SHAMBERGER WEEK COMES UP TO HIGHEST EXPECTATION

C. W. CONFERENCE

Sunday afternoon, March 6th, forty representatives from the C. W. societies of Northern and Southern California, Oregon and Washington met in the dining room of the Ladies' Hall and held a Conference, which was the first of the kind to be held in California. The reason for the calling of this meeting was the presence of the Secretary of the C. W. Board, C. H. Shamberger, and the Chairman of this Board, I. V. Funderburgh.

The main part of the afternoon was given to Mr. Shamberger, who gave the history and the future plans for the C. W. Society. He said that the C. W. started 17 years ago, but it has lacked dynamic power, because it has been thought of too much as a "time filler," instead of a "work shop." In every church there are needed four societies—Junior, Intermediate, Young People, and Adult. The plan for the Young People's Society is to have three departments:

1. Department of Spiritual Resources
2. Department of Evangelism
3. Department of Practical Service and Recreation

Young People's Summer Conferences are being planned for. One is to be held at Winona Lake, McPherson, Maryland, and one on the Pacific Coast.

Mr. Shamberger's address was followed by open discussion of the new plans and problems of the different societies.

At 4:30 o'clock light refreshments of chocolate, sandwiches and olives were served, after which the Conference was adjourned.

The Chapel Periods

During the week March 6th to 12th, Shamberger spoke in the chapel hours.

On Wednesday, Mr. Shamberger discussed "Jesus as the Solution of Our Present Day Problems." Men have always attempted to propose ways of meeting the evils of their day. The slogan, "Liberty, equality, and justice," was adopted at the time of the French Revolution as expressing the factors by which the world could be set right. The unsettled condition of the world today has called forth many solutions, one of the most important of which is put forth by Lenine. But the Christian's solution, and the only true solution, is the one given in John 17:3, "And this is life eternal, that they should know thee, the only true God, and him whom thou didst send, even Jesus Christ." The heathen nations themselves have been made to feel this more definitely through having come into contact with the western world and with Christian soldiers. An old

Hindu voiced this feeling when he said: "What India needs is more men from your America to come to us and bring us Jesus Christ. We can get all that the western world has to give us but Christ, and you must bring Him to us."

On Thursday Shamberger brought out the prerequisites of an effective Christian life. He showed that the world is in need of unselfish service and that we are under obligation to render this service. But students, in order to be fitted to do this service also need Jesus Christ. If we are to be of real value in carrying the Gospel, we must be filled with a vital message which is based upon a vital Christian experience. We must have the spirit of those men of Jesus' time who came to Jerusalem hunting a reality which they did not find in their pagan philosophy, and said, "We would see Jesus." We cannot gain the necessary knowledge of Him from pictures, art, or literature, but we must see and experience Him. We must see Him as a teacher using the best and most successful methods. He came into personal touch with His pupils and accomplished marvelous results. We must see and feel His sympathy for mankind, and His manliness of character. We must know the universality of His message; that it is acceptable and applicable to all people—to savage and to educated. We must enjoy His love and fellowship before we can express it to others.

Although the Commission presided on Student Body day, Bro. Shamberger was given most of the period and continued his line of thought by reading Matt. 22:21, "Render, therefore, unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's and unto God the things that are God's." The call of the government during the late war for money and service came close home to every American. We had formerly thought that our money and our lives were our own, but these experiences taught us that they were not our own. Our present day was shown to be the greatest time in which we could have lived, because of the great call for Christian service in reconstructing the world and the wonderful demand for heroism in the advancement of the truth.

The chapel period talks were concluded on Saturday by emphasizing the value of each individual life. Our attention was directed to Matt. 10:39, "He that findeth his life shall lose it; and he that loseth his life for my sake shall find it;" and Matt. 16:26, "For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul." He reminded us that we think too often only of the worldly ambitious person. Yet he could think more of a man who gains the whole world and loses his soul than of one who fritters his time away and loses his soul as well. We do not appreciate the value of one individual life given over to Christian service. Christianity is not a philosophy, but a life, and the worst hindrance to Christianity is a person who claims to be a follower of Jesus Christ and yet does not live as He would have him live. It is a tragedy for us to do less than God expects of us.

Music

During the week no small attraction was added by the various numbers of special music. On the morning of student assembly, Mr. Shamberger whistled, "Listen to the Mocking Bird." Miss Thompson sang two beautiful solos, and Modena Minnich played on the piano, "Whispering Winds."

On Tuesday morning Prof. B. S.

