1. Students arriving by bus eagerly await the 8:00 bell, signaling the start of a new school day.
2. At the first pep rally, the cheerleaders try to arouse enthusiasm among the students.
3. For the first time in several years, students, like Tommy Nichols, begin their day by saying the pledge to the flag.
4. Marching onto the field at one of Mercer's home football games, the band shows its long hours of practice by providing the halftime entertainment.
5. The student body becomes involved in the magazine sales as Timi Stratton helps the company representative.

As Mercer County High School began its twenty-fifth year in operation, the students pulled up their anchors in preparation for the new school year. The student body became involved in various activities in order to become adjusted to the school routine once again.

Despite the monotonous routine of school days, students continued to sail forth on their voyage through the 1980-81 school year. Bell schedules, locker combinations, and lectures combined to make the students' day somewhat less exciting than after-school activities.

Captain's Log I

Today I observed the crew and passengers who will be taking part in our 1980-81 "Voyage." Although there were almost 1,000 of them, each seemed to possess an outstanding characteristic which distinguished him from all the rest. Some of the more interesting people included Mrs. Davis (3) who regressed into her childhood for Halloween, and the mysterious athlete (2) who had basketball on his mind. There were fun-loving folk though, like Tangi Ross (1) danced blindfolded for Pep Club initation, and crowds of eager faces (4) at a pep rally.

Most people don't realize the importance of the Board and school offices. The school couldn't work without either of the well-trained staffs. Both offices work hard to keep the school running and should be commended for their efforts.

Getting a Head Start

To many upperclassmen, Vocational School is a large part of high school life. While attending the school the student learns by experiencing. For example, members of the Health Careers class work part time in local hospitals and rest homes to gain the experience needed for a future in health occupations. The Carpentry class and Electricity class combine their efforts to build and wire a home which they sell. The Business classes teach everything the good secretary should know. After learning the basics, the Auto Mechanics and Welding classes put their knowledge to use by working for the public. After a one or two year course at the Vocational School, students receive the training they need for a future occupation.

4. Mr. Weatherford gives Dwight Yankey assistance in mig welding.
5. Mr. Hendren, Mrs. Reed and Mrs. Sutter teach Business courses at the Vocational School.
6. Mrs. Sims helps Yvonne Smith and Debra Sexton review for a Health Careers test.
7. Typing is just one of the many skills Mignon Johnson does while being secretary of the Vocational School.
8. Keeping the Vocational School clean and litter free is Mr. Sanders' job as custodian.
9. The principal of the Vocation School is Hughes Jones.

Teachers Are People, Too!

Some people tend to think teachers live in the classroom. Well, that's not true. Like students, they have a life outside the classroom as well as inside. They have hobbies which they enjoy as well as many places they like to go. Because of the work, teachers' private lives are sometimes cut short, but they don't seem to mind. Teaching others seems to be a main priority in their lives. However, teachers are just like anyone else; they have a home life plus a career. They have those special moments and special people just as we do.

From the Crew's Point of View

There are many things that teachers like and dislike about their profession. For example, the majority of teachers agree that paper work was the worst thing about teaching school. The advantages of teaching school range from seeing the students experience success to having the months of June and July free. Most teachers think that the advantages outweigh the disadvantages.

Scanning the Horizon

Everyone has the desire to achieve, even teachers. Teachers excel in many different ways. One teacher said she feels great achievement when a student understands a difficult problem. Other teachers have families plus a career. The ability to manage both is a very large personal achievement. Some of our teachers play the role of the hard working student by attending college to gain advanced degrees. Many of our teachers experience spiritual fullfillment by singing in the church choir or teaching a Sunday School class. Teachers are great achievers because they are always looking toward new horizons and establishing new goals for themselves.

What Spare Time?

Teachers spend so much of their time doing things pertaining to their jobs that they don't have much time for themselves. They are always making out tests, grading papers, recording grades and other monotonous tasks. Although such tasks are tedious and time-consuming, these things go along with their work and they take them in stride. When teachers do have some spare time, like everyone else, they take advantage of it and do the things they enjoy.

Spice It Up!

Learning requires a great deal more than sitting in a dull classroom all day. Most teachers like to add a little variety to the subjects they teach by doing things other than bookwork. There are many things to do to make learning more exciting such as taking field trips, going outdoors and also playing games pertaining to a subject. School can be fun plus educational if everyone tries to add a little spice.

Calling the Ship's Doctor

First aid instructors from Lexington presented a very educational and enjoyable inservice program for teachers on January 22 and 23. For two days teachers reversed their traditional roles and became students as they read material from a first aid workbook, answered questions, watched filmed demonstrations, and practiced techniques of first aid on each other. Some of the topics covered were mouth to mouth breathing, obstructed airways, bandaging, splints, and emergency rescue. At the end of the second day the teachers took a fifty question multiple choice test over the skills and concepts they learned.

Getting Under Way

The 7th grade students set sail on a journey. At this point in life they are very changeable. One moment they face problems with a mature attitude and the next moment they play amusing pranks on one another. They will reach their destination after five more years of aggravation, relief, and hard work. Many of the students will become important people in our society.

Firing Up With Ceramics

Dana Logan has been making ceramics for two years. Her mother helped her to learn about ceramics because they have their own kiln in the basement. Dana has made flower pots, eggs, clowns, vases, napkin holders, and spoon holders. She likes to make ceramics because it is different, takes time, and can be done any time of the year. Dana says, "Ceramics are great gifts because they are cheaper to make than to buy ready made."

Going Abroad

The 8th grade students ride the waves toward a new environment. They have been used to easy and fun times. This will change when they enter the 9th grade. They will still have fun times, but they will have to work hard to succeed in what they want to do or become. One of the most joyful times of an 8th grader is when he graduates from the 8th grade. He feels that he has accomplished eight years of difficult work. The good things of life are just beginning for an 8th grader.

A Link Between Friends

Are Greg Webb and Tim Russell taking a bath in a mound of paper? Well, not exactly. They are sitting admidst their prized possession, their gum wrapper chain. The chain was started the beginning of their eighth grade year, and with wrappers given to them by thier friends it has grown to be 618 feet long. Although the chain is not the world's longest, Greg and Tim agree, "We hope it will make the world's record someday."

Sailing Your Way . . .

