American Legion to Sponsor a Good Move For a Children's Play Place

The Herald wishes to most heartily commend the Douglass Laws Post, American Legion, in its plans for a play place for children supervised by an expert in such matters.

Following the great motto of the Legion: "For God and Country"—the organization could not have a better thought for inspiration in its proposed undertaking. To carry this plan through will be the largest public service we can conceive.

A service which will tend to the happiness, the physical, the intelligent and moral welfare of you is incalculable. Too often children are condemned wrongfully. Back of them, more than likely, censure should settle on the home and the leaders in the community. Often the bad act alone is viewed in the child's behavior. It might be better to regard the behavior as a symptom. It is merely an expression of the child seeking to gain satisfaction. The mainspring to human behavior is the emotional instinctive part of the personality. Our wishes, longings, desires, cravings, specific interests, and ambitions, demand more or less realization in terms of performance satisfactions. If reasonable satisfaction is not obtained in socially approved ways, human nature in youth is such that the individual seeks it in undesirable activities. The wise parent or community prevents this.

Physicians agree that health is the normal condition of the body. Unless there is inherited or transmitted disease, there need be no disease, if a person is careful. Well directed play contributes to health of the body. As we start this we are reminded of the great cost youth pays if misdirected and wastes on a life of sin. A cost hard alike on youth and the community. A financial burden at this time very great on the state to carry.

A queer word is "sin." You do not hear much about it any more in the home or from the pulpit. Most of the older generation were raised on it. In a word sin costs a lot of money, time, sorrow and eternal happiness. It is not essential and is preventable. If preventable what are some of the preventable measures?

One of the best tried methods of directing youth has been found in correctly directing his idle time. Play supervised by a trained person to direct children is one of the greatest forces to make fair play attractive and unfair play abhorrent. A well balanced play program calls for not only fair play periods but religious, moral and patriotic training.

Such a program is in accord with the high standards of the Legion—"For God and Country." These are inseparable thoughts.

It is hoped the churches, lodges, clubs, board of education, parent-teacher associations and citizens generally, will join with the Legion in the undertaking. The history of everything good that has been accomplished here has taken effort on some more than others.

Start a play place or places going and it is most sure to find its good angels to furnish and equip the grounds. Surely the horrid deed of public enemy will not be raised to block or heckle the Legion in its efforts.

The Union League's Unwitting Tribute Going To Roosevelt and the New Deal

The Union League of Chicago spent loads of money to discount the New Deal. It did a lot of sap stuff that boomeranged on them.

A high compliment was paid to Roosevelt Recovery last week when the staid Union League club, citadel of GOP conservatism in Chicago, "liquidated" its famous "Million Dollar Room." The room was papered completely with securities only two years ago when club members, lacking confidence in the ability of the New Deal to restore stock and bond values, solemnly voted to provide themselves at least "ornamentation." And for months after its ostentatious inauguration, the "Million Dollar" room's intrinsic value was the equivalent of so much wall paper. transferred their green and gold certificates to safety deposit boxes. According to the Associated Press, "The house committee struggled to keep the folly room's plaster decently clothed; but it was no go. All the securities were ordered removed and filed at the club's offices to await such claimants as were not present."

Chairman C. W. Bergquist for the house committee explained that "With the depression on the wane, we decided to put aside a reminder of those days when it seemed the markets had no bottom." The historic occasion of the denuding occurred a few hours after Mr. Hoover had passed through Chicago.

Fifty-Three Graduates and the Future That Lies Out Before Them

The community has done the best it could do for you in bringing you up to this period in life. To give you modern school quarters and equipment and splendid school staff the community has voluntarily paid a self imposed tax that has, in many cases, been hard to do. But it has been done and cheerfully so that you might receive a common school education.

This fact places our obligation on you to reflect in the community for the good of all the best in you. You are to now take up the burden of a good citizen. You are now under the highest obligations of manhood and womanhood to do your part in making this a better place in which to live. To furnish the graduates that follow you a better opportunity than you now have.

With shamefacedness we are compelled to face you and say that we are sorry that we did not plan more and better for your commencement in active civic life. We should have open to you new avenues of employment. We have failed you to the extent that this was not done in planning for you. We planned for your education but not for your employment. We are sorry. We make the plea that you do better than we have done.

We Live By Habit

If parents realized that we live largely by habit their first concern would be to give their children habit training in those essentials to health, happiness, efficiency, moral uprightness and social adaption. Of basic importance is a well balanced program of twenty-four hour living habits with respect to work, play, rest and relaxation, sleep, study, diet and regular elimination. Some parents do not possess correct habits of life. In such cases their children need to receive their training from outside sources. The American Legion proposes to furnish this training.

