* THE CLASS HISTORY *
* * * * * * * * * * * * *

Today we have reached our goal- the goal for which we have been striving for four long years. In September 1936 twenty young students eager for knowledge and looking forward to success in the future took their places in the freshman class that was to become the Class of 1940. This class was under the leadership of Mr Brown, Mrs Sharp, Mr Rynerson and Miss Dickerson.

During that first difficult year we were saddened by the loss of two of our party. Martin Sherrow moved to Woodford County and Frances McMurry moved to Nelson County. In the midst of our sorrow, Etta Mae Ward came from the Fairview School to console us.

Before the class convened for the Sophomore year we lost two more of our members. Hallie Catlett moved to Lawrenceburg and Scott Mitchell moved to McAfee. Sader but wiser we moved into our sophomore year and finished it without further casulties.

During the next summer we lost Virginia Norris who moved to Mt Sterling. Then came a great blow when we lost Mrs Sharp from the faculty. She was replaced by the capable Mrs Ezra Jones and we were also fortunate in securing the first home economics unit established in the county schools under the efficient supervision of Miss Louise Lapsley. We passed our junior year without further incident and started down the long road to the goal of commencement.

The senior year was saddened by the loss of our bedimpled classmate, Reda Kays, who moved to Cornishville. And now as we approach the final days of our journey through school we are twelve surviviors of the gallant crew that started. We look to our future with bright hopes of success but must give a backward glance to the past and the many happy days we spent at dear old Salvisa High.

* THE CLASS PROPHECY *
* * * * * * * * * * * * *

As I walked through a great green wood, I came upon a tiny old man with his beard hopelessly caught in the bark of a tree. As he stamped around and around I loosened his scraggy beard and freed him from the tree. Thankfully he turned to me and asked me to make a wish for my reward. I told him my hearts desire was to see my classmates ten years hence. Immediately I fell into a trance and,

"I peered into the future, far as human eyes could see.
Saw a vision of the world and the wonders that would be."

First I looked ino a comfortable city apartment. Taking her breakfast from a dark skinned maid was Nell Cinnamon, a first class lady of leisure. She lay back among the pillows with such a happy look that I knew she had achieved her ambition.

Then the scene changed. In a great executive office I saw a young efficient secretary pounding away at her typewriter doing her best to please her handsome boss. Could that be Albertine Grimes?

Now another shift, Who is that hard working young dentist patiently and carefully extracting a tooth/ I hardly knew him in immaculate white smock as our own Edward Gill Houchin.

A familiar scene came next. A quiet school room. The smiling young teacher at the board was none other than Pauline Jordan leading young minds in the right direction and also watching the years go by until the day when she will receive her teachers retirement pension.

Then to a large office in a great city. Madame Francois Mitchelle', the second Schaperelli, sits with her mouth full of pins, snipping a bolt of material into a best selling model. In spite of that name I recognized her as Frances Mitchell.

Somewhere in America in a real studio, Miss Virginia Moore, the toast of the town is displaying her newest paintings. From the size of her audience Virginia is very popular. Such an artist could not be 'undiscovered' long.

On a tennis court in sunny California, a new tennis champion has just received a cup. Such vivacity. That would be Juanita 'Hammer' Parker.

We saw a competent doctor hurring to the room of a suffering patient. With a smile he comforts her and his uncanning skill relieves her suffering. The young doctor is Clyde Ransdell.

In another famous hospital, a certain young nurse is nearly mobbed by patients. Where have I seen such a smile before. That officiant young lady must be Edna Robinson, graduate nurse and supervisor of her floor.

A little beauty shop in the heart of Washington is managed by a young beautician. Smoothing her patron's tousled hair is Mary Lena Robinson. No one else could be so efficient.

In a Greyhound Bus Terminal in New York City, a crisp voice answers a question. "Yes it is thirty minutes until your bus leaves" Its Etta Mae Ward, behind the information desk, trying to straighten the perplexed minds of the tourists who gather about her.

That is eleven of our class. All but- oh yes. I vaguely see myself chasing across a city street after the lead that will give my paper the first story of the newest murder case.

All this just as I zoomed back to Earth where my little bearded friend was making his last bows and scampering away. A vision? Yes. But may that vision be as true as it appeared to me. Then the class of 1940 will have success and happiness.

HONOR AWARDS.

