Hubbell Snatches Victory from Whittier Basketeers

After trailing the Poets almost from the start of the game, the Leopards came from behind in the last thirty seconds of play and won their first conference basket ball game by a score of 30-29. The game was thrilling all the way thru with LaVerne just a few points behind the Whittier outfit. The basket that won the game came about after Whittier had gone into a one point lead as a result of a long shot by Walker. With forty-five seconds left to play LaVerne received possession of the ball out of bounds under the Whittier hoop. Thomas passed the ball in to Hubbell, who dribbled down just past the center of court waiting for an opening. The Leopard forwards were so well guarded that there was no opening. The watches were clicking off the second as Hubbell viewed the situation hurriedly. Taking a long shot from just inside the center stripe was the only hope and the ball left his hands in the direction of the hoop. It was lined up accurately and went thru the hoop with the loudest swish of the whole game, putting the Leopards in the lead. However, a ball game is not over until the gun goes off, and Whittier took the tip-off from the center, passed ball down the court, but it was too late. A wild shot missed the backboard completely as the gun sounded to end the game.

In the early part of the game the Leopard outfit didn't seem to get along. Whittier had a defensive team that allowed no set-up shots (Continued on Page Four)

New Era Banquet Plans Enlarged

The annual New Era Banquet, which has become a tradition of our college, will this year be of greater importance than ever before. The purpose of this special event is to provide opportunity for the attention of the college constituency and general public to be directed to the school's growth and development. The plan of selling plates at $25 each for admission to the banquet has met with much favor as a means by which patrons and friends may in a novel way make special contributions to the goal set for the current year. Many friends of the college who plan definitely each year to attend have already placed the New Era Banquet in their calendar of events. About five hundred people are present each year.

The regular time of holding this annual affair is about November 1, in honor of the anniversary of the occupancy of Founders Hall in November, 1926. A new era in our college history was inaugurated by the erection of this new administration building. Since then, marked improvements in scholastic attainment have been made and LaVerne has taken its place among other schools of high rank in this section of the country. Our history is not unlike that of most other colleges which depend upon other than state support.

When the present administration began its work in 1923 there was an accumulated indebtedness of $30,000 in the current expense account. Careful management has reduced this amount one-half. In order that the deficit may no longer be a millstone on the neck of progress, the trustees have designated that a campaign be put on this year to gather funds for meeting the $15,000 balance. This campaign is now on among the constituents and friends of the college, the climax of which will be the New Era Banquet. It is believed that at that time the entire amount will have been raised. The last evening of the Bible Institute, or Thursday, February 6, has been set as the appropriate date for this big event.

The entire constituency is en-

Rev. Thos. Broad Speaks in Chapel

Rev. Thomas Broad, former pastor of the Progressive Brethren Church, and at one time a student of LaVerne College, addressed the assembly at the chapel service Thursday morning.

The chapel service was opened with a violin solo by LaVonne Putnam. She was accompanied on the piano by Esther Thomason.

Rev. Broad, now residing in Spokane, Washington, spent the first few moments of his talk in telling about his pleasure at being in LaVerne again and seeing his old-time friends. The message he brought was found in Ex. 4:2, which reads, "What is that in thine hand?"

Rev. Broad gave several illustrations to show how one can always in some way help along the cause of Jesus Christ, even though one may be very busy, and quite untalented. He told about a boy who, though greatly handicapped, used whatever opportunity he had to bring people to church. Another illustration was of a young woman who, though quite homely, possessed such a charming personality that she radiated sunshine wherever she went. A third illustration was of a man who had spent many years singing in the "Red Light" district of San Francisco. He sank lower and lower in the scale of life until he finally lost his voice, and incidentally his job. The man moved to the southern part of the state, came in contact with Christian people, and became a Christian himself. A short while after this event the man regained his voice and is now using it for the glory of God.

The speaker closed his talk with this message: "Take the things God has given you and let him transform them into pure gold, and the common things of life will be used for His glory."

thusiastic for attaining this goal and many hundreds will join in this climactic celebration.

A $25 ticket will entitle the purchaser to one or more plates for other members of his immediate family at the price of one dollar each. Reservations will be limited to 500.

