

THE COMPLETE STORY BEHIND ALL HIS IMPORTANT WINS

JIM CLARK

WORLD DRIVING CHAMPION

MAC

APRIL 1966
50 CENTS

ACTION PHOTOS
FROM ALL
OVER THE WORLD

WHERE DOES JIM
GO FROM HERE?

NÜRBURGRING WIN
CINCHES
CHAMPIONSHIP

TRIUMPH AT INDIANAPOLIS

JIM CLARK

WORLD DRIVING CHAMPION

Publisher • Lyle Kenyon Engel
Associate Editor • Marla Ray
Art Editor • Al Trowbridge

Editor • George S. Engel
Text • John Bentley

Photography • Peter A. C. Darley, George S. Engel, Eric Della Faille, Joseph Farkas, Ford Motor Company, Ford of Britain, Geoffrey Goddard, Indianapolis Motor Speedway, Lotus Cars, David Phipps, Stanley Rosenthal, Nigel Snowdon, Beverly Talbot

CINCHING THE 1965 CHAMPIONSHIP 4

Jim's win in the German Grand Prix at the Nürburgring earned him his second world championship in three years.

TRIUMPH AT INDIANAPOLIS 10

Brickyard history — the '63 rhubarb that robbed Jim of victory — technical details of the original Ford aluminum engine, the beefed-up Lotus 38 and Ford's four-cam engine — tire failures retire Clark and Gurney — the '65 race — Lotus rear engine influence — death of the dinosaur.

BORDER REIVERS 22

The gentlemen farmers who started this club — Jim's early interest in rallies and club races — the day Colin Chapman beat Jim at Brands Hatch — the start of their partnership — how Clark lost the South African Grand Prix and Graham Hill became world champion.

JIM'S FIRST WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP 34

How Clark won his first title despite a bad start — five Grand Prix wins in one year — what the Constructor's Championship really means — Chapman exploits British sedan racing — selling "kits" — the Lotus line.

THE MAN WHO BUILDS THEM FOR JIM

THE EARLY YEARS 40

Colin Chapman's start — his early models and theories.

THE CUP IS FULL 50

Pros and cons of Chapman's design — his theories about front suspensions — wind drag tests with Frank Costin lying on the hood at 100 mph — lightweight racing cars — two bad crashes and one fatality — more crashes — Chapman's theories vindicated.

WHERE DOES JIM GO FROM HERE? 62

Where, when and how do you stop racing — is Jim just a farmer — his views on marriage and racing — his most-prized trophy — Monaco is the only Grand Prix in Formula 1 that he hasn't won — will Jim Clark quit racing?

Special thanks to Joseph Ehrenreich, whose fine Nikon cameras and lenses were used to take many of the pictures in this issue, and to the General Aniline and Film Corporation for their excellent film and paper.

CHAMPIONSHIP DRIVING SERIES is published quarterly by Performance Publications, Inc., 211 West 58th Street, New York, New York 10019. President, Lyle Kenyon Engel. Treasurer, George S. Engel. Advertising and editorial offices at 211 West 58th Street, New York, New York 10019. Second class postage applied for at Dunellen, New Jersey. Single copy 50c. Subscriptions: one year (4 issues) $2.50, two years (8 issues) $4.75 in United States and possessions. Elsewhere, add $1.00. Six weeks notice essential if there is a change of address. Printed in U.S.A. Copyright © 1966 by Performance Publications, Inc., 211 West 58th Street, New York, New York 10019.

JUST OUT

Read Carroll Shelby's sensational story of how he built America's first and only international champion.

The Cobra Story by Carroll Shelby (Trident Press, $4.95) is the exciting all-American success story of a man, his dream, and his automobile — Carroll Shelby and his sleek sports racer, the Cobra.

In the racing world, automobiles bearing the famous emblems of Mercedes, Maserati, Jaguar, and Ferrari have completely dominated the speed tracks for years. Until 1964, that is, when Shelby's Ford-powered Cobra began to win race after race in the United States, finally taking the United States manufacturers' championship — just missing the world's GT championship, won that year by Ferrari of Italy.

But, as Shelby then put it, "I think we can break the monopoly of the red Ferrari on the roads and tracks of the world. I want to produce the fastest son-of-a-gun I can for the least money — that's the American style, and I don't think any country in the world can stop us now." And they couldn't, as Cobra ran roughshod over Ferrari to clinch the 1965 FIA International Manufacturers' Championship for GT cars on July 4, 1965.

This is the fascinating story of the hottest car in the world — at Le Mans or on Main Street — the Cobra.

If your bookstore does not have The Cobra Story, send us $5.00 (check or money order, no cash or stamps or C.O.D.'s) and you will receive your copy postpaid.

Performance Publications, Inc.
 211 West 58th Street
 New York, New York 10019

Please send me _____ copies of
 The Cobra Story, at $5.00 each, postpaid.

Name _____

Address _____

City _____ State _____ Zip _____