LAVERNE DROPS GAME TO SANTA BARBARA, 24-6

Officials Co-operate With Roadrunners to Win Game

LEOPARDS SHOW GREAT IMPROVEMENT; PASS DEFENSE STILL WEAK

The Leopard squad journeyed to the home of the Roadrunners and had their first experience mixing their football with their life. The playing under the official sun did not bother the nearly so much as did several minor details. One of these was the fact that the field was not. This was the first time since winter of '86 that the LaVerne have played on a dirt field. It seemed to hamper their somewhat.

However, this fact did not bother the boys nearly so much as did the fact that they had to play against Santa Barbara team and the officials at the same time. The linesman has the disquieting habit of inflicting penalties on the Laverne team at the most inopportune moments. Aside from all these minor difficulties it was a hard fought game. It was an even contest for the better part of the time. During the first half LaVerne had things their own way, making yardage at will against the roadrunners, but not faring so well against the officials. LaVerne got her first touchdown in the game when a fumbled pass was recovered on Santa Barbara's 2 yard line after the Leopard had been stopped at the conclusion of a long march on the 25 line. The ball was carried on bucks, Weybright scoring a touchdown. LaVerne had another touchdown in the making at a time after but a 15 yard penalty ruined it.

Santa Barbara scored her first touchdown in the closing minutes of the first half on bucks after a pass. They failed to convert the score at half time stood at 6-0. Early in the second half Santa Barbara pulled the old high school trick of passing the ball to a "pepper" along the side lines. It ended for a touchdown and this proved to be the turning point of the game. From then on Santa Barbara was able to make gains as consistently as LaVerne had in the first half.

Santa Barbara again pulled the trick of passing to a man laying on the sidelines and it worked, putting the ball on the five yard line. And to make matters worse a man who caught the pass was tackled all the time. The ball was passed over, and a little later Santa Barbara rang up another touchdown which they earned, and accounted for the final score of 24-6.

REV. STAUFFACHER SPEAKS IN CHAPEL

COLLEGE STUDENTS MUST BE ABLE TO MEET "THE CROWD"

Rev. Stauffacher, pastor of the Claremont Community Church, spoke in chapel Thursday morning on the association of the college student with the crowd.

Wherever one meets the human race he meets the crowd. Association with the crowd is the real test of individual character. It is in the crowd that the cultured and brilliant mind is most often guided by mob rule even to such an extent that it will lose its individuality. The task of the college student is to keep himself from being submerged in the crowd influence. He should make his training worth something to the human race by using it to improve the standards of the crowd.

The important thing in college is not research but rather studying things out. According to John Keats, education should be defined in terms of negative capability; that is, the ability to face problems without rushing after facts and theories. Book learning is not necessarily education. The failure of many college students is a result of their inability to meet the human race and still keep their ideals.

"Love Divine," sung by the chapel group and directed by Prof. Haugh, preceded the address.

FRENCH LECTURE ATTENDED AT U.S.C.

Attention, all ye Frenchmen! At the Egan theatre, during the week, October 18-25, will be presented some of Moliere's most noted plays, one of which will be "Le Malade Imaginaire."

The Egan theater is located at 1324 South Figueroa street, Los Angeles. Seats are quite reasonable and student rates are being arranged for. Everyone interested be sure and be there! If you have no transportation or have room for others, see Miss Lenhardt.

JUST A COMMENT

In response to Dr. Hoover's chapel address the other day, let me say that if what a boy spends on a girl while they are going together in college is an indication of how thrifty he will be when they get married, "most" LaVerne College brides need never worry about having extravagant husbands!

FORENSIC CLUB TO SPONSOR BANQUET

The Forensic Club is starting its year of hard work and lively social affairs in the form of a banquet to be held at the Chocolate Tavern, October 20.

There is to be a short program, with Everett Calvert toastmaster. Each member is to contribute to the evening's entertainment by giving a two-minute stunt.

Following the program a business meeting is to be held to discuss the advisability of having debating squads in place of the former debate teams, and whether or not a beginners' debate class should be established.

Upset San Diego Saturday!

FORENSIC SEASON FOR WOMEN NEAR

ATTENDANCE URGED AT SPEAKING CONTESTS

The girls' forensic season is opening soon. Announcement has been made of try-outs for the debate teams to be held soon. A number of girls have shown their interest and it is expected that the debate season will bring forth good results.