'David and Goliath' Soon to Be Staged

The dramatic cantata, "David and Goliath," written by Professor B. S. Haugh, and dramatized by Mrs. Haugh, which is to be produced during the Bible Institute on Friday, January 31st, and on Saturday, Feb. 1st, is to be by far the biggest musical and dramatic production in the history of LaVerne College.

The first act of the production was written by Professor Haugh in 1922 when he secured his Bachelor of Music degree from the University of Southern California. For several years the author discontinued writing and was discouraged, thinking he would have to have help in completing it. After a time, however, it was taken up again with new enthusiasm and was completed on the last day of the year 1929. The music has been written entirely by Prof. Haugh while the words have been selected and rearranged by him.

The historical setting of the cantata is that of the reign of King Saul over Israel about 1130 B. C. The costuming and stage settings are being worked out in minute detail according to the dress and customs of that historical period.

Mrs. Haugh has made several trips to Los Angeles to inquire concerning prices for outfitting from various costuming houses. A statement was received which amounted to over four hundred dollars, which is a sum entirely out of the question. Exercising her originality, Mrs. Haugh has organized her advanced drama class in a project program in working out designs for jewelry, costumes, and instruments of war.

The directors appreciate very greatly the enthusiasm shown by the cast of 65 members, including students and alumni.

Because the stage in the LaVerne College Auditorium is not large enough to meet the demands of such a production, the cantata will be given in the Bonita high school auditorium. Reservations for seats are being taken at Herr's Drug Store at 50 cents a seat. A number of reservations have been received from a distance from those who expect to attend the Bible Institute.

Women's Hiking Club Organized

A meeting of former members was held Thursday evening in Miller Hall in which the hiking club which was organized three years ago was reorganized and new officials elected.

The office of president of the organization was unanimously voted upon Neva Snell, who immediately took the chair. Other officers elected were: secretary, Harriet Hoke, and chairman of the committee on provisions, Lucille Hylton.

The important subject of discussion in the meeting was a week-end party which the club is planning for the week-end between semesters. A cabin has been secured up above the snow line on Mount Baldy and the girls are looking (Continued on Page Four)

LaVerne Women Win First Conference Debate

LaVerne scored another victory in the field of forensics when the women's affirmative team defeated Occidental by a two to one decision in the debate which took place Thursday evening in the auditorium.

Those defending the case in behalf of LaVerne were Miss Arnelia Brubaker and Miss Virginia Stern. The negative team from Occidental which composed the opposition was Miss Frame and Miss Buckner.

"Resolved, That social fraternities and sororities in American Colleges and Universities are undesirable" is the question which the women are debating in the conference this year. This is the second conference debate of the year, the former being lost to Redlands by the negative team.

The argument presented Thursday evening proved to be very interesting to those present. Strong issues were presented and well defended on both sides of the question, all of which called forth a counter attack in the refutation speeches which was just as strong.

Miss Neva Snell, who is a member of LaVerne's negative team, acted as chairman of the debate.

The next debate on LaVerne's schedule will take place Thursday evening, when U. C. L. A. and LaVerne contest the question at LaVerne. Miss Neva Snell and Miss Lucille Hylton will attack the question on behalf of LaVerne.

The women's debate season will be brought to a close when the affirmative team meets one more team.

Students See Rocky Mts. Second Handed

Motion picture scenes of the Canadian Rocky Mountains was the attraction at Tuesday's chapel period.

Professor Hollenburg procured scenes from the railroad company. The first scenes pictured the beauties of Jasper National Park, which covers 5300 square miles. Jasper Park Lodge, the park hotel, comfortably accommodates guests. A golf course, swimming pool, and facilities for horseback riding are near at hand for the convenience of visitors. Deer and black bear are some of the exciting sights for the traveler in Jasper National Park. Among the interesting scenes were Maligne Canyon, an osprey's nest, and Mt. Edith Cavel, a wonderful monument to Nurse Edith Cavel, with a large glacier at the foot. The difficulties of climbing Mt. Cavel were illustrated on the screen. The Canadian Rocky Mountains abound in wild life, such as the Rocky Mountain goat, mule deer, bear, beaver and ducks. Beautiful snow-covered Mt. Robson was shown, also icebergs floating about on Berg Lake.

These scenes were much appreciated and enjoyed by the entire audience.

Charles Manning, assisted by Professor Haugh, operated the motion picture machine.

