ANCIENT SPANISH COIN PLOWED UP IN WOODFORD
Oscar Montgomery, in plowing his garden on the "Capt. Harry Brown" farm on the McCracken's pike, a few days ago turned up an old Spanish dollar that was minted in 1779. The coin bears a likeness of King Carlos III of Spain, with the inscription, "Dei Gratia." On the reverse side is the Spanish coat of arms.
The original log dwelling still standing on the Brown farm, now owned by John Mizner, of Jessamine county, is said to be 123 years old.—Woodford Sun.

IT'S THE JUDGE WHO PAYS
Earl A. Freeman, "marrying justice of the peace," of Yuma, Arizona, fined his wife $10 recently for speeding.
"I've known your husband for a long-time and know that he sought to teach members of his family to drive carefully and observe all traffic laws," Judge Freeman said. "Your fine will be ten dollars."
"Is this my or your ten dollars?" he then asked.
"Yours," she replied, "and I'll get another one tonight."

Trade Dispute
In the Middle Ages the work of barbers and apothecaries overlapped and there was much argument between the two. The French hit upon the expedient of putting those in one trade into long robes and the other into short robes, which worked for a while.

Northwest History Lurks in Log Cabin

A little log cabin beside the Pacific Highway, north of Portland and just south of Chehalis, Wash., is being restored to its original sturdiness and beauty by the National Forest Service. This cabin, the home of John R. Jackson, first Yankee landowner north of the Columbia, served as the first courthouse in "northern Oregon" and gave shelter to every traveler who crossed the river and ventured north.

What a haven this cabin was is described in an account left by Mrs. Isaac Stevens, wife of the first governor of Washington territory who was sheltered there on her trip to the little frontier village of Olympia. The warm fire in the big fireplace, the well supplied table, the comfortable beds, the culture and friendliness of the Jackson family, as described, give an idea of what that cabin meant.

Built in 1847 while what is now Washington was occupied jointly by both British and Americans and while the "54-40" issue was at its height, it became a central meeting place as the new Washington territory began to take form. Young people came there to be married, and whatever was legal, social, or financial in the community centered there. The first court of any record was held there in 1850.

At one time when United States soldiers from the Vancouver barracks on the Columbia came there for hospitality and "home cooking" there was a young officer among them named Grant, later General U. S. Grant.

Well built in the first place the cabin has been preserved by the Washington Historical Society. It has had no curator nor caretaker but has remained unlocked and free to the passing public. People have visited it with respect and no act of vandalism mars the tradition of hospitality established there nearly 100 years ago.

$34,753,551 INSURANCE PAID BY KENTUCKIANS

Residents of Kentucky paid $34,753,551 for life insurance during 1935. J. Dan Talbot, Commissioner of Insurance, announced Tuesday. Total insurance on Kentucky lives on December 31, 1935, was $1,111,880,281. Death claims paid amounted to $14,222,521.
"An increase of $898,566 in premiums paid during the year is accepted as a fair indication of the improved financial condition of the people of Kentucky," Talbot said.

Joe Boy

Joe Boy is a Black Jack with White Points, 9 years old, heavy body and good bone. He was one of the Best Breeding Jacks in Carroll County last season.

Dark Rex

Dark Rex is a 4-year-old, 16 hands high and weighs about 1,400 pounds. He is 1/2 Percheron and 1/2 Trotting bred. Black with White Markings. This horse is ideally formed, well broke and easy to handle.

If you want those honest good work horses and mules it will pay you to breed to this horse and Jack.

They will make the season of 1936 at my mother's farm on the Jackson Road 1 1/2 miles from the Louisville Road, the second place on the left after you cross the railroad.

The Season to this horse and Jack is very reasonable.