The question for debate this year is: "Resolved, that the United States should establish a department of education with a secretary in the president's cabinet." This question seems to be a very debatable one, having much information on both sides, and is of interest to a great number of people.

Meet your friends at Tavern.

Women's Forensics

A meeting of the Women's Forensics Conference was held at Whittier Saturday, October 11. The following officers were elected: Whittier representative, president; U. C. L. A. representative, vice-president; Prof. Brubaker, LaVerne, secretary-treasurer.

The women's debates this year are to be on the question, "Resolved, that the United States should establish a department of education with a secretary in the president's cabinet." The debates are to be held on Tuesday and Thursday of the first two weeks in December.

REVEREND WALKER BRINGS HELPFUL CHAPEL TALK

STUDENTS WARNED AGAINST "TRAPS" OF DAILY LIFE

Rev. Galen K. Walker, pastor of the LaVerne Church of the Brethren, brought a message to the chapel audience Tuesday morning concerning the traps which are ever open to college students.

He based his talk on the one hundred and fortieth Psalm, especially emphasizing the fourth and fifth verses, which contain David's plea for guidance, in the words: "Keep me, O Lord, from the hands of the wicked; preserve me from the violent man, who has purposed to overthrow my goings. The proud have laid a snare for me and cords; they have spread a net for me by the wayside; they have set gins (traps) for me."

The speaker named several traps that are encountered by the student of the present day, including the trap of "blab," or indiscreet

COLLEGE ORCHESTRA

Tad Davis and Elwyn Boly are organizing a college orchestra, and they cordially invite any student who plays a musical instrument to cooperate with them. An announcement of the time and place of meeting will be posted on the bulletin board.

It is urged that those who have had experience, especially, cooperate in advancing this fine gesture of school spirit. Good music is one means of putting your school on the map, and LaVerne surely needs a good orchestra and a band also, which may come later.

volubility, "bluff," misrepresenting oneself, cigarets, bad company, fashions, low ideals, and finally, pleasure.

Concerning fashions, he quoted the old saying, "Better to be dead than to be out of fashion," and agreed with it in part; nevertheless, fashions should not be made the primary aim in life.

In dealing with bad company, Rev. Walker presented a thought from St. Paul: "Evil communications corrupt good manners."

Low ideals should not be harbored because we grow like the thing upon which we center our attention.

Pleasure is all right if it assists in the upbuilding of the individual physically, morally, and spiritually, but if it degrades it should be exchanged for something real.

SENIORS PLANNING THEATRE PARTY FOR SOPHS

WILL GO TO EL CAPITAN IN LOS A. OCTOBER 27

The Seniors, after holding a special meeting at 3:45 Wednesday, in the auditorium, definitely decided upon the form of entertainment they intend to give the Sophomore class.

After due consideration it was felt that a greater number in both classes would enjoy a theater party more than a sport affair. Monday evening, October 27, was set as the date. They will go to the El Capitan playhouse in Los Angeles, which is now featuring the stage play, "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath," starring Charlotte Greenwood.

FEAST OF NATIONS PLANNED FOR NOVEMBER 1

Y. M. C. AND Y. W. C. A. CO- OPERATE THIS YEAR

November 1. Keep the date.

This is a project started by the place in the gymnasium of the college, November 1, at 5:30 p. m.

Work. Carrying out the spirit of Y. W. C. A. in the form of a cafeteria supper for LaVerne residents, students and people from nearby towns. The booths, cleverly decorated to represent different countries of the world, add to the attractiveness and make this dinner truly a Feast of Nations. This year the Y. M. and Y. W. will cooperate in making this a greater success than ever.

LaVonne Putnam from the Y. W. C. A. and Harry Thomas from the Y. M. C. A., have general charge of planning the event and appointing the various committees, to be announced later.

Elwyn Boly has charge of the advertising and will choose others on the committee to assist in this work. Carrying out the spirit of co-operation, each booth will be in charge of a member of the Y. W. C. A. and a representative of the Y. M. C. A.

The week of October 27-November 1 will be a busy week for college students—Sophomore-Senior party, "L" day, Halloween party and Feast of Nations; but those who have attended this supper in other years won't miss it this year. Why not make that week "LaVerne College Week" and everyone boost all student activities?

Watch for future announcements and remember the date—November 1—Feast of Nations.

You're welcome at the Tavern.

Rev. Walker stated that the best way to avoid these traps is to keep in touch with the spiritual generator.