Mechelle Jackson and Dion Long sail with the title of Mr. and Miss Freshman. Mechelle is president of the freshman class, a member of the pep club and track team and a junior varsity cheerleader. She enjoys swimming and gymastics and her favorite music is that of Air Supply. While Mechelle goes for the dressy look of clothing, Dion goes for the casual wear. Dion is secretary of the freshman class, a member of the Spanish club and of the freshman basketball team. He enjoys playing tennis and baseball and listening to the sounds of the Electric Light Orchestra.

Freshman Officers: Pres., Mechelle Jackson; Vice Pres., Jennifer Brogle; Sec., Dion Long; Tres., Bobbe Wiley

Freshman Sponsors: Mrs. Flowers, Mr. Vandivier, Miss Bolton, Mr. Shupe, Mrs. Booth, Mrs. Lister, Miss Downey, Mrs. Gritton

Riding the Waves

As the Freshmen begin their voyage through high school, they will find it full of both smooth sailing and rough waters. During the next four years they will be riding the waves through long hours of class, homework, studying for exams along with the laughter and fun times shared with friends. They will be faced with many decisions which may decide the direction their lives will take. All this and more awaits them as they ride the waves to reach their destination in 1984.

Hoarding in the Treasure

The sophomore class, like most sophomore classes, was busy hoarding in the treasure from many fund-raising projects. Throughout the year, they had a car wash/bake sale and took over the donut sales from the seniors. The money will go toward their upcoming Junior-Senior Prom, senior class trip and many other activities they will be involved in through the rest of their high school years.

In With the Tide

In with the 1981 tide are Darrell Coffman and Gail Schroeder representing Mr. and Miss Sophomore.

Gail is a very active person inside and outside of school. She is president of the sophomore class, Spanish club vice-president, a varsity cheerleader, a member of the Student Council and pep club. Gail takes gymnastics and passes on her skills in teaching small children. Both Gail and Darrell agree on REO Speedwagon for their listening pleasure. Darrell is involved in many things also. He enjoys acting as he is in drama club and was in the production of The Legend of Daniel Boone. Darrell, who was voted Mr. Pep, is a member of the football team and pep club. He also enjoys basketball and swimming.

Searching for the Horizon

After ending one year in high school, the Sophomores find themselves caught up in the middle of everything. They have already endured the pains of just starting out in high school and being the so-called "green" freshmen. Yet there is much to look forward to in their Junior and Senior years like prom, class rings, Senior trips and graduation. As for now, the days are filled with good times and laughs shared with friends. These memories will last throughout their voyage as they keep searching for the horizon.

Libby Sheperson and Brian McMullan are two students known for their friendly personalities. Brian has brightened the hallways with his smile while participating in various school activities. Brian plans to study veterinary medicine. Libby has been an active band member and majorette. Also involved in sports, Libby has been an asset to the girls' basketball team. Libby's outgoing manner will make her successful in whatever she sttempts. Good luck to Mr. and Miss Junior.

Smooth Sailing

The Junior year is probably the happiest during the journey through high school. Juniors are now upperclassmen, but they are not yet faced with all of the decisions of Seniors. Their year is highlighted by Powderpuff, the buying of class rings and the prom. Junior days are made even more enjoyable by the simple everyday sharing with friends. The class of '82 enjoyed a year of fun and smooth sailing.

Seniors Explore New Shores

The class of '81 was a class for firsts. They were the first class in over ten years to take a senior trip. The seniors worked ever since they were freshmen to make money to spend the weekend in Gatlinburg. For a while, things looked doubtful for them. First of all, they had to get it passed by the board. When unbelievably they got through that, they realized they were short some money. Seniors went to work once more. Every morning before school, they could be seen peddling donuts. Finally, they were on their way. Everyone had a wonderful time and the only problem was it just wasn't long enough. However, onthe way back, there was another complication — a bus broke down! All sixty people had to load on one bus — luggage and all. Everyone agreed, though, that it was worth the effort. Seniors would like to offer a special thanks to the board, senior sponsors, and of course, Mr. Gash.

Breaking Away

As a break from school activities a class trip was sponsored for the Seniors to go to Shakertown. Seniors picnicked and went for a ride on the Dixie Belle — a river boat.
The trip brought about a feeling of togetherness among the Seniors and helped to start the year out right.
The seniors were especially grateful to Mrs. Sandy Ballard for making the trip possible.

One of the traditions of the senior class is the selling of fruit. Since their Sophomore year, seniors have sponsored their various activities by selling grapefruits and oranges. CLASS OF '81

I've always wanted the time to be here,
When at last it was my Senior year.
I said, "I'll be so brave, you see,
No one will be as great as me.
I'll look at the freshmen as I walk down the hall,
And feel so important and — very tall."
I thought I'd be the king of the school,
But I know now, I was just a fool.
Now I'm a Senior and I look at those days,
And all of my foolish childhood ways.
I wished my school years away so fast,
Now they're gone and I want them to last.
Each year that went by I would want one more year,
But the thought of that brings sorrow and fear.
There are no more school years to wish for now
If there were a way I would do it somehow.
I would wish for the years that I wished would pass on,
But those years aren't here — They are forever gone.
They have turned into nothing but memories for me,
But those memories are just what I wanted them to be.
They are the memories of friends, laughter and fun;
They are the memories of the class of '81.

Abandon Ship!

What is a Senior? Is a Senior someone special or is he just a confused and frightened person about to have his chance at the world and not quite ready for it? Whatever a Senior may be, he takes time to laugh and enjoy his last year as a carefree person. A Senior is the remnant of the past and the bright and hopeful spark of the future.

The Ship's Finest

Mr. and Miss Mercer 1981, are two ambitious achievers. Sonny Johnstone and Linda Schroeder have been active in and out of high school. Linda has been a cheerleader for four years and plans to try out for cheerleader at U.K. She is interested in psychology as a major because she "likes to find out what people are really feeling." Linda's biggest achievement so far is obtaining the title of Miss Mercer County Fair 1980. Linda feels that the most important part of success is "to never let it change my attitude towards other people."

Also very active, Sonny has participated in football, baseball, basketball, and tennis. Sonny plans to attend U.K. and major in accounting. Sonny has set high goals for himself. His idea of success is: "To always be the best I possibly can. Then I will be satisfied." Friends agree that shining personality will carry him as far as he wants to go.

