LA VERNE COLLEGE AND ACADEMY

Dedication

To You,
Coach, Instructor, Friend,
because of your loyalty and devotion to the College
we respectfully dedicate
this annual.

CLAUDE E. ARNETT

Guide of La Verne

How oft' have you gazed at the mountains,
That lie in the clear distant view
All clothed in their beauty and grandeur
Set off by the vast sky of blue.

When gazing you stopped in your wonder
To fasten your eyes on a place
Where seemingly carved on the ridge side
There glistens an "L" lettered space.

Guide of La Verne: you shall ever bring glory,
To all who learn to revere and adore thee.

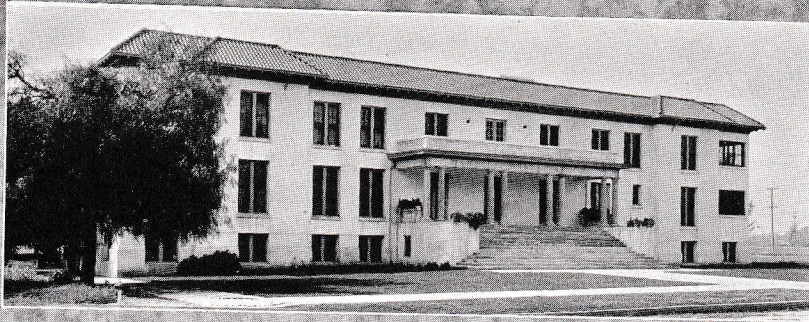

Our "L" is a symbol of freedom,
Of loyalty, faith, and of love,
On! On! Upward with might
Towards the light above.

When out in life's struggle we've drifted,
And gloomy days come thick and fast,
A mem'ry that lingers will lighten
The burden and toil of each task.
Then high like the "L" on the mountain
An ideal of truth and of right
Will ever lead onward to vict'ry
And help us to win the fight.

After a Winter Rain

Oh, the first bright ray
Of the break of day
 Cuts a swath through the patchwork sky
And the drifting clouds,
Like departing shrouds,
 Seem to know 'tis their time to fly.

Oh, the keen cold breeze
Sways the dripping trees
 As the shadows their refuge seek.
Through the white cloud rifts
Shine the silvered drifts
 Of the snow on the mountain's peak.

Oh the clarion cry
To the dawn-lit sky
 Has an echo as clear as a bell,
While the sun-rays shine
O'er the snow-clad pine
 And illumine our silvered "L".

Then the bright sun peeps
O'er the rugged steeps,
 And the shadows flee for miles,
As the clouds turn pink
On horizon's brink
 And the whole world pleasantly smiles.

THE SOPHOMORE class is fortunate in being represented in many of the activities of the college. It has members on both the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. cabinets; on both the Campus Times and Orange Blossom staffs; in the Lyric Club and the Glee Club. Mr. Lloyd Studebaker is Commissioner of Publications. Two of the male quartette, the Clarion Four, are Sophomores.

The class is also well represented in athletics, three men having played on the first team in football, two are tennis sharks and others are interested in the various sports of the college.

College Freshmen

BY ALL that is traditional and hereditary, this space which we dedicate to a picture by camera and pen of the Freshman class, should be taken up by an article which should begin something like this:

"Freshmen, rah! rah! rah! Freshies!" You know who we are. We're the biggest class that ever came to La Verne College. We were good in athletics, to-wit: over half of the first team in football were freshmen; over half of the two teams in basketball were freshmen; two thirds of the track team were first year men; the same percent of the baseball team were of our class; we won the intra-mural basketball tournament and we could have won in every other sport if the games had been staged. In addition to all this, our class was prominent in debate, in both men and women teams.

In short, we were the life of the school (being green), and we, etc., etc. But we'll not speak further of our accomplishments, but we will close by giving the names of this illustrious class.

Campus Reveries

*A*S I stand when all is silent,
 At the very dead of night,
 Underneath the swaying palm trees,
 And the moon is at its height,
 Flooding tower, dome and campus
 In its iridescent light;
 Changing with its spell of magic
 Every hedgerow, tree and vine
 Into living, listening beings,
 As their shadows interwine,
 Stately grace and haunting beauty
 In each silhouetted line.

Many memories, Alma Mater,
 Linger 'round your somber towers,
 Reminiscences of school-days,
 Perfume of forgotten flowers,
 Murmuring their mystic music
 Like the souls of bygone hours.
 As the trees converse together
 Of the scenes of yesterday,
 Standing like untiring watchers
 Of a never-ending play
 Watching scenes of strife and romance
 First unfold, then die away.

Ah, if I but knew the secrets
 That those stately watchers hold,
 And the tale in all its beauty
 I could carefully unfold,
 It would make the strangest story
 That a mortal ever told;
 But 'tis sealed to us forever,
 And perhaps 'tis best it's true;
 For the play is still progressing,
 Adding every day a view
 To its strange, unending progress,
 Always old, yet ever new.
 And today we all are playing
 Parts to fit our kind and age,
 That when parting, Alma Mater,
 Filled with truth and counsel sage,
 We may fit into our places
 On that broader, larger stage.

—John Hilton '28.

Athletic Field

IT IS through the cooperative effort sponsored by the Alumni Association and the Chamber of Commerce of La Verne, that the College has a well-equipped athletic field. The faculty and student body join in expressing their appreciation of these two organizations.

ORANGE BLOSSOM

ATHLETICS

College Football

ANOTHER year! Another successful season of football! Thus we read the annals of the year book of La Verne College in the greatest game of all times. We glory not so much in the scores made as in the way they were made. Each game was played with the determination and cleanness that marks every contest in which the La Verne team participates.

