150 STUDENTS GO TO BIG PINES SNOW DAY

POSSIBILITIES OF MAKING SNOW DAY AN ANNUAL EVENT ARE GOOD

Approximately one hundred and fifty LaVerne College students invaded Los Angeles County Playgrounds last Thursday, Dec. 10, in one of the best attended and most enjoyed student functions of the year.

The park was in perfect condition. A fresh layer of snow about two feet thick covered up the early season snows and all over the park the snow was about three feet deep. There had been but few in the park since the last snow and all slides and ski jumps were in perfect condition.

There were four or five toboggans and ten pairs of skis in the crowd and no one was left out of getting his share of thrills and spills.

The eats were prepared and served by Seniors, Sophomores and two alumni, who were obliged to do so or go hungry because the frosh neglected to do their requested share. While the crowd was gathering in the lodge awaiting dinner, Coach Eisan, Coach Glick, Professor Frantz, and several others were unceremoniously escorted outside and rolled in a snowdrift. It seemed to be great fun.

The possibility of making snow day an annual event is good. The members of the faculty were more than pleased with the success of the day.

DORM PARTY TO BE GIVEN FOR FACULTY

Invitations reading, "The A. W. S. of Miller Hall welcomes you to its fireside Tuesday, December 15, 1931," have been accepted by many of the faculty.

The dorm girls are chuckling up their sleeves in anticipation of the time when the tables will be turned and when the old adage, "What's sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander," will be put into effect. For at least this once the faculty will follow the bidding of the students. When they arrive they will find the reception room arranged much like a school room. Eleanor Shepp, president of the A. W. S., will be at the teacher's desk. It is expected that she will ask Miss Muir to trace the trend of the development of dormitory life since 1926; Dr. Frantz to analyze the contents of several bottles containing such substances as diluted ink and blueing; Dr. Sarafian to concrete the abstract; Mrs. Haugh to impersonate famous Shakespearean lovers. There will be a dance cap for anyone

COLLEGE C. E. GIVES PROGRAM AT MISSION

A group of the College C. E. went to Brother Tom's Midnight Mission last Thursday evening to give the monthly program for which this group is responsible.

With the help of "Dutch" Brubaker of Covina, Rev. Noll of Pomona, and Dr. Emmert, who gave the main talk, a varied program of music, talks, and readings was given.

Lena May Ross played two piano solos and also presided at the piano as accompanist; songs were given by Evelyn Deardorff, Glenna Betz, Miriam Murray, and Mr. Brubaker; Helen Frantz gave a reading.

The program was well received by an attentive and large audience.

SKIDDING" PLEASES LARGE AUDIENCE TUES.

A full house was well entertained Tuesday evening by the presentation of "Skidding," a three-act play by Aurania Rouveral, presented by the junior class, and coached by Prof. Laura E. Haugh. This was but another of the many successful plays put on in LaVerne College under the direction of Mrs. Haugh.

With an unusual spirit of co-ordination demonstrated by class, coach, and committees, the Junior class is to be congratulated on the success of their production.

A musical program for the play is provided by a violin trio consisting of Robert Harris, Robert Walker, and Bill Clinkenbeard.

The theme of the play is that every man and woman is happiest in his or her home even though some difficulties may arise. Some of the problems presented were: the place of a woman in her own home, the relation of husband and wife in the home, and the relation of honor to position.

The cast of characters in "Skidding" was:

Ant Milly.....	Eleanor Shepp
Ad.....	John Heiser
Ms. Hardy.....	Mary Hollinger
Judge Hardy.....	Charles Snell
Clayton Hardy.....	Cleo Beery
Edelle Hardy Campbell, Evelyn Wine
Merion Hardy.....	Opal Kuns
Wayne Trenton III.....	Max Forney
Mrs. Hardy Wilcox, Arnelia Brubaker.
M. Stubbins.....	Vernon Heckman

SOPRANO WILL GIVE RECITAL IN CHAPEL

Miss Laura Durward, soprano, will give a recital in chapel Thursday morning at 10:10.

