"PLATINUM TONES"

The phrases "golden" and "silvery tones" have long been stock descriptions used by poets and critics to describe beauty in music. Now, it appears, science and art have co-operated to add a new term to the musical writer's dictionary—"platinum tones." Such, at any rate, is one of the possible results of the introduction by Georges Barrere, world famous flutist, of a solid platinum flute. Made at a cost of $3,000, this instrument is said by musicians and scientists who have heard it to possess tonal qualities superior to those of any other flute ever made.

HEROES OF AMERICAN HISTORY

THE MAN WHO REFUSED TO FAIL
ROBERT E. PEARY

Peary was a young naval officer. He helped to survey Nicaragua for a canal and invented a new type of canal lock. He was bitten by the exploring bug and made several trips across Greenland to the Arctic. On two of these trips his wife went with him and his daughter, Marie, was born amidst the frozen ice fields.

Peary was haunted by bad luck. Obstacles, misadventure and dangers were continually confronting him, but he refused to give up and in 1908, in the face of terrible privations, he finally fought his way through to the North Pole—the first man to stand on the top of the world!

The class rooms and beautiful gymnasium for Fairview high school are nearing completion. Being so far from our county seat, our high school means so much to this and adjoining communities, and we hope for many years to come will send out trained young men and women who will be better fitted to meet the problems of life. When the powers that be at Frankfort saw fit to pass a law requiring a certain number of pupils for each rural high school or it was closed, many wondered if they realized that if a high school sends out each year 10 young men and women, who by their high school training can lead lives that will be a credit to their community and their state, that the money would be well spent.

Miss Mary Alice Pulliam has returned to Harrodsburg after several days visit to her father, Mr. Dave Pulliam and family.

MORE MILK, BUTTER AND COWS

Figures recently issued by the National Dairy Council show the tremendous potentialities for expansion of the dairy industry.

If milk consumption increased to an average of four quarts a day for a family of five—the consumption advocated by dietetic authorities—65,000,000,000 more pounds of milk would have to be produced annually. This in turn would require an increase of 15,000,000 head of dairy cattle.

Other health authorities say there should be a 50 per cent increase in butter consumption. Should that occur, 24,000,000,000 more pounds of milk would be needed, the product of 5,000,000 cows.

The dairy cooperatives are working continually to educate the public in the wise and adequate use of milk products. That work is gradually producing results—and it is directly in the interests of both consumer and producer.

Books Are Chained

Books were formerly held by chains in university and cathedral libraries because of their value. The earliest and latest examples in England were at Oxford in the Thirteenth and Eighteenth centuries, respectively. Cambridge university also chained its books, as did various English cathedrals and ministers. Chained books may be found in Holland at Enkhulzen and Zutphen; at Florence in the Laurentian library; in Nuremberg and at the Sorbonne in Paris.