Midnight Mission Program is Given

Despite the rain a group of about eighteen students went into Los Angeles to the Midnight Mission Thursday night. The leader was Clarence Brubaker, and a very good program was given. It consisted of the following numbers.

Congregational singing; devotions led by Clarence Brubaker; duet, Mary Platt and Anna Emmert; quartet, Joe Cosner, Albert Gnagy, Clarence Brubaker, Vernon Heckman; piano solo, Grace Gockley; duet, Joe Cosner and Clarence Brubaker; solo, Anna Emmert; mixed quartet, Albert Gnagy, Anna Emmert, Mary Platt, Vernon Heckman; duet, Grace Brubaker, Dortha Gans; reading, Dortha

Volunteers Share Dep. Experiences

In their first meeting of the New Year, which was held at Mrs. Larimer's home on Third street, the Student Volunteers greatly enjoyed hearing the detailed experiences and impressions of both Deputation teams.

The Southern quartet sang a number, following the devotional period, and several of their number gave interesting side lights of their journey, the sights they viewed, the pleasant entertainment given them, and the people with whom they worshiped. Each one gave expression to the worth-whileness of such a trip to the college student—experience as well as theoretical training.

May Chronister, Vernon Heckman and Hazel Rothrock related the experiences of the northern team, giving an ample share in the humorous situations in which they found themselves. The serious phases of the trip were not neglected, however. The senior girls, especially, discovered many localities in which the position of school teacher could be coupled with definite Christian service in a splendid way. This is one of the pre-eminent impressions of such a trip to those who have been reared in churches where there are sufficient leaders with ordinary training.

A letter from Minerva Neher, written to one of the group, was read at the opening of the meeting. She sent New Year's greetings to the group and expressed the definite need of prayer for China just now, in which all may have a part. She is finishing the five-year course of language study which is generally completed before the first furlough.

Gans; solo, Joe Cosner; congregational singing; talk by Paul Daugherty, and a solo by Clarence Brubaker.

A very large and unusually attentive audience was present. It may be that this fact was due to the rain, which poured down during the whole of the program.

This work, which the Christian Workers are carrying on, is very worth while and helpful to all concerned—both the audience and those giving the program.

BEAUTY IS MORE THAN SKIN DEEP

There is very little similarity between apple blossoms and fire crackers, but the fact remains that as I write this I think of apple blossoms drifting sweetly and idly down. (Apple blossoms never have to hurry to get to 7:40 classes, or keep appointments with I. D. Yoder, or visit sick friends.) And when you read this (assuming that you will read it, though that's your fault) fire crackers may be whizzing about all over our front porch. Maybe it isn't fire crackers that bang, whizz and sputter. I'm not an authority on fire crackers. They are all right for those that like them, and I don't blame Eddie O'Hanessian for firing all of his now, for then on the Fourth of July he can show his patriotism in some other ways.

But I shall not praise him, for that has nothing to do with the original subject—apple blossoms. One morning I watched some of them fall—they appeared all pink and white; and I wondered how it would seem to have a complexion all pinky-white, and would anyone believe it was real?

Again I wondered: If a carrot, never a beautiful vegetable at its best, can make a person beautiful, then why shouldn't apple blossoms, which are always lovely, make one superlatively beautiful? I was all excited over the idea and thought I had a wonderful secret to pass on to the girls who complain that they lack beauty, and beaux, and I gathered a dishful and carried it into the kitchen for cream and sugar. I thought I was being ever so clever, but one mouthful convinced me that while the idea might be good in theory, it was bitter in practice. You can try it if you want to, but if you'll take my word for it you'll depend upon good old honest carrots and gritty spinach, and all their relatives, with quarts and quarts of water every day for your beauty treatment. I don't practice what I preach, so don't be afraid that I am an example.

And we've got to give our minds special treatment, too. Acres of carrots and tons of spinach won't make us beautiful, and liked, if we are going to poison our minds and hearts and systems with unkind, selfish, jealous, pessimistic thoughts. They are bound to show in our faces and in our lives, sooner or later. In other words, if we want to be beautiful, and liked, we've not only got to eat right, but we've got to think right and live right. If our minds and hearts are kind, we will be beautiful with beauty that will be remembered long after apple-blossom complexions are forgotten.

