The Largest Enrollment in History of LV. C.--200

COLLEGE FORMALLY OPENED TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 11

The school year of 1923-24 was ushered in by the formal opening which was held on the College campus and in the gymnasium Tuesday evening, Sept. 11.

First of all came the big community supper at five o'clock. Friends and patrons of LaVerne College and students, new and old, gathered in front of the administration building, where long tables were spread with everything that is good to eat. During supper, which was accompanied with much fun and good fellowship, Dr. Miller, the toastmaster of the evening, introduced a number of speakers. The first of these was Mr. Jochimsen of the LaVerne Orange Association, who spoke in behalf of the business men of LaVerne, of their desire to cooperate with and help the College in any way. Then Mrs. D. W. LeFever spoke as a representative of the Alumni Association, and what LaVerne College means to those who have left her.

The large crowd gathered outside the gymnasium at seven o'clock, where one of the most important events of the evening, the dedication of the athletic field, was to be held. Short speeches of appreciation of the College by Mr. D. S. Newcomer, Mr. W. F. England, and Mr. S. W. Funk, were next in order. The formal dedication address was given by Prof. Harper W. Frantz, the president of the Alumni Association. He said that the Association has long been anxious to do something practical for the College and is glad to be able to present the improved athletic field to her students. Business Manager I. D. Yoder responded with an expression of appreciation of this gift of the Alumni, and also of the fact that its members are making good in their chosen professions.

The climax of the evening was the program held in the gymnasium. Miss Lois M. Miller played two beautiful piano selections. Then Miss Rhoda Trostle of Pasadena rendered a vocal solo and Miss Trostle and Mr. Weaver also of Pasadena, a duet. The prolonged applause of the audience showed the appreciation of these numbers.

The evening's address was given by President Studebaker. His subject was, "The Relation of Education to Ideal Citizenship." In introducing the subject he showed the importance of a nation's educational system, for the education of that nation will determine quite largely what kind of citizens it will have. There is a common misconception of what an ideal citizen is, for it is not, he says, "My country, right or wrong, my country all the time." The ideal citizen is he who seeks the common good and therefore the highest good of all the nations of the world. This highest good can be acquired only by world fellowship and world vision, thinking in world terms.

Then to attain this world fellowship of ideal citizens we must have ideal homes, schools, and churches. Quoting Theodore Gerald Soares, the speaker said: "Our educational system ought to be organized for the de- ciation."

In concluding his address, President Studebaker gave the following as the ideals and purpose of LaVerne College:

"The founders of this institution,

STUDENTS!

Patronize
those who

her present supporters, her faculty and her students, believe in the Gospel of our Saviour and are pledged to spread the truth that men may be free, that peace and brotherhood may prevail throughout the world, and that the kingdom of God may come and that His name may be glorified."

STUDENT BODY GET ACQUAINTED

All were glad indeed that "Auntie Mae" made a date with Professor Brandt and allowed the student body and faculty to go along. The destination of the crowd was unknown, but all were glad to stay at home in the back court of the College and have heaps of fun. The group was divided into families, such as "Ate," the children had such clever names, too. Each family sat down to a "homey" scene of watermelon. Implements were distributed to the different families upon which to center the clever ideas for a stunt, which was to form the program. The "Toe" family won the prize of a big basket of popcorn, and were generous enough to share it with the envious families. The families all joined in a picnic singing songs and playing games. After much persuasion the "Daddies" and "Mothers" sent their children home with the hope that "Auntie Mae" gets some more such dates.

EXCHANGE

Exchanges are being sent to a large number of Colleges and Universities with whom we hope to have exchanges which may swell the list of last year. Form new ideas by learning what other people are doing along educational lines. The Campus Times is sending L. V. C. out to other colleges telling them of the activities and spirit shown here.

CAMPAIGN FOR NEW STUDENTS IS RAGING

(Tune—"Old Black Joe")

They're coming!
They're coming!
And very gay they be.
I hear their many voices calling
L. V. C.