Most Creative

In a day and age when most people conform to the same old routine, being creative is important. Angela Johnson and Jim Lockwood are the two most creative people in the senior class. Angela's gifted imagination and many talents have made her an important asset in both drama and art. Much of the artwork in the annual was done by her. Jim also has much ability in art and has contributed much the past four years. Jim feels it is very important to be unique and have his own way of doing things. Both Angela and Jim have bright futures with their creative talents.

Most Dependable

Everyone needs someone to depend on and everyone depends on Mark Bugg and Janie Neal. Janie plans to attend Eastern this fall to major in public relations. Janie's friendly personality will suit her for any job. Mark will attend U.K. this fall. He is also known for his outgoing personality and will be accepted in whatever field he chooses. Janie and Mark have much potential to be successful.

Most Talented

To be considered most talented, one must be gifted in more than one area. Robbie Green and Pat Jones prove this. Pat has been an active chorus member for four years and has used her talent to sing at ballgames, school events and weddings. However, she has also been an asset to drama. Pat attended several speech tournaments and placed eighth in the state. Robbie has worked hard in band for four years. His favorite pastime is riding motorcycles. This will be useful to him in the career of law enforcement.

Best Looking

Though the title of best looking is obvious, Leesa Newby and Leo Kelly show it off to perfection. Leesa has been a cheerleader all four years, captain of the team two of those years. Leesa will major in phys-ed. at Eastern. Leo knows keeping in shape is important, so he works very hard in sports. He was named most valuable player on the basketball team.

Most Athletic

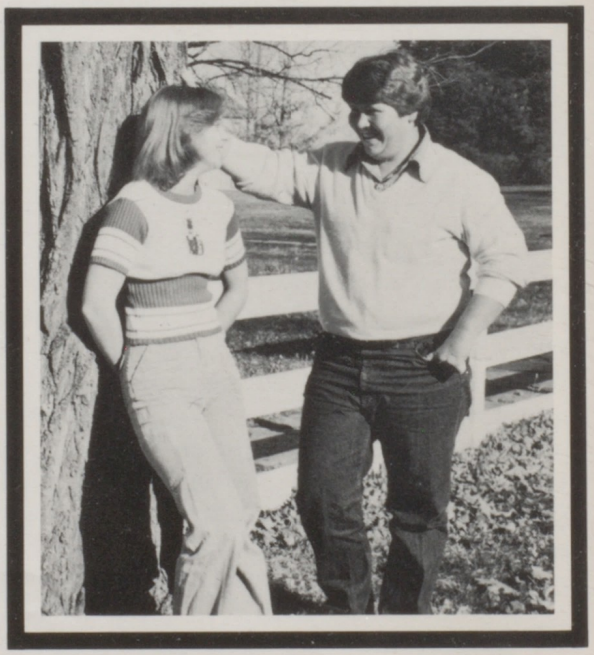
Cheryl Murphy and Todd Anderson have dedicated most of their high school years to sports. Cheryl has been involved in cheerleading, track, and girls' basketball. Along with her school activities, Cheryl has participated in horse shows. Todd has been an asset to the football team all of his high school years. Also, he has won various honors in track. Todd will major in pre-law at Centre this fall.

Most Likely To Succeed

Terrie Logue and Jeff Pinkston both deserve this honor. Terrie received the Award of Excellence from Eastern University. She plans to be an X-Ray technician and will train at St. Joseph's hospital. Jeff has also received honors such as attending Boys' State. Jeff will major in business at U.K.

Most School Spirit

Pep and enthusiasm are two things Ellen Richards and Dale Hamlin never seem to lack. Ellen has been a cheerleader for four years, urging the Scotties to victory with her beautiful smile. Ellen's dedication will take her far in whatever field she should choose. Dale has been the manager of the boys' basketball team. Although he has not participated in any sports, he can always be found cheering on the sidelines.



Best Dressed

To be best dressed does not necessarily mean to wear the latest fashion; it means to make the most of what one does have. Denise Vaught and Monty McCray always look neat and well kept. Denise feels that to feel good and to have self-confidence, one must also look good. Denise plans to go into photography. Her talent in this field will carry her far. Monty has worked hard on the baseball and basketball teams. Because of his many activities, Monty's favorite fashion is bluejeans.

Best Sense of Humor

The ability to make people laugh is indeed a gift, one which Debra Sexton and Gary Yeager have. Debra's warm laugh can definitely chase away the blues. She plans to be an X-ray technician, and her bedside manner will make for many smiling patients. Gary's future plans include being an auto mechanic. Gary has the special ability to be able to take a joke as well as play one. Debra and Gary's sense of humor will never let them lack friends.

Teacher's Pest

There is an art to being a pleasant pest. Jennifer Coulter and Chuck Cash have mastered it. Their playful antics have brought reluctant smiles to many teachers' faces. Jennifer is always ready for a laugh. She hopes to go into modeling. Chuck vents much of his energy in music. He plans to go to California to pursue a musical career. Wherever they might go, both Jennifer and Chuck will be remembered with smiles.

Many activities highlighted Homecoming week. Through hall decorations, the pep rally, and various other events, the students exhibited their spirit and support for their team. The Junior-Senior powder puff in addition to the bonfire officially opened the 1980 Homecoming. All of the students participated in the homecoming festivities one way or another.

Captain's Log II

During the course of our voyage, I noticed that some of the passengers took part in activities which gave them a sense of teamwork, sportsmanship and physical fitness. Eddie Bast (1) hustled out on the football field to meet the opposing team, while Joey Webb (2) concentrated on his free-throw shot. Jeffery Pinkston (3) headed for home base as Tanya Walker (4) raced toward the finish line. By participating in these sports activities, the passengers encountered many adventures as they journeyed upon the high sea.

1. Junior Doug Bivins dodges a Harrodsburg defender.
2. The rain and a loss to Washington County spoil Homecomng for Victor Francis.
3. While taking a breather from the Anderson County game. Duane Perkins, Ricky Young, and Eddie Bast enjoy a refreshing drink of water.
4. Senior linebacker Jeff Barnett receives a new helmet from the manager on the sidelines.

Not Bad . . . Considering

The Mercer County Varsity Football Team had another frustrating season. The team ended the season with a 5-6 record. The Scotties' losses, however, came at the hands of some pretty tough opponents, such as Lincoln Co., Boyle Co., and Berea. Two losses also came after the opponent scored in the last few minutes of the game to secure a win. The Scotties would have ended up with a 6-5 record had the cross-town rival Harrodsburg Pioneers not scored a touchdown with less than two minutes remaining in the game. Mercer's hopes of a win over Harrodsburg were destroyed after the Pioneers managed to scratch out a 13-12 win. This game showed how tough and determined the 1980 Scottie Football Team was. Even though they didn't have a winning season, the Scotties had a reason to be proud.

