BOOK WRITTEN BY LV. COLLEGE MAN

"Our Church" is the title of a forthcoming little book to be published shortly by the Christian Workers' Board. It is written by Rev. C. Ernest Davis, of La Verne College, and contains the substance of addresses given by Bro. Davis last summer at the Pacific Young Peoples' Conference. It is to be used at the Young Peoples' Conferences this summer, as well as in other ways. The four chapter titles are as follows: Beginnings and Early History, In Colonial America, Its Messages and Doctrines, and Our Church and You. The "You" of the last chapter refers especially to young people. In fact the book is designed to inspire young people with the spirit of devotion and loyalty to the church.

It is hoped that the book will be ready for distribution by Conference time. We predict for it a field of unusual usefulness.

(The above notice was taken from the Gospel Messenger of April 28. La Verne College is surely proud to have a book written by one of her own students. Mr. Davis is this year a College Senior and we know that his work will be well worth while.)

A. W. S. CHOOSES NEW OFFICERS

The A. W. S. has very bright prospects for a brilliant career next year, due to the returns of their annual election held May 9, 1923, with the following results:

Eva Brownsberger.....	President
Kathryn Harshbarger.....	V. President
Ramah Maust.....	Secretary
Pearl Whitecher.....	Treasurer
Wanda Carl.....	Music Director
Ada Moothart.....	Sargeant at Arms
Marguerite Dickey, Sargeant at Arms
Madie Royer.....	Yell Leader
Catheryn Byerly.....	Yell Leader

The new officers were duly installed at the last meeting in the haunt, where Miss Ruth Barnhizer gave her parting message and the new officers were asked to come forward while the old officers finished the installation by shaking hands with them.

All of the other members then went forward and shook hands with the officers. The meeting closed with the A. W. S. yell.

The new Commission conducted a very fine student body meeting on Monday, with Chairman Roynon at the head. Letters were presented to the three baseball teams, pins to this year's Commission, and then several extemporaneous speeches were given by the Seniors, who told what La Verne College has meant to them.

COLLEGE JUNIOR- SENIOR BANQUET

The banquet given by the Juniors in honor of the Seniors last Monday evening, was a delightful affair. The home of Guy Jordan was just the place for such an occasion. The rooms were decorated with the class flower, while the class emblem, the bull dog, was in evidence everywhere—greeting the guests as they arrived, and occupying a place of prominence near the clever center-piece of mustard flowers and cat-tails (wieners). Some were even found guarding the small dog kennels which were used as favors.

Byrl Harper was very well fitted for his position as toastmaster. His fund of good jokes seemed unlimited. Everyone enjoyed the readings given by Madie Royer and the song by the Junior girls. Miss Muir delighted all by playing a selection on the piano. Speeches were made by various members of the classes and President Emert gave a short talk with a forward look to a bigger and better La Verne College.

All this entertainment, however, did not detract attention from the delicious food that was served by the Freshman girls. Everything carried out the color scheme, even the ice cream was "wienie" brown and "mustard" yellow.

As an appropriate close for the evening the groups sang "Guide of La Verne."

CAMPAIGN GOAL NOW IN SIGHT

Although the goal of $1500 has not yet been reached, it is now almost a certainty that the full amount will be obtained. To date the amount is $1393. This is counting the reduction in the price of materials which H. E. Belcher of the La Verne Hardware Store is giving us. The fence will probably be erected this week, as the material is being secured today. The students have volunteered to dig the post holes and help in any way possible to lower the expenses of the improvement. The committee to supervise the work is Prof. H. W. Frantz, Eldo Blickenstaff, and D. S. Newcomer. Mr. Beckner probably will take direct charge of the construction if he can find time to do it with his other work. Those who have subscribed so as to bring the $1500 into view are:

First National Bank.....	$100
H. E. Belcher.....	100
D. G. Arbutnot.....	25
O. W. Raley.....	50
Granville Brubaker.....	25
Miss Vesta Sanger.....	25

Other subscribers are Mrs. B. S. Haugh, Mr. G. W. Wright, C. H. Harshbarger, A. F. Cromer, Guy Jordan, Perry Yoder, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Hoff, W. R. Morris, Fred Harmon, E. R. Bolling, Charles Clay, M. E. Garber, Alida Larimer, Gladys Larimer, Walter Sell, Hazel Minnich.