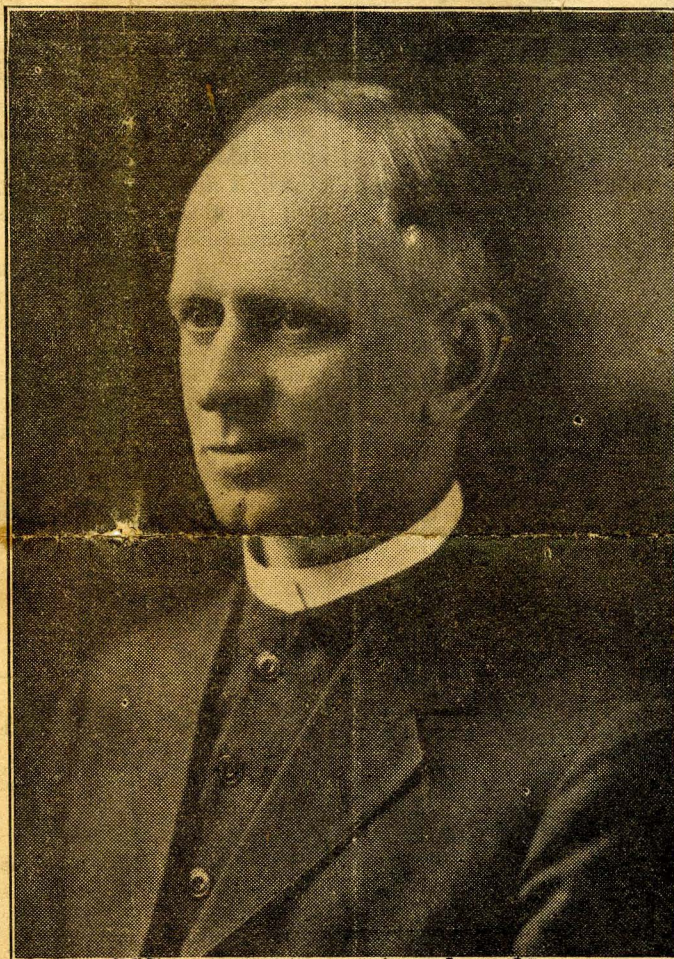

Yes, another campaign is on! It is not for endowment, neither is it for buildings; but it is of much greater importance than either of these—a real student campaign. The enterprise began Tuesday morning in chapel, at which time the students turned in names of prospective students who are now Juniors or Seniors in High School.

The administration expects to center its efforts on these two classes, particularly Seniors. The office has subscribed for one hundred Campus Times, which means that one hundred High School Seniors or Juniors will receive an edition bi-weekly, free of charge. Undoubtedly this will be a great factor in bringing to our halls a much larger Freshman class in '24. Special literature and personal letters will be sent, urging students to think in terms of LaVerne. President Studebaker also expects to do a great deal of personal field work.

Although the correspondence will be particularly with Juniors and Seniors, literature will be sent to underclassmen as well, pointing them toward LaVerne, so that they will go through their High School course looking forward to the time when they can enroll here.

Students! Here's your chance to boost for your college! Write to your High School friends. Tell them about the good things here, and the wonderful times we are having. Assure them a good, old-fashioned hand-shake when they arrive. Don't give them a chance to think of any other college, except to point out La Verne's superior traits. Do you think your little sister's and little brother's letters have been useless? Have you forgotten the thrill you had when you entered the chapel on Sept. 11? President Studebaker told me to tell you that he believes YOU were greatly responsible for those filled chairs. He has faith in your letters. So use your spare time in letter writing. Your friends will be glad to hear from you.

Alumni members, you also have your part to play in this great campaign. Have you children? Have you nephews, brothers or sisters? Send them to the College you love.

CHAPEL NOTES

The new school year opened with a chapel at 11:00 on Tuesday morning. This first service was most all taken up with announcements. But after school is started, the hope is to make only a few if any announcements during the chapel hour in order to make it an unbroken devotional and inspirational hour.