The Road to Experience

Where will tomorrow's football team come from? Who will lead the Scotties to victory in the future? These questions are being answered by the Mercer Junior High football League.

The league consists of two teams: the Cowboys and the Colts.

The Colts boasted an undefeated record against the hardfighting Cowboys with scores of 18-0 and 6-0. The teams also united to play against other schools during the season. They did not fare well in these contests.

Even though the Junior League did not defeat any other schools, the players have gained the experience needed to do their share in building tomorrow's team. They gave their time and skills in order that someday they might play a worthy role on the Scottie team.

Striving for the Mark

The year 1980 marked a new beginning for many athletes at Mercer. A sport demanding endurance of both body and mind was added . . . Cross-Country. Inexperience and the scarce supply of runners plagued the team throughout the season. Despite these handicaps, the runners were well respected by all competitors. Early in the season Lance Darland, the only Senior team member, placed first in a meet at Anderson County. The girls' varsity took second place in this same meet against a field of six teams. Only a week later eighth grader Keith Ransdell finished second in a J.V. meet. By this time the runners were beginning to realize that their rigorous training reaped worthy results. In an Anderson County meet involving eight schools, Lance again defeated all opponents, Susan Parrott placed tenth in the girls' competition to lead the team to another second place. The last meet of the regular season was the Lexington Catholic Invitational. Despite the hilly course and the approximated two hundred and fifty runners, Lance placed a respectable nineteenth. Dean Darland and Jeff Koch placed in the upper third of all the finishers. At the CKC meet Lance received a trophy for his second place effort. Dean's finish of twenty-sixth won him a medal. Jeff Koch and Jim Lockwood also finished well in the varsity competition. In the J.V. competition the Mercer girls came in second. As individuals, Susan Parrott took second. The Regional meet at Harrison County proved heartbreaking. Mercer was disqualified from their first place victory. The girls' team took third at the meet. At the State meet a week later Lance placed eleventh against the best runners in Kentucky. The schedule was tough for the first year team, but they never gave up. Pulled muscles and broken hearts only caused the team to continue to "strive for the mark."

1. Jeff Koch is informed by region organizer Joe Judy that he is ineligible to run, therefore disqualifying the team from competition. This controversial move forced Mercer to relinquish their first place trophy.

The 1980-81 Boys' Varsity Basketball Team finished the season with a disappointing 10-19 record. Despite their lack of consistency in regular season play, the Scotties fared well in tournament play. In the annual Fort Harrod Classic, Mercer was the runner-up to a strong Madison Central team. After beating Jessamine County in overtime in the first round of the district, Mercer fell to Harrodsburg, but received the runner-up trophy. This advanced the team to Regional play once again. Although Mercer lost to Frankfort in the first round, they made a good showing and had every reason to be proud of their efforts.

"When we all pulled together at the end of the season, we played well and showed what kind of team we really were." Jeffery Pinkston

Win a Few . . . Lose a Few

The boys' Junior Varsity team did not fare as well as many had hoped. Despite their record, much was accomplished. The experience and skills needed to excel as a varsity squad member can only be gained from time spent on the J.V. team. Daily the boys put forth an effort to build themselves for their future positions on the varsity squad.

The Freshman team had a very impressive season. Only three teams were able to emerge victorious after playing the powerful freshmen. The young team started the season out right with a streak of five wins. The next few games proved trying but not fatal. By the end of the season the freshman team showed great pride in their impressive 9-4 record.

The Search for Real Victory

For the girls' basketball team the 1980-81 season proved to be a very long year. The record did not and could not truly symbolize the dedication of the young team. Only the players and the coaches knew of the real struggles experienced in long practices trying to build a respectable team.

Unlike past years the team was not able to boast the abilities of numerous seniors. Lone senior Cheryl Murphy provided the enthusiasm and experience that the squad needed. Junior Kellie Flora also added much as the leading scorer with a total of 391 points to give her an average of over 16 points a game.

Of course the efforts of the coaches cannot be overlooked. Mrs. Davis and Miss Lerow showed great patience and hope for the talented youth. Hours were spent designing plays that would utilize the abilities of every player.

Throughout the season, the girls did manage to learn the true meaning of team work. They learned that the secret to real success is being able to work with others in an effort to achieve a common goal. The squad never lacked in unity whether on the court or in the school hallways. This was the real victory.

Cheer Crazy

The 1980-1981 Varsity Cheerleading Squad was an experienced one boasting four seniors and three juniors. Nevertheless, the girls still practiced for many long hours and worked harder and harder on their cheers to get them right. The experience, hard work, and effort all paid off as the squad received the runner-up trophy in district cheerleading competition and also received several good ratings in other competitions. Cheerleading sponsor Karen Smith helped the girls learn their cheers and improve their techniques while building their characters and giving them confidence.

That Little Something Extra

Everyone knows that a track team is made up of fine runners, jumpers, and throwers. Few people realized that the 1981 Girls' Track Team was more than that. The team was built on a foundation of hard work and rewarding goals. Most of the senior team members had been on the team during all their high school years. In the end it paid off. Nancy Fain took fourth place at the regionals in the 110 meter high hurdles. In the high jump, Leesa Newby placed a second. Leesa also holds the school record in this event. Susan Parrott placed third in the 1600m. In the 800m run, Robin Martin placed third. Lynn Pombles placed third in the 110m high hurdles. All of the girls trained daily so that they might reach their goals. It was worth it.

Keeping the Pace

The boys' track team was again able to make a name for itself. The seniors provided the skill and enthusiasm needed to "keep the pace." Todd Anderson again proved strong by placing fourth at the state meet with a discus throw of 141′9″. Todd also holds the school record in this event with a throw of 148′7″. Dwight Yankey helped Mercer to excel in the throwing events by competing in both the shot and discus. Lance Darland dominated every event he entered. He was undefeated in the 800 meter and 1600m during the season until the state meet. Lance placed second in both the 800m and 3200m races at the state meet. He also finished third in the 1600m run. Over the last two years, Lance has acquired the following school records: 200m (23.2), 400m (50.8), 800m (1:55.1), 1600m (4:21.7), and 3200m (9:52.6). Of course, the seniors were not the only worthy competitors. A number of underclassmen provided valuable points at many track meets. Dean Darland won numerous 3200m races with Keith Ransdell close behind. Victor Francis and Daryl Johnson gained the respect of other teams in both the hurdles and field events. Sixth grader, Eddie Sallee, was an inspiration to the team by running in the very demanding 1600m and 3200m races. All of these people and numerous others added to the team's success. One particular group cannot be overlooked — the fans. Any track team member will agree that every race is influenced by the fans. People like Mr. and Mrs. Fain and Mr. and Mrs. Darland always found the time to be at the meets and yell their hardest for all those competing. The people in the stands helped to make the team what it was. With the help of everyone, the track team again proved that it could "keep the pace."