Miss Durward is from Los Angeles, but she formerly came from Boston. The recital will consist of English and American songs. During the last summer session of Pomona College, Miss Durward gave a recital which was very entertaining to all.

A silver offering will be taken.

RARE BOOKS DONATED BY MRS. E. E. HORTON

A unique book, "The United Brethren Hymnal," was recently donated to the library by Mrs. Horton. This book was published in Dayton, Ohio, in 1858.

CHRISTMAS PLAY TO BE GIVEN FRI.

MESSAMER AND HYLTON HAVE LEADS IN PLAY

The Modern Language Club will present a Christmas program in the student body meeting on Friday, December 18th.

The main feature of the program will be a one-act play, "From Our House to Your House," directed by George Berg, president of the club. The action of the play revolves around a young married couple who fail to put their neighbors on their Christmas list. Further complications arise when their rich Aunt Hattie arrives unannounced. Florence Messamer plays the part of the wife with Harold Hylton as her husband. Irene Blackerby will be seen as the rich aunt, Jay Fyock, Elmo Holl and John Booth as the neighbors.

The remainder of the program will consist of special numbers by—but that's a secret! We may tell you, however, that these entertainers are said to be from the Orient, Spain and the Arctic Circle.

The Modern Language club cordially invites all of you to attend.

SIX NEW MEMBERS HONORED AT BANQUET

Holding their annual banquet on Wednesday, Dec. 9, the Chi Delta Chi met at the Padua Hills Little Theater.

This banquet was given in honor of the six new members, Evelyn Wine, Constance Horning, Steward Allen, Russell Frantz, Max Forney and Johnny Heiser, who have proven their dramatic abilities by their work in the various school plays that have been presented this year.

Jerry Deal was the toastmaster of the evening. The new members were welcomed in a short speech by Orin Vaniman, president of the club. The party then adjourned to the social hall where special entertainment was provided by the guests of honor in the form of a little skit.

Following this, a short business meeting was held and general plans were made for the future. A three-act play, "New Business," by Frank Craven, was chosen as the club's one big production of the year.

What China needs is less Koo and more Scat.

Y. M. AND Y. W. FEAST OF NATIONS HELD SAT.

Nine nations were represented in nine different booths, cleverly decorated to portray the characteristics, customs, or dress of the various nations in the annual Feast of Nations sponsored by the Y. M. and Y. W. held in Fellowship Hall Saturday evening, Dec. 12.

The first booth, in charge of "Torchy" Samson and Bill Clinkenbeard, proved to be Irish in nature. Green was the predominating color, and a three-leaf clover was a very effective setting for the two "red-heads" who served Irish potatoes, sweet potatoes, chicken and noodles. The next booth was American, in charge of Mary Gillette, Grace Gans and Hoy Deeter, who served beans, beets and fish from the door of an Indian tepee. Next in line was a little red brick Quaker church presided over by Mary Throne and Arno Meyers, quaintly dressed as a Quaker minister and his wife. Their contribution to the menu was baked beans and apple sauce. A Dutch windmill was seen next where bread and butter were served by Elizabeth Lehman, Bernie Brubaker and Fred Mahoney. From the window of a black and white French booth, May Fickel and Ernie Swihart handed out pie and cake. Frances Sandblom and Russell Frantz had charge of the Japanese booth where salads and olives were served. It was just a step from Japan to Alaska, where Mildred (Continued on Page Four)

VESPER SERVICE TO BE GIVEN BY Y. W. C. A.

A sacred Christmas vesper program will be given Wednesday evening in the auditorium of the Church of the Brethren under the auspices of the college Y. W. C. A.

Numbers by local talented musicians will comprise the program, including the Apollo "songsters," organ numbers by Prof. Ralph Travis; violin trio composed of William Clinkenbeard, Robert Harris and Robert Walker; vocal soloist, Anna Emmert, and several other features of interest.

DR. SARAFIAN ATTENDS INITIATION BANQUET

Dr. Sarafian attended the initiation banquet of Phi Delta Kappa Saturday at U. S. C.