On Wednesday morning Pres. Studebaker read some rules from the catalogue and read Phil. 4:8. He said if the students would use the rules in Phil. 4:8 they would need no rules in the catalogue.

Then last Tuesday Pres. Studebaker gave us ten essentials for good school work. Some of these were, to have a mind open to learn, greet your work with a cheer, "wrap the corners of your mouth around your ears, not your chin," "eat wholesome food," "sleep regular," "to have a purpose" and not aimlessly drift about.

Rev. Rothrock, the new pastor of the Church of the Brethren, led chapel on Wednesday morning. His subject was "What We Have Received From the Past," or "The Heir of the Ages." He said we have a wonderful heritage of the Home, State, and Church, and these are to be defended. Students should learn to appreciate the good of the past and to see the truth.

LOST AND FOUND

If you have lost anything or found anything, the 'Campus Times' is at your service to print a notice of such material. Of course this does not include persons or brains or anything of such minute constitution.

Diamond and Zafon Hartman have again returned to LaVerne and with them come two brothers, Calvin and Galen.

Thelma and Dale Glick, from Sacramento, are with us. They are Academy and College freshmen. Dale is a football player from Sacramento High School.

Vivian Little from Covina, is as little as her name sounds—but she's all right.

George, Lucinda and Mae Ernst are also from Sacramento. The Sophs are especially glad to welcome George and Lucinda. Mae is a Junior. Earl and Hazel Funk from Pomona are new students, but we feel that we know them because of the work their father, Pastor Funk, has done for the College.

Elva and Eva Huff are here from Canada. It is hoped they will like sunny California.

THE NEW SPIRIT OF L. V. C.

Enthusiasm for this school year started during last year and grew all through the summer months. Expectations ran high during vacation. Plans and more plans were set on foot by organizations. The fire of enthusiasm spread until every old student, every faculty member, every patron and every trustee of LaVerne College had high hopes. The flame did not stop there, but young people throughout many states felt its warming touch and desired to come to L. V. C.

The school year has begun and our hopes have and are being fulfilled. Greetings among former LaVermites have been exchanged and many new acquaintances made. The opening days have been happy, busy and full of life. There have been social events, the community picnic and also the opening program heading the list. Various organizations of the school have already made careful plans for a big year for L. V. C. Of course the athletic field is a place of real activity and many victories await our ready teams. Academically, everyone is started on an industrious year of real work.

The "door of opportunity" is open to L. V. C., with the preceding successful years as a foundation. In the history of L. V. C. the largest number of students fill our halls. Besides the new students, we have with us new members of the faculty; also our new Business Manager and our President.

A hearty welcome is extended to all. With the new life beat to the College and the new spirit of enthusiasm lighting our pathway let us all grasp the spirit and go forward together.

COMMISSION NOTES

It is the purpose of the Commission to serve the student body in the best possible manner, and in order to do this we need the continual cooperation of the student body. We appreciate the help that has been given us by former commissioners.

Our regular meeting time is set for Thursday evening of each week. Notes will be posted after each meeting so that each student may have access to them.

Mr. Welch has made his appointments and has his work well organized; Mr. Dickey is working on the budget; Miss Griggs and her enthusiastic managers are on the job; this issue bears witness to the fact that Mr. Roynon, with his efficient staff, has been very busy; and the welfare commissioner, aided by a very able committee, is attempting to put on a worthwhile social program.

Let's all get together and make good old L. V. C. go!

STUDENT VOLUNTEERS HOLD FIRST MEETING

Last Thursday evening the Student Volunteers held their first meeting of the year. The officers who will endeavor to lead the organization this year are as follows: Pres., Byrl Harper; V. Pres., Cathryn Byerly; Sec. Susan Stoner; Treas., Ernest Landis; Chorister, Ruth Emley; chairman of Practical Service Com., Mary Blickenstaff.