Catchin' On

The 1980-81 Mercer County Baseball Team proved to be quite a team. As a rather young team with only four seniors, the Scotties did very well in regular and post-season play. Their record was 12-10, but they were District runners-up and advanced to the Regionals. The team won the first game in the Regionals over Harrison County and moved on to the second game. They were then defeated by Shelby County. Their efforts and practice paid off, however, as they enjoyed a very productive year.

An Added Dimension

This year students from Mercer County were able to participate in the sport of tennis, because three new tennis courts were built on the school grounds. Two teams were formed, a boys' team and a girls' team, in order to represent Mercer County in high school tennis competition. The boys' team contained three seniors who fared well against experienced opponents, even though this was their first year of playing tennis for Mercer. Sonny Johnstone and Richard Lockwood won the first round of competition at the Regional tournament. Both teams gained valuable experience in their first year, which seems to indicate a strong future for tennis at Mercer County High School.

What Does It Take?

What does it take to have a successful sports program? Is it just the players and the coaches? No. It is everyone. It takes both players and fans to make a team. Often it is what goes on behind the scenes that wins a ballgame. Chris Pinkston was one of those people who gave of himself to see that everything ran smoothly at football and baseball games. For four years, Chris has been the team manager. Few people give proper credit to those who spend most of the game on the bench. It is these players who practice diligently throughout the year in hopes of being a major part of the future team. Also loyal fans braved both rain and snow to back the teams. Every game depends on how the team feels about itself. Only the fans, cheerleaders, and fellow team members can boost the team spirit. It takes all this and more to have a successful season.

Staying on Course

Captain's Log III

There were many things for the passengers to learn on my ship. Junior High students (1) gained knowledge in the library by careful observation of filmstrips while Brian Ballard (2) took part in individual study. Suzanne Woodard and Barbara Nichols (3) presented their newly attained knowledge about Puritan life to their English class in the form of a skit. Mr. Fallis' chemistry class (4) discovered that by working together on experiments they could make the most complex chemistry problems more simple. Most of the passengers were eager to learn and put forth their best effort to stay on course.

Since there are so many required classes, students rarely have the opportunity to take the enjoyable elective courses they want. It seems as though twelve years would be long enough to prepare for adult life, but it isn't. In taking five or six classes and participating in extracurricular activities, there is hardly time for individual interests. There are always certain deadlines that are due every day in each class, and sometimes these things seem to pile up. The way teachers make their schedule plans, students occasionally end up with two or three tests a day. Students usually don't start planning their futures because they think they've still got time. In some cases time seems to slip away from them, and they wait too late to take the classes they need. Most students find that there is so much to learn in so little time.

3. Realizing that her book review is due within minutes, Sandra McCrystal reluctantly walks to class.
4. Portraying Mary, Queen of Scots and Queen Elizabeth, Pat Jones and Angela Johnson practice for a speech tournament.
5. Lynne Pombles works hard as she tries to meet the next yearbook deadline.

It's Not Worth It!

Naturally, cheating is nothing new. It could be copying a friend's homework, using a crib sheet, scribbling algebraic formulas on one's desk or using a big brother's book review. Cheating has gained acceptance among many teenagers. There are many reasons that teenagers cheat. Some parents say "Good grades are a must!" and this can cause a large amount of cheating. Many people cheat because they didn't study and are afraid of failing. While some people may be too lazy to study, others think it's easier to cheat. There are also many easy ways to cheat. Although crib notes and one's neighbor's paper are the most popular, some students go to the extreme to cheat, such as writing notes on the bottom of a shoe or on a shirt cuff. It doesn't matter how it is done, cheating is still cheating. It may help for the moment or for a particular test, but in the long run the cheater only hurts himself because he still hasn't mastered the material.

1. After spending time studying, Sharon Logue still finds it difficult to express her own creative ideas on paper.
2. Seeing that students have to deal with cheating every day, Patty Jones gives a humorous speech on how to cheat.
3. Like most students, Cheryl Sanders finds it difficult to concentrate on studying during study hall.
4. In order to learn their Physics, Trent Gash and Patricia Whitenack listen intently during class.
5. Chad Horn's bent knees illustrate that even in P.E. the temptation to take short cuts still arises.

2. Nancy Fain works part-time at the hospital to gain the experience needed for a future in Physical Therapy.
3. Computer programming is a challenge to college-bound students, such as Trent Gash.
4. Practicing good study habits will benefit Ray Logsdon and Brian Ballard.
5. Collecting material for their research papers, Tracey Edmonson, Janie Neal, and Sheri Traugott, use their time wisely at E.K.U. working the microfish.

There is a time in every student's life when he or she must make that difficult decision — college or career. For those who choose the road to college, it is a long hard journey. College-bound students often start preparing for college in their Freshman year. Although college prep classes cause many students to carry a heavy load, they feel it will be well worth it in the long run. Many teachers also expose students to study skills and procedures which they must master in college. For example, note taking and essay tests are an initial part of a college student's life. These things along with many others, are necessary and will make higher education a success.

3. Jeff Koch helps Mr. Stratton supervise the foyer during lunch.
4. Susan Gibson gives her student Dee Dee Thompson punishment for misbehaving in class.
5. Tony Turner finds that it isn't as easy to be a teacher as it looks.
6. Taking telephone calls is one of Lisa Jones' many tasks in taking over Mr. Gash's job.

With the aid of the Senior High Student Council, students got a rare opportunity to be a teacher. The date was chosen as April 1, which was quite appropriate because that is April Fool's day. Each student was allowed to teach one class for one hour and had to follow the teachers' scheduled plans. Everything went over well and everyone had a good time.