At the dinner session Tuesday night at Hotel Harrod, the Lions Club elected the following officers: President, Glen Keightley; first vice president, Charles Matherly; second vice president, Roy Sutherland; third vice president, Franklin Ransdell; secretary-treasurer, J. W. McClellan; tail twister, Maurice Watts; Lion Tamer, William Gatchel; board of directors, Cleo Royalty, Arch Woods, Ralph Davenport, Judge C. A. Hardin.

The new officers will be installed at the first session in July, which will be held at Herrington Lake, with the ladies present, it is announced by Douglass Curry, the out-going president.

ROOF FIRE THURSDAY DOES LITTLE DAMAGE

A small fire which started about 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the home of Ed Perkins and Hugh Phillips on Greenville street near Factory was quickly extinguished after the arrival of the fire department.

The blaze which was probably started by sparks from the chimney burned a few shingles but caused no other damage.

HELD ON CHARGE OF SNITCHING DYNAMITE

Walter Merriman, Jr., waived his examining trial and was placed under $500 bond today by Judge Chas. T. Corn to await action of the grand jury. Merriman was charged with stealing dynamite from the store house at the county farm. The dynamite belonged to the federal government and was being used on WPA projects in Mercer.

NIGHT SOFTBALL SEASON BEGINS

Parade Starts Off Opening Night As Double Header Is Played.

The night softball season was to make its official bow in Harrodsburg last night just after this paper went to press. Four church teams were to play a double header at the newly lighted Voorhies Field. A parade thru the main streets of Harrodsburg was planned to start off the night's festivities.

The opening game was to be played between the Presbyterian Giants and the Methodist Cubs. This was to be followed by a tussle between the Christian Reds and Baptist Cards. All four teams have been practicing during the past three weeks and the prospects pointed to two good games Thursday night.

The job of installing lights at the athletic field has been going on for several days. Six forty foot poles have been placed and the reflectors were put on them Wednesday morning.

The parade, starting at the head of Main street at 6:30 Thursday night, was to be led by the city's fire truck, Chief Phillips at the wheel, followed by a truck carrying a band and many autos of enthusiastic softball fans.

The route of the parade was to be as follows: north on Main street to Diamond Point; south on College to Lexington; east on Lexington to Marimon and south on Marimon to the ball park.

Admission to the park for these and other games will be 10c for adults and 5c for children. This small charge is to pay for the electrical equipment, electricity and for improvements that may be made on the field from time to time.

A change in schedule was announced today. The double-header planned for next Tuesday night will be played on Monday night. This change was made in order not to conflict with the dinner sponsored by the Laymen's Missionary Movement.

On Monday night, June 8, the first game will be played between the Presbyterians and Baptists; second game, Christians vs. Methodists; Friday, June 12, first game, Baptists vs. Methodists; second game, Christians vs. Presbyterians.

Lake Is Sport Mecca Fishing Season Opens

Thousands Crowd Herrington Lake Ban Lifted June 1 And Fishermen Happy Over Catches.

Hundreds of enthusiastic fishermen were on the lake ready to throw in their lines when the fishing season opened at 12 o'clock Sunday night. An almost full moon made the night almost ideal for the sportsmen who came to try their fishermen's luck at the very first opportunity.

The occasional putter of a motor boat early in the evening gradually increased more and more until, at midnight, a steady hum came from the hundreds of boats searching for a suitable spot for the fishers to begin.

Hundreds of automobiles lined the shores and their license plates showed that their owners came from far and near to enjoy the opportunities offered by this great fishing resort. Cars from all over the State and from several surrounding states were there.

It was estimated that at least two or three thousand were on the lake at midnight and that several thousand more enjoyed the sport there before the first day of the season was over.

The first day's catch was a large one. Many fishermen think that this will be the best season the lake has ever had.

SIXTEEN SECURE BLANKS FOR POSTMASTER EXAMINATION

Sixteen persons up to the present date have secured civil service blanks for examination for postmaster in Harrodsburg. It isn't known if all are aspirants for the position, or if some of the blanks were secured for aspirants who did not want at this time to reveal their identity. June 9 is the last day for filing applications with the Civil Service Commission in Washington. Competitors will be rated upon their education, training, business fitness and experience.

Postmaster Willard Gabhart's term expires July 1, but it is not known if the appointment will be made prior or after that date. Postmaster Gabhart will hold over until the President approves the selection.

CLASSROOM ROMANCES TESTED BY PROFESSOR

Gordon Duffin, a bachelor teacher, of Windsor, Ontario, has evolved a sure cure for classroom romances. It is known as the "love test." Whenever he catches two lovelorn pupils gazing soulfully at each other he seats them together. After two weeks of it, he says, they won't even talk to each other.