On account of the temporary absence of Miss Susan Stoner, Miss Vera Hoover was appointed temporary secretary, and Mrs. Fox was chosen temporary leader of the foreign group of Volunteers. Various items of business and problems of the president gave a talk on the aims and scope of the Student Volunteers. A

35 COLLEGE FRESHMEN

Most of you folks remember the pep and enthusiasm that was shown by the Acad. Seniors last year. But with the great number of men students that have been added to our class this year, we should have a double amount. We don't wish to throw bouquets at ourselves but before the end of the year, you will see what the class of '27 is made of. We have those talented along the line of music, dramatics, oratory, athletics, and yea, even that of driving Fords.

The class met and organized, the following officers being elected:

President—Dale Glick.
Vice Pres.—Wilbur Hoke.
Secretary—Rose Arnett.
Treasurer—Lloyd Studebaker.
Class Reporter—Lola Shirk.

With this bunch of leaders, the class should progress rapidly. "Just watch us!"

Committee was appointed to investigate the matter of a missionary play. It was decided to hold regular meetings each Thursday evening during the year, and prayer circle each Sunday morning. The matter of programs during chapel hour was discussed at length, and it was decided to attempt, with the consent of the Chapel Committee, to be responsible for one program each third week throughout the year. A very optimistic and hopeful spirit pervaded the meeting and it is hoped that this will be one of the most successful years in the history of the Student Volunteers. A hearty welcome is extended to everyone interested to attend the prayer circle each Sunday morning at 9:15 in Room C, and the meeting each Thursday evening at 7:30 in the Expression room.

Ben Hepner is expecting to be back in school soon, after a long session with his crutches and cane.

THE WATT-NOTTS MULES

In all the big state of Arkansas
In the hollows and plains and divides,
There's something I'll laud in these stanzas

Until my breath shall subside.
Lo, an animal lives there
With shiny black hair
And a tail on the end of his back.
His ears flap like sails,
His breath comes in gales,
And his teeth look like white polished nails.

But with all these things one could abide

In the hollows and plains and divides,
If his good disposition had only not died

And all humanity left him besides.
But he kicks does this mule,
He runs like a fool
And everything else 'gainst the rule.

His eyes burn like fuel,
His master he knocks cool,
Then he stands and he-haws by the pool.

Now I'd classify this mule as a pest
On the hollows and plains and divides,
And hope that his soul sweetly rests,
But he kindly forgets to revive.

All ye who have come to LaVerne
From the hollows and plains and divides,

You'll all quickly see, and very soon learn,

That a knocker commits suicide.
—Finis.

College Juniors Organize

Are the College Juniors slow? Any observant individual could verify the statement that the Juniors were the first class in school to call a meeting for the purpose of effecting an organization for the year. In the absence of Ben Hepner, the president of last year, Miss Fern Griggs, the former vice president, acted as temporary chairman of the meeting. When all the Juniors gathered themselves together the following persons were chosen to lead their class this year:

President—Ernest Landis.
Vice Pres.—Modena Minnich.
Secretary—Wanda Carl.
Treasurer—Bertram Betts.
Yell Leader—Chase Harper.
Class Reporter—Kathryn Harshbarger.

College Seniors

The College Seniors met for the purpose of organization and elected the following officers:

President—J. W. Fox.
Vice president—Ada Winslow.
Secretary and class reporter—Helen Winslow.
Treasurer—Bessie Hixson.

The College Seniors are expecting great things this year for both L. V. C. and their class. All of the number are not enrolled as yet. Susan Stoner and Guy Jordan will enroll soon. Mary Gockley sends word that she is ill. Walter Gilbert has decided to enroll at U. of S. C.

Who says College Seniors do not have everything in their favor? Why, they have the College President as class advisor, the Supervisor of Men as class President, and the Business Manager's wife as a member of the class.

Senior Scrub

The Academy Senior girls erased the cloud of tarnish which had spread over the athletic cups during the summer, in a general cleanup of the Trophy Case. Sunshine sparkles from the bright surfaces and a great deal of elbow grease must have been expended in an effort to have the school enjoy its possessions.