Students' Choice

Many teachers at Mercer County High School possess the admirable qualities that enable them to stand out in the crowd. These qualities include such things as friendliness and concern for the students. After a student poll, the teachers who seem to have an abundance of these qualities were recognized. Mrs. Short and Mrs. Young proved to be the choices of the Junior High. New to Mercer County High, Miss Lerow captured the hearts of the Freshman class. The Sophomore class chose Miss Smith while the Junior class picked Mr. Fallis. Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Murray tied for the Senior favorite. All of these teachers deserve to be recognized and thanked for their hard work and dedication.

Going First Class

Honors Night has become a tradition at Mercer County High. Named Honors Night because it honors outstanding students, it also represents the hard work and dedication of many students. Several senior students received scholarships. Terrie Logue received the EKU Award of Excellence and the BPW Scholarship. Bobbie Green also received the BPW Scholarship. The Georgetown College Scholarship was awarded to Kim Koch while the Midway Presidential Scholarship went to Patricia Jones. Jim Lockwood received the Cumberland College Scholarship and Centre College awarded Joy Testa their scholarship. Denise Vaught was presented the Century III Leaders Certificate of Merit from Morehead University. Marie Bentley was chosen for the DAR Good Citizen Award. Also on the agenda, Mrs. Broadwater inducted the new Sophomore Beta Club members. Other academic awards were presented in every field of study. Terrie Logue achieved the most outstanding perfect attendance record, eleven years. At the end of the program, Mr. Gash congratulated all award winners on their various achievements.

"Suitable For Hanging"

The Mercer Drama Class and their director, Mrs. Donna Fegenbush, were nearly all "Suitable For Hanging" before the 1981 Spring Production showtime!
It seems that a certain Charlie Hackle lost a day right out of the middle of his life . . . one which, unfortunately, included his wedding! Poor Charlie gets deeper and deeper into trouble with his fiancé, Abby, as he tries to explain . . . the two strange women in his apartment, the body in the closet, the suitcase full of jewels, and no memory of the previous day . . .!

Captain's Log IV

After careful observation of the passengers, I discovered that each one of them possessed unique qualities. Janette Johnson (1) had the talent of covering devilish purposes with smiles. Cheryl Murphy (2) flaunted her "preppy" clothing combinations while several other people (3) displayed their "western look." Seventh graders, Joe Wright, Renee Wilson and Chad Horn were at their best when they aggravated each other. They were all a strange group of passengers, but they all seemed to get along just fine.

Map of the Times

Just like a ship knows its location in time by a map, we know our location in time by the news events which surround us. This year, the National news was overshadowed by the American hostages in Iran. Everyone followed the reports of the fifty-two with suspense for 444 days. The presidential election between incumbent Jimmy Carter and Ronald Reagan was also given much news coverage. Local news included the Kentucky forest fires, several days of smokey atmosphere and the hard efforts of firefighters. All Mercer Countians were affected by these national and local news events.

1. Many Mercer Countians such as Margaret Brooks enjoy the newly installed H.B.O. in their homes.
2. Sonny Johnstone and Mark Bugg explain to their Business Law class the legal aspects of the Abscam case in Washington D.C.
3. Todd Thompson reflects on the rising gasoline prices as he "fills her up."
4. Joey Sanders displays a yellow ribbon in support of the release of the 52 American hostages from Iran.
5. Doug Hendrix, Karen Casselman, and Brian Ballard reflect on John Lennon's life and career as they listen to his last album before his sudden death.
6. Even Mercer County is affected by the Kentucky forest fires as Ken Helton, Greg Henson, Paula Mullins, and Rita McFatridge smell and see the resulting smoke.
7. Now, how did you guess Kevin Meredith is happy to hear that Reagan will be our next President?

Mercer students do a number of different things with their spare time. Since each one follows his or her individual interests, there are many, varied hobbies. Sports of all kinds are largely popular as well as simple outdoor activities. Others prefer to pursue more cultural things. Either way, here are a few of the interesting pastimes that occupy us!

Off Board

Mercer students spend their time "hanging out" at a variety of different places. Two of the hottest "cruise spots" are Pizza Hut and McDonald's as everyone gathers to enjoy each other's company over Super Supremes and Big Macs. No matter the place, however, the important thing seems to be associating with friends . . . and this can be just as fun at someone's house or taking a walk.

4. Gary Taylor, Steve Fulton, David Buchanan, and Chris Horn stop by McDonald's for a burger and fries.
5. Steven Goodlett thinks that his room is a good place to relax — especially with the right telephone partner.
6. School is a great hangout . . . during a basketball game.
7. Many students enjoy quiet evenings at home with their girl or boyfriend as do Jean Ruby and Alan Britton.

Flowing With the Stream

These are some of the styles that were considered just right for "sailing" through the school year. Many students got into the new "preppy" look with top-siders, Izod shirts, Cheeno pants, monogrammed sweaters, and plaid skirts with socks. Yet some, as usual, continued to prefer the ageless look of blue jeans.

Expressions

One of the most fascinating things to watch is expressions . . . and the people who sit across from you in class have some of the best! Expressions are fleeting — they appear and vanish in an instant. Happy or sad, serious or amusing, expressions are a large part of the best times. To capture an expression is to capture a mood . . . a feeling . . . a thought.

August

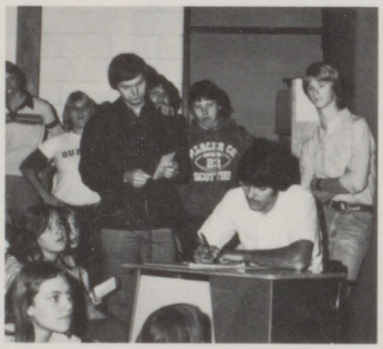
It's back to school for Mercer students! Teresa Mills enthusiastically steps from the bus to encounter her first exciting day! Won't she enjoy studying interesting subjects in cool, air-conditioned rooms?!!

September

Usually, by this time, students have acclimated to their studies and prepared themselves for the activities to come. Rocky Walls concentrates on getting into the swing of doing his schoolwork.

October

In keeping with October holidays, the band flag girls and majorettes dress up for Halloween. Here we see a cat . . . or is it Kim Koch demonstrating her skill with the batons?!



November

In November, the Yearbook Staff was busy with Highlander sales. Jim Lockwood (as Captain Stubing) finishes up the promotional skit as students prepare to place their orders.

