ALMOND MAN IS KILLED IN FALL
HEAD CRUSHED WHEN HE PLUNGES 18 FEET TO CEMENT FLOOR OF HIS NEW BARN

William Lutz, living about two miles from Almond village, was found dead Saturday morning laying upon the cement floor of his barn where he had evidently fallen from a beam 18 feet above. His skull was slightly crushed above the forehead and apparently death had been instantaneous.

A jug of water had been left on the beam, having been used by the men when putting in hay. Mr. Lutz had recently spoken of removing it and a jug was laying by his side when he was found so there is no doubt that he ventured out on the beam and had lost his balance. He had been known to walk accross the beams frequently before.

Mr. Lutz was about 40 years of age and unmarried. He had for some time made his home with his twin sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. William Heinke. Their farms adjoin and only last summer Mr. Lutz had built the splendid new barn in which he met his death.

Having lived his entire life in the Village of Almond, Mr. Lutz was well known and much respected by a large circle of acquaintances. He leaves a widowed mother, Mrs. George Lutz and several brothers and sisters.