This makes a total of over 60 subscribers to the campaign, with others yet to subscribe. All are enthusiastic in their support of L. V. C. in an athletic way, so we look forward to a successful year next year and thank those who have supported and the others who are yet going to pledge.

Miss Nova Leonard went to Redlands for the last week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Oberholtzer, who arrived from China last week have been visitors in La Verne recently. Mr. Oberholtzer preached at the Church of the Brethren Sunday evening, May 20th.

INTERESTING TRIP OF SOCIOLOGY DEPT.

The Sociology Department, after many days of waiting and planning, took an extensive trip on Thursday, making a survey of a few of the county institutions. The party left at eight-thirty, going first to Los Angeles and there inspecting the county jail.

With a guard in the lead and one bringing up the rear, the group was shown through each department. The sheriff who led the inspection explained many details and facts about the life and conditions there.

The girls were shown through the women's department, while the boys were taken to see the juveniles. After finishing the jail the class divided, some going to see the criminal court and others to see the superior court.

A bountiful lunch was enjoyed, picnic style, in Exposition Park.

The County Farm was next visited. The establishment is an immense affair, resembling very much a miniature city, having its own ice plant, store, dairy and water system. The superintendent was very kind, explaining every detail in a very interesting manner. He certainly is an example of a man perfectly fitted for his work, for he was very kind to all the inmates.

After two well spent hours the class learned in a very real way how much an institution of this kind should be inspected.

The class had originally planned to go to Whittier State School, but on arriving there found that the visiting hours for the day were over.

A tired but much wiser group of students returned home eager to tell of the many new things they had seen and heard.

MARGUERITE DICKEY GIVES RECITAL

The third Junior Piano Recital of the year was given by Miss Marguerite Dickey on Tuesday evening, May 8. The College Freshmen are quite proud of the fact that all three recitals have been given by members of their class.

Miss Dickey's technique was good, and the expression put into her pieces made them very enjoyable to the audience. In her playing, Marguerite has been handicapped by being left handed, but she has overcome this difficulty admirably. One of her best, most appreciated numbers, was played by the left hand alone. The many beautiful flowers she received showed the appreciation of a host of friends.

Interest and variety were added to the program by the pretty little solo by Miss Esther Dickey, Miss Stoner's reading, and the vocal solos by Mr. Poole. The program was as follows: Saltarelle, Op. 15, No. 2.....Rogers
Nectar Dance, Op. 37, No. 2.....Mona Zucca

Vocal Solo, "Smiles and Frowns" by Field.....Miss Esther Dickey
Espagnole Bolero, Op. 110.....Godard
Reading, "Mily Amos' Hymn" by Hall.....Miss Susan Stoner
Poupee Valsante (Waltz in D).....Poldini

No. 6 Irish Tune from Country Derry.....Grainger
Little Indian.....Carpenter

Vocal Solo, "From All Eternity" by Macheroni; and "Thora" by Weatherby and Adams.....Mr. J. C. Poole
The Dream of an Hour (Reverie).....(For Left Hand Alone).....Franklin
Venitienne, 4th Barcarolle, Op. 10, No. 2.....Godard

CHAPEL NOTES

The Chapel Hour Tuesday, May 8, was conducted by Mr. L. S. (Dutch) Brubaker. Mr. and Mrs. Brubaker are sailing this summer as missionaries to China, and Mr. Brubaker told of the directions they had received from the General Mission Board. This was very interesting, especially to those who are planning that as their life work.

The speaker from Los Angeles, who was to come under the auspices of the Student Volunteers, May 10, failed to arrive, and Miss Susan Stoner president of the local Volunteer Band, spoke on "The Value of Intercessory Prayer."

Miss Amelia G. Babcock on Friday, May 11, told of some of her experiences upon botanical and zoological trips during college. She left a mental picture of Bill, the gopher snake, coiled around her arm, and the pet mouse standing in the doorway.

Tuesday, May 15, Prof. Brandt told of the school's plans for the coming year, and urged each student to be here. He presented it in such a way that the students not only wanted to be here, but bring others with them.

"Recent Excavations in Bible Lands" was the subject of the very interesting address given the students on Thursday, May 17, by Prof. C. F. Knopf, of the University of Southern California. He told of the excavations in Egypt and Arabia, and pointed out its value in the interpretation of ancient history. Prof. Knopf brought with him some clay tablets which had been found and interpreted the hieroglyphics carved upon them. This lecture was secured by the College Y. M. C. A.

