

THE HOUSE OF HAZARDS

By MAC ARTHUR

GOSH I'VE FORGOTTEN SOMETHING MOTHER TOLD ME TO DO... WELL I'LL TRY THE EASY CHAIR GAG TO FIND OUT WHAT IT IS

DADDY, TELL ME ONE THING BEFORE YOU SIT DOWN... DID YOU CUT THAT HEDGE?

YES SIR MEN, IT'S VERY REFRESHING TO SIT DOWN-- ESPECIALLY TO ONES MEMORY!

TWENTY - ONE YEARS AGO

July 2, 1915
James P. Spillman has announced for clerk of the Court of Appeals.

Capt. Eugene Bisset this week bought of Rev. Russell Cecil, Richmond, Va., formerly of Harrodsburg, his farm of 221 acres at $90 an acre.

Trustees of the Harrodsburg Methodist church on Monday received a check for $600 from the U. S. Government in payment for the church's war claim for using the edifice as a hospital for wounded soldiers after the Battle of Perryville during the War Between the States.

The fair directors are adding five new sections to the amphitheatre to better accommodate the big crowd that attends the annual fairs which is getting bigger each year.

Twenty carloads of horses passed through Harrodsburg Sunday on their way to Newport News, Va., from which place they will be shipped to Germany to be used in the war with Belgium, France and England. Nineteen additional car loads passed through on Monday.

A survey load of young people from Danville had a hard time here Sunday night. They had driven to this place by way of Burgin and coming into the city by way of Lexington avenue the 10:45 p.m. train almost caught them on the track, which the survey cleared barely in time to escape by whipping up the horse. At the corner of Lexington and Main an automobile turned the corner so quickly it almost ran into them and the horse was cut on the shoulder as it reared to one side. John Bottoms, Perryville Negro, was driving the car.

FIRST IN WAR, LAST IN PEACE

(Lexington Herald)
News dispatches from Fort Thomas, Ky., quote the wife of Samuel Woodfill as saying that this war veteran who has been called "America's outstanding World War soldier" is too busy to get his bonus. As assistant secretary of the Kentucky Ex-Service Men's Board, the famous sergeant has been working in Louisville, and will not return home before July 1.

Woodfill, who won the congressional medal of honor and war-time promotion to a captaincy by clearing out machine gun nests in the Argonne, isn't in such a hurry to claim his bonus as he was to break through the German line in 1918.

"He has until 1945 to get them," said Mrs. Woodfill, "and I suppose that will give him plenty of time. He hasn't said how he will spend the money."

Thus the man who performed in wartime a work that was well-nigh unique in the annals of trench fighting is following in peace-time a course that is almost as unique. Very few of the former veterans have let the postman ring twice—and who can blame them?

GIRLS ARE WARNED AGAINST NEW YORK

Girls throughout the United States were warned this week to stay away from Manhattan unless they have funds to care for themselves for one year without working.

On information gathered from 120 social agencies, the Welfare Council of New York emphasized that destitute girls with less than two years' residence in New York could not qualify for home relief. Also that they might lose their eligibility for aid in their home town because of prolonged absence.

CATCHES FISH WITH HANDS

George Rambo, of Beach Haven, N. J. saw a 19-pound tuna fish, swimming close to shore. He ran out into the water up to his knees, grabbed the fish by its tail and tossed it on the beach. Fishermen say it is the first time a tuna was caught within five miles of the shore here.

NAIL LODGED IN LUNG REMOVED IN 7 MINUTES

A nail lodged in the lung of Kelvin Rogers for 18 months was removed at Temple University hospital at Philadelphia this week, less than 24 hours after he arrived from Australia. Doctors were seven minutes extracting the nail.

"THE DIAMOND BRAND"

BRUCE BARTON Says:

Where We Owe Much
I read somewhere that a heroic statue was recently unveiled to Hippocrates in Athens. It is a fitting tribute, for there are few men in human history whose influence has lasted so long or is so sure to continue into the future. He was a philosopher as well as a physician. One of the most famous aphorisms in our language came from him, though few recognize it. Said he: "Life is short, and the Art is long; the occasion fleeting; experience fallacious and judgment difficult. The physician must not only be prepared to do what is right himself, but also to make the patient, the attendants, and the externals cooperate."