Coach Arnett

This year marks the end of the fourth year that Coach Claude E. Arnett has been at the head of athletics. He has been ably assisted during the past season by Paul Sargent who hails from McPherson College. We can well be proud of our Coaches and the success they have made. This year of football has proved to be no exception. Each year a stronger schedule has been outlined, and each year the La Verne team has been equal to the occasion. Prior to this year we have been unable to schedule games with any Conference varsities except Redlands University. This year we met of the Conference teams besides Redlands, the University of California, Southern Branch, and California Institute of Technology (Caltek.) The first two were defeated by one point in hard fought games, the latter by the decisive score of 36 to 12.

The only defeat of the season was the second of the schedule, administered by the strong U. S. C. Frosh aggregation by a 39 to 7 score. Due to the earliness of the season, the La Verne men were unable to do efficient team work and the Frosh piled up their large lead in the first half, but were held scoreless in the last half. The other teams played were Santa Ana J. C., Loyola, San Diego, Santa Barbara and Christian College, all of which met with defeat except San Diego. This was one of the hardest games of the season, ending in a 7 to 7 tie score.

Captain Levi Dickey played his usual good game at center and had much to do in holding down the score of opponents as well as producing a great strength on the offense.

John Brooks, Captain-elect and winner of the loving cup presented by a number of the town's business men, played an exceptional game at full back and at signal calling.

The prospects for another successful year look bright for Coach Arnett and his team. But two men will be lost by graduation, Bert Betts and Dwight Welch. Anticipating this loss, several good substitutes are ready to take their places.

Coach Sargent

Football Results

La Verne College is justly proud of this fighting machine which goes on the field with a grin no matter who the foe may be. Furthermore they leave the field with a grin no matter what the score may be. Thus, the most prominent factor in the development of this team is the excellent self control of each unit.

College Basketball

THE 1924-25 basketball twirlers went into action this year with a large squad consisting of many new men as well as most of the older players of last year. Coach Arnett immediately put his machine into action and set about to pick his first string men. La Verne was fortunate in securing several high school stars among whom were Lehmer and Boots. Lehmer was high point man for the season, contributing 126 points, and Welch of last year's squad was a close second in adding 100 points to the score.

La Verne played 16 games all together, eleven of which she won. Although the team was made up mostly of new men, the Leopards came out on top with a machine which will be invincible for future years.

College Baseball

LA VERNE is gradually winning recognition in baseball, the 1925 team being one of the best turned out by Coach Arnett. To date, six conference games have been played, three of which were won by La Verne. The first and fifth games of the season were lost to Occidental. This team is considered the best college team on the coast. The greatest victories for La Verne were in the games played with Whittier and Caltek, two strong Conference teams. Games still to be played are scheduled with Pomona College, Christian College, Whittier, Loyola and Caltek.

A trophy is to be given to the man who ends the season with the highest batting average. The team's average was not high for the first few games but it is steadily increasing.

The following games have been played:

Tennis

HARRIET WOODY

TENNIS is coming to be one of the popular college sports. The faculty as well as the students are interested. A number of students prefer this sport as their form of physical education.

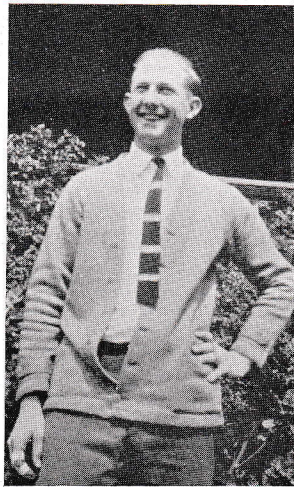

Miss Harriet Woody, an Academy Senior, played in the Pomona Valley Tournament. On November 4 she played Mrs. Peterson, of Pomona, who won the Championship of the Pomona Valley Women's Tennis Tournament in 1922. The game between Mrs. Peterson and Miss Woody resulted in a score of 6-2 and 6-0 in favor of Miss Woody. On November 18, Miss Woody played Miss Alice Travis, a student of Pomona High School. Again Miss Woody was successful in winning a score of 6-3 and 6-4.

We expect that in the near future La Verne may be fortunate enough to be represented in other tennis tournaments.

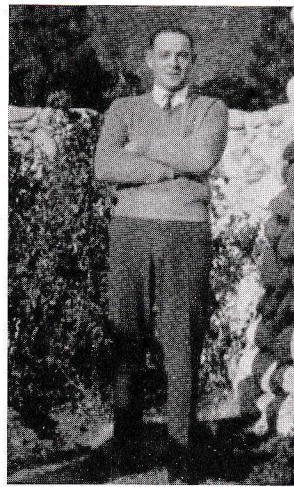

College Track

BECAUSE of lack of interest and time, the college did not put out a regular Track team this year. However, three fellows practiced diligently and entered the Conference meet. These fellows were: Mark Lehmer, John Brooks and Marion Boots. Two of these fellows were rewarded for their efforts by placing, John taking third in the shot-put and Mark fourth, scoring three points for La Verne. As both these men will return and with the start they gave us this year, La Verne should get behind Track and put out a real team next year.

Reminiscences

I FEAR I am growing old. In spite of the fact that I am somewhat dull of hearing, I frequently catch things said about me which make me feel that I am getting beyond the age of usefulness, and, too, I am all out of style.

When I was erected in 1888, the style of architecture was different from that of today. At that time no building as large as I am was complete without a tower and at least one dome. Gables were considered good. They were arranged for wherever a possibility presented itself, and they were usually decorated with curlicues. Likewise little porches with fancy railings were stuck on in unexpected places, creating a very artistic effect. High ceilings were thought to be absolutely necessary, and a suite of rooms without a fireplace was unheard of.

I was erected for hotel purposes, but I was never used as such. Many people long for their childhood days, but my early years were my loneliest, for several years elapsed before I was occupied in any way.

I was very proud of my appearance, for I was pointed out as a landmark in this beautiful valley. I could see and be seen for miles in any direction, but as the months went by and lengthened into years, I wished that I had never been built. But there came a happy day for me when some men came, looked me over, talking and planning the while, finally concluding to buy me. I did not know what they meant by "school", but I soon learned

A quarter of a century has passed and I am still being used as a school building. I hear much talk of a new building. Also I hear much talk of the "old shack," the "old tumbledown building," "condemned" and such like, but I will not allow myself to be hurt by these remarks. I have done the best I could. I have tried to hold my tower up and to maintain my dignity.