Prof. C. E. Arnett conducted the devotional on Friday, May 18, and during the remainder of the hour Prof. D. W. Lefever gave some intelligence tests to the student body. There were two of these, one on sight reading, and the other dealing with advertisements in the current magazines.

NEW COMMISSION IS ORGANIZED

The Old Commission met with the New Commission in joint meeting last Monday night to turn over the Student Body business and to offer suggestions for their respective offices.

The New Commission have already organized with Mr. Marion John Roynon, as chairman, and Mrs. Mae Miller as secretary. They are already making big plans for next year, and they hope to make a bigger and better Student Body next year.

A MOST DELIGHTFUL T n' T

"If my 'might box' and trousseau you would see,
Come to 'Snug Harbor' at half after three.

Do you think the admission's free?
No! ! Bring your favorite recipe.
Nothing stronger than tea to slake your thirst

Will be served to you on the twenty-first."

Thus ran the clever invitation which invited all members of the A. W. S. and Faculty out North Lincoln to experience something "very unusual."

In answer to the request, various recipes were received, telling her how to perform the difficult process of making bread as well as how to boil potatoes, "the favorite family dish." No doubt the latter was greatly appreciated. Thus amid laughter and gaiety the hour quickly passed as the girls surveyed and passed judgment on those new and pretty things which filled the 'chest' to full expansion.

Belshazzar Enjoyed by Large Audience

The cantata "Belshazzar," by Butterfield, given as the closing number of the College Music and Lecture Course, Friday evening, May 11th, was a great success. It was rendered in oratorio form by the members of the La Verne Choral Union, under the direction of Prof. B. S. Haugh. The picture and story were made more vivid by the use of special lighting, the death bell with the prison scene and dirge and drums with the soldiers' chorus. The rendition was in three parts, and the appearance of the handwriting on the wall, accompanied by thunder and lightning, during part III, intensified the situation. Mrs. B. S. Haugh directed these special touches. The choruses were strong and expressive, and the solo work very nicely done. The following are those taking special part:

Belshazzar (king of Babylon).....	Mr. J. C. Poole
Antonia, his queen.....	Mrs. B. S. Haugh
Nitocris, Queen Regent.....	Miss Lucile Beckner
Zerubabel, leader of the Jews.....	Prof. B. S. Haugh
Shelomith, his wife.....	Miss Wanda Carl
Zerubabel's child.....	Miss Esther Dickey
Jewish Princess.....	Miss Lois Miller
Daniel, the Prophet.....	Mr. John Throne
Cyrus, king of Persia.....	Mr. Jess Frantz

Festus, Belshazzar's cup bearer.....	Mr. Truman Funderburgh
Zerlina, ladies.....	Miss Lola Shirk

LA VERNE ARGUES WITH CITRUS HI

In the debate with the Citrus Union, the Academy team, Florence Landis, Galen Root and Wilbur Hoke, were a credit to La Verne, even if they did draw only one judge.

The subject, Resolved, that a three fourths majority jury should be sufficient to convict, was one of interest. The material of the Academy team was well organized and logical, but as their delivery was not up to par, the decision was given to the opposing team.

In connection with the debate, Citrus Union rendered an interesting program consisting of two short one act plays and instrumental and vocal numbers.

"ACHIEVEMENT"

Achievement is but a dream, an idea made materially manifest in bronze or marble, in glowing canvas or richly interwoven music—this is the joy of the artist and the supreme satisfaction of the craftsman.

Achievement is but another milestone along the highway of progress—the end of the journey lies ever beyond.

Let us help you to achieve.

LAST WORDS

The school year of 1922-23 is almost over with this last issue of the Campus Times. The days, each filled to the limit with busy activities, go by so rapidly that we are hardly aware of their passing.

As we look back over the year there are many things that we wish might have been different, but the time spent here at La Verne has surely been well worth while. We have achieved great things this year, and have developed in ways which we do not realize. Happy is the student who has done his work faithfully each day and is coming out on top with duties well performed.

Then we are looking forward to a great year next year. With a new president at the helm and La Verne's future on a more solid basis than before, we believe that a new era in her history is about to begin. With hope, faith, pep and enthusiasm we can be assured of a splendid year.

