Rejoinder

T. H. Royalty

Defendant.

Defendant for rejoinder to the reply denies that plff paid any sum for him at his special instance and request; denies that he requested the plff to pay any sum for him; denies that he was indebted to divers or any person, or persons, in Danville or any where, except upon the check or checks given as stated in his answer herein; denies that plff paid any one anything for him, except that he did pay off said gambling checks in fulfillment of his own representation and guarantee and not at any request of the defendant.

He says that any debts paid off for him by plaintiff were debts the consideration of which were in whole gaming and for money furnished for the purpose of gaming, and furnished while the game was being played, all of which was lost in a game of cards known as poker.

Wherefore &c.