INTERNAT'L CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

INVITATIONS OF MEMBERSHIP TO BE EXTENDED TO EIGHT STUDENTS

The International Relations Club met on Wednesday, Dec. 9, to adopt the constitution and elect officers. Virginia Scarisbrick was unanimously chosen to serve as president and as chairman of the membership committee. Mary Ellen Lauver is corresponding secretary and also chairman of the program committee. She will be in charge of the club library. Hester Cox was unanimously appointed to continue as recording secretary, and to have charge of the World Events Map on the bulletin board.

After the election of officers, the club decided to extend invitations of membership to eight students. Ten new members will be received at dinner meeting the first week following the Christmas holidays.

A statement of the qualifications for membership will be posted on the library bulletin board which will be the official place for posting names of interest to club members.

A fortnightly summary of international events will be placed in the library regularly for student reference.

Y. M. MEMBERS GIVE VIEWS OF ASILOMAR

Russell Frantz acted as chairman in Y. M. C. A. last Friday morning on the subject of the Asilomar Y. M. C. A. conference. The Asilomar conference begins December 26 and ends January 2, 1932.

Several fellows who have been to Asilomar gave their opinions of the conference. Asilomar—where students, faculty and friends come to share their finest experiences in fellowship, discussion, study and meditation on problems of the day. Participation in the conference by three hundred leaders never fails to inspire the college man who attends.

Wayne Bohn said: "A fellow's college education is not complete until he has been to Asilomar conference. The scenery is so wonderful it just gives one a feeling that God is right with him. The experience you get there is worth a half year of college."

George Berg gave the impressions he received while there (especially while in the hospital).

The Apollo Quartet will be one of the main features of the conference.

Let's get behind this conference and try to send about ten fellows.

MR. SEAMAN SPEAKS ON "FORWARD AMERICA"

Mr. Gale Seaman of the Y. M. C. A. of the University of California in Los Angeles was the speaker in chapel last Tuesday, December 8th.

His subject was "Forward America in a Changing World." He noted some of the following changes in the world in recent years.

1. An established government in the republic on the other side of the Rio Grande.
2. Prohibition added to the constitution of the United States.
3. A League of Nations organized.
5. A republican form of government established in many European and Asiatic countries.
6. The Peace Pact.

TO THE FROSH CLASS BY STUDENT PREXY

Very little need be said about the eventful day enjoyed by all in the snow last Thursday. However the events of the day kept calling to my mind a thing that I have been painfully reminded of several times during the year. That is the hopeless inadequacy of the Freshman class as a whole. This group of underclassmen upheld their reputation by being the lowest percentage of members present for the day. I might add here that the representation at the football banquet wasn't anything to write home about.

But to go back to snow day. After the Sophomores and Seniors had taken over the Freshmen's duties of the day and finished preparing the meal there was only one Frosh that had enough public interest about him to remain and help set the cabin right. I know how a lot of you feel about it—"you just weren't told to help." When a person gets old enough to be a Freshman in college, he ought to know enough to do some things without being told.

When you look at this whole thing, the weak point seems to be in the lack of class spirit and class unity. I'll venture to say that not more than half of the Freshman class has been together at one time during the year. You should really feel it a privilege to belong to a class that is wide awake, but remember, it will never entirely wake up while you are asleep—"a chain is no stronger than its weakest link."

In the near future the class is going to have a big class meeting, the success of which depends largely upon the number present. Are you going to become a part of your class or remain in the Rip Van Winkle state? If you are working for the class and school, please read this article again. Remember, we will accept nothing but your best. To the athlete I say, support your class and school; the varsity men do, and they are proud of both.

We really want each Frosh to become a part of the school, but we want you at your best. I for one will continue to watch the spirit in the class and its effect on the campus.

Jerry Deal.

EXPRESSION OF GRATITUDE

As editor I feel I should express my sincere gratitude for the co-operation of the staff members for the past month. At times things have been difficult and are not perfect at present, but they are improving. It is extremely difficult to secure close-knit staff work under the present schedule, but I feel that the staff is doing better.