Students, if you have enjoyed this year at La Verne, and have received worth while things, don't be afraid to say so when you go home this summer. Talk to your friends who ought to be at La Verne. What they hear is often not that which is good and it is up to you to let them know about the College. Tell them about the good times and the serious times, and everything that will interest them about College life. The folks will judge La Verne by what you do or say and you can help or hinder just that much.

No one realizes as does the College Senior just how much La Verne means to him. He has come to the parting of the ways and he is leaving the school where he has spent some of the happiest years of his life, to find his place in the world.

We have a goal set for the next year which is high, for our president-elect has said, "We must have no fewer than 250 students next year." If we who have been at La Verne do not boost our College, how can you expect the young people of the district to become interested in the school? La Verne is going to be a finer place than ever before next year.

In behalf of the Campus Times Staff, we wish to thank the business men of Pomona and La Verne and the entire student body as well, for their help and co-operation in making possible the publication of our school newspaper. Students, it is your paper, and the staff has tried to make it what you would like, and they appreciate all that you have done "to put it across."

Three cheers for a bigger and better L. V. C. and a successful Campus Times next year.

Nellie and the Minister

A facetious minister took a little girl on his knee and teasingly said: "I don't like you, Nellie."

"Got to? How so?" laughed the minister divine.
"Because," said Nellie stoutly, "you've got to like them that hate you and goodness knows I hate you."

More Truth than Poetry

Dear Next Year's Joke Editor:
To whoever thou art, I fully donate all of the nine thousand, five hundred and sixty-one left over jokes. You know this year has been so pop full of fun that we have a lot left over. So, since almost all the queer ones are leaving us in about a week, I thot maybe you wouldn't have very many real freaky things to write about, so I am kindly giving these jokes to you to use as you see fit. They would make quite a large bundle for the cold and hungry Armenians. They might feel out of place and lonesome there, but if some were translated they would warm them up and they wouldn't need their appetites for a month. Maybe the starving would appreciate them better than some o' these cold old La Vernians who are so frigid that nothing could thaw 'em out. Also I am giving you that lovely little box that's parked in the hall, a wonder creation by Grandpa Fox. Maybe it is too big for the ideas of the student body as a whole, but one class, the Academy Sophomores, ran out all their funny ideas, so that Friendly, they are still down hearted, but they made the "Supreme sacrifice" of putting out the "Campus Times." It's a shame to drain them like that, but if all would be so kind and generous and put their all into their work, La Verne would not need to worry any more and she'd run over with ideas just as the Joke Prison did. So here goes, dear Next Joke Editor, take my precious Joke Box and remodel it if necessary, because, remember that much hot air needs space.

Yours jokingly,
FEATURE EDITOR

P. S.—Send the Transfer company around for those jokes and come to me personally for the key to the box and I'll wish you a jolly time in the Land of Jokes for the coming year.

A THRILLING PARTY

Miss Pauline Miller entertained at a delightful afternoon party on Friday. Mrs. Marie Brubaker, who leaves in August with her husband for the Mission field in China, was the guest of honor. Much of the time was spent talking about the Mission field and the preparations which must be made by the missionaries who go for a term of years. Each guest wrote a personal letter full of friendly wishes to be read by "Marie" on board ship. The thrilling event of the afternoon came at the time refreshments were served. Delicious ice cream and cake are usually good enough for anyone—but this cake was an "extraordinary" one. Each guest upon eating her cake bit into a note which told the secret of the approaching marriage of Hazel Irene Brubaker to David Bomberger in August. Congratulations were extended to both guests of honor by the girls, who felt that the afternoon had been one doubly full of surprise and pleasure.

MAY SHOWERS

First, David; Second, the diamond; Third, the announcement; Fourth, the the shower—thus reads Hazel's history, to May 17, 1923. Thursday afternoon, while Pauline and Elva accompanied Hazel on a peaceful stroll about the city, forty college girls and other friends quietly slipped into the Miller home. Soon Polly and Elva, with the guest of honor, returned. Hazel was greeted at the door by a number of packages flying in the air. After several minutes of deep blushing, a host of other packages were presented and Hazel began a long but thrilling task of examining her "household furnishings." Even the most useful fly swatter found its place among silverware, linen and other lovely gifts. Many kindly and unique bits of advice were offered by the married ladies with years of wedded experience.

The hostesses served delicious punch and wafers, and after a very gay time of wishing Hazel the most happiness possible, the delightful affair all too quickly ended.

