

THE HOUSE OF HAZARDS

By MAC ARTHUR

TWENTY-ONE YEARS AGO FROM THE HERALD FILES

June 4, 1915
An advertisement of the George Bohon Company takes up the entire front page of this issue.

The private school taught by Mrs. Wallace Rue closed its session this week by the children presenting a "Mock Commencement." The little tots gave a "Flower Party."

The baccalaureate sermon for the high school graduates Sunday will be given by Mrs. Jas. H. Spilman of the Methodist church Sunday at the opera house. The commencement exercises will be at the same place on Friday evening with Dr. F. E. Brown, of the Baptist church, making the address. There will be eleven graduates.

Rev. Henry D. Martin, who has been pastor of St. Philip's Episcopal church here, has resigned to take effect the middle of June. The Harrodsburg church and the Danville church are his first independent charges, and the young man resigned for additional study in University of Chicago. The vestry term him leave for the summer term of study, while holding his resignation for re-consideration.

Game Warden Freeman from Frankfort, dropped in on the city council Wednesday to investigate a report that he had heard that Salt River was being dynamited. When it was explained to him that the city officials were dynamiting at the water reservoir to stir up the mud and drain it through a specially built channel, in an effort to clean out the mud that had settled in the reservoir, and also to deepen the stream at that point, the Game Warden changed his blame to praise.

Rev. R. N. Simpson, pastor of the Christian church, has arranged a reunion of former ministers here for next Tuesday. They are Dr. M. G. Buckner, Owensboro; Rev. Horace Kingsbury, who has recently returned from Australia; Dr. W. H. Smith, Bloomington, Ind.; Rev. H. P. Atkins, Birmingham, Ala., all former pastors of the Christian church, and Dr. M. V. P. Yeaman, who was a former pastor of the Presbyterian church while the other ministers lived here.

John B. Mann has returned from the General Assembly of the Southern Presbyterian church at Newport News, Va., where he represented the Harrodsburg Presbyterian church.

A bequest of rare books in a case has been installed in the library as the gift of the late W. W. Stephenson. It was turned over to the directors by his sisters, Misses Martha and Mary Stephenson.

Monday was Decoration Day, but the weather was so bad that the few remaining old veterans could not go to the cemetery to decorate the graves of their companions. Clem Crain was the only one who ventured out and he was assisted in placing flags on the graves by James T. Cooke and James Bruner.

Deaths: The six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer McGinnis died at Nevada, Sunday. Mrs. Mary C. Bottom, 78, died Tuesday.

MOVIE PICTURES ARE FILLED WITH TRICKS
Most anybody can tell you things that are not so but when it comes to showing you things which are not so that is a matter which has to be left to the movie photographer. From the pugilist in the ring who is glistening with perspiration to the storm-tossed ship at sea, it is all a fake. A spray of liquid vaseline can do a better job at giving the appearance of extreme exertion than the extreme exertion itself can do. A tank of water and miniature ship is better than an ocean and a real ship in the eyes of the photographer, anyway. Agitation of the water creates an excellent storm—all right in the studio.

BRUCE BARTON Says:

Foundations Important

Now we are old that hard drink does not cause sclerosis of liver and is not, in fact, a direct cause of any of the other physical ailments for which it has so long been blamed. "Some persons," says a John Hopkins authority, "can drink enormous quantities of liquor without doing themselves any harm. Others can't go a quarter of a small bottle without upsetting their livers."

That is because of liver conditions which existed before the drinking began. If a man has a good liver it doesn't make much difference how hard a drinker he is. In other words, if the youngster has grown to be sound and tough, nothing much hurts him; if he has a functional defect, everything hurts him.

The same thing is true with the consumption of Communism and other subversive theories. People who have sound reasoning powers are not likely to be much hurt by them. They can imbibe large quantities of cock-eyed economies and continue to walk upright. But give the weak or the very young even a mild dose of Utopianism, and they get giddy. Says Schopenhauer: "There is no absurdity that cannot be fixed permanently in peoples' minds if it is implanted there when they are young."

All thoughtful men are in favor of the freest sort of free speech for adults, just as they favor allowing each adult to decide for himself whether he wants to drink or not. But it is a crime to put whiskey into nursing bottles. And it's no good trying out all sorts of half-baked theories on minds that are still soft and wet. In school the child ought to be taught those things which human experience has proved to be true. Two of those established truths are that whiskey can be very dangerous, and that Communist is the recourse of failures and fools.

