

6:45 - 7:30 Someone's Sister

Someone's Sister, the acoustic duo comprised of Georgia Winfree and Katherine Jones, released their debut album "Hand Me Downs" at the end of 2004. Since then, they have traveled across the US singing and spreading their message of child abuse prevention. Their music provides the perfect blending of rock and folk as each artist lends her own life experience to create music unlike any other. For more information about Someone's Sister, their mission, schedule and musical downloads, please visit their website at www.SomeonesSister.com.

8:00 - 8:45 Inner Voice

Inner Voice is a five-piece musical group based in Miami, FL, whose original sound and lyrics carry an intriguing essence that calls to the heart of all beings. Singing in both English and Spanish, and using an unconventional approach to their instrumentation, which incorporates ethnic percussion, acoustic guitars and vocal harmonies, they produce a worldly sound that is uniquely theirs. The 5 members—Alex Perez, Ashley Ruiz, Jaime Triana, Kazuhiro "Tazz" Itoh and Edwin Itoh—hail from diverse ethnic backgrounds such as Colombian, Cuban, Japanese, Italian and African. They use the gift of music to reveal an awareness of unconditional love and ever abiding peace that is here now, regardless of external circumstances. When asked how they got together they simultaneously reply, "we each had the courage to follow our Inner Voice", and that is exactly what they did. 9:15 - 10:00 Natalie Productions

Natalie Productions has a wide-ranging cast made up of some of the best female impersonators in the Southeast. This local company is owned and operated by Neal Huntley (Natalie Smalls). You can catch their shows at O. Henry's Nightlife in Asheville (the oldest gay bar in North Carolina). Visit their website at NatalieSmalls.com. "Our goal is to provide quality entertainment."

Various speakers and local performers are scheduled between the sets of the musical performances.