First of all, I want to express my gratitude and appreciation of Ellsworth Replogle, the Associate Editor. He has been on the job faithfully. Likewise I want to thank each and every other member of the editorial staff for their work, whether great or small.

The business staff has taken a new grip on life under the able management of George Weybright, and to George and his staff I express my highest appreciation. I believe two of the most faithful members of the business staff are Cleo Beery, business secretary, and May Fickel, ad collector of LaVerne.

Again, to the entire staff, I say thank you, Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

DISARMAMENT

By Chalmer Faw

That the world stands in dire need of disarmament is a fact so obvious that the mere mention of it seems trite. But that the world wants—really, heartedly wants—disarmament is an assertion of a different nature. Hence to support its proof seems sadly lacking.

In February the human race, as represented by some fifty-seven nations, using a moment in the midst of its labors for the purpose of applying remedy to one of its major and age-old sores,—armaments. Whether or not this treatment will retard the growth of the insidious ailment is difficult to say, but it can be predicted with some assurance that it will not once and for all cure it. No mere salving over or even removal of the infection by operation will make a healthy human race again. It requires far more than that. It requires that the patient form new habits of healthful living, observe a more wholesome diet, and withal gain a new psychological grip on life. Any mere treatment of symptoms is a too superficial procedure for a disease so deeply rooted.

Much is being said these days about "disarmament by number, size, and type," or again "the proportionate reduction of armaments," but when it is all said and done, (if it really can be done), fearful, jealous, pugnacious human nature will still remain. At best, even total disarmament can only afford the patient momentary protection and tide him over the emergency until more effective measures can be taken. The cure must strike at the root of the causes themselves.

However, again the question arises, does the world really WANT disarmament? Does it want it "badly" enough to actually change its habits of living, thinking, and acting? Is it sufficiently in earnest about it to recast its social and moral outlook into beautiful and wholesome attitudes based upon the ideals of brotherhood and co-operation. Here lies the crux of the whole affair. If the answer be "yes," the task is relatively simple, but if the contrary be true, it is for the advocates of peace either to instill in the human race a consuming passion for this change or be content with the present status by merely swabbing out and treating surface sores of armament building and war without prospect of ever effecting a permanent cure.

Could the world see itself as the planet Mars sees it: a group of foolish beings denying themselves the very necessities of life in diabolical frenzy to kill each other, and could it thus be disillusioned—yes, shocked—by the utter folly of its whole system of strife, the victory would be half won. The world must be literally pushed out of its lethargy and made to want co-operation, peace, and with it disarmament, more than it has ever wanted anything else in all its history! Thus only can a permanent solution be reached.

IMPRESSIONS OF SNOW DAY

My impressions of snow day are unlike as a swan from a goose. When I reached the park I was all a-twitter with the beauty of the whole thing. The snow was just fresh and every tree looked like a dream embroidered in silver fancies. Each breeze sent a silent, glistening shower of softness from the snow-laden limbs. All in all, it was wonderful to the poor plains-bound folk that we are. When I saw the toboggans and tobogganers pile up at the foot of the slide, and when I saw others as well as myself make queer looking and undignified ski jumps, I got a real kick out of the event. When I saw profs. and students throwing each other into snowdrifts, I was glad for such feelings of comradeship.

When I saw people stealing food when they knew there was no surplus, and others trying to get two helpings when many had not even had one, my entire stock of glorious impressions fell like a house of cards. It seems to me that students in college could have a small bit of respect for others, but evidently 90 per cent of that bunch didn't wear their respect last Thursday. Of all the gluttonous, disgusting creatures on earth, man is the leader. Some of you so-and-so's who asked for second helpings when twenty or thirty were standing in line, evidently think only of your own stomachs. Keep it up; some day you will get gastritis or indigestion and I hope you do.

Another blow was the failure of the Frosh to furnish the eats properly. The one girl delegated to handle it did her part, but she was sick and unable to be there. As a result Sophs, Seniors, and Alumni had to serve. When it came clean-up time, one Frosh felt it his duty to help. The one event of the year you are asked to have charge of—and you fized. By golly, the whole lot of you are reeking with the stench of idleness, irresponsibility, laziness, and disloyalty.

