Designed in Sizes: 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 requires 4 1/2 yards of 39-inch material.

Pattern 8664 — Shirtwaist frocks are gathering a great deal of fulness toward the front this season, and thereby achieving the smart, new this-year's look about them which we all desire.

The model sketched has an unusually interesting arrangement of front pleats extending from the shoulder yoke down to the hemline.

The small collar which ties in the front is casual and becoming. The back of the waist has action pleats sewed to the yoke. Long bell sleeves are fastened together with buttons.

And have you noticed how belts are growing wider and wider with very striking buckle or ornament at the front? So be sure to make your belt wide with a buckle as sketched. This frock would be very attractive in a light weight woolen or silk crepe.

For PATTERN, send 15 cents in coin (for each pattern desired), your NAME, ADDRESS, STYLE NUM.

News of Modern Women

Austra has honored Sarah Wambough, an American, who is the only woman member of the League of Nations Committee for the Saar Plebiscite, by bestowing upon her the first-class Knight's Cross of the Austrian Order of Merit.

One woman who can keep a secret is Miss K. M. Homer, Justice of the Peace of Carlinville, Illinois. For more than three years she has been marrying couples, and whether requested to keep the marriage a secret or not, she doesn't tell.

Recognition is steadily coming to women in Maine. Governor Louis J. Brann recently appointed Bertha Hudson to the Highway Safety Commission. Miss Hudson is a member of the State Library Extension Committee.

For the first time in its history the state of Oklahoma has conferred upon a woman the office of President of the Oklahoma Hospital, Owners Association. She is Mrs. Dilly Irene McNulty of Tulsa.

With more than half a million miles of flying to her credit, Miss Hazel Cochran has now been appointed special women's representative of United Air Lines. She has been an airway stewardess.

Brides are finding the new center opened in New York a boon to solve their problems. Mrs. K. S. Kirkland, who introduced a Brides' School to the public, operates the center. They tell perplexed newlyweds just how to arrange a dinner table, make a bed, handle a maid or solve any domestic problems.

Lucienne Bloch recently finished a large fresco panel, "The Cycle of a Woman's Life," for Manhattan's House of Detention for Women. She once mixed paints as Diego Rivera's assistant. She is the daughter of Ernest Bloch, Swiss composer.

Women will soon be offered dress fabrics made of glass. The first factory to produce thread and yarn for glass textiles is at Corning, N. Y.

January is the month to save on fine, personal printed stationery. The Herald is offering during January RY-TEX DECKLE EDGE VELLUM stationery in DOUBLE the usual quantity (100 sheets and 100 envelopes) — with your Name and Address or Monogram for $1.00 a box. ### GOOD TIP FOR CLOSET

A shelf across the back of the coat closet just above the baseboard is a convenient place for the rubbers and galoshes that usually clutter up the floor. The shelf should slope to the wall and be set about an inch and a half from the wall so that dirt and mud can drop through to the floor, where it can be cleaned up more easily.

Sometimes experience is so ripe it spoils its possessor.

FAMILY OF 9 LIVE IN FODDER HOUSE THRU SNOW

(Carlisle Mercury)
A family of nine persons, consisting of the parents and seven children, lived in a crude shelter constructed of fodder throughout the sub-zero weather without any apparent ill results, it became known Monday when the family moved into a house in Carlisle.

The crude home was located on Licking river near Day's Ferry in this county. The father told how he put up poles for a frame work and piled the fodder around, making a roof out of some old composition roofing. The home was 14 by 14 feet without floor. It was heated with a small wood stove. The shelter was constructed last summer, the father said, and he expected to obtain a house before winter but could not find a house in which to move. So the family remained in this crude shack and were there during all the cold weather, the family of nine eating, sleeping and cooking in the one small room.

The ages of the children range from one year to 19 years.

FATHERS GIVE PERMISSION FOR DAUGHTERS TO MARRY

Two marriage licenses were issued by the county clerk Saturday and in each case the girl's age was less than 21 years, making it necessary to have the father's permission before the permit to wed could be legally granted. Couples receiving marriage licenses Saturday were:

James Lays Dean, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Miller Dean, of Mercer county, and Mildred Crick, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Crick, also of Mercer.

Ed Wilham, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wilham, Mercer, and Mattie Elkin, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Huguely Elkin, also of Mercer county.

CENTURIAN WOULD WED

"Some time in the spring," Uncle Jerry Combs, of Letcher county, will be 107 years old, and before then he hopes to have a pretty young wife. To prove he is sincere in his proposal he recently consented to have his picture made, the first he ever had made. He will use the picture with an ad in a matrimonial magazine.—Carlisle Mercury.

SMARTLY DRESSED

With attractive and colorful accessories, women can usually be smartly dressed even though they do not have many clothes. A hand bag of durable material, scarfs that are rich and warm looking, and gloves may make the difference between style and lack of it.

Birds' Spectacles

Many birds are provided with natural spectacles, a transparent membrane called the third eyelid.

An Old Belief

Carry a horse-chestnut in your pocket and you will not be troubled by rheumatism.

WINDOWS IN 'A CHURCH

The walls are old. The slender windows speak of another day. When other voices sang at keeping straight to the narrow way.

When sunlight falls through ancient panes, pale lavender and yellow, it seems to shine through aged wines grown amber-hued and mellow.

How strange to think these fragile squares have stood the storms of years. The winter snows, The sun, the rain's obliterating tears;

When those whose names are here set forth, in letters made of glass, Seemed then so strong, And now are dust, beneath the growing grass.
