SALVISA SCHOOL NOTES

On account of her appointment as enrolling clerk of the state Senate, Miss Gladys Seay, principal of the high school, has been given a leave of absence by the Board of Education. At this time no appointment has been made to fill this vacancy.

The Senior Girl Reserves Group served dinner to the Lions Club of Harrodsburg in the Science room, Tuesday night. Following the dinner, an amateur contest, after the order of Major Bowes Sunday night radio program, was held in the auditorium, with Judge Charles Corn impersonating Major Bowes. To enter, the contestants were required to be at least fourteen years old and to live in the Salvisa district. The musical and speech numbers on the program were enthusiastically received by the large audience and revealed several talented musicians and readers. The news account of this meeting is elsewhere in this paper.

It's a queer twist of life that you always have plenty of time in old age when you don't need it.

REV. EDGAR HUME BLAKEMAN

Baptist Pastor-Evangelist
Harrodsburg, Ky.

Rev. Edgar Hume Blakeman recently bought the VanFleet place on Perryville street, and moved here with his wife from Williamsburg, where he had been pastor of the Baptist church for some years. He has had an extended experience covering 28 years as a pastor-evangelist. He has assisted several churches in as many as seven or eight revivals. At some of these churches he was invited for the ninth time. Several testimonials as to his ability are as follows:

Dr. A. M. Parrish, of Paducah, Ky. "Bro. Blakeman is an eloquent preacher, a great expositor. He preaches more Bible than most any man I know. His messages are logical and pungent and have a wonderful effect wherever he preaches."

Dr. J. W. Black, of Covington, Ky. "Bro. Blakeman has assisted me in two meetings. His messages are true to the Old Book. Having had wide experience as pastor he knows a pastor's problems, he leaves no torn-down fences to rebuild nor unsound doctrine to correct. Without the least fear of disappointment I freely commend his services to my fellow-pastors."

Rev. John Centers, of Corbin, Ky. "Bro. Blakeman is a very able preacher, he knows his calling both as pastor and evangelist. His wide experience makes him very efficient in either. I heartily commend him to any church who wants to hear the Gospel."

Rev. E. W. Barnes, of Lyons, Ky. "Bro. Blakeman has assisted me in several meetings. I have heard most of the outstanding preachers of the South, and I consider him as good as the best. He is a great pastor and a great evangelist."

Burgin Defeated By Fayette Team

Burgin's high school basketball squad went down in defeat by a close margin Friday night at Burgin when the Bryan Station Indians, of Fayette county, took an early lead and maintained it until the final whistle when the score stood 28 to 25. It was the first time in three years that the Indians had defeated Burgin.

Taking a 9 to 7 lead early in the first quarter the Fayette countians held to a small margin throughout the game, leading 19 to 11 at the half, and 25 to 19 at the end of the third quarter. Holsclaw, speedy forward for the Indians, was high-point man with 10 counters. Hockersmith, center, accounted for seven points, while Blakeman tallied six.

Sparrow was the whole show for Burgin, annexing eight points and playing an efficient guarding game.

Personal fouls marred the game somewhat, 20 offenses being called by Referee Wilson.

The Burgin Independents mopped up the Monarch Cleaners aggregation Friday night, trouncing the Danville squad by a 43 to 23 score.

Coleman and Worley received scoring honors for Burgin, accounting for 14 and 8 points respectively. For the Monarch squad "Varmint" Vaught tallied nine points and Duvall made eight.

MERCER MEN CHARGED WITH DRIVING TRUCK WHILE DRUNK
G. C. Farney and Ed McGinnis, both of Mercer county, were placed in jail Saturday night, charged with operating a truck while intoxicated. They were arrested after they had wrecked a Pulaski county truck loaded with corn in front of the Moss home on Danville avenue, torn up the front yard of Gabe Raney, and backed off the road into the vacant lot opposite Mr. Moss's, where they were unable to get the truck, loaded with corn, out before Deputy Sheriff J. R. Morrell arrived on the scene. —The (Stanford, Ky.) Interior Journal.

$1,000,000 ADVERTISING CAMPAIGN IS PLANNED

While charity begins at home, it shouldn't be afraid to go out and see a little of the world.

The Family DOCTOR

By JOHN JOSEPH GAINES MD.

YOUR NEW MOLARS

There has always been a definite relation between "medicine" and dentistry, inasmuch as both relate to the physical well-being of humanity. The professions are a distinct brotherhood and should work in harmony with each other.

But I read recently, did not dream of it before, that it is the custom of some of our excellent dentists to take impressions for new teeth, and send them away to near-by cities to have the plates constructed by operators who have never seen the patient, and can merely imagine the contour of the face and other individual peculiarities of the structure sought to be improved. It seems to me this is all wrong.

It is the accidental happenings in to an incident of this kind this very week that inspires this brief article for my readers that happen to need "store teeth."

The real artist in dentistry, it seems to me, does his own work from start to finish. He alone sees the peculiar type of patient. He sees the minute changes that come from extractions made at far-differing dates. He alone can minister accurately to the patient he is serving, not the machine operator milling his game in the stifling mart of mass production.

Therefore, if my opinion is worth anything in this important matter, I would certainly give preference to the dentist who builds his own masterpieces. From individual inquiry I have learned that such dentists give the greater satisfaction to the patient. That is what counts.
