

True Armament and Disarmament

UCH is said and written these days about armament and disarmament. Right-thinking individuals the world over favor peace and conclude that war is not the best way to accomplish a constructive settlement. In spite of the yearning for peace and righteousness there seems to be a constant clamor, by lawmaking bodies, for larger armies and navies. The argument is that nations must continue to protect their rights through a means that is itself wrong—a paradoxical presentment often promulgated through false propaganda.

What then can peace-loving individuals do to correct this falsity? Every Christian knows that the solution to all problems can be obtained through an understanding of the Bible, particularly of the teachings of Christ Jesus.

In the Scriptures is the command (Matthew 22:39), "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." Could one love his neighbor as himself and hate or wish to harm him? Could one love his neighbor as himself and continually fear and distrust him? Could fear and distrust occupy thought together with love? And if we all loved our neighbor as ourselves, could there possibly be a desire to attack or harm one another? Of course the answer to these questions is forever, No!

The solution, then, is to arm ourselves with love and to disarm every phase of error that would oppose love.

In Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, Mary Baker Eddy writes (p. 29): "Christians must take up arms against error at home and abroad. They must grapple with sin in themselves and in others, and continue this warfare until they have finished their course." The only battle possible, then, is in individual human consciousness, where suggestions of hate and distrust of our fellow men are to be replaced with love and confidence. Paul says, "The weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty through God to the pulling down of strong holds" (II Cor. 10:4). We must grapple with sin in ourselves and in others—must know that sin belongs not to any child of God. Each one needs to know that hatred, envy, greed, and malice are not from God; hence are not expressed by God's man. We must know that there is no law to govern these false suggestions, and that they lose their seeming power when denied entrance into our thought. We must know that sin cannot govern or control our fellow men or ourselves. To separate the lying claims of sin from our thought of our neighbor will enable us to love him as God's child, and will thus help him also to destroy hatred and distrust in his own consciousness.

Nations are comprised of individuals; therefore the thinking of individuals constitutes the thinking of the nations. Since many individuals desire peace with their neighbors, whence does the argument for war arise? Through a false sense of patriotism, a wave of propaganda may go forth leading some to believe that they have been unjustly treated, and that they must shoulder arms and kill their fellow men in order to settle the difficulty and protect their government and their personal property.

At the base of this misinformation will often be found a sense of greed claiming to influence groups who think they may gain something by stirring up strife between nations. Certainly this lie and its effects can be neutralized by the consecrated effort of Christians to eliminate from individual consciousness the belief in hatred and to replace it with love.

At our present stage of thinking it may not be feasible to dispense with navies, but there should be no rivalry between nations as to this method of armament. Good will does not exploit fighting equipment or ability. If we are to exemplify the Scriptural teaching, "Love thy neighbor as thyself," competition, rivalry, hate must cease, and love must be established in individual human consciousness in order that disarmament may be accomplished on a sound basis.

Society Women Wear Gowns Designed By Fashion Students

NO longer is the young fashion student simply a novice with a career many years ahead. This year, three hundred young women, students in the Traphagen School of Fashion, in New York City, competed for prizes and for representation at the Beaux Arts Ball—one of the big social events of the winter season.

When the Beaux Arts Society Costume Committee met to pass on the girls' colored drawings, it was found that many parts of the United States had been represented by the prize and honorable mention winners.

On Dec. 6th, when all society met for this annual gala event, nearly 200 of the Traphagen students were found to be represented on the colorful ball room floor by the incredibly and fantastically beautiful costumes worn by New York fashion leaders. The ball was planned in the spirit of a party given by an Eastern Maharajah. Costumes were of Indian, Persian and Balinese inspiration; and the girls' students were credited with exceptional originality and colorful and artistic sophistication. Many of their costumes, fashion experts think, will have a subtle influence on the everyday clothes women will be wearing soon.

Miss Betty Felton, of Goldsboro, N. C., pictured above, was among the first prize winners. Among the other young women who reaped this public acclaim—while they are still students—were: Lois Butterworth, Douglaston, L. I.; Doris Eckhoff, Palisades Park, N. J.; Anne