Academy Seniors

Academy Seniors "hailed in" to their first class meeting Thursday, September 13th. Officers for the year were chosen as follows: President, Wayne Bohn; vice president, Miriam Shirk; secretary, Ruth Shock; treasurer, Urbin Hartman; yell leader, Urbin Hartman; and class reporter, Mable Griggs. The former members welcome the new members.

So far, the enrollment for the class is thirty one, and with possibly one or two others later on, a lively time is anticipated.

College Sophs

Who are the Sophomores? Why, the graduated freshmen of last year, and since everybody remembers them we need no further introduction, so with our reputation already established, we're going ahead to accomplish still greater things.

Our class officers are:
President—Madie Royer.
Vice Pres.—Levi Dickey.
Sec. and Class Reporter—Roland Stutzman.

IS EVA'S HOUSE HAUNTED?

People may have been inclined to think that it was haunted last Saturday night when Ruth Price, Ramah Maust, Beulah Smith, Edna Betts, Modena Minnich, Gladys Larimer and Marguerite Dickey, were all there to a slumber party.

Things got the habit of just disappearing as if they were bewitched. They were found later, tho, in some queer place. But listen, there was a very large plate of the best divinity ever made and beaten in LaVerne that disappeared during the evening and has never been found.

Strange noises were heard until after midnight, so that it was impossible to sleep.

Since breakfast was served in the breakfast room, everyone was able to get to Sunday School on time.

"Did we have a good time and a good breakfast? I'll say we did!"

SOCIETY

FRESHIES GO TO SCHOOL

A more winsome bunch of school children was never seen than that which was so graciously taught by the Juniors last Friday night. The little girls in their neatly ironed gingham aprons and curly locks, and the small boys in knee trousers patiently waited at the corner nearest his home for the school bus to come for him. After a long ride up and down the streets, the youngsters arrived at school just as the bell was ringing.

Much confusion reigned while each child clamored for his desired seat. When peace had been restored the class arose and very loyally pledged allegiance to the American flag. Then a nice little song was sung, entitled "Good Morning to You."

After the school nurse had examined each child, and the school board had made investigations and given orders, the teacher proceeded with the first lesson.

Of course the small students could hardly wait until time for recess. During those few minutes the girls played "Ring Around the Rosy" and "Drop the Handkerchief," while the boys chose a more boisterous pastime: "Leap Frog."

Then the bell rang, calling them back to classes, and lessons in art, music, and sewing followed. Even the boys were found quite efficient in sewing on buttons.

At noon each child devoured an appropriate lunch, that was neatly put up in a sack. The meal consisted of animal crackers, apples, and other things fit for a child's digestion.

In the afternoon a very delightful program was given in celebration of the first day of school. After each one had given a favorite reading, or sung a familiar babyish song, the bell again rang. The first day of school was pronounced a decided success.

STUDENT BODY HAS DELIGHTFUL AFFAIR

Everyone was very glad and rather surprised, when "Auntie Mae" announced that the student body and faculty were going to have a "dress-up" party Saturday night.

Everyone met at the gymnasium at 7:30. Ten groups were formed, and the girls in each group were told to go to the home of a friend. The boys were later instructed to "find" the girls belonging to their group.

After the boys arrived, a jolly good time was spent playing games and singing, after which refreshments of punch and wafers were served.

Then each lassie found her laddie and returned to the gym, where everyone joined in a good-night game before going home. A very unique and delightful evening was enjoyed, and the student body hopes to have many more parties this year.

Last Monday eve in the parlor of the Dorm,

The A. W. S. created quite a storm. They gave the little sister a reception fit for Kings—

The time was occupied by playing rousing games.

The object of the party was for all to get acquainted.

We met so many lovely girls that we almost fainted.

At last there appeared the chocolate divine,

FRESHIE GIRLS' INITIATION

The Freshie girls were greatly delighted last Tuesday evening, when they removed their masks and found a beautiful red "F" on each cheek, which soon transformed their complexions into a lovely rouge-like hue.