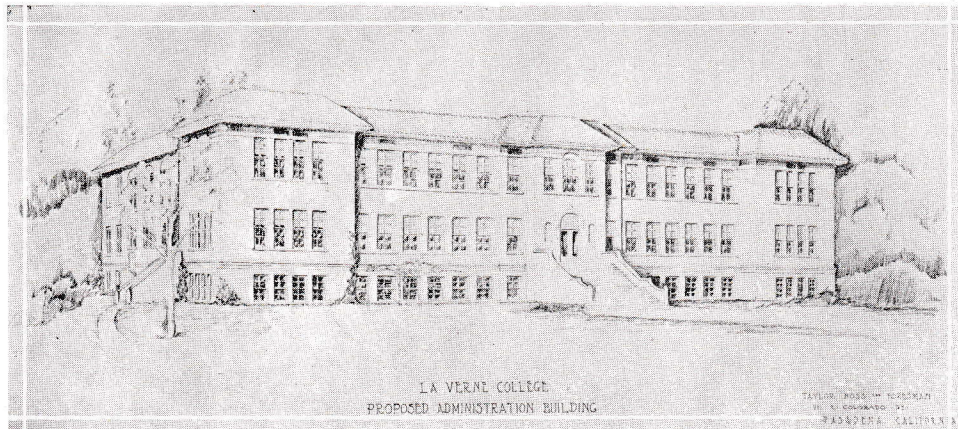

It is true that many times when students have marked my walls or cut my wood-work I have felt like crying out in protest. It does not seem fair that because I am old I should be bruised and disfigured. The thing that keeps me from growing bitter is that I know these vandalisms are usually done thoughtlessly.

One evening, not long since, the chairs in the chapel held an indignation meeting, with the chairs from the other rooms listening in. The younger chairs were very indignant, one after another giving his opinion of the situation. Said one: "I'm sick and tired of having notches and initials cut on my back and my rounds twisted and broken out. I've a notion to smash flat the next time I'm sat on." An old chair took the floor. "Listen, my young friend," he said, "many years ago I heard a chair about your age speak in much the same way in which you have spoken. We were all young and hot-headed, and we told him to go to it. He did, and the next day he was thrown on the trash heap. I bear the scars of many years of service, of which I am not ashamed. I have lived to see thoughtless, hot-headed students enter this institution, leaving a few years later, men and women equipped to meet and master life's problems. Think it over." The old chair ceased speaking. For a few moments there was silence then the young chair moved that they adjourn.

I have given this incident so that you may know my real feelings. I realize that I am not adequate to meet the needs of this growing school, and I will gladly lay down my burdens in favor of a larger, better equipped building. Farewell!

—M. B. M.

THE old building which has served the college since 1891 is to be wrecked sometime during the next several months. This building was constructed in 1888 by the California Land and Improvement Co., at the cost of $75,000.00 during the period when this territory was on a boom. Though it was constructed as a hotel it was never used for this purpose. About 1891 it was purchased by David Kuns, Henry Kuns, Daniel Houser and Samuel Overholtzer to be used for a school building, for the sum of $15,000.00

This structure covered a space of 37,000 square feet and served to house the entire school, including dormitories for both men and women, until the year 1918 when a new fire-proof, modern ladies' dormitory was erected. Since that time a gymnasium equal to some of the best in Southern California has been constructed.

This building has been an old land mark from the point of view of its historical setting as a sign of colonization movement in California and from the point of view of the service which it has rendered to house the academy and college, these many years, but the time has come when such a structure must give way to more modern improvements.

The new building is in the shape of an L and is to occupy a floor space of about 53,000 square feet. It will consist of two stories and a basement. It will be constructed in the same block in which the ladies' dormitory now stands. The east wing is to be the auditorium and will have a seating capacity of over six hundred people. The remainder of the building will be occupied by laboratories for biology, physics, and chemistry, and will include a large number of well proportioned and splendidly lighted lecture rooms and comfortable offices.

President Studebaker is heading the campaign. Construction will be commenced as soon as possible and the building will be ready for occupancy in the late fall.

With the erection of this new administration building a decided increase in the enrollment of the college is certain to follow. With the support of the faculty and student body, the Alumni Association of the School, the people of the local community, and the members of our constituency on the Pacific Coast, the college is facing a splendid outlook for the future.

THE SENIORS chose for their play comedy "Seventeen," by Booth Tarkington. "Seventeen" presents a slice of life between the ages of fifteen and twenty in a very striking manner. The author portrays youth as a study worthy of careful consideration rather than as an object of laughter and ridicule.

William Sylvanus Baxter experienced many tragic moments in the sacrifice of his first love. The audience was especially pleased with the sympathetic understanding of Mrs. Baxter.

The class is to be congratulated on the selection and excellent presentation of this play which was under the direction of Mrs. B. S. Haugh.

The play was presented on two successive evenings, December 19 and 20 in La Verne and also in Pomona on March 2.

 Motto Quality, not Quantity

THE CLOSING out of the Academy this year caused several of our number to enroll at Bonita, but the few who remain believe in our motto, "Quality not Quantity."

Due to the fact that there will be no seniors next year, we took our regular "ditch day" this year.

Since there was no Freshman class, the seniors and sophomores kindly invited us to participate in their social activities for the entire year. It is our intention to entertain the seniors with the usual Junior-Senior Banquet.

Francis Crites, our class president, has very ably guided us through this school year. His own pep and vim, and his absolute faith in "the rest of us," has brought the class to success in its various activities.

THE Academy Sophomores are the proud holders of the interclass debate cup which they won in their Freshman year. Owing to the small number in the Academy this year the Sophomores had no chance to prove their ability.