EAST vs. WEST DEBATE

LA VERNE DEBATES MORNING-SIDE MARCH 22, IN LA VERNE

The Morningside debaters are among the best in Iowa, their home state, and also in the middle west. These eastern silver-tongued debaters will meet the University of Arizona on their way west, and University of Redlands and La Verne College when they arrive in California. From California they will go to Oregon and debate a University team there. It is interesting to know that all the western schools will uphold the negative side of the subject, which is formulated as follows: Resolved That immigration shall be further restricted from United States by additional literacy tests.

This debate with Morningside College will be one of the biggest events in the history of La Verne College. It means that La Verne is at last able to put out a debating team that is able to compete with other colleges.

Every loyal student and friend of La Verne should be present to root for the home team on the evening of March 22.

A band concert and vocal solos will compose part of the entertainment for that evening.

Evelyn Trostle Speaks to Mothers & Daughters

The college auditorium was filled to overflowing Wednesday evening, March 2d, with mothers and daughters, as well as fathers and sons, who listened eagerly to Miss Trostle's talk on "The Women of the Near East." Since Miss Trostle has been among these suffering, dejected people so recently, she left a very deep impression upon her audience.

The lack of equality between the man and the woman in Turkey is startling. We can scarcely imagine seeing a little wife grab up her big, burly, robust husband and carry him across the stream so he won't get his "footies" wet. The women are not even allowed to write for fear they will become untrue to their husbands.

It has been found that although music is hardly found in all Turkey, yet they respond to it. A woman of any manners always vacates her seat to a standing man, and in church the women sit on the floor in the rear, while the men sit in prominence on seats.

Sitting and gossiping are their chief occupations—sometimes they sit and gossip, and sometimes they just sit. The public Turkish bath is about the only clean thing of all Turkey's customs, and it is where the women assemble at the baths that all the news of the vicinity is told.

If La Verne College were in Turkey it would probably be called an old Maid's school, as over there girls of 18 years who are unmarried are con-

CLAREMONT TAKES SECOND WITH TEN POINTS LESS THAN LA VERNE

By taking five first places in addition to several seconds and thirds, La Verne Academy walked away with the Valley League meet, and two cups.

By winning the relay this year, La Verne keeps the big cup for winning it three years in succession.

CALTECH WINS FROM LA VERNE

Friday, March 4th, La Verne College, represented by George Hollenberg, Leland Brubaker and D. Welty Lefever, debated "Caltech" at Pasadena on the subject, "Resolved That immigration should be further restricted by a literacy test."

The boys had the affirmative side of the question, which was the hardest side, but this did not discourage them. They worked hard and did all they could to "bring home the bacon." But even though the judges did decide unanimously in favor of the negative, the La Verne debaters do not feel as though they had lost everything. They are now working on the negative side of the question in preparation for the debates with Redlands University and Morningside College, which they anticipate winning. Hurrah for the La Verne College debaters! We admire you and are back of you! Go to it!

Annual on the Way With a Jump

The Orange Blossom is being rushed with all the might in the staff. The art staff has been appointed and are at work, and the write-up staff has been selected. These members of the staff will be announced in the next issue of the Campus Times. The business manager has been working steadily and as secured a good number of ads. Most of the pictures for the book have been taken, and with the art work are being sent to the engraver as fast as possible. The Annual has a late start, but by rushing things, it can come out on time.

considered quite old maids.

The women have been called "ground grippers," and will continue to be called such as long as they are held down by this unbearable inequality of husband and wife.

There is a vital relation between Turkey and the rest of the world just now. There are now 1,000,000 people in danger of starvation, but worse than that is the awful practice of kidnaping carried on there, to escape which the girls carry a small vial of poison continually. 20,000 beautiful girls were kidnaped during the war. We Americans can hardly realize the situation.

Miss Trostle is extremely interested in the work, and is eager to return. She has instilled in the hearts of many girls here the desire to help to lift our little sisters in Turkey.

FOURTH NUMBER OF THE LECTURE COURSE

Miss Vire Stearns, violinist, Miss Ethel Stearns, cellist, and Miss Mina Hellekson, pianist, were greeted by an auditorium full of people Monday evening, March 7th, to hear the fourth number of the Music and Lecture course.

The trio rendered seven beautiful, classic productions. Miss Vere Stearns proved herself as being thoroughly acquainted with her violin by giving several solos, and Miss Ethel held the audience spellbound by the manner in which she rendered her cello solos. Everyone seemed to appreciate the talent of this trio, and enjoyed the evening's entertainment thoroughly.