For the first time in the history of the school the contest for highest scholastic average and the honor of being class valedictorian was declared a tie. Sara Allison Tribble and Nell Cinnamon both achieved averages of 96.2% after four years of excellent classwork. Second place award went to Edward Gill Houchin.

* THE CLASS WILL *
* * * * * * * * * * * *

The end of our sojurn within the realms of Salvisa High School being in sight, we the graduating class of 1940, being in sound mind and body, make this last will and testament to endow to our underclassmates certain traits and possessions, of which we feel ourselves no longer in need.

Mary Lena Robinson leaves to Ruby Cosby her ability to sew with the hope that Ruby will be able to fashion as many beautiful dresses in Home Ec. as 'Dolly' has.

Juanita Parker wills her seat on the wastebasket to Ruth Kennedy.

Frances Mitchell wills her line of talk to Sue Margaret Reed for use in entertaining Lawrence Morris.

Etta Mae Ward leaves her seat in the office window to Ada Kennedy and hopes Ada will have as much fun waving at the neighborhood boys as 'Kati' has.

Pauline Jordan wills her ability to write in other people's books to Hazel Gammon.

Pauline Jordan, Mary Lena Robinson, Virginia Moore, and Sara Tribble leave their Republican viewpoints to Sarah Frances Jordon, Maymie Moore, Ora Moore and Hadgie Robinson. May they have less trouble in upholding them than these seniors have.

Edward Gill Houchin leaves his seat on the candy office steps, where he studies poetry, to 'Willie' Gritton.

Sara Tribble leaves her privelege of keeping the office to Pearl Cole.

Albertine Grimes wills her cosmetics to Theresa Shiflett.

Clyde Ransdell wills his ability to make good English grades to Carl Bell.

Nell Cinnamon leaves her lovely brown hair to Josephine Robinson. May she give it the best of care and make it look as well as Nell has.

The Senior Class leaves their unlimited priveleges to the Juniors and hope they enjoy them as much as we have.

Edna Robinson leaves her melodious voice to Maxine Sanders to make her as great a song leader as Edna has been.

The Senior Class leaves to their successors their ability to disagree onneverything, all the time.

Finally, they leave their thanks along with their love to the teachers and friends who have made their days at Salvisa such pleasant ones.

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

In the never to be forgotten year of 1938, twelve ambitious young students started down the "Road of Life". At the head of this group to direct it when the path seemed hard and narrow was Mr. Brown, always ready to lend a helping hand or to give an encouraging word. During this first year on the road Leona Pence stepped aside from our midst to become an industrious housewife.

As these determined young comrades in 1939 continued down the "Road of Life" as the sophisticated sophomores of Salvisa High the hills became steeper and the rocks and other obsticales greatly increased. So hard were the trials and hardships of this path that two of our fellow travelers William Gammon and Davis Bell, stepped aside to choose other fields of work.

With this small class treading onward lighted by Christianity, we gained morally and spiritually as well as developed our minds. Of course in our class there is a variety of talents, activities, and ambition, but we have learned one of the most important lessons of life and that is: High honors and grades in classwork are not near so important as being a true friend to some one regardless of his place in society or public opinion.

The Junior year of 1940 finally arrived and with it the distressing news that Lewis Riley had to be transferred to Kavanaugh. The remaining and faithful eight are now looking onward, not down the road they have been looking, but a further road even harded than any they have ever seen before. The true "Road to Life", the road that will in the end determine whether we are a success or a failure.

THE SEASON

The squad of 1940 started the season as a new squad with several members who had never been in first team contest. They were in command of a new coach, Mr. Cunningham, who devoted much time and thought to the development of his team. Though small and light the squad built up a fine spirit of perserverence and sportsmanship that won for them several hard fought contests.

The season started slow with games dropped to Western, Chaplin, Hustonville, and Burgin. The boys did not really come to life until they met McAfee and defeated them in a very hard battle by four points. From them on they showed constant improvement, taking games from teams that had been able to defeat them earlier. The biggest disappointment came when a squad that was handicapped by sickness and over confidence dropped a game to their rivals from McAfee.

Four of this years squad , Edward Houchin, Clyde Ransdell, Melvin Watts, & Carl Bell, will no more wear the blue and gold of Salvisa. While none of them were regulars at the end of the season, they were valuable additions to the reserve of the team, and contributed to several well earned victories.

Activities

The Girl's Reserve Club held its first meeting and organized on the second Monday of the school year and has met on each Monday thereafter with one exception.