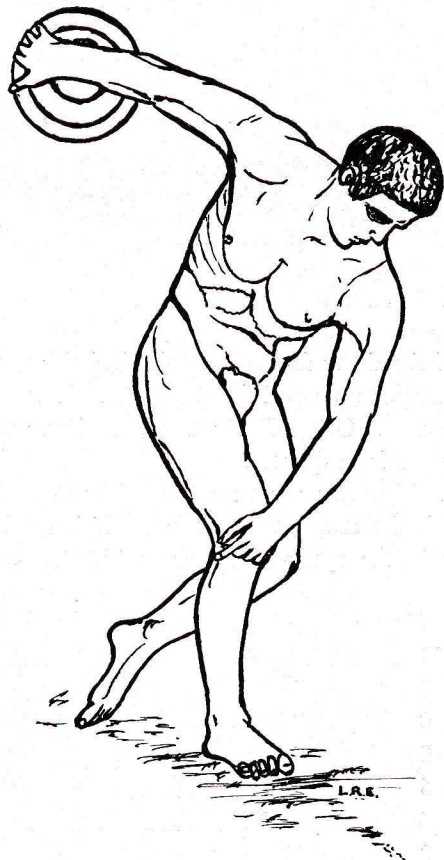

In December, the Sophomores entertained the Seniors at the home of two of our class members. Later the Sophomores enjoyed an entertainment from the upper classmen.

Our President, Kathleen Shaffer has, through her untiring efforts, lead the class very successfully in various activities.

The Sophomores look forward to still better years.

Football

THE THIRD successful season of Academy football was finished this year. The squad, composed of fourteen men, put up a real fighting game. It was the first season of football for some of the men. Crites, Z. Hartman, Ikenberry and Shirk made up the backfield, Shirk calling signals from quarter.

The first game was lost to Puente. However, the team showed its strength in the hardest fought game of the season with the strong Chino team, which resulted in a tie of 7-7. The greatest victory was in the spectacular game with Corona with a score of 24-0 in favor of La Verne.

Basketball

WHEN Coach Beckner sounded the call for Academy basketball men, only seven reported for practice. Some of the men had had one year's experience, others more or less. During the season one man was injured, leaving only six men on the squad. Each man worked hard and a team was put out that made a good showing.

Unable to carry out the league schedule, a schedule was made with some of the strongest teams in Southern California, such as Long Beach Hi, which was a runner-up in the Southern California finals, and Chino Hi which took the Southern California championship title.

Baseball

PRACTICALLY every boy in the Academy turned out for baseball, and under Coach Beckner, practiced hard each day in preparation for the season's games. Some of the material was new and the boys, though few in number, showed the fighting spirit and did their best.

To date only two practice games have been played with Bonita. The first game showed Coach Beckner several kinks which needed to be smoothed out. By giving his strict attention to these, the boys improved to the extent that they came back by a decisive victory over Bonita. A schedule is being made with most of the league High Schools and other strong teams outside the league. If the boys continue to improve as they have been, they should make a good showing in their schedule.

X Y Z's and Lion Tamers

THREE years ago there came to La Verne College two infant societies. The Student Body was divided into rival sections, their fond parent "Orange Blossom" naming them "Lion Tamers" and "X. Y. Z.'s."

The purpose of these organizations was to help "Orange Blossom" earn money on which to live. The first year of its existence, the infant "X. Y. Z." staged the first program. This was followed by a performance by the "Lion Tamers." These programs were a decided success and their proud parent, "Orange Blossom," prospered because of them.

By the second year, the infants had grown to childhood. This period was marked by Tugs of War, Rival Athletic games and two splendid programs.

The third year marked the development of these two organizations into adolescence. It proved to be a year of storm and stress. The societies were just awakening to a broader life and it made them restive and impetuous. Occasional outbursts of feeling expressed themselves in wiener bakes and chapel programs. Their anxious parent, "Orange Blossom," found them very hard to control. However with the competent aid of nurse Mary Blickenstaff, the adventuresome steps of the "Lion Tamers" were guided aright.

The "X. Y. Z.'s" were cared for by sympathetic Lola Shirk who reprimanded and counseled them until this period was safely passed. The two youths gave their programs successfully.

OUR TENNIS

Perhaps very few of the students that Harriet Woody is competing in the Pomona Valley tennis tournament this year. This tournament is of star players from all over the Valley and it is really quite to have the opportunity to be in such a tournament. So have been two rounds played Harriet has been successful in both times. Her first opponent, Peterson, was considered the best player in the valley score was 6-2, 6-0 in Harriet's favor. The second game was with Travis, and again Harriet was victorious 6-3, 6-2.

The whole student body is back of Harriet Woody for success in the games to follow.

Y. M. C. A.—STUDENT VOLUNTEERS—Y. W. C. A.

THE organizing and maintaining of a Y. M. C. A. and a Y. W. C. A. has been a real asset to the religious and social life of the college. There was a need which could not be met by the Student Volunteer Organization. The Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. under the leadership of Bertram Betts and Margerite Dickey respectively, have done much toward filling this need.

Perhaps one of the most helpful functions of the Y's are the discussion groups held each Thursday at Chapel hour, each organization discussing the problems peculiar to itself. They also alternated in putting on a splendid chapel program once each month.

The most prominent event of the year for the Y. M. was the conference at Asilomar to which four delegates were sent from the college.

The Y. girls put on a Mother's and Daughter's banquet on April 10. Dr. Raymond Brooks, dean of Pomona College, gave the address. The banquet closed with a very impressive candle lighting service.

The Student Volunteer Conference of Southern California was held in La Verne December 6, this being the first time La Verne was fortunate enough to draw this conference.

These three religious organizations cooperated in equipping and sending out two deputation teams this year. During the Christmas holidays one team, composed of five students, went into the Northern District where it gave twelve programs in the various churches. The team which traveled over the Southern District gave an all day program in each church; a morning program of speeches, music and readings; an afternoon of fellowship with the young people and a missionary play entitled "Two Masters" in the evening.

