of the horse until trial of this cause unless he be kept by the defendant.

wherefore he prays judgment for $120.00 and costs and costs of keeping the horse back to the defendant.

What is known as a wind-blown, defective and maimed horse; that he has seen that said horse was not sound and did not have good wind but was at the time ill and warranted to him that the said horse was sound and had good wind; that as a part of the contract of sale the defendant represented to the plaintiff he purchased from the defendant a horse for which he paid the sum of $120.00;

Plaintiff, Wm. Chilton, asserts that on the 1st day of March 1920