December

Mercer County has a new Judge (Linda Schroeder), Property Valuation Administrator (Teresa Mills), Circuit Court Clerk (Joy Testa), County Clerk (Kevin Short), Sheriff (Jeff Koch), and County Attorney (Chris Horn) for a day in December.

January

In January, the first Ten Commandments T-shirts appear as the battle began over whether or not the Commandment plaques should remain in the classroom.

February

No, even though these characters with cowboy hats and boots look like Rodeo material . . . they're, in fact, Mercer students enjoying the Urban Cowboy dance.

March

During the month of March, the Stomper craze hits Mercer High. The school halls buzz with the sounds of tiny trucks in motion and talk about plans for truck pulls.

April

Participating in the Close-Up program and making a trip to Washington, D.C., Denise Vaught, Mrs. Young, Linda Schroeder, Patricia Whiteneck and Leesa Newby (not pictured) enjoyed learning how the government operates.

May

Chuck Cash, Gerald Claunch and Steven Buffin are having a great time at Silver Dollar City, Gatlinburg, Tennessee during their Senior trip.

Planning for the 1981 Junior-Senior Prom began in January and in some cases continued until hours before the big night. The juniors had a very limited budget to work with, but they managed to purchase all of the necessities for a successful prom. After all the planning and purchasing was done, the actual decoration of the Lions Park Community Center took place. Community Center Manager, Buck Ison, stated "the juniors' work was the best job in decorating" he had seen there. The Prom Committee and class officers worked very hard to make the Prom a memorable night for everyone in attendance.

Into the Night

1981 was a year of changes at the Junior-Senior Prom. Not only was it held in Lions Park Community Center, but music was provided by the Hook's Sounds rather than a live band. The dance floor was covered with brilliant lights and everyone enjoyed the disco setting. This event was the highlight of the final voyage for the Class of '81. As time slipped "Into the Night," seniors realized that not only the night was ending, but also was their senior year.

Ports of Call

Captain's Log V

Over the past few months, I noticed that the passengers took a special interest in their Ports of Call. Many of them enjoyed activities outside their daily ship routine. Barbara Jones (1) was initiated in a Spanish port while FHA member, Gerald Claunch, (2) cooked appetizing meals in the galley. On deck, Mary Montgomery and Angie Turner (3) made flowers for Valentine's Day as Maurice Baker, Jean Ruby, and Donna Hale (4) prepared to present fairy tales to the young maties at the elementary. For the most part, these club activities provided an enjoyable diversion for those passengers who took part in them.

Fun Filled Times

The Beta Club began this year with a fund-raising project. Each member sold "subtle reflection," an acrylic ornament. The money raised helped pay on the expenses of the Beta Club Convention. All of the members who attended had a wonderful time. The year was ended by a picnic at Youngs Park. There was an abundance of food and everyone enjoyed being together for a final time. Mr. Fallis was also awarded the Teacher of the Year Award.

Aiming High

Character, leadership, and scholastic achievement are only a few of the qualities that it takes to become a National Honor Society member. Members of the club work hard in their community as well as in their school and personal lives. The club raised money this year by having a paper drive. They collected newspapers and had them recycled. They also went to the state convention in Louisville. For a Spring project, they held an Easter egg hunt for the Mercer Elementary children. During the initiation ceremony, ten new members were welcomed to the club. After the ceremony, there was a small party for new members and their parents.

Foreign Ports: Places to Go . . .

The French Club began its year with the traditional initiation of its members. To raise money, they sold corsages for Homecoming. During February the club held a Valentine dance for students and their dates. Near the end of the year, many of the French students enjoyed a French meal at The Magic Pan.

Things to Do

The Spanish Club had a very exciting year. The members got off to a good start with the initiation and a Christmas party at Larry Rousey's house. During this gala event, a Spanish feeling was created with the breaking of the pinata. To raise money for their activities, a slave sale was conducted. Everyone participated and offered their services to help the organization. Bringing a prosperous year to an end, the club took a field trip to Lexington to see a Flamenco Ballet. Also a spring outing was sponsored for members and their dates.

Sound Waves

The band started its marching season with practices during the summer and a band camp held in August. They performed at home football games during half time with the majorettes and flag corps adding color to the show. The band also participated in contest and parades throughout the year. They also supported the basketball teams by playing at pep rallies and during the game. The band ended its hard working season by going on band tour and spending a day at King's Island.

High Vibes

The Mercer County Chorus broadened their entertainment this year by singing at various social places, instead of just school. They sang at Danville Nursing Home for Easter and Christmas. They also performed programs for many churches. They tested their talents by going to the chorus and solo festival in Richmond. The chorus worked hard to raise money for their organization by selling candles. Pat Jones won a stereo for being the top seller. The organization was rewarded for their hard work by having a cookout at Mrs. O'Banion's home.

Live "Y"-ers

In its second year, the Coed-Y Club has taken a bound for success. Being a Christian based organization, the members encouraged activities and promoted ideas that would make a better school environment. The club performed many duties that were beneficial. Since the legislative law of pledging to the U.S. flag was passed, the job was given to the Coed-Y. The members also got wholeheartedly involved in aiding the Chamber of Commerce during Pioneer Days, serving in the hospitality rooms at Homecoming and Alumni Night and at the annual basketball banquet. Members also visited the rest home and performed service projects for the hospital and Red Cross. The club attended KUNA and KYA, conventions which focus on world and state governments. At the Kentucky Youth Assembly the Coed-Y Club was proud to be awarded one of nine Triple A awards for outstanding work throughout the year.

Lively Spirit

The Pep Club had a slow, but interesting year. Initiation was the highlight. Each new member was required to come to school dressed as an infant, complete with bottle, rattle, and pacifier. The pep club's main purpose is to give support to the Scottie team by cheering at pep rallies and ball games. To show their appreciation for the team, the pep club sponsored the Spring banquet for the athletes, their parents, teachers and coaches. Under the continued guidance of Miss McPhaill, the pep club has high hopes.

Reviving Interest

For the first time in three years, the Drama Club became active once more. Various members attended speech tournaments, with two advancing to state. Members also entertained the elementary with fairy tales and a Dukes of Hazzard skit. To add to the holiday spirit, the Drama class performed a Christmas play. The Spring production produced by the Drama class called "Suitable for Hanging" was a huge success. The club members worked hard but had lots of fun in the process.