Forensic Activities

THIS year for the first time the men were admitted as associate members to the Southern California Public Speaking Conference. The question for the conference debates was, "Resolved: that the immigration law of 1924 should be so amended as to admit Japanese on the same basis as Europeans." The affirmative team was composed of Harold Hoff and Ben Jamison. Mark Lehmer and Lloyd Studebaker upheld the negative side of the question. Feb. 10 both teams were defeated by U. S. C., 3 to 0. The affirmative team was more successful March 9, and won the debate with Caltek by the votes of all three judges. The negative team, however, failed to keep the judges awake and lost the decision. Our affirmative team met Redlands March 16, and the negative March 23. In both places the affirmative received a 2 to 1 vote.

DR. MILLER, COACH

The women were again this year represented in the Women's Forensic League, to which La Verne was admitted last year. The question debated was, "Resolved that the observance of National Defense Day should be discontinued." The affirmative team consisted of Velma Noll, Kathryn Harshbarger, and Inez Eshelman and the negative of Ruth Price, Pearl Witcher and Madie Royer. Dec. 4 the affirmative team lost to Occidental, and the negative team to Pomona by the same score, 3 to 0. The affirmative again lost to Southern Branch, 3 to 0, Dec. 17, but the negative team met Redlands Jan. 26, and defeated it 2 to 1.

This year the men will be represented in oratorical contests April 24. Next year they will enter the extempore contests, alternating each year with Pasadena University. The women will be represented in the oratorical contest May 7, and also in the extempore contest.

The teams appreciated the inspiration and encouragement of Dr. Miller in all these contests. He has a broad and optimistic outlook for the future of our college in Forensic activities. Mrs. Haugh's creditable work in coaching the teams in presentation was also appreciated.

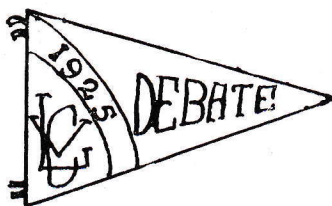

At the end of the season, Dr. Miller entertained the debaters in his home one evening. Debating concerns were forgotten, and all the debaters agreed that this was a successful and pleasant ending for the debate season.

The Apollo Club

THE APOLLO CLUB is an organization made up of music graduates of La Verne College, and a few others voted into the club on their musical interest and ability. The club stands for the highest in music and is striving to make its influence felt in the musical activities of the school. The opening concert of the school year was given by the club. The members of the club are interested in music for the joy and beauty it brings in life. The following officers served the club:

President.....Dorothea Dyck	Treasurer.....Bertha Fike
Secretary.....Prof. B. S. Haugh	Program Chairman.....Mary Blickenstaff

The Clarion Four

THESE four boys, drawn together by their love of music, have delighted many audiences with their excellent harmony. They specialize in sacred music, although they are much in demand as entertainers at banquets and secular programs. They are under direct supervision of Prof. B. S. Haugh who takes much personal interest in their development.

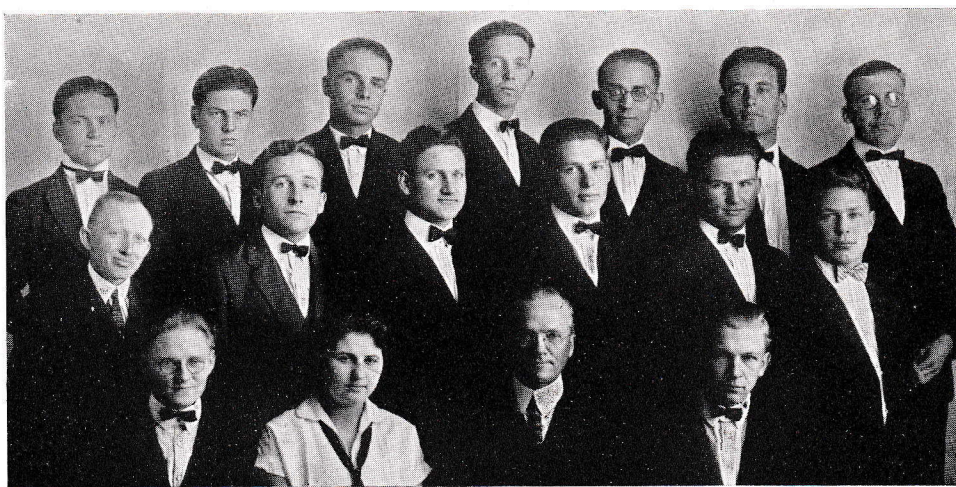

Lyric and Glee Clubs

THE Lyric and Glee Clubs have made an attempt to do more extensive work this year. Each club has put forth special effort to assist in putting on worthwhile musical programs, not only in La Verne but in other nearby towns. Instead of a Choral Union, the clubs continued throughout the school year.

The clubs owe their success to their able director, Professor B. S. Haugh. Although he gave suggestions to the students, the selection of music and arrangements for programs was done by the students themselves.

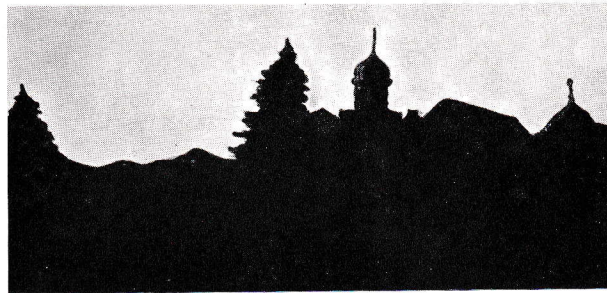

The organizations consisted of a music committee chosen by the director; a president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer and manager elected by the club membership.