Preceding the discourse two violin duet selections, "Gypsy Love Song" and "The World Is Waiting for the Sunrise," were presented by Miss LaVonne Putnam and Mr. Robert Walker.

COMRADE SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS EN- JOYS RETREAT

PARTY HIKES TO WOLFSKILL CABIN IN EVENING

Twenty-four young people of the Comrade Sunday school class of the Church of the Brethren met at the faculty cabin last Saturday evening, about eight o'clock, for a romping good time.

After eager waiting and no very serious mishaps (however, Glenn did knock the stone over and spill some milk), with hearty appetites one and all devoured the tempting food of sandwiches, pickles, beans, salads, cake, pie and cocoa. As soon as the dishes were washed, nearly all hiked to Wolfskill cabin where one could hear all sorts of mirth and merrymaking. Finally, all arrived back at the cabin and proceeded to settle down to peaceful dreams.

The next morning, after another hearty meal of bacon and eggs, buns and cocoa, a short period of devotions was held, followed by some very helpful remarks by Ed Cunningham on the theme, "Comrades With Christ."

Everyone felt that it had paid them for having been

BONFIRE PROGRAM ENJOYED BY Y.W.

WEINERS ROASTED DURING INTERLUDES IN EVENING

The Y. W. C. A. held their annual bonfire meeting on the campus Monday evening October 13. A weiner roast with pie for dessert was the main event of the evening.

Myrtice Butterbaugh led the group in singing a number of school and "Y. W." songs. Grace Gans and Evelyn Holmes followed this with several readings. Edith Flory, assisted by Grace Gans, Frances Saylor, and Elizabeth Lehman, presented a skit, "Sipping Cider Thru a Straw." The Y. W. song, "Follow the Gleam," closed the evening.

Musical Rally Spirit Prevails at Meeting

Friday morning's student assembly period was filled chiefly with announcements, some saxophone solos, and a short rally superintended by Mr. Ebersole and Mr. Pederson, assistant yell leaders.

It was announced that the photographer will be here Monday to start taking pictures for the Lambda. This may seem a little previous, but his advice is "to begin early and avoid the rush."

Elwyn Boly, accompanied by Elizabeth Lehmer at the piano presented two saxophone solos "Saxima" and "Laughing Gas." The latter had a decided effect; for it produced plenty of laughter.

The meeting ended with cheering for the Santa Barbara game and the singing of the Alma Mater.

ARE THERE PERSONALLY DIRECTED STATEMENTS IN THE CAMPUS TIMES? YES AND NO.

Several students have taken statements in the Campus Times rather seriously lately, thinking the articles to be directed at them; hence the following comment (which is of general information and is not directed at anyone in particular.)

There are several columns and sometimes an article or two published which are nothing but the writers' personal opinions and humorous critical comments. Miss Ida Know's Column, Cy Nical Comments, Campus Chuckles, Observations and Gossip, and other material under such heads is being referred to here. None of these criticisms or wisecracks are made to hurt anyone's feelings; but are only published for the amusement of the rest of you.

However, if something is allowed to be printed that you think is a little too much for you to swallow about yourself or too much for you to swallow about someone else, speak to the editor about the matter and possibly it can be explained; if the rest of our readers do not like it either, such comments will not be printed in the future.

There is one other idea to take into consideration though. No one can't be satisfied all of the time, and it is extremely difficult to satisfy everyone a small part of the time. That is why writers of special columns are up against; so give them a "break" and don't be too critical.

I think they have all done very good work so far, my friends.

Thanks!
The Editor.

MODERN LANGUAGE CLUB AND CHI DELTA CHI ARTICLES MIXED UP!

We are extremely sorry that the wrong headlines appeared on the right articles (or vice versa) in the fifth column of the last number of the paper. Chi Delta Chi is the drama club and Eleanor Shepp is its president. George Berg is president of the Modern Language Club instead of the Chi Delta Chi, as it appeared in the paper.

Please excuse this error, and every effort will be made to avoid such mistakes in the future.

THREE WORDS

There are three words, the sweetest words in all of human speech. They are sweeter than are all songs of birds, and pages poets preach. A life may be a vale of tears, and sad and dreary thing—these words and trouble disappear. And birds begin to sing. These words, and all the roses bloom, and the sun begins to shine. These words will dissipate the gloom and water turns to wine. These words will cheer the saddest days—“I love you”—wrong by heck; but another sweeter phrase: “Enclosed find check.”—Ex.

