DANVILLE WATER PLANT DISPUTE SETTLED

Completion in the near future of the PWA $110,000 municipal waterworks project in Danville was foreseen with the announcement that a satisfactory settlement had been made by officials of the Columbia Iron Works.

Columbia Iron Works is a subcontractor to the Charles E. Cannell Company, principal contractor, on the job. An agreement has been reached whereby the contractors will pay to the city of Danville a total of $2,500 for defective valves furnished for the intake towers of the pump station.

KY. ARMY POSTS EXEMPTED FROM FAG, DRINK TAXES

So far as Kentucky is concerned, Federal military reservations such as those at Fort Knox and Fort Thomas are "foreign territory" and not subject to State tax statutes, Assistant Attorney General M. D. Hollifield held Wednesday in an opinion given to the State Tax Commission.

Hollifield ruled taxes on cigarettes, soft drinks, cosmetics, candy, ice cream and alcoholic beverages are not applicable at commissaries on Government property or at C. C. C. camps within the National Forest Reserve.

Weekly Newspapers Are Evaluated

Arthur Brisbane, one of America's foremost newspaper men and, incidentally, one of the highest paid writers in the world today, in evaluating weekly newspapers says:

"The readers of the smaller newspapers, scattered all over the United States, forms the most important body of thinking Americans in this country. Editors of smaller newspapers constitute a national intellectual police force that keeps a great majority of the 130,000,000 Americans informed as to public happenings. If the great advertisers of the United States could be made to realize the extraordinary buying power and advertising value of the local newspapers, the publishers of such newspapers would be rewarded financially as they deserve to be."

It would be useless for us to attempt to elaborate on Mr. Brisbane's statement. It speaks for itself, and we can only say we are profoundly grateful for this kind expression from a nationally known writer who knows whereof he speaks.—Springfield Sun.

TAXPAYERS' PARADISE

The Treasury of Nebraska has a balance of $21,123,935.

The Treasurer's office reported it had $1,169 in cash on hand, $4,503,846 in banks, $2,879,643 in Government bonds and $13,738,754 in other securities.

Because the State was debtless and had neither an income tax nor a sales tax, Gov. R. L. Cochran called Nebraska a "taxpayers' paradise."

Debt in excess of $100,000 has been forbidden by the Nebraska Constitution since 1875.

Most of the State balance belongs to trust funds built up for the benefit of the State's schools, war veterans and its Agricultural College, although $6,161,558 of today's balance was in current revenue funds for operation of the State government.

The State property tax last year was $2.15 per $1,000.

BOARD TOOK HIM ALONG

When Robert Biely, 18, tossed a large two-by-four out of a second-story window in a house in Pasadena, Calif., he was helping to demolish, he thought he had let go of it until he was whisked out the window himself. The nails had caught in his clothing and jerked him out with the heavy plank. Despite the long fall, the youth escaped without broken bones.

Your Family Coat-of-Arms

Hopkins

The identity of the Captain Hopkins who was granted these coat of arms is obscured but he was probably the Capt. Hopkins mentioned in the "Diary of the Siege of Detroit" where he had charge of a company of Rangers and in numerous skirmishes was mentioned as having command.

This Hopkins should not be confused with the Hopkins family of Maryland.

The execution of the arms is most unusual when judged by the comparative simplicity of the coat of arms of other families.

The top of the above coat of arms is silver, the chevron gold on a black background, the medallion is silver topped by a red ribbon at the apex, in the chevron is a green wreath, on the right side of the chevron is a scarp on a staff, on the left a tomahawk, the pistols are brown against the black background.

The crest shows a castle in flames.

HERRINGTON LAKE REGATTA IS BEING PUSHED

Will Kaltenbacher, writing in the Courier-Journal, has the following to say in regard to the proposed Lake Herrington regatta, plans for which are being studied by the Lancaster, Danville and Harrodsburg chambers of commerce:

Already famed the country over as an unrivaled fishing ground, Herrington Lake, formed by the impounded waters of Dix River, may become the scene of water sports. Plans are being considered for holding a regatta there in August, under the auspices of the chambers of commerce of neighboring towns.

According to the tentative plans, motorboat racing would be a feature of the proposed regatta, and the promoters believe that the events would attract entries from a wide radius. The thirty-five-mile course offers a water speedway that has few equals, and with its central location and ready access should provide a most advantageous location for a water carnival second to none.

Many have wondered why Kentucky, with its generous facilities, has not in the past gone in for water sports on a larger scale. Notwithstanding the fact that the State has more navigable water mileage than any other, little attention has been given to speed-boat racing or other forms of aquatic sports. Occasional motorboat races have been held on the Ohio, Kentucky and Cumberland Rivers, but it is claimed that the contests have approximated nothing like the point to which the sport could be developed.

Most Kentucky educational institutions are adjacent to water courses, yet water sports seem to have figured little in the athletic activities of the student bodies. It has been pointed out that the proposed Herrington Lake water carnival and regatta could be planned to include contests in oaranship, swimming and diving to be open to Kentucky students. Once students were interested, it is argued, collegiate water sports would grow in importance in Kentucky. On the whole, there would seem to be no reason why the State's students should not be given the opportunity to compete in water sports.