EDITORIALS and FEATURES

SPASMS

This page is supposed to be open to all student opinion. Since the announcement was made in the paper at the first of the year, there have been two, or maybe three, unsolicited articles turned in, all of which has cheered the editor up a great deal. So now to get a few "student opinions" out of the way:

That sure is a swell flag pole we have in our back yard. You never have to break your neck looking at the top.

Why is it that LaVerne College is so often referred to in that adolescent high school fashion as "dear old L. V. C.?"

Snow day was pretty lousy. I wasn't there and nobody missed me, an' I feel hurt.

Reaction to Mister Manning's powerful editorial about bridge: Bridge is a fine thing to enjoy after the dentist gets thru. Dale Glick might have said before reliable witnesses, "Bridge is a savior of Young American Womanhood—the one great drawback is that it can't be played in the back seat of automobiles."

STUDENT OPINION—

On Smudge: It's good for the oranges and dry cleaners.

On boxing: It's an even break if you don't box Lathrop.

On war: It's hell; Sherman said so.

On 7:15's: Same as war.

On term papers: Same as war.

On life: Same as term papers.

On Christmas: There ain't no Santa Claus.

On women: No decision.

On profs: Opinion withheld.

On the Campus Times: Same as life.

PREXY VS. SNOW DAY

President Studebaker met with an accident on Snow day, but it was not quite as serious as you might think—it merely distracted his dignity. Prexy was the last occupant of a toboggan and somehow there was not quite enough room to seat him comfortably. Under such conditions it was not surprising that on an unusually bumpy bump he tore his trousers. If not quite mortified, he was at least a trifle embarrassed and in as much haste as possible he climbed the hill to Mrs. Studebaker, who obligingly mended the tear with a big safety-pin. For the rest of the day he amused himself in less agreeable pleasures for fear the pin's efficiency might not be permanent.

Dr. Frantz was at Big Pines on snow day also. His feet grew so cold that he could only warm them by removing his socks and boots and wrapping them in a blanket on the way home. President Studebaker, perhaps remembering his own predicament, decided to play a joke on his good friend. Accordingly he parked across the street from the chemistry professor's house, leaving him to wend his weary, uncomfortable, chilly way homeward while the illustrious one, safe within the warm comfort of his sedan, laughed until his sides ached.

INTENDED SUICIDE PREVENTED BY FROSH

Two star players of the Soph basketball team intended to commit suicide after the loss of the basketball game to the Frosh.

It so happened that a lowly Frosh overheard, "Let's close the windows and turn on the gas and end it all," and with a mighty heave broke down the door and demanded an explanation. At first they said it was the depression, but later confessed that they were tired of living after losing to the Frosh.

Girls, you should prevent such thought depressions on the part of Messrs. Weybright and Calvert.

Chaffey has chosen "Skidding" for its Senior play this year.

Students at Pasadena J. C. were recently entertained in their assembly by Lawrence Tibbett.

She: "Would you start 'Fords' with a capital letter."

He: "Most of 'em start with a crank."

MODEL DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE HELD

The international atmosphere of a real world conference was created at the Riverside convention of the I. R. C. when, in the opening session, the "Honorable Arthur Henderson" of Great Britain addressed the delegates, and "Aristide Briand" of France responded in fluent French. The contents of his speech were made intelligible to the English speaking delegates through an interpreter. After these formalities, the serious business of the convention was begun. The illusion of an actual conference was further intensified when the delegates were examined by the committee on credentials. Salvador's delegates had some difficulty in obtaining recognition, due to the recent revolution in their country.

The conference then resolved itself into commissions, following the exact organization which will be used at the conference in Geneva in February, 1932; the Commission on Effectives (personnel of armies, navies, air forces, reserves, etc.); the Commission on Material (guns, ammunitions, tanks, battleships, aircraft, etc.); the Commission on Budgets (reduction of expenditures for military purposes); and the Commission on Political Problems (dealing with exchange of information, establishment of a permanent commission, and methods of endorsing the limitations imposed in the first three classes).