A truly prosperous person must not only work steadily, earn adequately, and spend wisely, but he must save to a reasonable extent. Other words, to attain a prosperous condition means that one is able to command goods and services sufficient for his needs and Certain things make for serenity of mind. One of them is the knowledge that you've done the best you know—that you've played fair, been straight, used sense and kept faith with your fellow men. You may not be happy, but if you can square yourself with yourself, you will be measurably content.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Sandy, who owned a theatre in Dundee, went to London to get some ideas for advertising.

While walking through the great city, he saw a notice outside a movie to the effect that all persons over eighty years of age would be admitted free.

“Just the thing,” he told himself.

The following day Sandy returned to his native town and the first thing he did was to put a notice outside his theatre which read:

“All persons over eighty years of age will be admitted free if accompanied by their parents.”

He had at least a little surplus.—Adam Smith.

MISS IDA KNOW

Dear Miss Ida Know: How would you punctuate this? Woman without her man would be a savage.

Could you say Woman without her man, would be a savage?

Or, Woman, without her, man would be a savage? How?

A Sophomore.

Dear Miss Ida Know: Can you tell me this: Does one half of two and two equal two or three?

Answer: One-half of two and two equals two, not three. If it had read “Do one half of two and two equal two or three,” the answer would have been three. D. E.

Dear Miss Ida Know: Who was the oldest man that ever lived and who died before his father?

It was Methuselah. Enoch never died; he was taken to heaven in a cloud without dying. “Bluie.”

READ THIS TO YOUR WIFE

In the beginning, when Twashtri came to the creation of woman, he found that he had exhausted his materials in the making of man, and that no solid elements were left.

In this dilemma, after profound meditation, he did as follows:

He took the rotundity of the moon, and the curves of the creepers, and the clinging of tendrils, and the trembling of grass, and the slenderness of the reed, and the bloom of flowers, and the lightness of leaves, and the tapering of the elephant's trunk, and the glances of deer, and the clustering rows of bees, and the joyous gaiety of sunbeams, and the weeping of clouds, and the fickleness of the winds, and the timidity of the hare, and the vanity of the peacock, and the softness of the parrot's bosom, and the hardness of adamant, and the sweetness of honey, and the cruelty of the tiger, and the warm glow of fire, and the coldness of snow, and the chattering of jays, and the cooing of the “Kokila,” and the hypocrisy of the crane, and the fidelity of the “Chakrawaka,” and compounding these together, he made woman and gave her to man.

But after one week, man came to him and said: “Lord, this creature that you have given me makes my life miserable. She chatters incessantly and teases me beyond endurance, never leaving me alone; and she requires incessant attention, and takes up all my time, and cries about nothing, and is always idle; and so I have come to give her back, as I cannot live with her.”

So Twashtri said: “Very well,” and took her back.

Then after only three days, man came back to him again, and said, “Lord, I find that my life is very lonely since I gave you back that creature. I remember how she used to dance and sing to me, and look at me out of the corner of her eye, and play with me, and cling to me; and her laughter was music, and she was beautiful to look at, and soft to touch; so give her back to me again.”

So Twashtri said: “Very well,” and gave her back again.

Then after only three days, man went back to him again, and said: “Lord, I know not how it is; but after all, I have come to the conclusion that she is more of a trouble than a pleasure to me, so please take her back again.”

But Twashtri said: “Out on you! Be off! I will have no more of this. You must manage how you can.”

Then man said: “But I cannot live with her.”

And Twashtri replied: “Neither can you live without her.”

And he turned his back on man, and went on with his work.

Then man said: “What is to be done? For I cannot live either with or without her.”—A Digit of the Moon. F. W. Bain. Golden Book for October.

Cy Nical Comments

I can see only one fault with permanent waves, and Chalmer seems to be experiencing it. The permanent wave stays put but the bottom ends of the hair do not like to be under all the time. When they come up for air the permanent takes a nose dive out of the barber chair. What I call a tough break for Faw.

Cupid has forsaken his bow and arrow for a black-jack. Tad Davis, the romantic lover of 1930, A. D., gets his love notes from an airplane. Due either to bad aim or big heartedness Cupid missed Tad when he dropped his sand-loaded note. I pity Tad later, if she is throwing sandbags now.

Pop goes my philosophy. That is just about all I thought when that infernal firecracker exploded outside of the philosophy room door the other day. I jumped as far as Prof. Hoover, but I won't compare my thoughts with his; he doesn't teach that brand of philosophy.