SOUTHERN JUBILFE SINGERS COMING

On April the 7th, La Verne people are going to have a real treat in the form of a program to be rendered by the Southern Jubilee Singers. It will be a program of plantation melodies, jubilee songs, classical and popular selections, dialect readings, violin, piano and vocal solos. It will be an evening chuck full of harmonious melody, specially featuring the cotton field favorites.

The program is being managed by the Student Body. Remember the date and help to make it a success.

La Verne to Debate U. of R

On March 18, La Verne will meet Redlands University in mental conflict. Cicero, Demosthenes, and Pericles will be there to view the conflict. It is said that "spit-fire Pete," (fliver) is feeling well and will be on deck corked and primed.

La Verne will uphold the negative, with Brubaker leading off, and Hollenberg coming up second. Lefever will give the closing negative speech of constructive argument.

The debate will take place at Redlands, with Redlands men acting as judges.

DEPENDABILITY

There are hundreds of people who can do the thing that you can do best, as well as you yourself can do it, and thousands who are just as capable as you are, for the multitude of little things to be done. But there can be, and is, a difference. There are not hundreds or thousands who can be depended upon to do their best, who will be sure to look after the little things.

Just check off on a list of your associates for a moment those who are really accomplishing things and who it seems to you, run things. Recall your thoughts in the various student elections when considering possible candidates. Notice, are they the most brilliant on your list? the most clever? Or are the leaders the students who go at their tasks with a will and with a determination that every task shall be well done and done at the right time?

As you look down over your list, you will invariably find some who could, if they would, do big things, but who don't, for two reasons. One is a selfish desire to have a good time all of the time, and an unconquered dislike for real hard work. The other is that little habit of forever postponing things till tomorrow. Their tomorrow never arrives. But the sad part of the story is that it doesn't take long for people to find out about it. You can't let the duties, little or big, go sliding and still keep those duties. They will be thrown onto someone else, who perhaps cannot equal you in the execution of those tasks, but who can be depended upon.

To have some one depending upon you and then to fail is ruinous, whether that someone be a classmate or a group of classmates, the faculty or the student body. When their confidence in you is destroyed, your opportunities are lessened.

To be such a student and fellow classman that the adjective, "dependable," can be spoken with your name is a goal worth striving for. And dependability consists in being faithful in the little things.

EASTER

The word Easter is derived from the teutonic word "aestro" meaning Goddess of Spring. Easter is the festival of the resurrection of Christ. From very early times it was observed with great solemnity. The faithful greeted each other with the kiss of peace and the salutation "Christ is risen," to which the response was, "He is risen, indeed." The custom is still kept up in Russia.

The use of eggs in this connection is of great antiquity, the egg having been considered in widely separated pre-Christian mythologies as a symbol of resurrection.

Easter is always the first Sunday after the full moon which happens upon or next after the 21st of March, which is the beginning of the ecclesiastical year, and if the full moon happens upon a Sunday, Easter is the Sunday after.

To us Easter is a symbol of springtime and of beauty. Easter is a reminder of the coming forth of Christ. Our minds are turned involuntarily to the beautiful morning when the angels announced that Christ, who had given his life for the world, was risen again. We think of the service that He, our Savior, rendered to mankind, and in turn we are reminded of the commission he has left us to follow in His steps by serving man. The appeal of Easter is in the beauty of its sentiment.

ALMA MATER HYMN

There's a dear favored spot,
 It shall ne'er be forgot,
 For its memories will linger for aye.
 Near the mountains it lies
 'Neath the bluest of skies
 'Tis La Verne with its friends true and gay.

In La Verne we believe,
 And a portion we leave
 Of ourselves, that will never depart;
 And whatever betide,
 There's a joy will abide
 In a dear favored spot in each heart.

Alma Mater! To you
 Each alumnus it true—
 Every heart leaves a tribute of love,
 As it goes out to give
 And in service to live
 For the truest and noblest above.

Oh! we cherish your lore,
 And your emblem adore—
 We'll be faithful and loyal to you.
 With the shield of the right
 There is shelter and might—
 Alma Mater, La Verne! We are true to you.

Lives of Seniors all remind us,
 We can make our lives a pest;
 And departing leave behind us
 A feeling of relief and rest.

SHAMBERGER WEEK

Haugh sang a solo from the opera "The Messiah."

The vocal duets, the quintette, quartette and octette were very much appreciated.

Young People's Conference

The Life Work Conference, which was held at the church last Sunday afternoon, was well attended, despite the fact that a pouring rain continued through the day. A number of visitors were present at this conference. The theme for the day was "Following the footsteps of Christ."

