National Debt Drops As Bonuses Are Paid

Falls Below $34,000,000 This Week As $537,916,000 Vets' Bonds Are Redeemed.

The United States public debt dropped below the $34,000,000 mark Monday for the first time since June 15. Treasury financing and payment of the soldiers' bonus sent it skyrocketing.

The reduction, amounting to $64,000,000 between the Treasury statement of June 25 and June 26 was wholly accounted for by the redemption of soldiers' bonus bonds. On June 25 the Treasury had redeemed $47,916,000 of these bonds and the statement for the following day showed that approximately $64,000,000 additional bonds had been redeemed in that twenty-four hours bringing total redemptions to $547,328,450.

WHAT GOES ON BACK HOME

No wonder people sometimes believe houses are haunted. When we are away for a day or a week the house flies, the chimney sweeps, the clock strikes, the pillow slips, the mirror reflects, the tea leaves, the ice melts, the butter runs, iron is sad and the moth balls. How do we know? Why, the meat saw said it.

Relief Costs State
Sum of $50,369,229

Amount Represents Expenditures In Kentucky From October 1932
To May 1936.

Relief in Kentucky cost a total of $50,369,229.30 during the period October, 1932 to May 1936, inclusive, it is shown by a report of the Kentucky Emergency Relief Administration received by state officials.

Exclusive of commodities distributed by the federal surplus relief corporation, amounting to $2,668,957.17, the total was $47,700,272.13.

The federal government carried 86 per cent of this load; the state 6.8 per cent, and local governments 7.2 per cent, the report said.

The state made its last big contribution to the relief administration in March, and local governments stopped their contributions at the same time, the report showed.

The state contributions in 1936, totaling $629,332.31 in January, $259,264.71 in February; $106,800.85 in March; $4,101.81 in April, and $230 in May.

CIVIL WAR SOLDIERS LIVING
Of the 3,028,948 soldiers on both sides in the Civil War, only 19,000 are now living. On the Union side, 2,128,948 were engaged and 10,000 survive seventy-one years after the war. Of 900,000 Confederates, 9,000 still live.

ODD ACCIDENTS

When the rear axle of a truck broke while traveling on a Missouri highway a rear wheel rolled down the hill. The driver later found it in the center of the bedroom of Elmer Morris's where it came to rest after crashing through the house wall.

Hearing muffled sounds coming from a big bass horn case the mother of Donald Weber, 13-months old Ohioan, investigated. She found that Donald had fallen into the case which had snapped shut and might have suffocated him within a short time.

When Mrs. Arthur Hammans, an Iowan, smelled wood smoke she thought her husband was burning leaves in the yard and when she heard wood falling she figured he was throwing kindling into the basement. It proved to be the house on fire and the sound was the roof falling in.

Surface Important
Fingerprints made by the moisture of the hand can't be identified only when left on smooth or polished surfaces. They cannot be classified, owing to insufficient ridge detail, when made on such rough surfaces as unpolished wood, iron or stone, textiles, certain kinds of paper or human skin.

SOME THINGS MAN HAS NOT FIGURED OUT

Some things man has not figured out: How the birds know when and where to migrate, how they manage to get back to the same place each year after a flight of thousands of miles, and how the boys know to a day when the marble season and the ball season begins. The only explanation that has ever been offered is that they are all guided by instinct.

IN INVITATION

In Greene county, Georgia, A. S. Moore ran for county coroner this spring, but was hopelessly defeated. The next week he had this notice inserted in a local paper:

"I want to thank the intelligent, honest and upright 98 voters who cast their ballots for me. The 2,324 who cast their ballots against me can go jump in the lake."

The Illinois legislature in January, 1854 abolished the laws then in existence and prohibited the selling of spirituous liquors in less quantity than one quart. This law was repealed two years later.