WEEK END CAMPING TRIP

A group of college students staged a camping party last week end and it was pronounced an unparalleled success by all the actors and actresses who participated in the event. Four of the party spent the afternoon and evening in the canyon and the remaining eight came in installments at various times between eight and eleven. A cabin had been rented and abundant provisions for the meals were faithfully stored away. A roaring camp fire had been built near the stream and it was found that not more than "two" and not less than "two" were necessary to keep the fire going at one time. Dutch and Marie, the able chaperones, were heavily armed with flashlights, which flashlights proved a valuable asset in the game of hide and seek.

The remainder of the evening and part of the morning was spent around the camp fire toasting marshmallows and telling jokes. Then followed several pleasant hours of slumber under the stars; the famous saying that "the last shall be first" was indeed true, as applied to retiring and arising. Thus Cile was the first to break the peace of the camp, but the others soon followed and peace was indeed no more. All willingly lent a helping hand to the preparation of the morning meal; even Ray washed his hands (before building the fire) so he wouldn't soil the wood.

The rations consisted of bacon, eggs, dried beef gravy, fried potatoes, apple sauce, coffee, chocolate and doughnuts.

After the respective appetites were appeased, dish washing was indulged in. Vi and Dwight helped considerably in the process by demolishing the sole dish towel.

Four of the party returned home to La Verne, while the remaining eight hiked up the canyon to the third falls.

About 2:30 camp was again set up and dinner placed in the process of preparation. The dinner was delightful from the delicious steak to the final course of pie, strawberries and cream. Everyone helped in the preparation of the dinner, even George, who salted his own potatoes, and Ben, who gave instructions to Maurine as to how his mother made gravy.

There were several casualties during the trip. Dutch fell about forty feet down a stony cliff and Marie his spouse, broke the fifty yard dash record in her attempt to see if he was hurt. He received numerous bruises and a sprained ankle.

Ben came in contact with a stony point, which resulted in an enlargement of that part usually occupied by his brains. It kept Martha busy darning Ben's socks.

Maurine and John had a head on collision in the darkness, nearly demolishing both their foreheads. Otherwise peace reigned supreme in the camp, due to the aid of John's advice, Bennie's willing obedience and Eve's usual efficiency at keeping peace in the group. Those who enjoyed the delightful trip were Eva Brownsberger, Lucile Beckner, Martha Brubaker, Maurine Miller, Viola Neher, John Price, Ray Root, Ben Hepner, George King and Dwight Welch, with the chaperones, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Brubaker.

BETHANY GIRLS PICNIC

Monday afternoon, May 7, the B. G. class met at the Ladies Dorm to go no one knew where, but after a jolly good time—that was the main idea. The afternoon was one of those "warm" ones, so of course the cool, tempting waters of Ganesha could not be resisted, and thus the caravan of cars journeyed in that direction. After an hour or more of enjoyment in the plunge, the dignified college girls gained their daily gym exercise by swinging and gaining adventurous thrills sliding down the slide. The crowd then gathered on the green lawn and indulged in ice cream. Some not being quite satisfied with the exciting experience gained during the few short hours spent in the Park, climaxed the day by driving to Pomona. There they staged one of the most unique "kid parties" in one of the famous down town ice cream parlors. Thus ended the never-to-be-forgotten picnic of the Bethany Girls of 1923.

KOLLEGE KNEWS

Miss Verna Shirk was entertained by Miss Verda Brubaker at the Dorm last Sunday.

It looks rather natural to see Cecil Jordan sporting around the hall again. He is finishing up a little work, so as to be able to graduate with his class of '23.

Mr. Sam Maust was a visitor in La Verne for about an hour on last Friday. He spent a few minutes with Mr. and Mrs. Alva Lentz, then returned to Lindsay, taking his cousin, Miss Velma Maust, with him for a little visit with her relatives there.

Quite a number of the students have been going to Hollywood to see "The Covered Wagon." Harvey Brubaker took some boys in last Saturday night and all say that it is wonderful.

Miss Viola Neher is enjoying an extended visit from her mother and little brother, Leland.

We hear that the Garber girls are to be left orphans for the summer. Their mother and two younger brothers will leave for Virginia tomorrow, Wednesday, where they will join their father, who is working there.

Everybody is going to Chautauqua, and the programs have been great so far. About all you hear now is, "Guess I'll join the Circuit," "Ah! just wait till you hear me on the platform a few years from now," etc. etc.