Faculty News

Dean Hoover attended a luncheon in Pomona last Thursday noon at which he enjoyed a personal conference with Dr. Gilkie of the University of Chicago. Religion on the campus was the theme of their discussion. Thursday night at Holmes Hall of Pomona College Dr. Gilkie spoke on "Cynicism in Students' Attitude Toward Religion." Dr. Hoover, Dr. Emmert and the Rev. Mr. Broad were present.

Dr. Emmert as a member of the executive committee of the Board of Trustees of the college went to the Belvidere Church of the Brethren in Los Angeles last night. The executive board met with the pastors and elders of the Southern District for consideration of problems relating to the welfare of the college.

Professor and Mrs. Brubaker saw the Stratford-on-Avon players present "Macbeth" at the Belasco theater in Los Angeles last Saturday.

Dr. Frantz attended on Friday evening in Los Angeles the regular meeting of the Southern California section of the American Chemical Society. Prof. S. B. Hopkins of the University of Illinois gave an address on "The More Recently Discovered Elements," and spoke particularly about illinium, an element discovered by Dr. Hopkins himself.

Dr. Frantz and Prof. Brandt spent all day Saturday at the Los Angeles Y. M. C. A. building attending the Southern California Intercollegiate Athletic Conference.

Important matters were considered, among which were the following. The size of the conference is not to be increased at the present time. Games will be scheduled in the future by a rotation system. Heretofore no special system obtained and arrangements were not always satisfactory. The new plan applies to baseball this coming spring but not to football until the fall of '31. A third consideration concerned the abolishment of baseball as an intercollegiate sport. No final decision was made but probably will be within the next couple of years.

A man should keep his friendships in constant repair. — Dr. Johnson.

YODER TURNS SCOTCH

A True Story, by Dee Dellenbach

Every institution must have its Scotchman—likewise LaVerne; but can anyone feature a man so Scotch that he has the gas turned off in his own house during cold weather?

Our business manager has been the victim of circumstances. All fall and up until a short time ago the weather has been balmy with soft breezes blowing warm and sweetly scented air into the Mansion of Yoder—but do you think he appreciated it? No, not at all. Upstairs the gas was turned on and being used unnecessarily and every time that Yoder went upstairs his true Scotch heart burned with righteous Scottish qualms. In his vivid imagination he could see the glittering monies rushing uselessly away while the Mrs. of the place had the gas turned on.

Things went from bad to worse—the weather kept getting warmer and warmer, and likewise did our Scotch friend. Then came the warmest day of all and Yoder, in a frenzy by this time, dashed to the phone and in a hysterical voice called the gas company and pleaded with them to come at once and shut off the gas on the upper floor.

He must have been so worried that he chewed his words, because they evidently didn't understand and while he was gone they came and turned off the gas on the lower floor instead of the upper!

Immediately it began to cloud over—rain came—snow fell on the mountains. The thermometer coasted down a while and then it dropped like a plummet. The House of Yoder got cold. Then it got colder. Mrs. Yoder began to get desperate, and then Mr. Yoder rushed home in response to her frantic phoning. On opening the door a chill blast struck him. His heart sank and his teeth chattered. He staggered to the phone as he experienced the first twinges of chill-blains, and then he called the gas company. He tried to talk, but his words froze in his mouth. And now we must stop as his gas isn't turned on yet.

(This happens to be a true story, and probably if you step in the office Mr. Yoder will corroborate it, as he has taken up permanent quarters there until the gas is turned on in his house again.)

Today? Yesterday? Tomorrow?

Letter received at the office of the Railway Mail service at Boston: "Dear Sirs: The Evening Bulletin has not been coming regularly. Today I got yesterday's paper, and when I get yesterday's per today the next day I get the paper of the day before the day of the paper I got the day before. Last year I received the paper of the day before and never once was there a miscue. Please fix it."

"So you've been abroad? How do you like Venice?"

"I only stayed a few days—the whole place was flooded."

Associated Students Witness Local Talent

The first meeting of the Associated Students of LaVerne College for the new year, 1930, took place Friday morning at the usual time. The president, Orville Thomason, presided as announcer during the presentation of the program.

A male quartet rendered two humorous selections, one of which was particularly interesting because it involved two members of the college group, Dr. Hoover and Ed O'Hanesian. The other contained enough of the icy element to remind the audience that the auditorium itself could be warmer.