His enduring fame, however, rests upon the Hippocratic Oath. "I swear by Apollo the physician, and Aesculapius. I will keep this oath. I will follow that system of regimen which I consider of benefit to my patients, and abstain from whatever is deleterious and mischievous. I will give no deadly medicine to anyone, if asked. With purity and with holiness I will pass my life and practice my art. I will go into whatever houses I enter, I will go into them for the benefit of the sick, and will abstain from every voluntary act of mischief and corruption. Whatever I see or hear, in connection with my professional practice, or not in connection with it, which ought not to be spoken of abroad, I will not divulge."

The oath closes with a prayer that, so long as it is strictly observed, the physician may be blessed of gods and respected men, but that neither respect nor blessing shall dwell with him who violates it. What an achievement it is for a man to have set up a standard which has guided the thinking and practice of a whole profession for twenty-three centuries! It's a high standard and, to the eternal credit of physicians, a great majority of them make an honest effort to live up to it.

NEWS MEN 'JACK OF ALL LINES' (Corbin Tribune)
A fellow who has spent all his time on a big city daily would be astonished at the versatility of his country brethren. In our shop, for example, the boys are taking vacations and duties are assumed and thrown off in a remarkable manner. Last week Fayette Baker, the utility man, or "devil" was out. His duties were distributed among the other workers, even unto the foreman. Friday Junior Davis took off for his ten day rest. This brought Aubrey Thomas into the stereotyping booth from a linotype, put the foreman on a typesetting machine, and took the advertising man off the streets long enough to have him take a turn at the flatbed web press on which our paper is printed each day. And thus it goes in a country newspaper shop. There are no set lines of duty for the front or back shop. In this variety, however, is found a lot of compensation for staying in the small shop.

TAX RATE CHANGES FOR CORPORATIONS

The following statement from Internal Revenue Collector S. R. Glenn, at Louisville, will be of interest to every corporation in Kentucky:

"The Capital Stock returns for 1936 now being mailed by the Collector of Internal Revenue, indicate that the tax is at the rate of $1.40 for each full $1,000.00. President Roosevelt, on June 22, 1936, approved the Revenue Act of 1936, changing the rate from $1.40 to $1.00 on each full $1,000.00."

PENSION INCREASE IS VOTED BY SENATE

A House bill to increase pensions to veterans of the Regular Army, Navy and Marine Corps, who received a heavy cut under the Economy Act, was passed Friday by the Senate and sent to the White House. The legislation was estimated to cost $1,943,600 a year over the present expenditures. The money would go to 15,080 veterans who were on the rolls March 19, 1933.

And Another Class Graduate:

I went to a boy's school to see a class of fourteen-year-olds receive their first diplomas. It is a school that believes you can get more results with praise than with punishment, and so it holds up many cups and medals to be striven for and awarded on commencement day.

There is a cup for the boy who has exemplified the highest qualities of "good citizenship," meaning leadership, a sense of responsibility, and care for the welfare of the weaker and younger. A fine, straight-backed lad, with serious gray eyes, was the winner.

There is a medal for the boy who has shown the most development in self-control. As the head-mistress pinned the medal on the coat lapel of a lively lad, she said: "Joe, this year you have found yourself. From now on you will make us proud."

There were a number of awards for scholarship and athletic ability, and one for the boy "who has done most for the school." To this recipient the head-mistress said: "You have set your feet on the high road. Always choose the right road and the high road."

There may be some people so tough that they can witness such a ceremony without a throb in their throats. Thank god, I am not among them. My eyes were wet.

I was thinking not of this group alone, but of all the youngsters who were going through similar exercises in school-rooms all over the world. Of the little French boys who were being admonished to "tell the truth." Of the little English boys to whom it was being said: "Live honestly, live cleanly, think of others." Of the little German and Japanese boys hearing: "Take always the right road and the high road." So much idealism, so much hope, so much eager determination to do right.

Merciful God, I thought, must all this end in war?

PATRIOTIC BIRTHDAYS IN DANVILLE WOMAN'S FAMILY

A Danville woman comes from a very patriotic family—if we judge by their name and birthdays of a mother and three of her children. Mrs. C. B. Marcum, of Danville, was before her marriage a "Holiday," and she was born on July 4th. Her mother, Mrs. M. E. Holiday, who died a few weeks ago at her home in Sunbright, Tenn., was born on New Year's Day. Mrs. Marcum's sister, Mrs. S. N. Oakley, of Sunbright, was born on Christmas Day, and her brother, Henry Holiday, of High Splint, Ky., was born on Lincoln's birthday. Being a Holiday and having birthdays on holidays is something out of the ordinary.—Danville Messenger.