Don't kid the peanut roaster, the women are determined to arrest themselves. I hear that they are crabbing about their gym equipment and do not like the idea of waving their arms around unless there are some fellows handy to wave at. Oh, well, who ever saw a woman satisfied, anyway.

Whoops my deah—if the shoe doesn't fit don't wear it. In my little article on Mrs. Grundy and the optical club I was directing my comments at no one person as a personal insult and darn near a dozen women sent me unsigned notes accusing me of speaking directly at them. Whee, better than I expected. Say, you women who are having the fits, get that Gallipolis complex out of your heads. You are now in L. V. C. and the year is 1930, and the men do not chin themselves on the gutter. That gritty noise you hear is just my face tuning up for an old-fashioned wince.

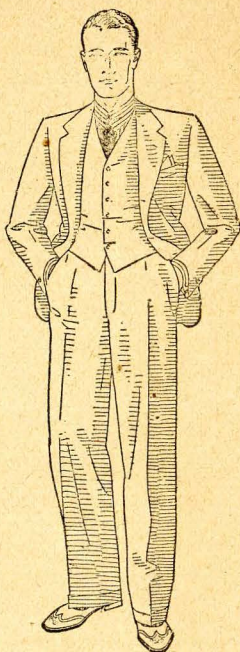

If you do not know what a Gallipolis complex is look in Encyclopedia Americana and see what sort of an institution they have in Gallipolis, Ohio.

One of the Journalism students told me that Prof. Brubaker said all the world loves a lover, and Bernice Connelly contradicted him flatly. I will not make any surmises why Bernice said that. However, is it true that the world loves a lover? Well, it certainly doesn't love a hater. I do believe that the world loves a lover if he is a lover and not a love-sick lover. We have a few of the latter species around our institution. Sometimes I think that the expression in their eyes merits a trip to the psychopathic ward. Nope, the world and I love romantic lovers but doggone the rheumatic and soaked kind.

In the last issue of the Campus Times I noticed the following pet names ascribed to two men—“Kisses” and “Angel.” Great suffering tripe, what could a man do to merit such a handle as that? I am not going to make any rash guesses, but I imagine your guess is as good as mine. Sure, a girl originated them.

Some of my readers have been trying to guess who in this school is crazy enough to write such hokey as I do. I am going to let you in on a secret, I will guess with you. Now it hurts my feelings to be spoken of as a girl, and likewise to hear me connected with some of

Personals

Wilma Long entertained a group of her classmates Thursday evening at the "Cracker Box." Those present were Misses Viola Smith, Ruby Saylor, LaVonne Putnam, Mildred Smith, Myrtice Butterbaugh, Edna Brubaker, Esther Dickey and the hostess.

Frances Berg journeyed to Los Angeles Friday, where she spent the day shopping.

Anna Emmert and Evelyn Deardorf rendered a duet at the adult Christian Workers meeting in the Church of the Brethren last Sunday night.

Ed Cunningham enjoyed the visit of his mother, who came to LaVerne Monday to spend a few days here. Mrs. Cunningham's home is in Oakley. She is, however, not unknown to LaVerne Students for she has been the hostess to several LaVerne College deputa-tion teams.

Alba Montgomery spent Satur-day in Los Angeles where he visit-ed the Federal Reserve Bank. He was accompanied by the staff of the Covina First National Bank, of which Mr. Montgomery was a member during the summer.

Alumni Notes

Miss Ruth Price gave an intense-ly interesting talk about her trip to Europe and Palestine this sum-mer in the LaVerne city P.-T. A. meeting last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Schrock are rejoicing over the birth of a little son in the Covina Hospital early Wednesday morning. He has been named Robert Dennis in honor of both his grandfathers. Mrs. Schrock is remembered as Grace Looney of Washington. Ralph teaches in the schools in Azusa.

Hazel, the five months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Byrl Harper has been very seriously ill but is a little better at this writ-ing. Her mother is also confined to her bed with a very bad cold. Mrs. Harper is remembered as Alida Larimer. Byrl teaches in the high school at Huntington Beach.

Lois Miller Yochem writes that she has accepted the responsibility of directing the choir in the Meth-odist church in Brawley in addition to superintending the teaching of music in six schools in and near Brawley.

