

DEATHS

PHILLIPS

Mrs. Theresa Silcox Phillips, 75 years old, died at her home on Walnut Hills at 2:30 a. m. Saturday, December 28, 1935. Her health had been declining for several years because of the infirmities of age but her death was hastened by the effects of a fall which she suffered recently.

She is survived by her husband, William Phillips; three brothers, Charles Silcox, New Mexico; John and Tom Silcox, Junction City; and one niece, Mrs. Ed Wills, near Berea. Funeral services were conducted Monday morning at 10 o'clock at the Methodist church, of which she had long been a faithful member, by her pastor, the Rev. G. R. Tomlin. Casket bearers were Dr. A. D. Armstrong, W. N. Brown, K. B. Phillips, and Gibson, George A. Van Arsdall, and Condit B. Van Arsdall, Jr.

McRAY

Mr. W. T. McRay, 81 years old, died unexpectedly at 11:55 o'clock Saturday night, December 28, 1935, at his home on Walnut Hills. He had been in failing health for several months owing to complications due to his advanced years. He was a retired farmer who was highly esteemed.

Surviving are two daughters and six sons: Mrs. Archie Yeast, Cornishville; Mrs. Omie Tartar, Greenwood, Ind.; W. R. McRay, Lawrenceburg; Dailey and Oscar McRay, both of Mercer county; A. D. McRay, near Cardwell, Washington county; Buford McRay, Jackson, La.; John McRay, Rose Hill. He also leaves seventeen grandchildren and two sisters and two brothers, Mrs. John Parsons, Mercer county; Mrs. Jim Parsons, Louisville; Sam McRay, Harrodsburg, and John McRay, Franklin, Ind.

The funeral was held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon at the Grapevine Christian church, at Duncan, with burial in the church cemetery. The Rev. Marion Bailey, pastor of the Christian church at Cornishville, conducted the services.

The pall bearers were: J. I. Moore, Robert Moore, George Moore, Joe McRay, Burnell McRay and Hollie Parsons.

BARNETT

Funeral services were held at the Christian church at Willsburg for Mrs. Margaret Barnett, who died Saturday night, December 21, 1935, at her home near Litsey, Washington county, of malaria.

Mrs. Barnett was the daughter of William B. Cox and Sadie Strange Cox and in early womanhood was united in marriage with James Barnett of Washington county, who preceded her in death many years ago. From this union the following children survive: Mrs. G. L. Smith, Nelson, Zack, Elwood, Ira, Danie and Stanley Barnett, Washington county; J. W. Barnett, Spencer county, and Clyde Barnett, Burgin, Mercer county. She also leaves one sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Brown, Washington county.

CATON

R. L. Caton, 80 years old, died at his home on the Perryville pike December 18, 1935. He was the only son of George and Elizabeth Caton. One sister, Mrs. Nancy Tadlock, preceded him to the grave many years ago.

He was married to Fanny Ludwick, January 8, 1873, who passed away on March 21, 1908. To this union were born three children, one having died in infancy. Surviving him are a daughter, Lula, and a son, Arthur Caton; one sister, Mrs. Julia Caton Renfro, and nine grandchildren.

Funeral services were held December 19 at Salt River church, conducted by the Rev. G. Whitcomb Eilers, pastor of the Harrodsburg Baptist church. Burial followed in the church cemetery.

KAYS

Funeral services for William Kays, 92, Anderson county's last veteran of the Union army in the War Between the States, were held Monday, Dec. 30, 1935 at the Goshen Baptist church near the Mercer line and burial was in the Lawrenceburg cemetery.

Kays fought in many of the battles throughout the south among which was the engagement at Perryville, this state. He was with General Sherman on his memorable march to the sea, starting at Chattanooga and extending to Savannah.

Co-incidental with the death of Mr. Kays, for several years the last of the soldiers who wore the blue, is the fact that there is left one of the Confederate veterans left in Anderson county, Buck Routt.

Mr. Kays is survived by three daughters, Mrs. John Strange, Anderson county; Mrs. W. M. Robinson, Washington county; and Mrs. I. Rogers, Mercer county; four sons, Lowry, Charles, John Holly and Clyde Kays, Anderson county; four sisters, Mrs. Lizzie Burns and Mrs. Samantha Stratton, Anderson county; Mrs. Nannie Gritton, Harrodsburg, and Mrs. Maggie Sharp, Lexington; and a brother, Rev. U. G. Kays, Harrodsburg.

MOBLEY

Shirley Mobley, the seven-months-old daughter of Dewey and Myrtle Coker Mobley, died at their home at Cedar Grove, in Mercer county on December 26, 1935, at 2:10 in the afternoon. The funeral was at the residence on December 27 with burial in the cemetery at Bruner's Chapel. She is survived by her parents, two sisters, Carnell and Kathleen Mobley, and four brothers, Ernest, Minor, Garnett and Hanly Mobley.

