

The affiant Archie Rochester states that he is the nephew of John Johnson, who is now living at Stringtown in Mercer County, Ky with Harrison Goodloe; that the said John Johnson on account of old age and physical weakness is not able to manage his affairs or to contract intelligently in his own behalf, and that he is now receiving from the said Goodloe the care and attention that his age requires, and that the said Goodloe is preparing to charge for such services as he is rendering far in excess of their value, and that a Committee ought to be appointed for the said Johnson to manage his affairs and take charge of his property.