ALUMNI

Alma Mater Hymn

There's a dear favor'd spot
 It shall ne'er be forgot
 For its memories will linger for aye:
 Near the mountains it lies
 'Neath the bluest of skies
 'Tis La Verne with its friends true and gay.
 In La Verne we believe
 And a portion we leave
 Of ourselves that shall never depart,
 For whate'er may betide
 There's a joy will abide
 In a dear favor'd spot in each heart.

Alma Mater, to you
 Each Alumnus is true
 Every heart leaves a tribute of love;
 As it goes but to give
 And in service to live
 For the truest and noblest above.
 Ah! we cherish your lore
 And your emblem adore
 We'll be faithful and loyal to you;
 With the shield of the right
 There is courage and might—
 Alma Mater—La Verne, we are true—to you!

George Hollenberg, Class of '27

The Board of Directors of the Alumni Association

Howard Beckner, President. Mrs. Ruth Lefever.
 Mrs. Kathryn Brandt. David Bomberger.
 Mrs. Anna Hanawalt. Harper Frantz (resigned)
 John Price, Sec. Treas to the Board.

THE Annual Alumni Banquet, as well as the Association itself, has been growing steadily in size and importance. The 1924 banquet gave unmistakable warning that another meeting place must be found. That the affair has been growing also in quality and in importance will be testified to by all who were present.

A new feature, which is likely to be repeated, was the presence of a number of prominent townspeople as guests of honor. The combined efforts of the town and the Alumni Association promise much for the future of the college.

This promise was partially fulfilled in the "400" banquet held in July for the benefit of the gymnasium. The building itself was the scene of the feast. Those fortunate enough to attend contributed five dollars to the fund for the completion of the gymnasium. Town and gown joined hands in making the banquet a success. It would be difficult to say whether the officers of the Chamber of Commerce or those of the Alumni Association worked the harder. The result was the sum of $1800 which has been used to finish the gymnasium both inside and out. The building is now a real asset to the college and community.

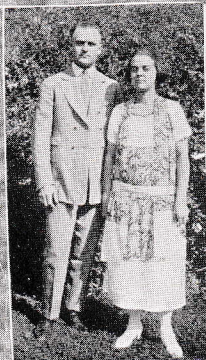

An event of great interest and importance to La Verne Alumni was the sailing in August of Leland and Marie Brubaker and Mineva Neher for China. Reports from these three are to the effect that they are making progress in the language study and they are anxiously looking forward to active service on the field. The Association is represented in India by Fred Hollenberg, Ina Marshburn Kaylor, and Ruth Forney Brooks, and in the Home Field by Albert and Mabel Crist Brubaker, who are working at Rice Lake, Wisconsin. E. Earl and Florence Kreps Barnhart filled a summer pastorate at MacDoel, California, last summer. They now have charge of the Church of the Brethren at Patterson, California.

Another step in advance for the Alumni Association was the election of George Hollenberg to the Board of Trustees. This act strengthens the interest and sympathy between the two bodies, in proof of which we quote from Mr. Hollenberg.

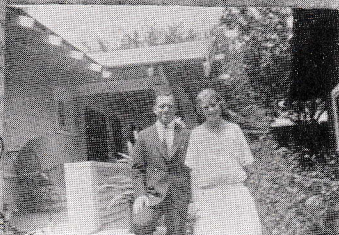

"I am happy to be permitted to represent the Alumni on the Board of Trustees, and I am sure nothing the Alumni can do will be worth more to them than the continual confidence of the Association, which I truly sense and am glad to express to them. In return, the confidence of the Board in the Alumni is complete, I feel sure.

The Trustee Body is banking on the Alumni for two things especially: (1) To make good, and (2) in a very real sense to make La Verne. The Alumni can make La Verne now with unwavering loyalty and sacrifice for her, and they can, ere long, make her financially.

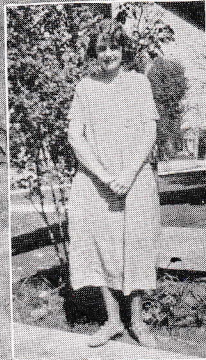

These are men of remarkable loyalty on the Board, men who never had the opportunity we have had for an education. If those who wish they had "had the chance the young people have now-a-days to get an education" can exhibit such a sacrificial type of loyalty to the school and the cause of Christian education, what kind of loyalty can be expected from those who now and in the future years can say, "I'm glad for my years of training at La Verne for more efficient service."

DARK MOMENTS IN DR. HOOVER'S 7:40 CLASS

Chase—How ya feeling?
 John Hilton—Rotten.
 Chase—Whassamatter?
 John—Got insomnia.
 Chase—How come?
 John—Woke up twice in History today.

Valuable Information

Pearl—How old are you?
 Ruth Mohler—I've just turned twenty-three.
 Pearl—Oh, I see—thirty-two.

Dr. Arnett—Did you sew the button on my coat, darling?
 Mrs. Arnett—No, love; I couldn't find the button, and so I just sewed up the buttonhole.

Motor Cop (after hard chase)—Why in thunder didn't you stop when I shouted back there?

Otis (with only five dollars, but presence of mind)—I thought you just said: "Good morning, Senator."

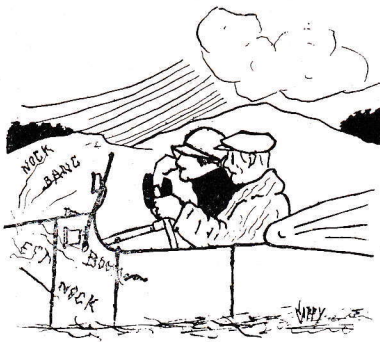

Cop—Well, you see, Senator, I wanted to warn you about driving fast through the next township.

Her Secret of Success

"I'm sorry that my engagements prevent my attending your student body program, but I'll be with you in spirit."

"Splendid!" cried Harriet Woody, noted ticket seller. "And where would you like your spirit to sit? I have tickets here for twenty-five cents, and for 50 cents."

"Well, well," said Dr. Hoover, absent mindedly, as he stood knee deep in the bathtub, "What did I get in here for?"