Each commission then met for the purpose of formulating its report, to be submitted to the plenary sessions. The task of preparing a definite recommendation proved to be very difficult, in spite of the aid of technical experts (faculty advisors), as evidenced when the time for the plenary sessions arrived. There were no commissions on the scene, for they were still struggling with their various problems.

Finally all the commissions filed in, and the plenary session was called to order. Majority and minority reports were read, and the discussion proceeded with a great deal of heat. At noon on the second day the conference had only succeeded in throwing out all the reports which had been presented. Germany, U. S. S. R., France, and the United States maintained their stands and made agreement impossible.

The spirit of compromise, however, was more in evidence at the closing session, when it was realized that only a few hours were left in which to prepare a treaty.

One of the most stirring speakers was the first delegate of Germany, a young German boy who had lost several relatives in the war, and therefore spoke with deep and genuine feeling upon the necessity of complete world disarmament. Thirty nations were represented in the deliberations. The delegates from LaVerne were interested observers at conference. Our I. R. C. was represented by Miss Muir, Hester Cox, Eleanor Shepp, Betty Shaffer and Mary Ellen Lauver.

BONITA HIGH TAKES H. S. TOURNAMENT

By virtue of their 24 to 26 victory over Monrovia Hi Bonita is possessor of the tournament cup for another year. Bonita came out winner over seven other schools entered in the second annual LaVerne College Varsity Club basket ball tournament, held last Friday and Saturday in the LaVerne College gym.

In the first rounds of play held Friday afternoon and evening, Coach Dickey's Chino Cowboys defeated Huntington Beach Hi 11 to 9. The Bonita Bearcats trampled San Jacinto Hi 47 to 13, while Lompoc downed Montebello 22 to 15, and Monrovia beat El Monte 27 to 17.

In the official play-offs Saturday morning the two rivals of the Tri-County League, Chino and Bonita clashed, and after a hectic battle Bonita came out winners by the narrow margin of one basket, 14 to 12. The boys from Chino put up a stiff fight but couldn't locate the basket with the exception of Birnie, who made all 12 of their points. Hershey was high point man for the winners with 5 points.

In the first game Saturday evening Lompoc defeated Chino 18 to 16, which placed them third in the series. In the final game, Bonita and Monrovia mixed, and from the start the two teams played an evenly matched game. At the end of the first half, the score was 14 to 14. At the end of the game they were still tied 24 to 24. In an extra three minutes of play neither team was able to score. As the second extra period began, Monrovia sank two free throws. Bonita made a free throw afterwards and also a free throw on a technical foul, which tied the score, 26 to 26. Just as the whistle was about to blow, Hershey made a field goal which won the game for the Bearcats. Fished, Monrovia's center, was high point man of the game with 12 points to his credit.

An extra dab of cosmetics is all that most girls need nowadays to make up for lost sleep.

CAGEMEN SEE HARD SCHEDULE AHEAD

With three teams at work every afternoon, Coach Lee Eisan is shaping the Leopard quintet around the five returning lettermen. At present "Chuck" Snell seems to have the first call at one forward position, while all of the other positions are being fought for by players from last year's Frosh team. Bert Jones, lanky guard, may be lost to the squad for the season because of a knee injury suffered in football.

Eisan has scheduled a number of hard practice games to smooth out the Leopard offense. The complete schedule is as follows:

Dec. 15—California Christian College, at home.
Dec. 19—U. S. C. Dental College, at home.
Dec. 30—Inglewood Aces, at home.
Jan. 2—Municipal Athletic Club of Pasadena, at home.
Jan. 5—Keough's Rinky Dinks, at home.
Jan. 9—Pomona College, first conference game, at LaVerne.
Jan. 12—Shamrock Athletic Club, at home.
Jan. 16—Santa Barbara, at home.
Jan. 23—City of Pasadena, at home.
Jan. 29—Redlands, at Redlands.
Jan. 30—Redlands, at home.
Feb. 5—Whittier, at Whittier.
Feb. 6—Whittier, at home.
Feb. 9—California Christian College, at Cal-Christian.
Feb.—Oxy, at Oxy.
Feb. 13—Oxy, at home.
Feb. 16—Open.
Feb. 19—San Diego, at home.