Chase Harper had a tribe of Friendly Indians from San Pedro in the big meet at Sherman Insti-tute a few days ago, as well as Dwight Welch from Monrovia.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Yoder of Hemet are very active in the church and Sunday school work there, and are assisting Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Dickey in lining up their work as pastors of the church.

Marion Roynon's indoor baseball team won a contest with the Azusa team the other day. Marion is coach of the Lincoln school team as well as manual training director.

Dorm News

Hazel Gibson, Meryle Thomason, Helen Buckley, Virginia Scarsi-brick spent the past week-end at their homes.

Esther Statler and Mary Gilliet attended the Bonita rally Thurs-day night, and were eye-witnesses to the big bonfire.

Opal Kuns attended a wedding Saturday evening in Glendale, at the "Wee Kirk o' the Heather."

Martha Darkes spent the week-end in Pasadena.

Vivienne Wyne, Eloise Sheppard and Adela Rogers motored to San-ta Barbara Friday, where they spent the week-end. They attend-ed the game Saturday and spent Sunday finding their way home.

Virginia Scarisbrick will partici-pate in a wedding ceremony Tues-day evening, not this time as the bride, but as her organist.

Ruth Gibbel spent the week-end at her home in Hemet.

Grace Nay, a former LaVerne student, was the guest of Ruth Gibble last Thursday.

Edith Norris spent the week-end at her home in Monrovia.

Miss Muir had as her guest last Wednesday her mother, Mrs. Muir, of Pasadena.

Faculty News

President Studebaker attended the northern California district conference of the Church of the Brethren at Empire. He gave sev-eral addresses, namely, "Peace," "The Liberal Arts College Move-ment in the United tates," and "Love, Courtship and Marriage." The conference was held October 11, 12, 13 and 14. The attitude to-ward the college was excellent.

President Studebaker, who is a member of the board of directors of the Association of Colleges and Universities in Southern Califor-nia, attended a committee meeting of this organization on Saturday, Oct. 18, at Redlands University. The association held a series of meetings at LaVerne College last year.

Professor Crawford Brubaker was elected secretary-treasurer of the Women's Forensic Conference at the Whittier meeting held Oct-ober 11.

Professor Muir's mother, Mrs. F. G. Muir from Pasadena, visited the women's dormitory Tuesday and Wednesday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Crawford Bruba-ker, visited H. M. Brubaker, the professor's brother, at Baldwin Park, Sunday.

President Studebaker preached at the Pomona Congregational Church Sunday evening. His topic was "Faith and Education."

President Studebaker will attend the inauguration of the new pres-ident of the University of Califor-nia at Berkeley.

Professor Travis, Pres. and Mrs. Studebaker, and Mr. I. D. Yoder attended the Santa Barbara foot-ball game.

Professor Hollenberg is taking his zoology class to the beach to study sea life October 22.

Mr. Harison Frantz returned from a trip to Bishop on Sunday.

Student Volunteers

Another program full of inspira-tion was enjoyed by the Student Volunteer group which met at the home of Miss Edna Phillips Wed-nesday evening, October 15.

The topic of the evening was the pledge of the Student Volun-teers, "It is my purpose under God's guidance to devote my life to a distinctively Christian voca-tion." The different phases of this were discussed by Ed Cunningham, Fred Butterbaugh and Miss Verna Cooney in talks full of inspiration, after which Dortha Gans presented the cards to the group and an op-portunity was given to sign them.

At least one new member has been added to the signed group, and it is hoped that more will come this year. However, it is not nec-essary to sign the pledge to join the group in its weekly meetings and frequent social outings. All who are interested at all in the programs presented are welcome.

Wednesday evening the Student Volunteers discussed a theme to be the guide of this years' activities, and the one most in favor seemed to be, "My personal response to world needs." Further business of the evening was the choosing of the play, "Kasim," a drama of Per-sia, to be given among the churches as a money raising project.

The devotions of the group were led by Martha Baer and a trio number, "The Open Gate", was sung by Geneva Suttle, Beulah Eikenberry and Virginia Stern.