Certain Identification
 John Brooks—Do you know that girl over there?
 Dwight Welch—No, but her face sounds familiar.

Howard, at the wheel—The engine seems to be missing, dear."
 Cathryn Byerly—Never mind, darling, it doesn't show.

A Slow But Fatal Disease

"This is a very sad case, very sad indeed," said the doctor. "I much regret to tell you that your wife's mind is gone—completely gone."

"I'm not a bit surprised," answered Professor Haugh. "She has been giving me a piece of it every day for the last fifteen years."

Shattered Hopes

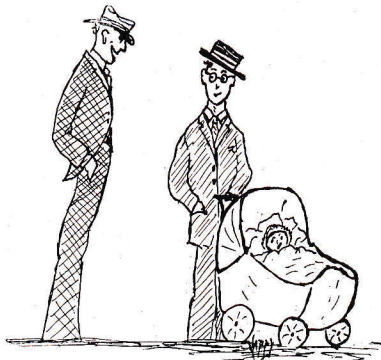

"Have you any alarm-clocks?" inquired Otis. "What I want is one that will arouse our cook without waking the whole house."

"I don't know of any such alarm-clock as that, sir," said the man behind the counter. "We keep just the ordinary kind—the kind that will wake the whole family without disturbing the cook."

Howard Hoff (at box office)—Two tickets, please.

Ticket Seller—What date?

Howard (absently)—Mary.

Dena—I thought you could keep a secret.

Polly Shirk—Well, I kept it for a week. Do you think I'm a cold-storage plant?

Professor Hollenberg was proudly showing his small son to Professor Sargent. The latter, forgetting whether the baby was a boy or girl made the following remarks:

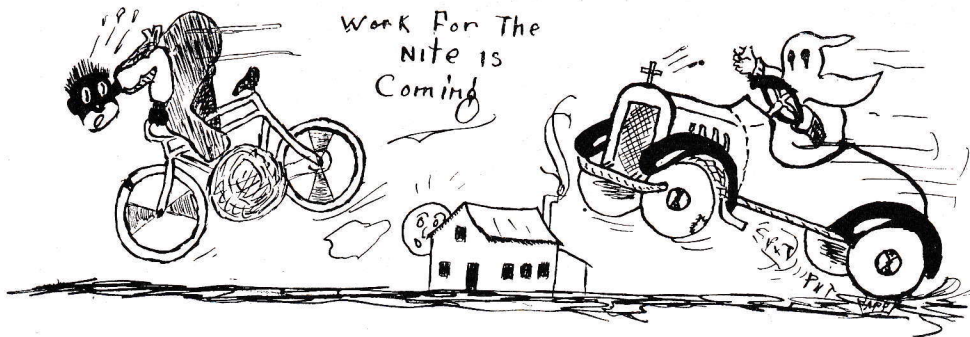

"Well, well, but he's a fine little fellow, isn't she? How old is it now? Do her teeth bother him much? I hope he gets through its second summer without getting sick. She looks like you, doesn't he? Everyone says it does."

