cheerful greet the laboring hours,

And cheerful turn, when the long shadows fall

At eventide, to play and love and rest,

Because I know for me my work is best.

—Henry Van Dyke, from Music and Other Poems, Scribner's, 1919.

THE HERALD

discovering New Flavors in low-cost meats

Electric Cookery is very economical, and use of a range lowers the unit cost of all other service in your home.

DEAR MRS. HOMEFOLKS: One of the reasons why you'll find me such an economical chef in your kitchen is that I'm a wizard at cooking the cheaper meats.

Turn me loose with a veteran hen and I'll make her as luscious and tender as her great-granddaughter. I can make pork shoulder, beef, chuck or lamb stew rival the melting flavor and tenderness of the choicest cuts.

Besides I'm so clean, so cool in hot weather, so saving of your time and energy. Now come and see our new HOTPOINT Electric Ranges and let our local manager tell you the whole wonderful story of electric cookery. P. S.—I am also a very cheap water heater!
