

FLOYD CLYMER, Publisher

World's Largest Publisher of Books Pertaining to Automobiles, Motorcycles, Motor Racing and Americana

Mr. Floyd Clymer, Publisher

222 North Virgil Ave.,

Los Angeles 4, Calif.

October 16, 1962

Oct. 8, 1962

Automobile Series
Automotive Magazines
Est. 1900

Dear F lydød

Thank you for returning my manuscript on the Battle of the Cities in good condition as they arrived O.K.

I still have some work to do on it, rewriting and completing it, and am going to try to find a printer for it in Pittsburgh, so that I can check with him on the pictures, etc.

If not successful here, I shall keep you in mind for next spring.

Your manuscript is interesting, and we would be interested in publishing it if we could come to read it. The difficulty, however, is that our printer is so swamped with books that we have had scheduled for six or seven months also because we have so many different titles that some of them have to be reprinted every two or three weeks - and all of this has taxed the capacity of our printers, and we do not want to expand to go elsewhere.

Sincerely yours

Murray Fahnestock

I am, therefore, returning your manuscript as requested, and also the $1.00 you sent for postage as we always pay the postage on any returned manuscripts.

If you do not do anything with it please let me know what you think would be a reasonable price and I will give it consideration for publishing sometime after February or March.

Sincerely yours,

FLOYD CLYMER

FC:zb