Still Afloat

"It means free food at meetings and getting out of class." Could this be the feeling of a member of one the oldest clubs of the school? Well, yes, but just as a joking gesture. The library club is a very popular and motivated organization. Its members devote their study hall time to aid with check-outs, inventory, and various other small but important jobs. Along with everyday cooperation, the club sponsored a book week for the junior high, a party for encouraging readers, and promoted Library Week in which an overdue book could be returned free with a justified reason, such as "I dropped it in the toilet, and it had to dry out." Many do not realize the vast importance of the club, but the library could hardly run without it.

On the Move

The Vocational School was enlivened by the FBLA Club. They were either having, planning, or doing something all year. To make money, they sponsored a slave sale and had a car wash. During break time, members prepared a luncheon. They also sponsored an Easter egg hunt for Mercer kindergarten students. The club held a skating party at Windjammer for everyone's enjoyment. The members were honored for their hard work by having an FBLA Banquet and attending the FBLA Open House.

Mending Sails

VICA members dedicated hours of their time to work on projects to help others. They fixed cars, electric wires, and other things. They had a grill out in their attic for Winter fun. Members of the club learned many helpful things. They had a picnic party at the end of school to say good-bye to their friends and teachers.

Shaping Up

Members of HOSA had a great time teaching others about health and care. They performed a Dental Hygiene program for the Elementary children and demonstrations for the High School. Members who went to the Fall leadership conference had a great time learning how to run their office. Nancy Fain won first place in the state job application contest at the Springtime Kentucky HOSA Conference. Members of HOSA treated the Mercer Elementary Special Education children by dressing up on Halloween. Their main goal was to teach others about HOSA and what it means to be in a health career. They achieved their goal and had a wonderful time by doing so. The members of HOSA felt that all their hard work and studying had paid off as the year closed.

Working Hands

The Future Farmers of America had a very active year. They began by having a co-ed cookout for FFA and FHA members. Once again the greenhouse played an important part in many of the activities the club participated in. Various house plants were sold to raise money for the club. Christmas baskets and Spring bouquets were also sold. In the FFA Queen and Sweetheart contest, Brenda Shuman won the title of Queen and Jo Anne Strickland became Sweetheart. The FFA benefited the Easter Seals drive by collecting donations from county residents. The FFA also actively participated in the dairy judging contest and placed sixth. The club became involved in the local, Bluegrass, and State fairs. During the Summer, the FFA officers attended a leadership training program held at University of Kentucky.

Sailing Into . . .

The Mercer County FHA began their year on the right track. They immediately found things to interest their members. They took up money for Arthritis during the fund drive. Their officers went to regional FHA meetings where they learned how to perform their duties. Members of the club chose to adopt a small child and gave her gifts for various occasions. One of the highlights of the year was when Lt. Bivins came from Frankfort to speak at their banquet at Stone Manor. Seniors were honored with a cake at the last meeting.

Helping Hands . . .

The Junior High Student Council was very active this year. They sponsored a Christmas dance for the Jr. High students and their dates. They also published a newspaper each month. They were also active in sponsoring pep rallies for Jr. High students. The highlight of the year was a dance held in honor of the eighth grade graduates.

Get It Together

If anyone needed help this year he ran to the Sr. High Student Council. Members put in overtime in order to help their peers enjoy school more. They began the new year by having a concert during school by the First National Band. A Halloween dress-up day was also sponsored by the council the same day. During the Christmas season the halls were brightened by having a door decorating contest. The theme was, "The Real Meaning of Christmas." Mrs. Curnow's homeroom won first prize. The Sr. High Student Council worked hard on getting it all together.

Sculptured Sea Waves

The Art Club sculptured their year into a very exciting one. Members learned to express themselves more freely by using their talent more. They held the 1981 Art Exhibit in the school library to show others their talents. Members of the club worked hard to achieve a unique style in their work. They were rewarded for their work with a party afterwards. The club also sponsored a Tea for the teachers. Members of the club journeyed to Center College for a day of fun and art.

Travel Agents

Around deadline time the Yearbook Staff hit some troubled water. It seemed no matter what amount of hard work was put in during the preceding months there were always too many layouts to finish before the deadline. Despite all the work and one dollar price increase, many good times were enjoyed by the members. Once again the staff attended the fall conference at U.K. and was treated with a skating party at the Windjammer. The all time high was the annual sales presentation when the characters from Gilligan's Island and The Love Boat came to life.

Dock 5: Graduation

The last stop for the 1980-81 Voyage was Graduation. Seniors felt and displayed emotions of all kinds in an air of excitement as they went through the ceremony that constituted both an end, and, at the same time, a beginning . . .

3. Taking it all in stride, Johnnie Newman, Mike Webb and Shannon Newman chat together until time to start.
4. Danny Fowler and Sam Thurman aren't at all anxious to try on those attractive caps!
5. Are Brian Ballard, Paul Harley and Alan Britton finally ready to begin the program?
6. A mother-daughter glance tells it all between Debra Sexton and her mother.
7. One last word of advice from Mrs. Obanion and the chorus is ready.

Bon Voyage!

Graduation was a time for remembering with a smile, all the experiences of the past twelve years, realizing with a tear that it was also a time for saying good-bye to the past and most of those who were a part of it. But, more than anything, it was a time for family, friends and the faculty to wish the 1981 class a sincere "Bon Voyage" on an even greater journey . . . the Voyage of Life.

Captain's Log VI

The sponsors of our voyage provided goods and services that all our passengers could enjoy. Jill Mayes (1) sailed to the nearest dock to refuel her car while Dana Rogers and Darrell Baker (2) took leave to buy civilian clothing. Patty Huffman (3) decided to eat at a port restaurant as Scott Phillips and Todd Claunch (4) ran into the nearest market to purchase necessary supplies. Without the help from afar, my ship, the S.S. Highlander, and its passengers would have experienced rougher sailing on its voyage.

The Professions of Life

No matter which occupation you choose, there are some common denominators needed for all: honesty, integrity, dedication, pride in your work, and the courage to accept a challenge. These values are as necessary today as they were when this country was but a dream. For they are what made the dream come true. They are the professions of life.

We at McDonald's® wish you success in life, as well as in the field of endeavor you choose.

Nobody can do it like McDonald's can™

McDonald's®

There's always one that soars above the rest.
In class rings, announcements, diplomas, club pins, medals and trophies, that one is
Balfour, America's first jewelry manufacturer
— and still the finest!

Balfour®

From Balfour with pride.