Observation and Gossip

1. Whoopee! All the MEN look like college students again instead of old cave men.
2. Have you ever noticed the many admirers Kenneth Groff has? Frosh, Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors. It doesn't matter who! You are pretty small to have so many lady friends, Kenneth!
3. In Journalism class the other day Professor Brubaker said, "All the world loves a lover." Bernice Conley quickly replied, "That is not so." We wonder how she figures.
4. They say smoke follows the beauty. What would you call the person that flies follow and land on?
5. Everett Calvert asked the other day, "What is the difference between a lover and a sap?" Poor Calvert, who disillusioned you. Snap out of it, Cal, the right little girl will come along sometime.
6. In Spanish class Thursday a young lady was reading and trans-lating a sentence that read, "Es tanta de sensibilities me pies," which when translated should read, "My feet are so sensitive." But she read, "My feet are so sensible." We wonder! Maybe the feet have taken the senses of the head.
7. They say that Lloyd Cun-ningham is going to have to shave his beard because people were call-ing him "Jesus." Is that the rea-son why you shaved yours off, Ed? Did they start to call you James or John?
8. What would you think of a young lady who after eating her breakfast got up and walked out of the cafe without paying her bill? Then walked in all embarrassed (after being called back) and paid her bill! Better wake up, M. D. Frosh should be more awake than that.
9. Dr. Hoover says, "My spinal column is the thing that my head sits on one end, and I sit on the other."

They call my twin brother "En-core" 'cause he wasn't on the pro-gram.

Y. W. C. A. Notes

The Y. W. C. A. period Mon-day was spent in a discussion of the problems of a college girl. Some of the difficulties in getting things done either resulting from too many activities or from inabil-ity to adjust oneself to one's work were the subjects for discussion. Most of the girls seem to agree that time is a serious problem, especially with the college stu-dent, but were unable to arrive at any very general conclusion concerning the solution of the problem.

The Freshman Y. W. C. A. cab-inet met at the home of Elizabeth Lehman Wednesday evening for a short business meeting. Plans were made for the "Y. W." pro-gram on October 27.

Members of the cabinet present were Virginia Scarsbrick, Helen Buckley, Frances Saylor, Fern Glick, Evelyn Holmes and Eliza-beth Lehman.

WEEK-END RESULTS

Aztecs 14, Oxy 7

San Diego proved that the 6-0 defeat of Pomona two weeks ago was no fluke by romping on the supposedly ferocious Oxy Tiger 14-7 Friday night at the Rose Bowl.

This victory was no accident either, from all reports, for the Aztecs outplayed their rivals throughout the game and easily earned their margin of victory.

This is the third upset in the Conference this year, and we're hoping the Leopards will furnish the fourth by taking Herreid's men into camp this week-end, which is not at all impossible.

Caltech 2, Pomona 0

The Sagehen ought to be just about ready to sing now, two conference teams having picked the feathers for wins, the Engineers accomplishing the feat Saturday night 2-0, and the Aztecs two weeks ago, 6-0.

Caltech outplayed Pomona and deserved to win by at least two touchdowns, but the two points that were scored on a safety after a Caltech man had blocked a punt were enough to turn the trick. The Engineers stopped everything Pomona had to offer and launched a good offense of their own which netted many long gains and several sustained marches deep into Pomona territory. Probably the one reason Caltech didn't score a couple of times was their hair-brained ideas of passing, their tosses be-the L. A. J. C. and the Caltech games, so they improved between the Caltech and Santa Barbara games. If they continue to improve at this rate they are due to show the strong San Diego squad a real game this week. LaVerne was still very weak on pass defense in the Santa Barbara game and really lost the game through this weakness. The backs are due to get a real "going over" in this department this week. The backfield was running harder and having a great deal more drive. With a little more precision in getting the secondary, the plays will work as Eisan wants them to work.

Forney showed great improvement in his punting, and that is a handy asset at any time. "Fred-die" Hubbell was running harder and with more of his old time fire than he has at any time this year, and that means a whole lot for this little man is really the spark plug of the offense.

The line played its usual strong game, working together in such a way that they will compare favorably with any line in the conference.

The fellows played a good game with some mistakes, but that game is past, so on to San Diego.

The line-up: Jones and Adams, ends; Ferree and Leonard, tackles; Funk and Nicolas, guards; and Montz, center; Weybright, full-back; Forney and Smith, halves, and Hubbell, quarter.

Calvert, Roynon, Stover, Lewin and Thomason also saw action.

ing intercepted several times in Pomona territory on second or third down with only one or two yards to go.

As the result of the Caltech victory, LaVerne's stock goes up, for Caltech made more yards against Pomona than against the Leopards, and although the Engineers scored four times on Eisan's men, the Leopards retaliated with two scores of their own, something Pomona was unable to accomplish.