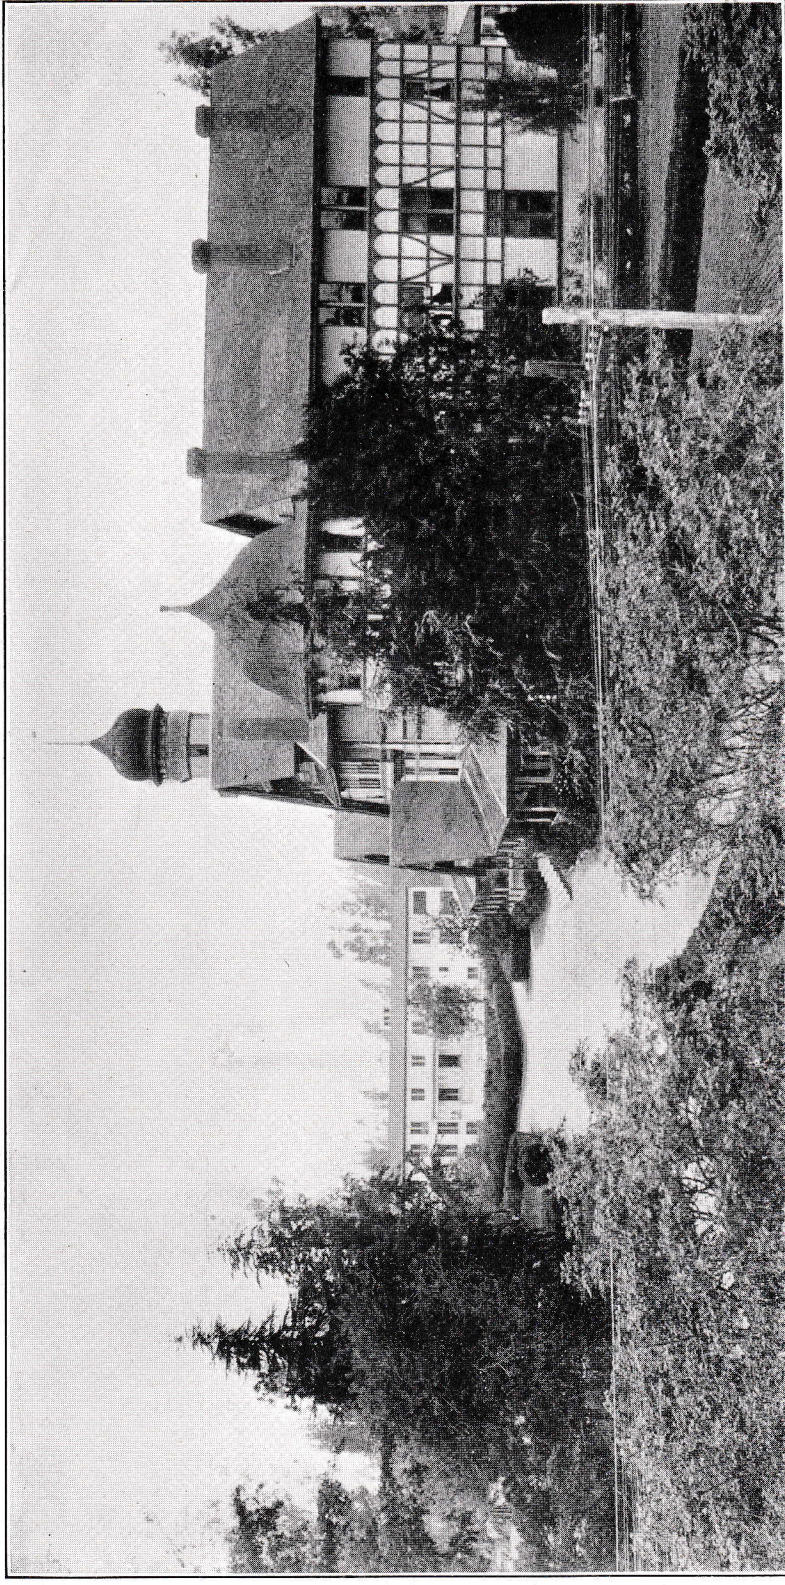

Dwight—What's the matter, old man? You look worried.

Marion Roynon—Well, to be honest with you, I am. You know, I took out some life insurance last Thursday.

Dwight—Yes, but what has that to do with the woebegone expression on your face?

Marion—Well, the very next day after I had written, my wife bought a new cook-book. Possibly it's all right, but it certainly looks suspicious.

"How do you keep Fred from kissing you?"

"Just whistle."

"Why, how does that stop him?"

"Oh, he's a union man and stops when he hears the whistle."

ONWARD AND UPWARD

The Penny Food Market wishes to congratulate La Verne College on the remarkable record it has made this year—in the classroom, on the Athletic Field, and above all for the splendid work it is doing toward placing the young womanhood and manhood of this splendid community on a higher Mental, Moral, and Physical plane.

Your athletic teams have blazed a trail of brilliant achievement from Santa Barbara on the North, to San Diego on the South, and from the Pacific to the State Line on the East.

High ideals, School spirit, and concentrated effort are responsible for the success already attained, and in the years that are ahead, may your achievements be even greater. Carry on the Good Fight.

"IF"—Apologies to Kipling

If you can keep your head when the heart in you
Is pumping so hard your face is blue;
If you can keep your knees quite firm beneath you,
But make allowance for their knocking, too;
If you can wait and not be tired of waiting,
Or being frowned at, don't deal in frowns,
Or being slapped, don't give way to slapping
And yet don't look too meek when her sweet voice sounds.

If you can talk to father and not once stammer,
Or stand against rebuffs and parental hatred;
If you've got the nerve to go on and win her,
To stick when others long since have fled;
If you can keep on slipping your chair still nearer
Tho' dad drops his shoe 'fore courtin's done,
Yours is the victory if you'll only kiss her
And—for sure—you'll deserve the girl, my son!

Third boy—I beat both you fellers. I opened my window and got Chile (chilly).

A Sure Cure

Small son—Daddy, I've been wanting to tell you something for a week back.

Dad—What is it, son?

Son—Watkin's linament.

Motto for dining salon of ocean steamer: "Man wants but little here below, nor wants that little long."

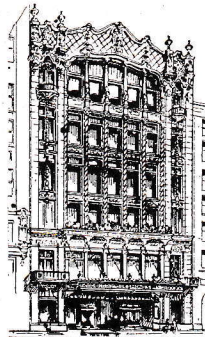

"Oh Archie!" cried Mrs. Brooks, as she gasped for breath. "I dropped my diamond ring off my finger and I can't find it anywhere."

"That's all right Polly," replied Archie. "I came across it in my trousers pocket."

A Problem for the Wisest

A small boy, working diligently on a cross-word puzzle, looked up and said: "Dad, would 'wife' be right for a four-letter word meaning a 'dangerous woman'?"

Our Home Motto

In the olden days 'twas the highest praise
Of our homes when in tones sincere
We'd say, and repeat in framed mottoes neat,
"There's never a cross word here."

But the subtle snare of the mystic square
Has enmeshed us all, somehow,
And while youth with age grab the puzzle page
There's nothing but crosswords now.

In the election of a wife, as in a project of war, to err but once is to be undone forever.

Two Irishmen were in prison, one for stealing a cow, and the other for stealing a watch.

"Hello, Mike! What o'clock is it?" said the cow stealer to the other.

"And sure, Pat, I haven't any timepiece handy but I think it's most milking time."

Claude Junior—Father, had Soloman seven hundred wives?

Dr. Arnett—I believe so, son.

Claude Junior—Well, father, was he the man who said, "Give me liberty or give me death?"

Sentimental Sally (over washtub)—You lazy, no count nigger! Why fo' did I marry you? You nebber did love me, nohow!

Restful Rastus (whittling stick)—Lub yo! Woman, does you cognasticate dat if it warn't for you ah couldn't exist?

Bill Crowston—What did you do with the cuffs I left on the table last night?"

Glen Perkins—They were so soiled I sent them to the laundry.

Bill—Ye gods, the entire history of England was on them.

Dr. Arnett—Did you sew the button on my coat, darling?

Mrs. Arnett—No, love; I couldn't find the button, and so I just sewed up the buttonhole.

Student in zoology laboratory, looking in microscope—Dale, can you lend me a flea?

Old Darkey (to shiftless son)—I hearn tell you is married. Is you?

Son (ingratiatingly)—I ain't sayin' I ain't.

Old Darkey (severely)—I ain't asking you is you ain't; I ask you ain't you is.

The pessimist—The best luck any man can have is never to have been born; but that seldom happens to anyone.

Brown—Back to town again? I thought you were a farmer.

Green—You made the same mistake I did.
