EDUCATOR REVERSES CLASSROOM APPROACH

"Contradicting conventional practices, Supervising Principal William B. Treloar of the Mainland Schools at Daytona Beach, Fla., stated, "Examinations should be given to find out what a pupil doesn't know, not what he knows."

"In other words," he continued, "if you are experimenting on your car you find out what is wrong, then repair it. That is what should be done with children. Find out their weak points and correct them."

"Repetition is the only way to teach. We must have a system of examining them to find out what they don't know, and then drill that into them."

"I should grade a child on what he does in proportion to his capacity to learn. I believe in training children to fit into the world and it can't be done with numbers."

THE TOO HEARTY SLAP

Because a friend slapped him too heartily on the back, Signaller John D. Clarke, of the Royal Canadian Air Force, stationed at Camp Borden, had to be rushed to hospital at Toronto for an emergency operation. Clarke was arranging some flags and in his mouth he held three open safety pins. When his friend slapped his back, Clarke gulped and swallowed the pins, which lodged in his throat. The operation was successful.

SORGHUM AND HONEY BUSINESS

Two "old-time" products in which Kentucky once excelled show indications of "coming back." They are sorghum and honey.

For several years the College of Agriculture at Lexington has been giving attention to the possibilities in sorghum production. The quality is steadily improving, more farmers are being interested in its production and sorghum molasses may again be a profitable side-line on many farms. Cooperating with the Kentucky Bee-keepers Association, the college is interested in encouraging the production and consumption of honey. Most of the honey sold in city stores comes from other states which are no better adapted to beekeeping than Kentucky.

For the benefit of those who may have lost interest in honey, home economics experts place it at the top of the list of sweets. It is considered especially valuable for children, but good for young, middle-aged and old alike. It is easily digested, and contains iron, calcium, phosphorus and other minerals needed for health.

In countless ways, cooking experts find honey superior. It may be used as a spread, for sweetening fruits and cereals, in sandwich fillings, for sauces and dressings, for preparing cinnamon toast, candied vegetables, salad dressings, baked ham, baked apples, custards, puddings and pies. Many like it on corn bread, cakes and biscuits.

PURCHASERS SHOULD HAVE TITLE TO DEEDS TRACED

When you get the abstract of title of your home, did you have your lawyer read it through carefully to see if there were any flaws in the title.

The abstract, you know is a history of the property. It tells down through the years who owned the property, who put mortgages on it, and who have claims if any against it.

Many home owners have an abstract which shows that there is a flaw or cloud on the title some one else has a claim on your property. Your lawyer can tell you definitely if your title is clear. It is a good thing to know, for if there is something wrong with your title you want to get the matter cleared up before some other person claims to own your home also.

KINDS OF MONEY THAT UNCLE SAM DESTROYS

When Uncle Sam's paper money becomes worn and badly soiled it is returned to the Treasury where it is destroyed and bright new bills issued in its place. If all denominations were thoroughly mixed together before being tossed in the macerator each ton of money destroyed would contain approximately 590,000 one-dollar bills, 190,000 fives, 130,000 tens, 60,000 twenties, 20,000 fifties and no more than 10,000 fifties and higher denominations, which proves that the larger denominations do not wear out so quickly. The twenties, fifties and larger denominations do not circulate with nearly as much velocity as the ones, fives and even the tens.

Your Family Coat-of-Arms

Coffin

The above coat of arms are those of Tristram Coffin. He was born at Brixton, New Plymouth, England, about 1605. He was the son of Peter and Joan (Thumber) Coffin.

Through wills and unofficial records the name of this family can be traced back much earlier than the 16th century. The records at Brixton, England, the Deaneys do not go back of 1600.

In England this family held high offices in political and military circles.

The above Tristram Coffin married Dionis, daughter of Robert Stevens of Brixton, and emigrated to America about 1642, bringing with him his mother and two sisters, Eunice and Mary, as well as several children.

This family lived in Salisbury, Haverhill, and Newbury, Massachusetts, and finally settled in Nantucket. Tristram died in 1681. Surviving him were six sons, two daughters, and many grandchildren.