A reading in negro dialect, which demonstrated the actions of an old negro mammy in telling a story to some little pickaninnies, was presented by Wilma Long.

Doyle Montz sang a negro's greeting to spring as the final number of the program.

Following the entertainment, Charles Manning led a rally in preparation for LaVerne's first conference game, which was played with Whittier Saturday evening.

Alumni Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Royal Ott of Live Oak visited friends and relatives in Washington for a few weeks.

Friends of Miss Lois Forney are delighted to learn that she is about back to normal health.

Miss Gladys Larimer visited Mr. and Mrs. Byrl Harper in Huntington Beach Saturday.

Miss Katherine Rothrock and Merlin Yoder have enrolled in the University course class which meets each Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Schrock of Azusa and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Schrock of Los Angeles attended the funeral services of their grandmother, Mrs. Ephraim Lichty, in the Church of the Brethren Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Mary Messimer Everhardt entertained a group of friends at dinner Thursday evening in honor of the birthday of Miss Gladys Larimer.

A letter from President Ernest Davis of Mount Morris College, Mt. Morris, Ill., tells of his full program in connection with the field work of the institution. There were 24 students in the dormitory over Christmas vacation. They were royally entertained by President and Mrs. Davis and their family one evening during the vacation. Ernest seems very much encouraged over the work of his college.

Glenn Kreps resumed his work in the Placentia schools last week after a pleasant vacation in LaVerne and at Delano visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Brooks.

LOST

Miss Lenhardt regrets very greatly the loss on January 4 of her gold wrist watch and would substantially reward anyone who can furnish a clue as to its whereabouts. It is a 15-jewel Waltham with her initials on the back. It was lost in the LaVerne Pacific Electric station.

WANTED—Man to handle dynamite in powder factory. Splendid opportunity to rise.

Metxger-Brmmel Betrothal Announced

It will be of interest to the friends of Naomi Metzger, former LaVerne College student, to know that she received a diamond for Christmas and thereby announced her engagement to Roy P. Brummel. Mr. Brummel is a graduate of McPherson College and is now working for his Ph. D. at the University of Washington. He is publishing a book of poems for his thesis. The wedding is to take place next summer after he receives his degree.

Mrs. Dent of Bonita Tells 'Y' of Europe

An imaginary trip to Europe was taken by members of the Y. W. C. A. Monday morning under the leadership of Mrs. Dent, of Bonita High School. Events and scenes in the different countries were vividly described in such a way as to create an interest in travel and study of other lands.

"Study history before going, and know what you want to see," is the advice given by Mrs. Dent in her talk. Scotland, the first country to be visited, proved to be of great interest. Not many cars could be seen anywhere, but "perhaps these people are happier than we who have developed the wanderlust spirit," was her observation. The scene of Scott's "Lady of the Lake" Ellen's Isle, was visited, also Shakespeare's birthplace, Stratford-on-Avon, and the British Museum.

In Belgium, signs of war could be seen; Holland's outstanding feature was the thousands of bicycle riders. The Sistine Madonna in Brussels, the kaiser's palace in Berlin, and art work of Florence, and Schubert's birthplace, as well as the blue grotto, were other scenes of interest to the party.

"Mussolini is cleaning up Italy and living conditions are improved," Mrs. Dent observed.

In closing, she said: "The trip was very enjoyable and educational, but it seemed good to get back to California once more."

BED-TIME STORIES

"Last night I made a terrible mistake. I drank a bottle of gold paint."

"That so? How do you feel now?"

"Guilty."

Eddie's grandmother was helping him off to bed one night recently when she was shocked to see him hop into bed and cover his head with out saying his prayer. "Eddie, aren't you going to say your prayers tonight?" she exclaimed. "No, grandma," came the muffled response from under the covers, "there's nothing I'm needing to-morrow."

Tommy, after going to bed, became thirsty. He called out: "Mamma, I want a drink." Mother's voice answered back, "Tommy, you go to sleep." Tommy was silent for ten minutes, then, "Mamma, I want a drink." "Tommy, go to sleep at once!" "But, mamma, I want a drink." "If you don't go to sleep this minute, I'll come and spank you." More silence, this time for two minutes, and then, "Mamma, when you came to spank me, will you bring me a drink?"