Varsity Cagers to Contest Panthers

Tuesday evening in the LaVerne gym, the varsity basketballers will play their first real game of the season, when they meet Cal-Christian College. The squad had a real workout Monday evening after a rest of four days, and they should be in good condition for the game. There will be a Frosh preliminary with C. C. C. Frosh.

Saturday night the varsity will play the U. S. C. Dental College team in the LaVerne gym. There will not be a Frosh preliminary.

AMONG OTHER THINGS

The coaches' new office has been officially named "Do-Drop-In." If we hear much more laughin from there, there will be a waiting line for stand-ing room.
* * * * *

The varsity had their first scrim-mage Tuesday and all things consid-ered it looked pretty good.
* * * * *

Welty was high point man with 16 points, besides playing a good floor game.
* * * * *

Montgomery looked good handling the ball but showed a lack of confi-dence in shooting.
* * * * *

"Hobbs" Adams is out for basket ball now and will give some one a fight for guard position.
* * * * *

Football injuries are still keeping Jones, Swihart and Brooks out of bas-ket ball scrimmage.
* * * * *

It looks as if the Frosh will have one of the strongest Frosh squads ever to represent LaVerne.
* * * * *

So far, Kerr, Elder, Jones, Roth-rock, Crites, have the edge for the first five, but none of them can take it easy with men like Smith, Harsh, Barger, Nordstrom, Albers, Reed, Hyl-ton, and Dickey pushing them for their places.
* * * * *

Calvert played both center and forward and shows promise, as does Weybright at guard.
* * * * *

Some of the fellows are having a hard time with their warm-up exer-cises. It's worth 10 cents to see them trying to do 15 push-ups (ask Ref-eree) or touch the floor without bending knees (ask Elder) or to keep in time with jumping exercise (ask any of them).
* * * * *

Coach Eisan says that all foot-ball players must go back into gym after the first of the year, unless they are out for basket ball. Locks like some of the fellows are just about thru taking things easy.
* * * * *

In case any one has any desire to see some of last year's basket ball in action (or others) come around to the varsity club team games.
* * * * *

If this smudging keeps up, some-thing's got to be done to make the fellows more comfortable. It's a crime the way they have to sleep on the hard chairs.

STUDENT SOCIAL LIFE

who fails in so important an assignment.

The noisiest member of the faculty will be determined by a game called "nosey."

Another feature of the evening will be a Christmas grab bag. Each one who grabs an article, even if it is only a safety pin, must compose a rhyme about it. Anyone who does not comply in this matter will forfeit one of his treasures.

There will be refreshments of ice cream, cake, and coffee. The favors will be cunning little green gumdrops with life savers for handles and tiny red candles for lights. Reed nut cups mounted on green holly leaves on a lacy doily background will be more of the festive favors. The napkins, too, will reflect the Christmas season for they will be gay with brilliant poinsettias.

The Frosh at Whittier must sport green caps, green stockings, or green eyebrows the entire first semester.

STUDENT VOLUNTEERS DISCUSS WORLD EVENTS

The Student Volunteers met at the home of Mary Throne on Sixth street Wednesday, Dec. 9. The program was centered around discussions of missionary topics and world interest problems. After a business meeting, Evelyn Edmister led devotions. Frances Neher and Ida Kinney sang a duet, after which Fred Brunk led the discussion of current events. Many interesting insights were given about missionary life and about missions.

Friday night "Cec" and Peewee had a spaghetti feed with all the trimmings—entertained each other.

A certain group of students in L. V. C. were told they had lazy lips. That's one teacher's idea of some students. Now what in the world could that teacher mean? It might mean this, or it might mean that, or, well—er—it might mean something else. But after all, it's really a personal question. But in my estimation, the opinion of this teacher is not true to fact.