Description of Arms: Four silver circles and four silver crosses on an olive shield.

Crest: A pigeon between two roses.

Motto: After darkness we hope the brightest light.

FLOATING HATCHERIES MOVED IN HERRINGTON

Two floating bass hatcheries near Gwinn's Island in Lake Herrington, were moved to Kennedy's Bridge by an unusual method. Seven outboard motors were used, three in the rear of each hatchery and four installed in two boats strapped to the sides of the hatcheries. Ten hours were consumed in moving the hatcheries from Gwinn's Island to Kennedy's Bridge, a distance of only a few miles.

PRES. TURCK BACKED BY STUDENTS' PETITIONS

In an effort to offset what they term "unjust criticism from outside sources," students of Centre College Danville, circulated a petition for the board of trustees of Centre College to retain Dr. Charles J. Turck as president of the college. Approximately ninety per cent of the women students and almost as large percentage of men students signed the petition.

The College petition was a result of a petition from Louisville alumni securing the present administration. The petition will be presented at the next regular session of the board, scheduled to be held May 19.

National Bee To Be Broadcast

Best Spellers in U. S. On Radio From 11 To 12 A. M. May 26 in Finals Washington, D. C.

The Columbia Broadcasting System has completed arrangements to broadcast the final hour of the twelfth annual National Spelling Bee, sponsored by The Harrodsburg Herald, The Courier Journal and other leading newspapers, from 11 to 12 a.m. on Tuesday, May 26, from the auditorium of the National Museum, Washington, D. C.

This arrangement gives boys and girls from coast to coast an opportunity to hear the best elementary school spellers of the nation mastering tongue-twisters for the heavy end of a $1,750 prize distribution. The boy or girl who earns the championship will receive $500, but his final opponent will have the consolation prize of $250.

tion of taking home $300. The youngest-ranking third is entitled to $100. The next six spellers will receive $75 each, and eight others will draw $50 apiece whether or not they spell one word correctly.

Dean George B. Woods, of American University, who will serve as chairman, will present two plaques symbolical of the national spelling championship to the winner, one for the champion and one for his school. Alternating as pronouncers will be Dr. H. E. Warner and Professor H. F. Harding. The judges are the Rev. James S. Montgomery, Belmont Farley and T. D. Martin.

Many children and adults equip themselves with pencil and paper during the broadcast and try to spell all the words given by the enunciators. This not only gives the prospective contestants for the 1937 National Spelling Bee a good preliminary test, but it provides them with an interesting list of words to master.

Lawrence Tibbett says he can cure a common cold by standing on his head ten minutes, but he doesn't tell how the undertaken revives him.

STEEL MAKERS say—"Ford buys the best steel." Other suppliers of materials and parts will tell you—"Nobody checks up as closely on quality and price as Ford."

This means a great deal to you as a motorist. It is our way of safeguarding the interests of every purchaser and it leads to this—"The mechanical depreciation on a Ford is less than most cars, especially after the first year."

This is one sign of the extra value in the Ford V-8. Accuracy in manufacturing is another. (The Ford is made to unusually close precision limits.) And there is a long list of fine-car features that are exclusive with Ford in the popular field.

Have you a V-8 engine in your car? You pay $1645 for it in any other car but Ford.

Does your car have Center-Poise Riding? Ford gives you this modern feature—"a front-seat ride for back-seat passengers."

Does your car have fool-proof Super-Safety Mechanical Brakes? The Ford V-8 gives you this proved design, with 186 square inches of braking surface.

Does your car have a genuine steel body structure? Does it have Safety Glass all around? Ford is the only low-price car that gives you this extra protection without extra cost.

You get these fine-car features in the Ford V-8 because of Ford manufacturing methods and low-profit policy.

$25 A MONTH, after usual down-payment, buys any model of the new Ford V-8 car—from any Ford dealer—anywhere in the United States. Ask about the new UCC 1/2% per month Finance Plans.