The little ones were carefully roped together, lest any should fall by the wayside on their long, perilous journey.

They all survived to reach their destination, which was none other than that romantic old shack on Dickey's grove, so famous in by-gone years, for slumber parties. They were next masked and kindly invited up to the old hay-mow, where a coat of tar was applied. Then the youngsters seated themselves under the old oak tree, where delicious 4-course refreshments were served. First came mush,—without milk—which they ate with a relish, although unassisted by spoons or forks. Then followed a long, slick, slimy worm, in other words, macaroni. The last two courses consisted of all-day suckers and "sody" pop.

Between courses the A. W. S. president instructed them in the way they should go by reading the ten commandments of the Freshmen. These were greeted by loud and prolonged "A-mens," showing the little girls' willingness to obey and respect their elders. They then retired to the beauty parlor, where their finger nails were neatly trimmed in the middle.

The remains are on display in the trophy case. The trucks arrived at an early hour and the good little sports were taken home to their peaceful slumbers.

ACADEMY SOPH CLASS ORGANIZES

The Academy Sophomores have good prospects for a successful year. We have an enrollment of twenty-one, which is a decided increase over that of last year.

The class very wisely chose Earl Funk for president. George Ernst, vice president; June Hershey, secretary, and Harry Blickenstaff treasurer. With efficient leadership and the good material at hand, the Academy Sophomores expect to take a prominent place in the student body activities.

ATHLETICS

L. V. C. LOSES FIRST SCRIMMAGE
TO CHAFFEY HIGH 6-0

Friday afternoon Coach Arnett took his whole grid squad to Ontario and had their first real workout of the season. The game was of 8-minute quarters only with each Coach on the field ironing out the kinks as they came to the surface, and as can be expected there were many times when the coaches' encouraging words were necessary. The team as a whole looked in action almost as green as their new uniforms, but just watch them as they get into form and they go on the field to uphold the reputation of their school and themselves.

The most conspicuous thing of the game was the lack of interference. Many times when a score looked certain, somebody would seem to lose his head or balance and their man would spoil a perfectly good play. Johnny Brooks was all there, both at calling the signals and making the runs, until near the end of the scrimmage, when he had the luck to have some Chaffey man attempt to block him and in doing so wrenched Johnny's leg so that he may be out of a game or two if the worst follows the accident.

Otis Brooks has graver worries, for he is wondering if his broken nose, which he received in the last quarter, will spoil a visage which has set many a lady's heart to quivering. He had been stopping the line bucks attempted by Chaffey as often as they tried it, but was unfortunate enough to get his "direction finder" in front of some giving back any, it was left to Otis to make the exit from that game, but watch him when he gets back into jersey "No. 2."

Aside from the few injuries, the scrimmage was a success for the La Verne team, and the 6-0 score will be made up for in experience when they go into the next game.

Bert Betts and King on the ends kept down anything in the way of an end run that C. H. S. could produce, and the line kept back enough of the bucks that Chaffey could not make a first down. The offense was not working as it will be later, and with not too many casualties LaVerne will be ready and willing to take on most anybody before the season is half over.

Mr. MacDonald, the Ford dealer of LaVerne, and a most earnest football fan, has decided to offer a silver loving cup to the most valuable man on the squad this year, so we expect to see some real fight for positions at first, and then a real fight to make yards when we go into the rest of the games.

PROSPECTS FOR COLLEGE FOOT BALL BRIGHTEN

A football atmosphere has fallen on L. V. C. and one is asked everywhere if that husky or this one has signed up yet, and whether he is in College or Academy. At first it looked as if the College would be shy of ends, but since Gale Glick, Landis, Chase Harper and George King have signed up at the office, the coach has been in better spirits. The line this year will outshine any we have ever had, unless too many of them lose the use of their arms or running gear.