The Declamation Contest is to be April 23, and the material is to be limited to modern poetry since 1900.

The Oratorical Contest is to be April 16.

An interesting feature of the Declamation and Extemporaneous contests is that they are to be held at the same time and place as the men's contests and are limited to the same subjects. After the regular conference winner is chosen by the judges they will pick the winner between the men's and women's contests.

Leopards vs. Aztecs, Navy Field San Diego, 8:00 p. m. Saturday!

REASONS GIVEN FOR OPTIMISM

The fast improving Leopards will engage the San Diego Aztecs in mortal combat on the Navy field in San Diego under the lights Saturday, October 25, at 8:00 p. m.

Several fans the writer has talked to wouldn't give LaVerne a snowball's chance in the fiery furnace to win this game; so here's a little inside dope to think over.

Santa Barbara won last Friday night by a score of 24-6, but to our disadvantage, the score does not tell at all what the Leopards did to the Roadrunners and allows the Aztecs to underestimate the power of the LaVerne squad. Only those who saw the game and a few they have told know how the Leopards romped all over the Roadrunners in the first half, how the officials cheated us out of two scores, how Santa Barbara got by with a "sleeper" pass because of the poor lighting system for their second touchdown, how they made their first touchdown on a play when both teams were plainly offside, how the Roadrunners were given a first down on LaVerne's 7 yard line by a dumb referee when it was fourth down and five yards to go, how the officials let the Santa Barbara team get by with several long gains on screen passes, and how the head linesman managed to call a LaVerne man offside whenever the Leopards were in scoring territory even if the player blamed for the penalty with pulling out of the line or slow to charge.

Now, we're not going to kick about this because the Southern Conference officials who were supposed to be there had car trouble and Santa Barbara men had to be secured just a few minutes before game time. But the above statements, although absolutely true, are made only to let you know what happened at Santa Barbara and why the writer believes the Leopards can upset the old apple-cart and beat San Diego Saturday night.

The LaVerne team was much better Friday than they were against Caltech, scoring the first touchdown of the game and playing their opponents off their feet throughout the first half. In fact, the game started out to be a rout for the Leopards and the only thing that turned the tide in the second half was the officiating and a weak pass defense which Eisan will spend plenty of time on this week.

San Diego must not be underestimated, though, for they have their strongest squad in years, their wins over Pomona and Occidental offering grim proof of this fact. However, they will, no doubt, be a little cocky and look forward to an easy time this week-end after registering wins over two of the strongest teams in the Conference.

This all favors the LaVerne cause and Eisan has a big surprise in store for the Aztecs. Every man on the squad is going down to

COAST CONFERENCE GRID NEWS

The "Webfeet" of Oregon State gave Pop Warner a big scare Saturday at Palo Alto, coming within only a few yards of another touchdown and either a tie or victory in the last few minutes of play.

The Oregon Staters were sent back to Portland two weeks ago with a 27-7 defeat by the Trojans, so regardless of the fact that many are favoring the Cards to thump the Trojans next Saturday, U. S. C. ought to take Pop Warner's men into camp if comparative scores mean anything.

Oregon 7, Huskies 0

The teams of Jimmy Phelan and "Doc" Spears, new coaches on the Pacific Coast, did battle Saturday at Portland and "Doc" Spear's Oregon men emerged on the long end of a 7-0 score.

The Huskies fought valiantly thruout, and had it not been for Johnny Kitzmiller, Oregon's "Flying Dutchman," they would have probably won the game. Kitzmiller scored the lone touchdown of the game on a 25 yard run after he had leaped high to snatch a pass from Londahl, his team-mate.

Olympic Club Trims Bears

The Golden Bears went down to defeat for the second time of the season last week-end this time at the hands of the San Francisco Olympic Club 13-7.

All the talk about Price not missing Eisan and Lom this year at the start of the season seems to be just so much empty talk now or there's something else radically wrong at the Berkeley institution. Either that or other teams are much stronger than early season estimates made them.

"Cal." alumni will probably be howling about their coach again before long; and if so, they ought to have the proverbial millstone tied around their necks and be dumped into the sea.

San Diego determined to fight to the last whistle to beat the Aztec outfit, no matter how tough they are, and this determination is backed up by the best team we have had for several years, and with quite a supply of reserve strength.

Nobody has any reason to get cocky and over-confident. Nor has anyone any reason to be despondent, but everyone can rest assured that there's going to be a real battle at San Diego this week-end.
