Scope and Content

The collection consists of books and articles written by and about Benson Lossing, historian and illustrator. Also in the collection are 9 linear feet of genealogy documents compiled by Donna Ewins pertaining to the Lossing and Ewins families.

Historical Note

Donna Ewins (1946-2014) was born in Bridgeport, Connecticut, moved to Onsted, Michigan where she completed her schooling. After graduation from Central Michigan University she was appointed as a high school social studies teacher in the Niagara Falls School District, Niagara Falls, New York. Following her retirement from the Niagara Falls School District in 2001, she concentrated her efforts on genealogical studies. Upon finding and researching her family's roots, she published "Pieter Pieterse Lassen of Dutchess County and His Descendants", a history of the Lossing Family. This research led her to address her newly found cousins in Norwich, Ontario, Canada. Her hobbies were knitting, cross-stitching, reading, photography and studying history and archaeology in the US and Europe. Her travels abroad included Egypt, France, the United Kingdom-extensively in Scotland and England. Upon discovering the relationship to Benson Lossing, Donna Ewins, began her collection of Lossing materials.

Benson Lossing (1813-1891) was a prolific and popular American historian and illustrator, best known for illustrated books on the American Revolution and American Civil War and historical features in Harper's Magazine. Born in Beekman, New York he was orphaned at age 11 in 1824. He moved to Poughkeepsie, New York where he apprenticed with Adam Henderson, watchmaker and silversmith. He began an independent study of history. In 1833 Lossing and Henderson formed a partnership. Lossing married his first wife, Alice Barrit in 1833. In 1835, Lossing became part owner and editor of the Poughkeepsie Telegraph, he also produced a semi-monthly literary paper, the Poughkeepsie Casket. Lossing learned the art of wood engraving from J.A. Adams, illustrator for the paper.

Lossing moved to New York City in 1838 working as a journalist and illustrator. He edited and illustrated J.S. Rothchild's weekly Family Magazine from 1839 to 1841. In 1840 his first book was published, Outline of the History of Fine Arts. In 1846 he joined William Barritt in a wood engraving business, it became one of the largest in New York City. Lossing's illustrations appeared in several periodicals including Harper's Magazine. Lossing published over 40 books in his lifetime, his pen and ink drawings were the primary illustrations that were then turned into wood cuts. After the death of his first wife in 1855, he married Helen Sweet in 1856. In 1868 the Lossings moved to Dover, New York and lived in a manor inherited from Helen's family. Lossing was involved in charitable, civic, literary and historical societies and served as a charter trustee of Vassar College. He died at home in 1891.

Provenance

The Collection was donated to the Dutchess County Historical Society by the Donna Ewins Estate in 2015.