There were a number of speakers on the program for the afternoon and each of them presented his message in a very interesting way. Several selections of special music were rendered, which added much to the interest of the conference.

The first speaker on the program was Mr. Ernest Vaniman. He presented some of "The Needs of the World." The greatest need is education, both at home and in the foreign fields. Mr. Vaniman spoke especially of the needs in China, Japan, and Armenia.

"The World Task at Home" was discussed by Mr. J. I. Coffman, of Los Angeles. He said that we, as Christian people, have a great task at home in dealing with the people in the cities, with foreigners, and especially with the young people who are receiving no religious education whatever.

Mr. E. R. Yundt of Pomona presented very strikingly what he believed to be "The Lord's Will in Business." He said that a hundred people who maintained the Lord in their business could support a missionary on the foreign field. Our business should be consecrated to the Lord. Not only should the Lord's will be done in business, but also in science. Professor Frantz spoke of the opportunities of those who were interested in science. Among these may be named the opportunities offered in the commercial world, in the field of discovery and invention, and on the mission field. Professor Frantz believes that we need more scientists who are Christians.

There are great opportunities for the Christian young woman of the world today. Mrs. Ernest Vaniman spoke of the many opportunities which present themselves to the young woman who will consecrate her all to God and His service.

The Social Worker has an opportunity to aid in doing the Lord's will. Mr. Welty Lefever spoke of how this could be done. First the social worker may help in making the city conditions more livable; attempting to reach the moral side of people, and trying to remove the causes of social evils.

Mr. Fred Chamberlen, of Covina, spoke on "The Lord's Will in Teaching." Among the many things which he said, he mentioned the fundamentals of an American education, those fundamentals being religious, civic, economic and social. Mr. Chamberlen gave a very interesting address. This was followed by an address by Mr. Zimmerman, pastor of the Long Beach church on "The Lord's Will and the Christian Ministry." The calling of the ministry may not be the highest calling, but if you are called to that profession, it is the highest calling for you. These are thoughts which Mr. Zimmerman presented in his address.

The program was concluded by some very helpful remarks by Mr. C. H. Shamberger. Mr. Shamberger is the secretary of the Student Volunteer Movement of the Church of the Brethren, and the students of La Verne cannot speak in words of their appreciation of the help and inspiration given by him in his short stay at this place. L. V. C. wishes Mr. Shamberger much success in his Christian work.

BOX SOCIAL

The we enjoy the present busy world, there is a certain something in all of us that enjoys and appreciates the doings of the "good old times." There is a certain charm about a "husking bee" for most of us feel sure that if we should ever be fortunate enough to attend, we would be the one to find the lucky "red ear."

The quilting party, the house warming and the spelling bee, also attract our interest and arouse a desire to sometime or other take part in them. But best of all our fathers' and mothers' entertainments is the box social! And so great interest and enthusiasm was aroused in the student body when the Hustlers and Bethany Girls announced one for Monday evening, Feb. 28th.

At 7:30, with just heaps of pretty boxes, varying from hearts to coffins, behind the curtain, the sale began. That famous auctioneer, Marion Roy-non mounted the block and with his usual cleverness started the sale. How he did praise those boxes, and if he happened to know whose tiny hands had prepared any one, in his tact-ful(?) way, he informed the inter-ested party. When a good looking box, modeled after a ukelele, was placed in his hands, after running it up to $2.25, he said to Russell G., "How much will you give me, Russ?" And without the slightest hesitation Russ replied, "Two fifty." And from the look on Russell's fact, it was evi-dent that he thought he had a barg-ain.

Otis had three seventy-five, and he said he intended to invest it when Eva's box was put up, but the poor boy was out-bid by some other de-signing person who knew the limit of Otis' purse. However, we think it was all arranged in private so that Otis was perfectly satisfied.

Ora Weddle, the other loose tongu-ed auctioneer did some clever work also. His tongue was evidently well oiled for the occasion, for he praised the boxes with the ease of an orator and he got the price for them, too. Just how he managed to give George King the idea that Maurine was the one who would do "the last thing on earth for him," and then made him run that box up to two twenty-five, has not yet been discovered. But he did it, and the classes got the money and George got Maurine and again all were satisfied.

Somebody must have thought that neckties, socks and dry bread were good eating, for when Wilbur Hoke got his box and opened it to look for his girl, he found just those very things. But he was game and really got one of the nicest boxes, and a very nice girl in the end. To describe all the boxes in detail and all the expres-sions of delight when the boxes were opened, would take the rest of the paper, which is really needed to praise our track men and debaters.