SOPHS ENJOY PARTY AT THE EISAN HOME

A number of Sophomores enjoyed a party at the Eisan house Wednesday. The evening was spent playing "tiddlewinks." Eats were hamburgers, chili, pumpkin pie, and coffee. The guests were Zelda Sheller, Ruth Rothrock, Frances Saylor, Miriam Dickey, Hap Warrington, Pat Gill, Ruthe Bishop, Cecil Brooks, Red Montgomery, Ray Wilkerson, Ralph Vaniman, Benny Anderson, Bob Flynn, Frenchy Gill, Sarg Stowell, Lee and Ede.

PROF. B. S. HAUGH COMPOSES RESPONSES

Prof. B. S. Haugh has composed and copied eight distinct prayer responses for the choir of the Church of the Brethren. These responses were selected from the Psalms and from Prof. Haugh's own talent.

FEAST OF NATIONS HELD

Adams and Kenny Heckman took orders for ice cream and cider.

Gertrude Leonard and Miriam Murray were cashiers, while Orlin resending L. V. C. took in the money. Vaniman and Florence Messamer reported. They were seated in front of the stately "Leo," who looked down on the proceedings from his high throne in the southwest corner of the hall. "Leo" was very appropriately surrounded by LaVerne pennants and blankets.

Evelyn Edmister and Orville Stayer, dressed as Turkish women, went through the crowd serving Turkish delights and coffee.

A small orchestra, composed of grammar school students, played for the entertainment of the diners.

The success of the Feast of Nations is due in a large measure to the hard work of Esther Statler, Ruth Gregory, Johnny Heiser and Aubrey Calvert, who were in charge of the affair. The following people also deserve special mention:

Ruth Rothrock and Mary Lauver, who were in charge of the decorations; Dot Page, in charge of the waitresses; Margarite Pobst, who headed the dishwashing committee; Dan Renke, who was responsible for the tables and chairs; and Ellis and Elmo Holl, who did their share by cleaning up the hall.

The proceeds of the affair will be divided between the Y. W. and Y. M.

BETROTHAL REVEALED AT Y. W. CABINET MEET

In a Y. W. C. A. cabinet meeting, Tuesday after school, Esther Thomson announced her engagement to Charles Manning in a unique way. Tea and rice cakes holding fortunes were served to those present. After several had read their fortunes, Frances Nix opened her cake and found the unexpected announcement. Both Esther and Chuck are prominent in school affairs. Esther is Commissioner of Student Welfare and Chuck is Commissioner of Publications. Needless to say there was no business transacted at this meeting.

MARTHA DARKES TO BE MARRIED DEC. 18

On Friday, December 18, at 8 p. m., Martha Darkes will be married to Don Carlos Hochgurtel, of Pomona. The ceremony will be a quiet one, taking place at the home of Hazel Gilson in Arlington. The Rev. F. S. Williams of the Methodist church of that city will officiate. Hazel Gilson will be the maid of honor and Murel Mayer will be the best man. After a short honeymoon the couple will make their home in Pomona. Miss Darkes expects to continue her school work at LaVerne College, specializing in music.

DAN STOVER HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Daniel Stover is convalescing from a near tragic accident last week. Dan was riding on the back of Albert Gnagy's limousine coming from Pomona. Albert started to pass a large truck when the truck suddenly decided to make a left turn. Albert reached for all the handles and pedals his chariot had and began stopping a-la-sudden. Dan was whirled off the car and hit the back of the rear tire with his ribs, and his shoulder hit the pavement. He was confined to his bed for several days, but is up and around now, but still quite sore and stiff from his bump.

In a survey at Hunter College out of the 650 entering freshman co-eds only one intends to marry after graduation. The other 649 are going to be "working girls," and one is going to breed pedigreed dogs.

A new rule made by the Dean of Women at the University of Wisconsin prohibits co-eds from talking more than three minutes at a time to men off campus, or from going to the dentist without a chaperone.