CAR WRECKS HOUSE, MOVES CHILDREN TO BACK YARD

(Lancaster Record)

An automobile, alleged to have been driven by Bishop Wearren, colored, got out of control on the Chute here early Sunday morning and ran into the residence of Taylor Leavell, colored, tearing away the front porch and one of the corner rooms of the dwelling in which were sleeping two of Leavell's children, and landed in the back yard of the residence. The two children were carried into the yard in the bed in which they were sleeping and neither of them was injured. None of the occupants of the car were hurt.

LINDBERGH'S GUESTS OF KING EDWARD OF ENGLAND

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and Mrs. Lindbergh dined last Thursday night with fourteen other guests of King Edward VIII at St. James Palace.

Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin and Mrs. Baldwin headed the list of guests, which also included Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Duff Cooper and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Simpson.

Mrs. Simpson is the former Miss Warfield, of Baltimore.

A court circular told of the dinner party, which is one of the first given by the British ruler since he acceded to the throne.

Lower Tobacco Prices Forecast

Despite a prospective upward trend in tobacco consumption and the possibility of increased exports, tobacco prices during the 1936-37 season are likely to average lower than in either of the two previous seasons, the U. S. Department of Agriculture predicted in its May summary of crop conditions and prospects.

The total supply of tobacco for the approaching season, the department estimated, will be more than 300,000,000 pounds above normal. Based on the general trend of stocks, manufactures and exports, a carry-over at the beginning of the 1936-37 season of about 2,259,700,000 pounds, farm sales weight, is indicated. This is an increase of about 1.7 per cent over the carry-over at the beginning of the 1935-36 season. A carry-over of this size, it was pointed out, plus indicated production of 1,178,600,000 lbs., based on March 1 intentions to plant and the average 1923-32 yields would result in a supply of about 3,438,300,000 pounds for the next season.

PRESENTED WITH TURTLE EGGS

The Interior Journal's good friend, Dave Burton, of the Highland section, who has a number of times brought in some of his fine vegetables, sent a half dozen turtle eggs the other day. As the Interior Journal man is a vegetarian, Mr. Burton's substitute for his garden products appeal to the eye rather than to the stomach and they do not fill the long-felt want as his fine tomatoes, potatoes and the like do. In other words, more vegetables and fewer turtle eggs, please, says the editor.

WATCH YOUR STARCHES

Much of our food may be classified as starchy. We could not get along without a certain amount of the carbohydrate. It is only with excess of starch that I attempt to deal here.

Common starches are rice, potatoes, bread, and cereals that are marketed under trade names. The admixture of sugar makes the starchy foods more tempting.

We eat five or six times as much starch as we really need. Most any well-set dinner-table has four or five starches, when one would be abundant. The well-living housewife sets on her table two kinds of bread, always potatoes, maybe lima beans, or baked beans, pie with starch crusts and rice pudding occasionally! If I were permitted to hang a motto above the American dinner-table—one that would do good—I would certainly proclaim, "One starch—not four."

When too much starch is piled into the system, the liver is given more than it can do perfectly—and the liver is the largest gland in the body. It transforms all the starch it can; the overplus is deposited about the body and we become fat, mushy, flabby in muscle and mentality. We are overloaded with "bal-touble." To cut down the starch is the only rational way. If we do not then nature makes us sick and we are compelled to diet in order to get well—and nine times out of ten, the offender is starch, taken in great excess.

Excess of starch weakens; makes us susceptible to disease. Watch your starches. Use one, not four. We find starches as fully as harmful as meats, though highly innocent in appearance.

SMEDLEY BUTLER'S FOUND

In case anyone who ever wonders what became of Gen. Smedley Butler, famous battler of the marine corps—

Last winter Butler wrote a series of anti-militarist articles for the magazine Common Sense.

Now he lectures against war and on behalf of prohibition, predicting that in 25 years there will be another and permanent prohibition amendment.

In a speech at church in Washington the other night, he urged dyes to seek one objective at a time, and suggested that they begin with campaigns against drunken drivers. "Make it practical," he said. "Nobody believes in drunken drivers. Don't talk about prohibition; talk about human lives. It won't be possible to get another prohibition amendment right away."

GEORGE GOODMAN OF WPA TO GET SULLIVAN MEDALLION

The selection of George H. Goodman, Louisville, State director of the Works Progress Administration, as recipient of the Algernon Sidney Sullivan medallion, was announced recently by Dr. Frank L. McVey, president of the University of Kentucky.

The medallion is awarded each year to a Kentucky citizen who has done outstanding work for the State during the year. It will be presented at the university commencement exercises in Lexington June 5.

Mr. Goodman is a former Paducah newspaper man.

Chain stores were taxed from $25 to $150 a store, depending upon the number in the chain.

K. E. A. DUES PAYMENT BY PUBLIC FUNDS BANNED

Boards of Education have to right to pay Kentucky Education Association dues from public funds of teachers employed by the board, it was said by W. Owen Keller, Assistant Attorney General, in an opinion given to Palmer L. Hall, Prestonsburg, superintendent of Floyd county schools. Dues in the K. E. A. are a personal matter of the teacher and not a public purpose, it was said.