From tackle to tackle there will be a group of man squashers not to be denied. For tackle positions the following men have made bids: Betts, Harper, Hoffs, Carl, with other men working into shape to be able to fill their places. The guard berths are about full, with Brooks and Brower, but Brubaker and Moore will make them step to stay in the line the whole time. Dickey, a letter man last year, shuffles around in the center of the line, with ten pounds more beef than he had last year, and credit of a hard summer's work. It is with no uncertainty that everybody should steer a little or a lot to the leeward of him.

The backfield is an unusual affair and the coach cannot help it. Almost all one family, three brothers, John, Orville and Otis Brooks, backing up their captain and incidentally their cousin, Dwight Welch. They will compose the fastest backfield ever lined up at LaVerne. Michler, a Fresno High graduate, and a good man, stands ready to take up the work when either half back falters. Roynon has been working good as a sub to J. Brooks and hopes to be able to be in the game during the lighter work.

There has not been enough practice yet to make all the definite decisions as to who will make the regular positions, as there are for the first team enough men out for an entire second team with subs, so "dark horses" may appear in striped sleeved sweaters before the season is over.

The schedule has not been fully made up yet, but Tuesday, 24, a scrimmage will be put on with Chaffey High and before the next issue of this paper it is hoped to print the year's complete schedule. Just now the plans are to play at least three of the conference teams, namely, Redlands, Whittier, and Colton, and perhaps Pomona and Occidental.

GIRLS' ATHLETICS

GIRLS' ATHLETICS

We are opening a new field in the Campus Times this year. It is the one of Girls' Athletics reporter. Now of course it is known that some of you will say, "Why in the name of all that's common sense do you need a girls' athletic reporter? Can't one person be reporter for both boys and girls? The girls don't have many or much athletics."

Now that is just where you are mistaken. The girls are going to make a name for LaVerne in athletics as well as the boys are. Last year they tried their best, and only partially succeeded. This year they are going to make their best a little better, and will succeed! You just watch them. With girls' volley ball, indoor baseball, basket ball, quite possibly track and tennis, LaVerne should at least be heard from in the field of girls' athletics.

Why not support the girls' athletics as well as the boys' This school is co-educational and the girls have equal rights with the men. Let us girls show this by your support and help. I thank you!

Academy Football Team Comes Into Form

Under the direction of John Price, who was varsity quarterback for the College last year, but not in ranks this year because of graduation, the La Verne Academy grid squad is fast getting into shape to put a team on the field from which much will be expected.

The new back field will be a whiz with Bohn W. Root, Hartman, Shirk, Brownsberger, Yoder and Mahoney all working for places on the line. It is also a big job picking the winners. Ernst looks like the man for pivot position, as he is 160 lbs. of fight and man.

The guards are to be taken care of by Neher, Hartman, Hanawalt and Frantz.

Emmet and Royer look best at tackle, with Crowstone getting ready to take the berth of either should their brain get foggy.

At the wings there will also be a scramble. Gillett and Brownsberger, letter men last year, look good, as they have the experience and weight over their closest competitors, Funk and R. Bohn, but then you can't tell much for certain this early in the season.

New Students

Chino, "where everything grows." One more—Rolland's brother—Royal Stutzman from Lindsay, a College freshman.

If anyone has been missed come and notify the Campus Times.

Mrs. Pearl O'Rourke, better known to the students as Pearl Coffelt, has been in LaVerne several days. She was a student in LaVerne about four years ago.

Ray Root had the misfortune to injure his hip, while playing basket ball at Burbank. We hope the injury is not serious and that Ray will soon be playing again.

During the past week many students have attended "The Wayfarer" at the new Coliseum at Exposition Park. They report that the pageant was wonderful, the stage, lighting and music all helping to make it a success.

Ruth Emley is expecting her parents and Harvey from Reedley next week. The Emleys are moving to LaVerne. Ruth will be missed a great deal by the Dorm girls.

Olive Deardorf and Dorothy Arnold were around the College Thursday. Dorothy is going to Chaffey Junior College next semester. Olive has not decided what she will do.
