Vs-

Petition-

Maria Wilson-

Dft-

The plaintiff and affiant, Mary Marshall, states that the property claimed by her in this action is a marble top center table and of the value of about $12.00; it is of a dark color and if not walnut it closely resembles walnut. It is now in possession wrongfully of the defendant and is be<sup>ing</sup> kept unlawfully by her and its return has been demanded by plaintiff but refused. It was not taken under an order or judgment of a court, nor under an attachment, execution or distress warrant against her property. Plaintiff is entitled to the immediate possession of said property and to $2.50 damages for its retention by her.

Wherefore plaintiff asks for a judgment against the defendant for a return of this property if it can be returned and if not for a judgment for $12.00 as the value of said table and all the costs of this action and for an order of delivery for said table and other relief to which she is or may appear to be entitled-