I Must Confess
My wife said to me: "Tomorrow we ought to go to Such and Such Museum to see the murals that are to be shown all over the country. We can stop in before dinner. It's just around the corner, right on Fifty-seventh Street."

But on the morrow there was some reason why I had to be late at the office. And the next day I had to go to Chicago, and one thing after another came up. Finally, after a couple of weeks, I said: "Let's go tonight to see those murals." And she said: "It's too late now; they're gone."

That's human nature. For more than five years we lived almost opposite the Metropolitan Museum, which is certainly one of the great show places of the world. I had visited it in other years, but all during the time we looked down on it from our windows I never crossed its threshold. In that period we were in the British Museum and the National Gallery and the Cluny Museum and the Cairo Museum, and goodness knows how many others. In fact, we haven't overlooked much of anything in the way of museums anywhere in the world—except right at home!

When I was a kid I lived in Boston. After we had moved to Chicago we returned to New England one summer, and I promptly made a pilgrimage to Bunker Hill. We had meant to go during our residence, but it was so easy to get there that we never went.

I was looking yesterday at the big ships in the harbor and wishing I could go to Peking. I think I shall go one of these days, but I doubt if I ever get around to the galleries on Fifty-seventh Street.

MARVELOUS BIRD FLIGHTS

Especially interesting at this season when millions of migratory birds are moving northward, is the following bit of information about the amazing flights made by some species, as given by T. Gilbert Pearson, president of the National Association of Audubon Societies, in The Progressive Farmer:

"Admiral Peary once told me that he found the nests of 26 species of birds on the shores of Ellesmere Land where it dips into the Arctic ocean 450 miles from the North Pole. One of these was the nest of the Arctic tern. Arctic terns breed on the Atlantic ocean in the United States and Canada and cross the ocean to Europe and then, passing down the coasts of Africa, they reach the Antarctic.

But to my mind the most amazing flight taken by any North American bird is that of the little ruby-throated hummingbird. It crosses the Gulf of Mexico twice a year, flying each way over water for fully 600 miles—and the bird weighs only a tenth of an ounce."

ALLIANCE OF NORTHERN, SOUTHERN BAPTISTS URGED

A plea for an alliance—but not an organic union—of the Northern and Southern Baptists was voiced by the Rev. Rufus W. Weaver of Washington, D. C. at the Southern Baptist Convention closed a few days ago in St. Louis.

It was the first public reference to a possible joining of the two denominations who recently concluded a two-day joint session of fellowship with an address by Toyohiko Kagawa, Japanese Christian leader.

KING GEORGE'S YACHT FITTINGS PUT ON BLOCK

King Edward VIII has decided to sell the sails, riggings and fittings of the late King George V's famous racing yacht, Britannia. No official announcement was made as to what His Majesty would do regarding the hull and mast, but it was understood the hull would be sunk.

The Britannia—completed in 625 races. She won 231 first places, established one world record and was awarded 129 other prizes.

When a grand jury visited the Hopkins county jail it found some of the prisoners naked which prompted it to report "we do not believe that is decent and recommend that the jailer be instructed to require all prisoners to be at least dressed in trunks." After while even a prisoner will have no liberties.

SPRINGFIELD SCHOOL LEVY INCREASES TO 85 CTS.

The Board of Education of the Springfield Independent Graded School District increased the levy this year from 70c to 85c, exclusive of the regular sinking fund levy of 15c, which was necessary to raise the amount of money needed to repair the school buildings.

KENTUCKY BALLOON RABBIT LANDS IN CAR

David Garcia, Redlands, Calif., saw a rabbit in the path of his car. The next thing he knew, he was being kicked in the face by the rabbit, which had given a high leap, crashed into the windshield and almost wrapped itself around Garcia's neck.

'PHONES TO AID THE HARD OF HEARING

INTELLIGENT DUMBNESS!

Gracie Allen—the professional dumbbell—was elected by University of Southern California psychology students last week as the screen's most intelligent actress.

An elementary class of 80 students and an advanced section of 40 participated in the poll.

The other nine named actresses considered to be Hollywood's most intelligent women were Mary Pickford, Norma Shearer, Ann Harding, Irene Dunn, Claudette Colbert, Grace Moore, Bette Davis, Ruth Chatterton and Jeanette MacDonald.
