full amount of your account was due in cash without any discount at the end of the thirty days. However we wish to extend every courtesy consistent with sound business methods and if you will send your notes properly signed by return mail or your check for the amount of your account less the eight percent discount, we will accept them in settlement, although the time for settling in this manner has expired as stated above.

Wishing you the greatest of success in all your undertakings and thanking you for past favors, we remain,