In the fall, the club sent three representatives to the District Conference at Harrodsburg. Our delegates were Albertine Grimes, Frances Mitchell, and Ruth Kennedy. A very worthwhile conference program was well attended and enjoyed.

During the year each member made an emblem for herself and all contributed to the Christmas fund. In cooperation with the Home Ekers, the Girl's Reserve sponsored the Spring Party and in May the club presented its annual candlelighting service.

Sixteen members of the club qualified for honor certificates during the state wide bible study contest.

ALUMNI DAY

On November 18th, the Classes of '36, '37, '38 & '39 sponsored a reunion of the members of these classes which included an informal dinner served at the school by the Home Economics Club and a three act farce presented by representative of these classes.

Over 50% of the membership of these classes were present at the dinner. Marshall Sanders of the Class of '37 acted as toastmaster. Mr. Brown welcomed the graduates back to the scenes of their school days and Edna Mae Record, '36 responded with a few well chosen remarks.

Following the dinner, representatives of these classes presented the popular Row Peterson farce, "Spring Fever" to a large audience. The cast included: Wesley Sims, '36, Edward Gill Houchin, '40; Vernon Record, '39; Mary Elizabeth Sharpe, '39; Sara Alice Cunningham, '39; Doreen Cunningham, '39; Lucille Gritton, '37; William Nathan Kennedy, '39; Virginia Ransdell, '37; Adeline Gritton '37; Robert Ransdell, '41; Garnett Ransdell, '36. The play was under the direction of Mr. Brown.

BLACK EYED SUSAN

On March 29th, the school and community joined in presenting a Wayne P. Sewell play, "Black Eyed Susan" The cast included: Ada Kennedy, Vernon Record, Ruth Short William Davis Harmon, Nell Cinnamon, Edward Gill Houchin, Doreen Cunningham, Robert Ransdell, Mrs Ezra Jones, Ezra Jones, William Nathan Kennedy, Juanita Parker, Edna Robinson Annie Jones, Pauline Jordan, Etta Mae Ward, Mary L Robinson. Miss Dickerson acted as pianist. The Wayne P. Sewell company furnished coustoumes. Miss Lucylle Calvert of Atlanta aided in direction. The chorus consisted of Martha Houchin, Maxine Sanders, Aileen Grimes, Hazel Gammon and Opal Robinson.

* *** *

DUMB DOLLIVER

On Saturday October 15th, "Dumb Dollivar", a farce in three acts was presented in the auditorium by an alumni group from McAfee. The play was under the direction of Mrs Alice Cassell Harned and was sponsored by the seventh grade at Salvisa. Mr. Demaree was a member of the cast.

* *** *

MOTION PICTURES

During the year the school sponsored several motion pictures of an educational nature. The most famous was the passion play, "Jesus of Nazereth" depicting the story of the life of Christ. Other pictures shown included; "Bring Em Back Alive", "Silent Enemy" and "Alaska" Most of the pisture were shown during the school day.

SCHOLARSHIP TESTS

The school again participated in the scholarship tests sponsored by the Interscholastic League and The University of Kentucky. In this test representatives of the various schools compete for scholastic honors in various subjects. Salvisa was represented by Nell Cinnamon in English Literature, Sara Tribble in English Composition IV, Edward Gill Houchin in Scholarship, and Martha Houchin in English Composition II. Results had not been released by the League when the 'Spectator' went to press.

We wish to congratulate the parents and the teachers alike, on the fine progress made by the pupils of Salvisa School.

We also most heartily commend all the pupils: especially the graduates of the 1940 class for the most wonderful achievements you have attained.

Our very best wishes will follow you along life's pathway with the hope that you will set your goal high, and reach it.

Girls;

When your friend takes you out driving
To speak to you sweet and low
Be sure they have Shell gasoline,
For it saves on "Stop and Go."

Boys remember:

THE CORNER DRUG
J. Herman Allen, Prop.
Harrodsburg, Ky.

To the People of Salvisa:

Don't be fooled by buying inferior drugs and medicine for the sake of a few pennies.

Imitations destroy health and poison the system.

Come to us for pure and original packages of national renown.

ATTENTION.PLEASE!

We want to call your attention to the splendid business firms whose interest has made this edition of the Spectator the largest ever. Without their cooperation this book would have been much smaller and much less interesting. Therefore, won't you please show your appreciation by visiting them in their places of business and telling them you saw their advertisement in "The Spectator"
