LUTHER BURBANK

Burbank was born in Massachusetts, the son of a farmer. While attending school, he found, in his village library, a set of Darwin's essays on nature, and read them. It was the turning point in his life. Inspired by these books to conduct his revolutionary experiments, he moved to California when he was 28, and set out, on a few acres of land, the nursery garden which became celebrated the world over. Here for 50 years he carried on his investigations, some of his experiments taking 35 to 40 years to complete!

Burbank helped mankind conquer nature and make her serve his own ends, while he incidentally realized his private ambition to produce better fruits and better flowers.

ANDERSON MAN HURT FATALLY ON COAST

Relatives in Lawrenceburg were notified Friday of the death in California of Matt Houchin, 28, who left Lawrenceburg three weeks ago to take a job in Beverly Hills, California. Houchin was fatally injured when struck by a car as he waited for a bus on a street corner in Beverly Hills. The body arrived for interment in Lawrenceburg this week.

Surviving besides his mother and two half-sisters, Mrs. Minnie Anderson of Lancaster and Mrs. Raymond Crossfield of Anderson county, is a sister, Miss Aileen Houchin, of Lawrenceburg, and a half-brother, Warren Houchin, of Anderson county.

SPORTSMEN TO MEET IN BOYLE WEDNESDAY

Sportsmen in Boyle, Mercer, Garrard and Lincoln county will meet with Major James Brown, new director of game and fish in Kentucky, at a dinner meeting at the Gilcher hotel at Danville on Wednesday evening, when plans will be started to have the game laws enforced in this section, especially along Herrington Lake. This is a movement that needs immediate attention, as reports of law violations are coming in daily.

SENATOR COUZENS TAKEN BY DEATH

Death, brought on by uremic poisoning, was fatal to Senator James Couzens, 64 years old, senior Senator from Michigan, last Thursday. Senator Couzens had recently accompanied President Roosevelt on his tour of Michigan. He was stricken suddenly and died on the operating table without regaining consciousness.

A former partner of Henry Ford, his vast fortune came from the success of the billionaire motor manufacturer's dream. Couzens died after his bid for nomination to a third term in the United States senate had been discarded by the Michigan electorate in favor of a younger man, former Governor Wilbur M. Brucker.

STORE THIEVES BUSY IN DANVILLE, REPORT

Striking for the second time within the last few days, thieves Thursday night entered the Fannie Louise Hat Shoppe in Danville and got away with $300 in merchandise consisting of lingerie and ladies wear. The robbery was the second at the same store in three years. A Lexington fingerprint expert has been called to work on the case, believed to have been engineered by "local talent."

FINAL RITES HELD FOR PERRYVILLE LADY

Funeral services for Mrs. Cassie Arnold, 83, who died at her home in Perryville Wednesday night following an illness of several weeks, were held at the home in that city Friday afternoon, with burial in Hillcrest cemetery. She was the widow of Woodson Arnold.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Amelia Arnold and Mrs. S. M. Rupley, both of Perryville.

MADISON TORSO MURDER MYSTERY IS SOLVED

Madison County officials announced Monday night that the torso murder mystery, which began with the finding of the headless body of a woman in that county on September 18th in a cornfield, was solved with the confession of Parkie Denay, 43, of West Alexandria, Ohio, the woman's husband. He admitted slaying his wife because he "wasn't satisfied with life."

Fire-Fighters

The first professional fire-fighters in the United States took up their duties in Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1853. They were members of the first paid municipal fire department to be organized. Previously Cincinnati, like every other town in the country, had only volunteer fire-fighters, usually unorganized.

Romans Thanked Loser

When, more than 2,100 years ago, the great Hannibal nearly annihilated the Roman army at the battle of Cannae, the Roman senate went out to meet and thank the losing Roman general, because he had not despaired of the republic.