May Chronister: "I had an awful dream last night."

Zelda Morelock: "You did?"

May: "Yes, I dreamed I was eating shredded wheat and when I woke up half the mattress was gone."

Personals

Wilma Baldwin, with some friends, spent Sunday at Glen Ranch, near Cajon Pass.

Margaret Price, Ruby Saylor, Harry Blickenstaff and Galen Smith went to Ice House Canyon Tuesday evening where they had a good time in the snow.

George and Frances Berg, with their parents, spent the week-end in San Bernardino visiting the Reywald family.

Isaac Funk spent Sunday afternoon "Singin' in the Rain."

Miss Glenna Betz was the guest of Ethel Drescher Sunday.

Stanley Weddle, Lloyd Tarr and Ralph Fesler accompanied Dr. Frantz Friday evening to the meeting of the American Chemical Society in Los Angeles.

Prof. Hollenberg and family were Sunday dinner guests in Prof. Brubaker's home on Grande avenue.

Miss Dorothy Neher was the guest of Miss Esther Statler at Miller Hall Sunday.

Miss Lenhardt was the guest of Mrs. Inez McEwen Sunday.

Mrs. Porter attended a funeral in Ontario Friday.

Monday night Professors Brandt and Frantz attended at Occidental College a meeting of coaches and managers in the Athletic Conference for the purpose of arranging next year's football schedule.

Professor Cullen will be in Pasadena part of this week at the second American West Coast Conference on Progressive Education which convenes from Wednesday to Saturday.

Professor Travis went with the Aeolian Quartette to Calvary Church of the Brethren last Sunday. He assisted at the piano during part of the program. In the afternoon the quartet sang a group of songs at Angelus Temple and were heard over radio station KFSG.

Prof. Jamison acted as one of the judges at the women's debate here last Thursday.

Dorm News

Vivienne Wine's bed gave a groan and slowly collapsed the other night when she landed in it.

The girls spent a noisy Wednesday night in the hall to escape smudge—it rained and it was decreed that the noise should cease by not allowing them to sleep there any more.

Rain brought out raincoats, goloshes and boots. Some, however were caught unprepared and reached the Dorm the pictures of drowned rats.

Grace Nay spent from Tuesday to Saturday with Ruth Gibbel.

Edith Coffman and Frances Sandblom spent the week-end at their respective homes.

An elderly lady walked into a railway ticket office in Toledo and asked for a ticket to New York.

"Do you wish to go by Buffalo?" asked the ticket agent.

"Certainly not," she replied, "by train, if you please."

Wife (showing husband expensive fur coat), "One really can't help feeling sorry for the poor thing that was skinned for this."

Husband, "I appreciate your sympathy."

Redlands Bulldogs Fight with Leopards

This week-end the Leopard varsity is scheduled for a series of two games with the Redlands Bulldogs. The game on Friday night is to be played in the local pavilion, while the Saturday evening game is at Redlands. The frosh will play a preliminary before each varsity contest.

Both teams won their initial game and it will be a fight for the lead in the standings. Since the second game is to be played on the Bulldogs' floor, the tilt will be doubly tough. Redlands seems to be master of any situation in their own gym as evidenced by the overwhelming defeat of Oxy last Saturday and by the fact that they lost no games last year on their own court. It seems as though all the visiting teams get lost in the wilds of such a large playing floor.

The way things have turned out, LaVerne meets its stiffest competition in the first four games. With Oxy coming after Redlands, it looks as though none of the early games will have a large margin separating the winner and the loser.

The locals will have to play a different type of basket ball than they displayed at Whittier to defeat the Bulldogs. The Leopard quintet did not play up to its usual form and speed. However, it must be considered that Whittier had about the best defensive outfit they have been up against.

There is no real dope as to the outcome of the game and it remains a toss-up. Both teams beat Cal-Christian by approximately the same score, so anything can happen.

One Point Takes Games for LaVerne and had an offensive that could bring down the points. Weybright was kept covered thruout the entire game and made only two field goals. Thomason made several good shots in the early part of the game, but was guarded well from then on. Stutzman was open in part of the second half and did most of the scoring in this period.

High point honors of the game went to Landreth, Whittier forward, who made eleven points. Stutzman was leading scorer for LaVerne with ten and followed by Thomason and Weybright, who each made nine digits. Weybright sank five out of six of his free shots.