It was a grand success, and the girls all felt well repaid for their money and efforts, as they watched their partners eat.

J. O. C.'S ON SPREE

A good thing is worth repeating, especially if it's good for everybody.

The first trip of the J. O. C. Sun-day School class to the Y. M. C. A. cabin in San Gabriel Canyon proved such an all around enjoyable success that they tried it again March 6th and 7th, and with equal success.

They left the cabin in such good shape the previous trip that Mr. Mac-donald, the Y. M. C. A. secretary, was willing and glad to turn the keys over to them again.

The trip was a little different from the previous one. It rained, and sev-eral boys got the full benefit of the down pour. Several blankets got a little wet, and the wood was damp-ened some, but no trouble was exper-ienced in keeping up a roaring fire. The heavy rain made it impossible to use the canyon water to drink when the boys first arrived on Sunday even-ing, but water was carried from a cabin about one half a mile distant.

Some were not there who were last time, and the absence of Lynn Blick-enstaff was keenly felt. However, there were new ones along and a genu-inely good time was experienced by all in carrying wood, tusseling, play-ing ball, crokonole, checkers, etc., and even in washing and wiping dishes. The cooks were good, and, oh!—the beefsteak!

Special guests were: C. H. Sham-berger and H. A. Brubaker, pastor of the Pasadena church. Everybody enjoyed the whistling by Mr. Sham-berger, and declared him a real man and a jolly good fellow.

Songs and fun filled the major part of the night, but everybody pretended to sleep for a while.

Rain or shine, the J. O. C.'s have a good time.

BIG FOUR CLUB

Not much has been said about the Big 4 Club since it was organized. Many of the students are still knocking, but their knocks don't seem to have much effect. It only makes the rest more determined.

The second meeting of the Big 4 was held in the college auditorium. New members were initiated in various ways and a snappy program was given.

A program is being prepared for Saturday night March 19th. The club hopes that others will join them and help to make the Big 4 a big success. Quit your knocking and push. See if everyone won't feel much better and enjoy himself much more.

LA VERNE LIGHT WEIGHTS FINISH SECOND

In the play-off between Whittier and La Verne, Whittier came out winner by a score of 39 to 46. The game was full of grandstand plays, and one side forged ahead and then the other. Whittier won the game in the last few minutes by whirl-wind playing. La Verne attributes her defeat to the temporary illness of one of her players—the guard. Before the guard could get going again, the loose forward had won the game. Silver medals are given to each of the ten men for second place.

The line-up was:
Forwards; Funderburgh, E. Landis. Center; Beckner.
Guards, G. Jordan, R. Root.

SEASON

FELLOWSHIP SOCIAL

From seven till ten Saturday evening, March 12th, the auditorium was a scene of "having a good time." In spite of the rain, fifty Student Volunteers with their traveling secretary, C. H. Shamberger, eleven young people from Pasadena, among whom were two former students of L. V. C. Rhoda Trostle and Helen Kettner, had come to spend an evening together.

The first part of the evening was spent in "Getting Acquainted," after which such games as "Who is Who," and contests of Stabbing the Peanut, and Juggling the Pillow were played. Then a real entertainment was given. Mr. Shamberger, who is a beautiful whistler, held them spellbound while he performed. This was followed by impromptu one-minute speeches on such subjects as "Advantages of Owning a Ford," "Why do You Walk on Your Feet Instead of Your Hands," "Enlarge on the Beauty of a Mud-Puddle," etc.

The group then divided off into families and were served light refreshments of chocolate cookies, sandwiches and punch. After each family performed a stunt, the groups separated and went to their several places of abode, having spent a very profitable and enjoyable evening together.

Herman, coming home from escorting Beulah from the lecture was heard to sing in high soprano: "This is my Task"

Welty:—What makes those two red spots on each side of your nose?
George:—Glasses.
Welty:—Glasses o' what?

I sure like to go to the Sweet Shop, 'cause they have such de-lish-us gum stuck under the chairs.

Lentz:—Where's the dog gone?
Russ G.:—I dunno.

Lentz:—I left her here on the fender of the car.
Russ:—Perhaps the radiator. I dunno.

Freshie (reading over Proverbs):—"A fool can ask more questions than a wise person can answer."
"Well," said the Freshie, "I always wondered why so many of us flunked."

Professor:—Do you think you are fit to argue with me?
Flip Student:—Sure Prof! Ain't I right in your class?