Betty Swihart was hostess at a dinner on Sunday last. Those who enjoyed the occasion were Olive Pobst, Ethel, Helen and Ada Winslow, Ruth Emley, Ada Moothart, Estella Landis, Susan Stoner and Esther Renkel.

To the Students of LaVerne College:

We wish to meet all of you again next year. We enjoy the friendship and dealings with such a noble group.

TO THE GRADUATES:

We wish you success in your future life. May it hold more than you may ever expect. The highest standards are none too good for you.

As all the Academy team are Juniors or under except Blocher, we are expecting a good team next year. Let's take first instead of second.

The La Verne College ended the base ball season of 1923 on Friday, May 11, by defeating Chaffey J. C. to the tune of 17 to 9. La Verne had a very successful season, the game scores being as follows:

This year Coach Arnett offered a gold belt buckle to the man on the College team getting the highest batting average. Mr. J. Marion Roynon was awarded the prize, having an average of .500. Mr. J. C. Hase, the La Verne jeweler, offered a pair of gold cuff links to the man having the highest fielding average. This was awarded to John Brooks. The batting averages were as follows:

Name	Position	At bat	Hits	Av.
Roynor	fielder	34	17	.500
Root	short stop	40	18	.450
Beckner	2d base	44	17	.382
Price	catcher	38	14	.368
Hepner	fielder	49	16	.326
Harper	fielder	37	12	.324
Brooks	1st base	42	13	.310
Landis	3d base	36	7	.195
Betts	utility	14	6	.429
Garber	utility	17	5	.294
Welch	pitcher	22	5	.227

Team 373 130 .349
The team batting average is over 100 per cent better than it was last year, which accounts for the very successful season. The team was weakened a great deal when "Hop" Welch hurt his arm in the Pomona game and was not able to pitch the rest of the season. We are surely hoping he will be all right next year. Three of this year's team are graduating this year, Price Root and Beckner, but we are hoping for a bunch of new fellows next year to take their places. We defeated two Conference teams this year but we are going to defeat more next year.

One Way Out

"Father, I need a new riding habit."
"Can't afford it," he growled.
"But, father; what am I to do without a riding habit."
"Get the walking habit."—Boston Transcript.

Wayne—"We had fifteen of twenty things for breakfast this morning at the dorm."
Otie—"Name them."
Wayne—"Hash!"

they came slowly down the aisle, the outgoing and Senior Volunteers carrying lighted candles, the new Volunteers carrying candles not yet lighted, but which they lighted at the foot of the cross. The service was an impressive and fitting close to the conference.

(Editor's Note:—This article is continued in this issue from the paper of May 8. In that issue the report of the Conference was not completed because of an oversight and mistake for which we wish to apologize. We hope that anyone interested in the Conference will read the remainder of the above article.)

Frank Y.—"We had about fifteen or twenty things for breakfast this morning at the dorm."
"So? Name 'em."
Frank—"Hash!"

Maurine (teaching school)—"Johnny this whipping hurts me as much as it does you."
Johnny—"Don't be too rough on yourself."

College President—"You are suspended for the term of three months."
Freshman—"I'll be dead if I hang that long."

Freshie—"Oh, mama, look at that man sitting over there on the sidewalk talking to a banana peel."

Mrs. Loyd Lorbeer, of Claremont, spoke to the Mission Band on Sunday May 14. Mrs. Lorbeer has spent a number of years in India and she gave a very interesting and inspirational talk.

Mary Gockley and Kathryn Harshbarger spent Sunday May 21 at the home of Wanda Carl in Hermosa Beach.

FREE MOVING PICTURES JUNE 1

Do you want to see some stirring moving pictures? Then save the date—Friday, June 1, for a realistic showing by means of moving pictures of the work of the Near East Relief. Its work is a wonderful one in caring for thousands of orphans and refugees, and these pictures are intended to give a vivid presentation of their work, so all may better understand just what and where their work is, and how it is being carried on. There will be no horrifying starvation scenes shown. The pictures will be shown in the Gymnasium-auditorium of La Verne College, and there is no admission charge—all are welcome. A speaker connected with the Near East will give explanations of the scenes shown.

A smelt-like fish called eulachon by the Siwash Indians, of Alaska, when dried, can be used for a candle. The fish is very oily and the Indians render the oil from the body of the fish by means of heated rocks. This oil is used for cooking during the long winters.