The line-up:

LaVerne (30)	Whittier (29)
Weybright (9)	(11) Landreth
Stutzman (10)	F (6) Walker
Kindy	F (2) Wompler
Thomason (9)	C (8) Reitz
Hubbell (2)	G (2) Baker
Nicolas	G Jones
Thomas	G Ograin

Shall Basball Go?

Last Saturday at the meeting of the conference officials, a motion was brought up that if adopted will have a big effect on the present athletic situation in the conference. The question of dropping baseball as a major sport was debated and conditions seem to indicate that there are more points in favor of the motion than against it. The reason for this was that the pastime is taking too large a cut from the athletic funds.

Interest has been waning a great deal during the past few years, and if anyone went to the games last year they probably noticed a crowd of some ten or fifteen LaVerne students on hand and about as many alumni, besides the players and managers. The best game LaVerne played last year was the Redlands tilt. There was a large crowd at the game, as it was high school day at the Bulldog University, but the LaVerne students who saw the game could be counted on one hand. The gate receipts from all the games combined could not come anywhere near paying for the baseballs used.

If the diamond sport is eliminated, it means that something will have to take its place. At present the three major sports are football basket ball and baseball. Track is considered in the major group by the conference, but due to a lack of track talent during the last couple of years and a greater emphasis placed on the other sports, LaVerne has not made any entries in the conference cinder meets for nearly two years. Practically all the track men are out for baseball or basket ball or both. Basket ball lasts till March 1, and ordinarily the first conference baseball game is played in the latter part of the same month. In a school the size of LaVerne it is almost impossible to carry on all four of the major sports and do any of them justice.

LaVerne will have to start in stressing track this year. Several meets have already been scheduled and we have some talent here that can bring down several points in these meets.

Other conference sports are tennis, swimming and golf. This year LaVerne will have a varsity tennis team for the first time. About three teams entered the conference swimming meet at the Redlands tank last year and about the same number compete in golf. It is hardly possible that any one of these sports will take the place of baseball as a major sport. This leaves only three principal sports, football, baseball, and track.

If the horsehide is discarded, it is with regret, since it is a great game to watch as well as play.

ing forward to some real snow fights.

Plans are not yet completed, but at present it is believed that the party will be as large as the cabin can accommodate.

Frosh Basket Ball Men Meet Redlands

The frosh are going to have an eligible basket ball team from now on and will meet the Redlands babes in two games this week. This is going to work a big hardship on the Kittens, but since the conference officials ruled that two eligible conference squads can not compete against each other, it was decided that in order to have a squad at all it would be necessary to build it from the seven eligible men.

The first game in which the eligible outfit will be seen in action is with Pomona J. C. on Tuesday evening. The squad will be composed of Forney and Stover, guards, Ebersole, Wilson, Flory Stern and Snell.

The last game the ineligible played was with Chino High last Friday. The frosh won, 36-10.

CONFERENCE NOTES

The first conference games turned out to be a 30-29 victory for LaVerne over Whittier, a 33-19 triumph for Redlands over Oxy, and a 42-24 win for Pomona over Caltech. The defeat of the Bengals by Redlands was a big surprise probably because of an under-estimation of the Bulldogs' strength.

The coming week-end finds San Diego making a conference debut at Pomona, Oxy taking on Caltech, and LaVerne meeting Redlands in two tilts. Pomona and Oxy are expected to win their games with little difficulty, but the Redlands-LaVerne tilts are toss-ups. Whittier has a non-conference game at Santa Barbara.

Tennis

The inter-class tennis matches will get under way on Tuesday afternoon or be called off entirely. They have already been postponed a couple of times and the reason for not having the matches if they are not played this week is that the varsity team wants to get going. The varsity squad was to be chosen from the interclass tournaments, but with circumstances pointing to another delay, the team will be picked by a different series of matches by the process of elimination of individual aspirants.

"Yes, through cross-word puzzles I've contracted an optical defect. One eye travels vertically and the other horizontally."

It was a beautiful stretch of highway and the telephone line along the way was in the hands of repair men. Myrtice was driving and cooing, when of a sudden she spied the men climbing the telephone poles. "Bonnie, just look at those fools," she exclaimed, "do they think I never drove a car before?"
