

Kay Stal talks with a visitor at the BMIA Building. Kay owned Old Kay's Gift Shop at one time. Her shop is now Sun Bank..

Fred Liquori displays his stone carvings at his booth during the weekend at the BMIA Building.

Sherry Scull shows some of the exhibits that were on display during the History Weekend at the BMIA Building.

Inger Bullock and Elly Hagge show how to weave baskets at the Weekend of history at the BMIA Building.

Dr. Sam Moyer displays his collection of hand made brooms at the Historic Trusts history Weekend.

Inger Bullock and Elly Hagge show how to weave baskets at the Weekend of history at the BMIA Building.

John "Bud" Clark takes a minute to talk to Mike Tamn in the Cafe during the Weekend of History at the BMIA Building.

Dr. Sam Moyer displays his collection of hand made brooms at the Historic Trusts history Weekend.

Council member John "Bud" Clark looks at some of the crafts that were on display over the weekend.

Visitors to the Historic Trust's History weekend browse around the BMIA building and look at some of the exhibits.

Some of the exhibits that were on display at the Historic Trust History Weekend.

A Weekend of History at the B.M.I.A. Building presented by the Historic Trust

Photos By Tom Walker

Feb 20-25
2001