ADDITION TO LV. COLLEGE LIBRARY

As a parting token of their esteem for their beloved Alma Mater, Ruth Barnhizer and Maurine Miller have generously presented their "Principles of Secondary Education" to the library. This is indeed a valuable addition, as this volume is now in a much improved condition, far superior to its state when issued from the publishers. By the addition of margin notes and underlined sentences, its value to those seeking knowledge is inestimable. This is a great sacrifice on the part of these two worthy Seniors, because of the sentimental associations with this book of Dr. Ingliss, and the class in which it was studied. It is hoped that every student will truly appreciate the generosity of this joint gift and spend many profitable hours in the perusal of this volume so nobly sacrificed to the great cause of education.

Hundreds of useful little gifts properly boxed—famous "Rust Craft, boxed gifts," with their little greeting messages; and the "Pholsom Gifts," in their silvered boxes, always make appropriate remembrances.

"FRASHER'S"

College Seniors of 1923

The College graduating class of 1923 number eleven. Eight of them have spent the entire four years together at La Verne, three of them three years, and one two years. The class being very congenial in its ideas, has rather unusual class colors and emblems.

The bull dog is their honored mascot, and is a help in all the class activities. The colors "wienie" brown and "mustard" yellow, and the class flower, the mustard flower, have proved very good for decorations. The motto, "Grab, root, and growl," has been lived up to by all loyal Seniors.

The officers who have so faithfully guided the class through its Senior year are as follows:

John Price President
 Maurine Miller Vice President
 Estella Landis Secretary
 Howard Beckner Treasurer
 Eunice Kreps Reporter

The class has been well represented in all college activities. They have had a member on the Commission every year since entering College. Three have been Commissioners of Athletics, two Commissioners of Student Welfare, and one Commissioner of Publications. They have all been interested in school publications. The editor of the Campus Times for '22 and the Orange Blossom for '23 were Seniors. Others have served on the staff of both publications.

The College Debating Team this year was entirely composed of Seniors—last year only one member being on the team. The first President of the A. W. S. was a Senior.

Perhaps the place where the Seniors have been most prominent is in athletics. They have been star men on the Football, Basket Ball and Baseball teams. These have also served as captains of the various teams.

Although the Seniors leave La Verne with regret, they feel well prepared to do a larger work out in life.

Academy Seniors

Perhaps the most unique class La Verne Academy has ever known is the Class of '23. Has there ever been a class in which there was such a diversity of age, inclinations and occupations? There are seven in the class who have passed only seventeen summers; there is one who has lived more than twice that number, and then the other thirteen average along between those two extremes.

Then as to inclinations—they are inclined this way and that, which is the best description we can give of this diversity. How about the occupations? We have everything from preachers to housewives, from farmers to dressmakers, and from chauffeurs to clerks.

Now wouldn't you expect the class to disagree on almost all questions and be completely devoid of pep? Nay, not so. The class has been full of life and class spirit from the start, but especially has this been true of our Senior year.

The class started with twenty-seven in the year 1919, but of this number only seven are graduating this year; the other fourteen having entered in the second, third and fourth years until our class roll is as follows:

Anna Lola Shirk
 Gerald E. Miller
 Lois Martha Miller
 Velma Verda Vaniman
 Alleyne Starling
 E. Earl Barnhart
 Lois B. Sheller
 Edythe Miller
 Wilbur Hoke
 Rose Landis
 Florence Landis
 Otis F. Brooks
 Alta Elizabeth Shirk
 Frances M. Arnold
 Paul P. Blocher
 Katie Florence Garber
 Mrs. Alpha F. Miller
 Bettie Swihart
 Olive Deardorf

The class day program will be given in the gymnasium on Saturday, May 26, at 10 a. m., to which they extend a sincere welcome to their friends.

Eunice Kreps

"For nothing lovelier can be found in woman than to study household good."

Howard Beckner

"The world's great men have not commonly been great, nor its great scholars great men."

Ruth N. Barnhizer

"Two heads are better than one."

C. Ernest Davis

"Truth from his lips prevailed with double sway."

Hera Hoover

"Of all the arts, great music is the art to raise the soul above all earthly storm."

Roy Flory

"Tho modest, on his unembarrassed brow, nature has written 'gentleman.'"