POULTER

J. T. Poulter, Jr., of Salvisa, died Wednesday, January 1, 1936 shortly after he had been taken to the Good Samaritan Hospital in Lexington for treatment for meningitis. The bright young lad was first stricken with an infected throat, which developed into the dangerous malady. The funeral was on Thursday afternoon at the Baptist chrch in Salvisa with burial in Spring Hill Cemetery, Harrodsburg. Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Poulter, Sr., and a sister, Lillian Poulter, of Salvisa.

NEWELL

Miss Mary Mandeville Newell, 20 years old, was found unconscious in her room at a local inn about 6:30 o'clock Tuesday evening. She was removed to the A. D. Price Memorial Hospital where she died at 11 o'clock. Miss Newell was a Harrodsburg as a representative of a play producing company to fill an engagement with the Parent-Teacher association to direct an entertainment. She had been here nearly a week but failing to secure all the persons necessary in the cast, owing to people being busy at the first of the year, and also the extremely bad weather, the entertainment was cancelled by agreement of the company and the local P. T. A. Miss Newell was to have gone Thursday morning to direct an entertainment at Charlestown, Ind. She had made a number of friends and was well-liked in her contact with people here.

Miss Newell was the daughter of Mrs. J. O. Newell, of Gainesville, Ga., who survives. She also leaves a sister, Mrs. H. R. Cannon, of Athens, Ga. Her brother-in-law was to arrive in Harrodsburg last night to accompany the remains back to Georgia.

GRITTON

The funeral of Mr. Thomas Gritton, one of the well known and much respected elderly citizens of Mercer county, will be at the Harrodsburg Christian church at 1 o'clock this afternoon, conducted by Rev. T. Hassell Bowen. Mr. Gritton died Wednesday night at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Bertha Royce and Dr. Royce, in Boyle county. He is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Royce, Mrs. Holman Hogue, of near Salvisa; Mrs. Hugh Ison, near Burgin; Mrs. Virgie Ransdell, of Boyle county.

Talks On Burley Contract 1936

County Agent Park Explains Some of Features in New Tobacco Adjustment.

That there might be a better understanding among tobacco producers concerning the new 1936-1939 Tobacco Production Adjustment Contract, which will soon be offered to Mercer county producers, County Agent C. F. Park stated in an interview today that this contract is offered under the Agricultural Adjustment Act, the object of which, as stated in the Act, is "To establish and maintain such balance between the production and consumption of agricultural commodities, and such marketing conditions, therefore, as will establish prices to farmers at a level that will give agricultural commodities a purchasing power with respect to articles farmers buy, equivalent to the purchasing power of agricultural commodities in the base period." The base period for tobacco is the 10-year period, August 1919 to July 1929. The object of the program, therefore, is to adjust tobacco production to consumption so that farmers may receive a parity price for their crop.

The parity price for tobacco is the price at which 100 pounds of tobacco will buy as much of the things farmers buy as 100 pounds of tobacco bought during the base period, 1919 to 1929.

The average price during the base period 1919 to 1929 was 22.3 cents per pound for Burley tobacco, and 79 per cent of this results in a parity price for the 1934 crop of 17.5 cents.

The average price of the 1934 crop of Burley was 16.9 cents per pound, or 0.6 cents below parity.

Parity price for the 1935 crop, or any other crop, will depend upon the prices of the things farmers buy during the marketing year for that crop. As the prices increased on things farmers buy, parity price increases; and as price decrease on things farmers buy, parity price becomes lower.

During every one of the 5 years of 1929 to 1933 more Burley tobacco was grown than was used in this country and exported. As a result, so much Burley tobacco was accumulated that the supplies on hand in October, 1933 were enough to last 4 years at the rate it was then being used. The supply of Burley tobacco normally is large enough to last about 2.6 years. In other words, manufacturers and dealers normally hold at the beginning of the year about 2.6 times as much Burley tobacco as they use and export during the year. The supply of Burley tobacco on hand in October 1933, therefore, was sufficient to last about 1.4 years longer than normal.

The adjustments made by Burley growers during the past two years have reduced materially the amount of the excess supply. However, the present supply is estimated to be still about 240,000,000 pounds greater than normal, or sufficient to last about four-fifths of a year longer than normal.

About 55 per cent of the Burley crop used in this country is used in the manufacture of cigarettes, and about 45 per cent is used in the manufacture of smoking and chewing tobacco. Cigarette consumption during the first 10 months of 1935 was approximately 7 per cent greater than during the corresponding period in 1934. No material change has occurred in the past year in the quantity of Burley tobacco used for smoking and chewing.

About 95 per cent of the Burley tobacco crop is used in this country, and only about 5 per cent is exported. During recent years, the quantity of Burley tobacco exported has been increasing, but the quantity exported during the first 9 months of 1935 is smaller than that exported during the corresponding period in 1934.

The 1931 crop of Burley tobacco, the largest on record, brought growers 8.7 cents per pound. The price of the 1932 crop was 12.5 cents per pound, and the 1933 crop was 10.6 cents per pound, as compared with 16.9 cents per pound for 1934 crop. The 1934 crop brought growers more money than any other crop since 1930, and also brought growers more money than the 1931 crop, which was almost twice as large. In addition to the value of the tobacco, growers received benefit payments on the crop amounting to more than $14,000,000.