WASN'T HIM, THAT'S CERTAIN

After the finding of the headless body of a man under a bridge in Shelby county, rumor had it that it was Andy Palmer, well known in these parts as a champion fiddler. Later, it was reported that Andy, hearing this rumor, went and viewed the body at an undertaking establishment. He looked at it closely, then shook his head and said: "No, that's not he."—Lawrenceburg News.

101 YEARS OLD (Shelby Sentinel)

Mr. Harrison Robertson, editor of the Courier-Journal, the oldest, active, most forceful writer in Kentucky journalism for more than fifty years, told us once, that "work never hurts anybody." He goes on proving it, but we believe in brief vacations. So does Dr. Theodore Singer, of Louisville, who is now past 101 years, who a few years ago got tired of the dull life at the Masonic Home here, and went back to Louisville to practice his profession. Dr. Singer began to feel the need of a short vacation last week, and has come out to the home for another at least short stay. But he intends to return to work when he gets thoroughly rested up again.

CAKE WEIGHS 2 AND HALF TONS

A two and one-half ton strawberry shortcake will provide most of the food during the annual strawberry festival at Lebanon, Oregon. The shortcake will resemble a pyramid, and will contain enough eggs, cream and milk to keep a flock of seven hundred chickens and a herd of dairy cows busy for several days. The cake is expected to serve about 10,000 persons.

YOUNG BICYCLIST IMPALED ON DOOR HANDLE OF AUTO

Irvine Dorsey, 13, of Hamilton, Ont., swerved his bicycle into the path of an automobile. The automobile door handle pierced his side, and had to be sawed from the car before the boy could be removed to a hospital. The door handle was removed in an emergency operation.

The Family DOCTOR

By JOHN JOSEPH GAINES MD.

DROPPED COLON BETTER THAN NONE

A very much alarmed patient came to a great specialist and said: "Doctor, I have a 'dropped colon,' now what's the worst thing that may happen and when may I expect it?" "It has already happened, my dear," said the doctor soberly; "it happened when the fool told you his diagnosis."

Among my present clientele there was no less than three elderly patients with dropped colons of twenty to thirty years standing. They are neither dying, nor "running into cancer," as the esteemed charlatan would have you believe. The colon has become the veritable gold mine for the medical impostor, who will stave the "cancer" off for you if you tickle his benevolent palm with a sufficiency of cash—in advance.

"You may have a dropped colon," "ptosis," we call it. Stop worrying. Treat yourself as if you didn't have it. If it causes no discomfort, let it alone. If it annoys you, take gentle laxatives and unload it, always gently. Try mineral oil every day until you get a satisfactory effect. A well-fitting abdominal supporter, not too tight, may help. You want support, not garroting. See that you maintain a regular diet, avoiding hard fried foods and heavily spiced berries, either in pies, preserves or jams. Seeds are bad for colons and so are skins of baked apples, cherries, plums. Swallow no skins if your colon give distress.

Sweet milk may clog the lazy canal. If it does, switch to butter-milk. Whatever you do that is right, stick to it. You can't put a dropped colon back in place. Neither can the blatant quack, even if you paid him a hundred or five hundred dollars. And a dropped colon is better than none. Be sensible.

Are YOU HAPPY After Meals

Or Do Gas on Stomach and Sour Stomach make you Miserable?

Too much food, or the wrong kind of food, too much smoking, too much beer, make your body over-acid. Then you have distress after eating, gas on stomach, heartburn, sour stomach. ALKA-SELTZER relieves these troubles promptly, effectively.

Use Alka-Seltzer for Headache, Colds, Fatigue, "Morning After Feeling," Muscular, Sciatic and Rheumatic Pains. Alka-Seltzer makes a sparkling alkaline drink. As it contains an analgesic (Acetyl-Salicylate) it first relieves the pain of everyday ailments and then by restoring the alkaline balance corrects the cause when due to excess acid. Alka-Seltzer tastes like carbonated mineral spring water—works like magic. Contains no dangerous drugs...does not depress the heart...is not laxative.

Get a drink at your Drug-Store Soda Fountain. Keep a package in your home medicine cabinet.

For Bilelessness, Sour Stomach, Flatulence, Nausea and Sick Headache, due to Constipation.
