Grade 11—Gaynelle Gardner, Gladys Shewmaker.

Grade 12—Jessie James, Lucile Mobley.

Perfect Attendance—Ida Jean Beeves, Eva Mae Reed, Samuel Coker, C. W. Moore, Louise Davis, Elsa Sallee, Loretta Sallee, Clyde Votaw, Hershell Votaw, Delores Warner, Samuel Lawrence Catlett, Mary Haden Coker, Marshall Freeman, Harold Huffman, Herman Votaw, Talbert Davies, Wilma Gabhart, Gene Gardner, Nettie F. Guley, Hugh Huffman, Wanda Huffman, Irene Matherly, Lloyd Mayes, Jr., Roberta Peavler, Raymond Reed, Andrew B. Sallee, Elva Shewmaker, Ethia Shewmaker, Ida Sims, Mary Elizabeth Sims, Roy Sims, Virginia Lee Sims, Curtis Votaw, Jacob Votaw, T. J. Warner.

So many high school pupils have made perfect attendance records during the past six weeks that there will not be room for their names.

Since the beginning of school we have been honored in having with us several chapel speakers. Among them are: Rev. W. C. Stevens, a Red Cross worker, Dr. Lynn Mayfield, a dentist from Harrodsburg. We enjoyed their talks and feel sure that they will prove beneficial to the students. Oct. 28, Judge Charles T. Corn spoke. Future speakers, Nov. 4, Mr. Edmund Miller; Nov. 11, Mrs. Chas. Matherly.

In anticipation of an enjoyable year in sports students interested, with the aid of the coach of the basketball team organized a C Club. The officers elected were: President, Jessie James; vice-president, Maurice Peavler; secretary, treasurer and reporter, Justus Foster; Sergeant-at-arms, Alice Cooksey; cheer leaders, Alice Votaw and George Bailey.

Thursday, September 30, the students interested in becoming members of the C. S. C. Club met with their sponsor, Mr. Horn, for the purpose of organizing and electing officers. There were twenty-one charter members and since then several have expressed a desire to enter the club.

A recent test of our drinking water showed traces of sewage contamination and typhoid fever germs. The student body has been advised not to drink the water and most pupils are bringing water from home.

In a recent fire drill the students required only fifty seconds to vacate the building.

All of the teachers attended the C. K. E. A. at Richmond Oct. 2. They reported a most enjoyable and profitable meeting.

We enjoy having with us this year to teach our music class Miss Hartline Brown, of Salvisa.

Geneva Long, a member of the Freshman class, is seriously ill from a recent operation for appendicitis. The freshman class and other students wish her a speedy recovery.

The Sophomore class is pleased to welcome back J. B. Smith and Arthur Huffman, who were not able to be with them the first few weeks of school.

The Junior Class met the Herff-Jones salesman to select their class pins and rings. They will receive their pins in five weeks and their rings the first of next school year. The class is well pleased with them, and had no trouble in making their selections.

The Seniors were sorry to lose one of their members, Viola Peavler, who was forced to drop her school work because of illness of her mother.

Ida Rose Sanford, Gladys Shewmaker, School Reporters.
